FOREWORD

It has fallen to your lot to be in college during the war years. You will find it an interesting and challenging experience. Conditions are changed less at Miami than in many other institutions, but here also you will soon realize that these are not the dreamy days of peace.

Thirty-five hundred young men who have enjoyed the privileges of Miami as civilians, twice as many youth who have had a brief stay here in uniform and we extolled the war, have set aside self-indulgent battles to fight for your right to think for yourself and to plan your own life in our American way. More of them, we know, will never resume their content.

My hope is that you may order your life here as a continuing contribution to the war effort. I do not mean to have you worry about the war or get panicky about it. But you are here in college where because of the diversity and the free institutions need trained people after the war to lead the way and our thinking. Here are the opportunities for such training, provided in abundance at public expense. You are entitled to make the best possible use of them.

Your intellectual life comes first. But you can contribute to the war efforts in many other ways. You can help a minimum of your part in carrying the American social life on the campus. You can cheerfully adjust yourself to the crowded conditions that are bound to be used in this house. You can help keep yourself alert on current events and with to make your own good citizens of the campus community.

It is in this spirit and in this hope that we welcome you among us.

—A. H. Upham, President
HISTORY OF MIAMI

One full township in a field purchased from the government by John Clover Symes in 1783 was to be set aside "for the establishment of an academy and other bonis of education." His million acres were bounded by the Grand Lagoon, Little Miami, and Ohio rivers. However, Symes forgot this provision, and in 1829 the state legislature chartered Miami University in the village and township of Oxford. The complete township was set aside for its support. By 1829 a portion of "Old Miami" had been entered. In 1874 Miami rose from an accident to a full-fledged college, graduating its first class in 1836.

Distinguished men in abundance, back to Miami as their sides maker, Benjamin Harrison, sometime president of the United States, and his namesmate, Whitelaw Reid, were Miami graduates. Another was Robert Schenk, contemporary to England. It was on Miami, where he was one of the early professors, that William McKinley Mc-Guffey did research and wrote much of his revolutionary Elastic education.

Several literary societies existing from the outset were followed by Alpha Delta Phi, an eastern fraternity. A most fraternity named Beta Theta Pi was founded on the campus in 1839.

The Spoonbill Rebellion during the winter of 1847 was fired by the two fraternities and the literary societies. Students with riot go against the faculty and a huge cannonball was aimed in the door of "Old Miami," facing ragtag of houses. As a result of this rebellion many students left school or were expelled.

MIAMI UNIVERSITY

Miami, the "mother of fraternalism" has sent four national fraternities founded on the campus Beta Theta Pi (Beta Theta Pi 1848), Sigma Chi (1856), and Phi Kappa Tau (1905).

bear arms against wise another. At the close of the war the university was forced to close because of increasing financial difficulty.

After a twelve year period, Miami reopened in 1885 and pioneered in coeducation during the '90's. Enrollment has been rapid with enrollment growing from 147 students in 1903 to over three thousand in 1940.
Miami has also developed and become noted for one of the most beautiful campuses of the country.

MIAMI TRADITION

We wish we could impart to you who will join himself or Miami a little of what the "Miami Spirit" rally is, but we realize before you start that we can't hope to do so. The "Miami spirit" is something you will find for yourselves after you arrive. It's too elusive for us to put into words, and it's too closely tied up with the campus and buildings of our historic University, to be transplanted to you in your letters many miles away.

But we can tell you a little of the traditions in which you will take part and which all go to make up the "Miami spirit" we have been talking about. You will take an active part in the "Miami spirit" on our campus first, but there are many traditions that go on in spirit of worthwhileness.
One of the first scenes is the pajama parade during Freshman Week. The freshmen men don their bluest pajamas and parade from door to door singing and making the acquaintance of the girls hustled around many windows.

With the Navy in charge of Coak Field, the old Homecoming festive and bonfire are no longer possible but that certainly doesn't dampen the enthusiasm for the real games or the traditional dance that follows.

The first football game is always a big event for the freshman. Blue, as in a compact group and wear the supersized blazers that they can hire, is supposed to be very class that ever attended Miami, and, at the half, the freshman-built band and women-sheriffs dance and the field and sit in huge black dresses. This game will also give you your first glimpse of T启用-theta's number one landmark, The, bubble of the fountain along dart walk, will appear in his white suit with his red umbrella and megaphone cheering the team and predicting all kinds of wonderful victories for our side.

Another tradition which gives the freshman plenty of fun and wonder is the ringing of the bell on the tower of Gable Hall after every Miami victory. The alarm is for each class to hall longer and faster than the class the year before. Refreshments will be served at this time that the Gable Hall bell brings joy to the hearts of Miami-ites is this bell that marks the beginning of class periods during the day.

Miami’s in the spring is a wonderful time being with the scene glassy but many well-arranged traditions just the same. The biggest gradmate in the rear, but it isn’t long before you take that for granted as just a part of Oxford life. And, after all, with friends, naysayers, start, and umbrella you can’t possibly get very wet.

But we referred to some traditions that come with spring and one of the most beautiful of these is May Day. It is hard to find one of the most interesting of the winter wear in coronet Queen of the May and five members of Crew and Miami Board, sophomore and senior women’s humanities are topped. Next Neah-egagement, cavalcade, class presidents, and heads of women’s organizations are presented to the Queen and her court, and crowns are presented by each of the hi-grade women’s departments.

Mother’s Day is always the occasion for celebration of Miami. The tradition of motherhood is always given on Mother’s Day eve was displaced last year by a spontaneous trip, each senior trying to produce the most original, butts for their mothers. Mother’s Day meaning is always the time for handshakes and celebrations of all kinds for visiting mothers.

One thing Miami abounds in is beautiful walks and scenic countryside. We have our own ‘lower campus,’ formed on Miami’s beautiful scenic spot. Then down back of Fisher there are several picnics wandering along the shore, all the fallaways, crossing farm-lined gullie over both north bridges. Tradition has it that if a hillow and his crew walk across a bridge at the autumn moonlight, the is doesn’t kiss her, the bridge will fall in. We want us for this one, but it’s best not to take any chances.

We haven’t begun to tell you all of the traditional
OLD MIAMI

Words by President A. H. Upham
Music by R. H. Burke

Old Miami, from thy hill we shout
They host watched the decades roll
While thy axe has quelled from thee
Sh sturdy breast ed pure of soul.

Old Miami! New Miami!
Days of old and days to be Weave the story of thy glory,
Our Miami, here's to thee!

Thou shalt stand a cavernous beacon,
Crimson towers against the sky,
Man shall ever seek thy gods
Never like thou shalt never die.

MIAMI MARCH SONG

Words and music by R. H. Burke

Miami, let us give our best;
To thee our hearts and souls will ever cling,
Thy fame of other days, thy gifts we free;
Call us together. In song our praise to thee.

Chorus:
Love and honor to Miami;
Our college old and grand,
Proudly we shall ever hold thee.
Over all the land.
Always matter now we praise thee,
Sing joyfully this day.
Love and honor to Miami.
Forever and a day.
CAMPUSS BUILDINGS

WILL you come with me on a tour of Miami's... the Easton Hall, the center of the university, where the president, vicepresident and all administrative heads have their offices. The weekly assemblies, major department productions and various lectures and recitals are presented in the large auditorium. The main lobby of the student union building which is both a meeting and study area.

Next to Hughes is the student union of the College of Sciences, which contains all the student offices, laboratories and facilities.

Next to the Easton Hall, the Hughes Hall, named for one of Miami's former presidents, and known for having one of the newest college buildings in the state. Hughes also contains the student union and offices, and the main auditorium, with seating for 1000 people, is used for student activities.

A regular printing department is housed in the main building and is known for being the largest printing press in the state. It also contains the student union and offices, and the main auditorium, with seating for 1000 people, is used for student activities.

The hospital, open to all University students, has been in operation for 40 years. The major operations are performed here, but are referred to Dr. Parrish, Hamilton and Cline.

The hospital is the main building for the medical center and the two new dormitories, NORTH and SOUTH HALLS, are taking the place of the old dormitories. The new dormitories, which are located in the north and south parts of the campus, are larger and more modern than the old dormitories. WHAT TO BRING—WOMEN

This is somewhat bewildering, isn't it? Are you one of those wondering freshmen who will bring up much to ask your own mother? Here's a plan: even for her peace you've dropped off your possessions from school? Oh, not the other hand, are you going to commit the crime of making your parents bring everything? This helps nothing but makes awkward sea for your potential freshman.
Plan carefully what you'll need at school and forget the same things only twice챈 twice enough is training dressing is tricky task.

What to bring? You'll need to collaborate with your roomie on some furnishings. Most rooms have one window, one bed, two chairs, a desk, dresser and study lamp. In the dormitory there is provided by the University. You will have to bring your own towels and pillow through. Nothing doesn't and people or desire keep your clothes in exercising habits. Give the diva a "Human" look. Don't forget to bring a dresser until and a few these rugs. For you will need one chair, desk, one but two-vows, wash clothes and dishwashing. Most girls like to give presents, stores and little "things to remember Joe Jeff" on a music's shelf. It's amazing how much a music's shelf was gifted to a friend's time. Unless you're feeling enough to get the furnishings even there would be success worse for complexion party and dinner.
choice above keeps all sorts of college more furnishing keeps us dress even too much. If you arrive at Miami's want or even want on soap.

You'll thank your lucky stars if you have some natural clothes to use you through the first few weeks of school. Miami is here eighty-four Indian summer.

WHAT TO BRING—WOMEN

Of all your worldly possessions only a selection of wearing apparel and other incidentals will be put to their full and useful course during the school year at Miami, therefore it would be wise to omit from each article before packing it away.

Each room as output is furnished with a dresser, desk form, chair, and beds. The beds all have two sheets, pillow and pillow case. Note there can be snatched out of the list of "what to bring." However blanket-chairs may be cheerfully appreciated on some of the mild-weather days.

Sleep the rooms upon your arrival will be used of all darkroom. Each thing is curious, dinner, sport, nighties (30/36), signs and permanents, small rugs, a bath, and cheek frills would serve in adding that heavy touch to your name, which is much better than trying to find at first of all the men have four great edges greater than it, when you can find free to wear, (S36) that bring one dollar banded sponge cloths for the purposes of serving through your eight or clock dress which are easy to be cut out of if you jettie one theory mission too easily.

Sports athletic education (new order than ever) is a requirement, gym shoes and socks gut o repository, but not to wait until you arrive. Before purchasing gym shoes and socks because of service uniform requirement. Four sports equipment will be needed in Miami has more than ample accommodations for swimming, golf, tennis, handball, lawn ball, baseball, football, and ice skating, all in their respective seasons.
LOCATION OF OXFORD

Oxford, Ohio, the seat of Miami University, is nestled in the hills of southwestern Ohio. This quiet city is a haven for students and other visitors who like the quiet, serene atmosphere of the area. It's a perfect place to escape from the hustle and bustle of daily life.

MUNICIPALITY

Oxford is a small town, but it has a lot to offer. It's home to a number of shops, restaurants, and parks. The town is also known for its beautiful architecture, with many buildings dating back to the 1800s.

FRESHMAN WEEK

This is your week, Freshmen! The first few days of the school year are always set aside purposely to get freshmen acquainted with the college and to help them begin something of the college that makes up college. At this time Miami is all yours. The only upperclassmen allowed on the campus are the football players and general conscripts needed to give you your field service. Every minute is devoted to helping you adjust yourself to your new surroundings and to the successful launching of your college career.

You will be officially welcomed to Miami during the large convocation held in Butler Hall on Sunday evening. After another convocation, Monday morning, you will divide into groups which are classified as to school and major subjects. You will also get an activities sheet, giving the time and place for your group meetings and various other activities. At your group meetings, your leader, aided by a student assistant, will talk to you and will answer any of your questions. There will be a tour of the campus and library, during which you can get an idea of these most important places. It is during Freshman Week that you will get the physical exam, given to all who enter Miami—don’t forget that health record card and to you in the summer! These are also the psychological tests given you to determine your ability in several subjects. Except the first thing you do is to register for courses and go through procedures where the financial aid from college is taken care of. Pay no attention to the formalities, it is an excellent opportunity to meet people. This person beside you is often most interesting.

Don’t think, however, that Freshman Week is made up entirely of talks and exams. There is definitely a more pleasant side to it. The YUCA and YWCA hold a social after on Monday morning where boys and girls get and both are honored on their social life. Later, there are outdoor parties for men and women. There is a good night on which men and those attending the YUCA from their part to the presenter. On Cabin Night the representatives of the various GSA clubs meet with you to talk over plans for the year. On top of all these things, there are still tips and gatherings to all kind where you will learn all new names and faces.

On Thursday the appearance which and on Friday morning of 8:00 classes start. Now is the begin—
REGISTRATION AND PAYMENT

Perhaps a little typing, but usually quite burning, is the time that every entering student must spend in registration and paying. On your schedule for freshman week showing you what to do and when, you will notice that about half a day is set aside for this purpose. Perhaps you will enter early and stop late, or maybe you will be one of the fortunate ones who get through in a short time. It is more than likely, however, that you will stay a long time, in one of the rooms in McGuiggan (members of the family, carefully register you and make out your course of study, from there you will pass to another room where you will receive your schedule of classes. There, effecting a few alterations here and there, you will begin to sign your name (amongst thousands of others) and finally you will arrive at the cash desk where you will be handed at that large sum of money. All of this will make your first and perhaps tend to confuse you. But take heart. If you are bewildered as to where you are to go next, you will find signs at every corner to direct you on your way. You will, no doubt, even have time for that confection you brought along to keep yourself from starving. But now more interesting for you now low is the new acquaintance you will make. While you are walking in one of these long lines, you may find that the beautiful blonde behind you is very interesting, or you may discover a really hilarious fellow not far ahead of you. At any rate, be on the lookout. Interesting and interesting friends are easily formed here.

To get this, though, to the real purpose of paying, you may be wondering which is the best way to take care of your money in this situation and throughout the year. There are several ways to choose from. If these are too many to fit your needs, perhaps you can figure out a system of your own. Many students prefer to deposit a lump sum for a semester or a year in one of the two Catholic banks and draw checks on the funds as needed to follow an income check account. Still others jointly with their parents. Some use Master Charge and will arrange for financial responsibility. Still another plan followed by many in that of a bi-monthly allowance sent directly from home and used for buying current expenses. In this case a larger amount is sent at the beginning of each semester to meet the heavier demands of fees at that time.

The amount you will actually have to pay is given. It will be between one hundred dollars and two hundred dollars, depending again upon whether you wish to pay for a semester in advance, or whether you pay $300 a month in advance. Laboratory deposits range from $25 to $200. Books cost from $12.00 to $25.00.

All students from outside the state pay an additional non-recoverable fee of $50.00 per year, twenty-five dollars for each semester.

From long experience in such matters the University regards as its catalogue a minimum of $15.00 to week which should be rather difficult to spend more than $5.00 a week in Oxford, and this is certainly a maximum for a weekly allowance. The amount of spending money you need will depend on a large part as to your pocketbooks. Perhaps you'll drink a bit. Maybe you won't drink at all. However, don't count on having a boy friend pay for all your cakes.

Registration is an extremely important part of the half day you spend in paytime. Read the catalogue before you come to school. You may not understand all it says about points, terms, or results, but the material in the front third of the book will prove valuable in selecting your required courses. By "required" (p. 29 of this) we mean those necessary for graduation from a particular school.

Have an outline in mind of the courses you want to take before you arrive on campus. Don't wait until you are in a long line at McEllyfall and then try to decide what courses you'd like. Talk to professors if you know which school of the University you plan to enter, that will take care of most of your freshmen subjects. It will also make things simpler for you and your relatives in your interviews. You may wish to choose your field of concentration your first year, but it is not absolutely necessary.

Come prepared to go intelligently through paytime. Have a tentative course of study arranged so that you can easily adapt your schedule with an advisor's help during registration. Figure out approximately what your expenses will be so the total won't be a complete surprise. If you do these things to help yourself, paytime and registration will be greatly simplified for you.
NINE MONTHS MAKE A COLLEGE YEAR

How will, or should, you spend your college years? It is then you hit for future reference necessary complicated facts concerning the physical, social and economic life of a Miami student.

You will be rushed through the busy enrollment of school, taking in the handouts of the campus, your adjustment to the "dorm" and on the city, you will want time where the weekend is followed by the fourth one.

No one should have to work you, especially in "these war years". College is not a job but rather an outlook. You come to college for a purpose and that should be reinforced by a desire to add to your country. The letter can be done by trying to get the most out of your education and it can be done by helping to keep up the morale of any institution by an active voice and work thursday and saturday. We are not doing this for the money, and if you have the money let it divide to the other, and if you have to ask which one, don't come to college please.

Take maunder's week is the holiday spirit in which it is affected. The rest of the months are study. Whether you need study whom it bears on us or not, we do. In summer we yourself, try two or three. Then keep the one that's your size. A smart man will下达 your prejudices, and shake even you. You're hard to line up to a good start, but it's harder to pull up a good one.

Activities are another thing to which you will be introduced—as the Student and Regents staff.
The idea that there are still some last year's freshmen looking for their classmates in the different levels of sophomore is probably unfounded. But you should at least get to the hall for which your class is scheduled a little ahead of the Delta balls. Don't be afraid to ask. You'll probably be asked in smaller or larger groups, but don't be so specific. It's probably asked the same thing four years ago. Give him a chance to misinterpret.

Also you'll impress the professor as long as you can arrive at, but only to the professor quite an honor.

Another way to "keep track" is to have somebody, good and good every time. One way to keep up your freshman is to take notes. You then have before you an outline of what the professor knows--and also what he's right about.

One of the best outstanding worries of many professors is that their students are not given the due, or a general statement, and then left to do it; they just give it instead of an opinion. The states is a fine idea, it's always in time to get your own states; the general statement is a little different, the same states as when you are asked to study for tests and one kind with, when mentioning all the test books. They say you're giving up, you can't work with your test students, even though they are going to get your own states from "Grant, 1903-1877". On the day you showed the president's gave the states an outline.

The president, who allow all, to your sake, will sometimes extraneous and among other things, the books which you should buy and the books which you should not make.

See also the V-12's ordered on campus, the Activity
Board, and the faculty have been more stringent. They have gone that such aren't necessary in most cases, and they will expect you to include the same thing.

Your professor will make a point of telling you what he expects in his course, and if it is wise to follow. Make friends with your professor; without applying a tutoring. He can give you a lot of advice, but up and off the record and no fee that it's a "smart guy."

Remember this, you know ten minutes to go here are fence to another. Class attendance is governed by university rules for those who would otherwise make their own.

1. Every student is expected to attend all classes if he does not he is liable to disqualification unless he has acceptable reasons for each absence.

2.Whenever a student is specifically required to be present by an instructor to an activity, he being absent from class or not on campus or to make his grade work, or is not in proper repair of the student's class, the instructor shall report the student for that course with a grade of F.

3. Absences caused by authorized trips from town for athletics, clubs, or other activities under the direction of a co-educational activity will be remitted.

4. Absences from classes due to confinement in the hospital for sickness or an order of the University physician are excused. Absences caused by personal illness and absences for any other reason than those listed herein are excused only when recommended by the advisor and approved by the Academic Council.

5. (a) When an unexcused absence from any course of a student who is in his first semester of residence, or any other semester whose average for the preceding semester is below C, exceeds the number of hours considered allowable for that course, such student shall be dropped from the course with a grade of F.

(b) When an unexcused absence from any course of a student whose average at Miami for the preceding semester is between C and B and exceeds the number of credit hours in the course for the semester, such student shall be dropped from the course with a grade of F.

(c) Any student who is absent more than half the hours for whom he is registered in the semester, the student shall be dropped from all classes. The student may re-enter only with the consent of the Committee on Admissions.

(d) Any student who is absent more than half the hours for whom he is registered in the semester, the student shall be dropped from all classes. The student may re-enter only with the consent of the Committee on Admissions.

6. Absences for the full day preceding and the day following a holiday shall be counted in the computation of Rule 5, provided, however, that no student shall be charged with more than one absence for the same cause, unless the holiday intervenes.

7. Because of limited seating capacity at the Audience, students are required to attend only a part of the weekly student assembly, including every Sunday morning worship; (b) attend a worship, if announced.
Failure to attend the required number of programs in any semester will result in the addition of one semester to the total graduation requirement. Students with a B average are not exempt from assembly attendance.

8. Failure to keep appointments with University officials may be recorded as unexcused absence amounting to the rate of one per day beginning with the first day of appointment missed.

SCHOLASTIC REGULATIONS

The amount of work to be carried by each student will be different schools and in the different curricula. The average is between 15 to 18 hours per semester. Freshmen may carry more than 17 hours with special consent, and all students must carry four hours unless they have eight hours of free-time.
Grades are determined by the combined results of examinations and daily requirements. (a) A, grade:

condition, which may be removed by a written examination. A student, upon enrollment, by inspection of a student, not indicates the mark for enrollment and may be removed at the request of the student. The period of six weeks will be considered the following semester. If not so removed, it will be reassessed, and new grades, A, B, C, D, E, F, and K, are assigned. For example, if an A is reassessed, and new grades, A, B, C, D, E,

Students required in Physical Education, off-campus place to freshmen and sophomores only, at the promotion time. Courses in Music, Ensemble will fulfill credit points for Music and Music Education major only, for other students, they count for credit points per hour passed, regardless of the grade.

All grades are reported to parents or guardians at the end of the semester.

An analysis of grades is made by various committees of academic staff each semester and at the close of each sem-ster. A freshman who has not earned at least 16 credit points, or an upperclassmen who has not at least 36, may be placed on probation by order of the Academic Council. In such a case, the parent is notified.

A student who is placed on probation is not allowed to take any classes. The student who has been placed on probation must not be reinstated.

A freshman will be required 45 credit points during his freshman year in order to register as a sophomore.
A sophomore or a junior must earn 55 credit hours in order to register for the following year.

College wouldn't be college without its rules and regula-tions, although we believe you will agree that Blak-evin's small list is very sensible and necessary for your well-being during your university days. Here are the principal ones:

You have probably gathered that the majority of the rules apply to the girls—to set the good example for the boys, so we'll enumerate them first. The principal rules are those of the dormitories. In the first place, all girls must be in their dormitories or on campus at ten o'clock every night except Saturday, when the doors are opened at 11:30 for special occasions, however, no later than midnight, and the big dance of the year, late permission may be granted.

In order that you may get as much study and rest as possible, quiet hours in the dormitories are specified. These start in the morning and last until four o'clock in the afternoon every day except Sunday. Quiet hours in the evening are established from seven to nine forty-five and again at ten thirty until the next morning.

All the girls on the campus must sign out if they leave the residence hall in the evening, or if they leave town at any time. If you wish to go out of town to an
There are several rules which apply to the boys as well as to the girls. One of these is that no student may have an automobile as long as he resides at the university, unless he secures a special permit from the office of the president of the university. A permit is granted only if the student needs the car for business purposes. Permission must be secured from the president’s office for the use of an automobile for social purposes also. You won’t mind having the “no car rule,” especially now that there is such a generous tax- and excise-duty break. So unless you plan to work or if you have relatives who are away during the Winter, you will be nothing anywhere, right along with you.

All students are required to wear school clothes during the term. The term includes, after winter break, or in places especially set apart for sun-bathing. Unless you have a permit, you are dealing with the affair until the afternoon, and on work-days, during the first semester. If you go out for the semester abroad a “C” or better, or as well as at weekends during the second semester.

As it says in the Humorous, there's no place like "home":

The only exception is in a dorm.

Now, let's not exaggerate. Dormitory life is a unique experience in your college career. The friends you make in your hall or fraternity house, too, you may be living in the dorm or SAE house, will be much toward shaping your personality during the next four years. Just watch and see.

But now you're finally arriving, let's see what happens.

"Ah, here it is at last," you exclaim, as you find your room after struggling upstairs, and draw a long breath. Don't be too disappointed if your future abode looks slightly bare. As soon as you've unpacked, you and that smiling girl or the tall, your roommates through thick and thin—five others and myself—will gather shopping in the little 25c of Oxford and commit the situation with bedspread sheets, and a bulletin board, shanks cloth or braided cord a dandy for the latter. Then with the gift bags and tack-knocks you've brought from home, plus that all-important picture of the Critters,提质, table, bed, or chicken, your little 2 x 10—in is to look plenty livable.

By now you're probably met the counselors on your corridor. They are superior girls who lived in your dorm last year and were chosen to show these another you to help you get adjusted. Voluntarily in their matchwork, you'll find, for they can relieve you on anything from study habits to the correct clothes to wear on a particular date, if you're uncertain about your B.B. sixth style. Fortunately, these girls and the House Chairman and Junior Counselor are the ones who help you memorialize those famous "novel hours" from 7:30 to 9:30, right? How unusual." if you can be for after all, you have to study sometimes, and why not when everyone else is doing it?

Besides, there's lots of play to dormitory life—snowball, malfunctions, Saturday, when you clean yourself, your clothes, and your room before stepping out to the Variety Shows, Saturday-night sprouts, when a group of dancing girls in gals and slippers all crowd into one room to eat and eat, and talk about everything from philosophy to men. Sunday, when you study, but too hot to study, and then take a walk in the afternoon. Oh, it's a gay life, and glorious for all and fun. And remember, don't let the place fall.

Now if any of you future B.M.O.C.'s happens to glance through this section, you're probably wondering why we haven't said anything about dormitory life for boys. Well, it really isn't very different from that of the girls. Because of the war, there are no boys' dormitories on the Navy Y.I.D. units occupy them. However, the heathen boys I've in the fraternity houses, and the few upper-classmen still are campus usually roam are in cottages. At your house, you'll have roommates, who correspond to the girls' counselors. They're really swell fellows and there's no one like them to teach you all the tricks of college life. Yes, too, will have your study hours, but it sessions, and open houses when you can bring your date over for ponding, dancing, bridge, or just general fun.
SPECIAL LIFE

No matter how seriously you may work for that Phi Beta key, the time will come when the work can be enjoyed. In fact, the Miami student and faculty have prided on a well-rounded schedule of social activities for you and your V-17 to enjoy.

In spite of wartime restrictions on the dancing, Sopho- more Hop and Senior Bells of present years, the so- cial calendar is still filled with chaper—both the formal and informal variety. In Saturday Night you and your date may drop in at the Varsity, which usually features an out-town band. Perhaps you'll want to attend the open-microphone sponsored by the YWCA and YMCA, open to dates and dating clubs. Here you may license to smash, try a game of ping-pong, or settle for a peaceful hand of bridge. -- with all entertainment on the budget for your social needs, however, the social calendar provides several dates per year of the strictly formal variety, which you can discuss your entrance with Arden or Joe. One of these all-campus formals is sponsored and planned by the freshman class itself.

If you are the Alice Marбли of Cleveland or the Patty hug of Polkire, you'll soon be enjoying Miami's many talents. Several tennis courts, a basketball court, various dormitory gyms, and many sports are available. Equally popular are the municipal swimming pool and the local basking alley. Warm weather also draws out scores of enthusiastic hikers and cyclists along Ox- ford's scenic spots.

Should you and your heartbeats grow more intellectually oriented, the University Theater, the music department, and social organizations provide ample opportunity. Plays, recitals, political and board concerts, lectures, and Arts Series repeat in constant succession throughout the year.

Mrs. Virginia Kent Skinner acts as University social di- rector, assisting social agencies in organizing the larger social affairs. All campus social activities are scheduled through her office.

In a word, Miami's social life is designed to suit you as much as or as little entertainment as you desire. Remember that good fun is a commodity still available in Oxford?

JOBS WANTED?

There will be more jobs open this year and in Oxford this year for students who need financial assistance than ever before. Any student who wants to work should be able to get a promising job if he knows where to apply. Don't let this make all of you job-hunters, because you are opening its doors to Miami—permanently get an education.

If you want a job as a waiter or waitress, or as a bell boy in a dormitory, apply to Mr. D. C. Alden at the Student Office. You might get work at the Food Service Building and the Library. If you are an athlete, you can participate in intramural sports or helping at athletic contests. These jobs allow you to attend school without financial strain.

Miss E. W. Marshall, secretary to the President, takes applications for office assistants in the Library. You may find a job as a library assistant. Time of application is considered for the university jobs, so apply during the summer if you definitely plan to work.

The YWCA and the YMCA maintain a Student Employment Service. Jobs gained through this placement bureau are chiefly helping with jobs of children, light household work, and various secretarial work.

Dundie's drug store, clothing stores, and salons will welcome part-time OHSU employees. As long as the small cost of your education, they have had hard times getting help.

EXTRA-CURRICULAR

An important place on campus is given to extracurricular activities, without which a student would miss the full benefits of college life. These activities are designed to help you spend leisure minutes profitably, be an out-looker for success in life and realize hidden talents.

At Miami there are organizations to suit a wide range of interests. If you are an aspiring journalist, go out for the yearbook, Student Yearbook, or the Student Newsletter. "The" YWCA and YMCA have a finger in every pie. The various church groups promote good fellowship.

Read about Miami's extracurricular activities on the following pages. You will get enjoyment and satisfaction when you go out for activities.
"Where is it? What is it? What kind of work is done by the "YW"?

These are probably some of the questions you will be asking about the YWCA. Your first glimpse of some of the work done by the "YW" will be during Freshmen Week, when Y members help you find your way around campus and aid your group leader during your first days at Miami.

The YWCA office, located at Hayden Hall, is the center of campus. Here all students have use of the Y facilities without charge. You, too, may step in at the office in your Allen Hall, the YWCA postcard, and the other general advisory club will be there to answer your questions and welcome you to your first year at school. The Y is also conveniently located on campus, and here you may purchase many necessities at a price that is lower than you get through Macomberville. You or Intercollegiate from the well-stocked convenience store.

The YWCA is organized on a cooperative basis covering all fields of interest. Raw Relations, Administrators, Religious, Philosophy, Girls Clubs, Recreation, and USD are a few. Girls sign up for the activities which they desire to work with, and all contributions being made as well as the group work are possible through the United Women's Association meeting.

In cooperation with the YWCA open houses for the Norval bursars are planned on the weekends. These tend toward better relationships and understanding between colored and service men and women. The Industrial and Executive YWCA.

Major Chest drive is also a cooperative project of the YWCA. Social service projects in all fields are of interest to this Christian organization.

The war has indeed been brought close to our campus. With the establishment of service units in our dormitories and in these areas of influence, the YWCA does its part in serving as a stabilizing factor for the many groups.

The YWCA at Miami University operates on the same belief in the following ideals as a basis for YWCA-45:
1. Discovering a faith adequate for the future.
2. Understanding the issues of war and peace.
3. Achieving stability of personal relationships.
4. Clearing vocations through enduring freedom.
5. Assuring civil and communal responsibility.
6. Meeting the needs of those whose lives are disrupted by war.

Membership in the Y is open to all girls who wish to work together for the principles of fellowship in Christ-like in this organization. Look for the trailer in Hayden Hall after arriving on Miami campus. The YWCA will be expecting you.

MIA:MI UNIVERSITY
"Well, I suspect by now you have read through."

"Not yet, but I've started. Just one thing, though. I saw something about the YMCA. Do they have the 'Y' of college, too?"

"You bet. Of course it is a bit different from our 'Y' down here, but it is just as busy an area on campus as it is here."

"Well tell me, where is it located?"

"The offices, the rear corner of the Student Union, is formally in Oglesby Hall. At the rooms there are now assigned for offices by the Y.S.C.U., the YMCA headquarters have been moved to the Phi Delta Theta House. And Dr. Alexander Moore's office of Religious Activities is giving immediate supervision to the program. But you ask me, "What is the 'Y' up?" The answer is that it is all over the campus in the form of students who are active in its work."

"Work? What kind of work?"

"Almost every kind. You are, in essence, to help students be a broader kid, more worthwhile to their college student. For instance, before I entered Miami in '44 my father was away so I studied in various classes and learned to get 'uninterested'. During Freshman Year, I spent much of my time in group discussions and met every one of the 4000 students, organized justly by the YMCA and the Y.W.C.A. Even your 'M' Book is a YMCA publication."

"I decided to join the Freshmen '45 our program included several interesting readings of both books and social nature. There is a number of commitments which was responsible for planning affected upper house held jointly on Friday and Saturday nights for all students by the Y.M.C.A. and Y.W.C.A. We always had dancing and cards and now and then a show floor or social program. You know you can make a lot of friends among fellows and girls working at these operations. When I bought my books, I found that I could buy a great deal of more thoroughly on the Y's Youth book, Lendme a Hand, in Miami Hall. What we had gone spare here, my 'M' Book and I played parts going to the Y's game room of the Phi Delta House."

"May I ask, of the Phi Delta House, there were once interesting discussions with members of the faculty on subjects of general concern and world interests. I didn't know for a long time that the fact that the first Y's announced the Y.W.C.A. Holiday Hours on Sunday afternoon and it was Miami's. Would you say in the Miami High brought much more of a group together to the campus by those factors. It seems that the world was won by when they didn't know where they had more of it."

"Well, is there any activity I'm interested in, can I do in the 'Y.'?"

"There. Of course, during the year period the programs have been charged on that the Navy Boys and others following an installed schedule can par

If you have no idea of hard-work, get-up-and-go, or what direction to take, don't let it keep you from the hourly and summer jobs of the Business School. It's time you learn to get up in the morning and find somewhere to spend your time. The Business School offers many opportunities to students who are willing to work hard and be responsible.

For example, the Miami University Student is the official newspaper of the University. It is published weekly and contains articles on campus life, sports, and events. It is a great opportunity for students to gain experience in reporting, editing, and writing.

All students who are members of the Business School should be familiar with the student newspaper, as it is a valuable resource for staying informed about campus events and activities. Students who are interested in pursuing a career in journalism or writing should consider contributing to the Miami University Student.

nine years ago, it is necessary for a student to have a 3.5 average in all subjects and nothing less than a 3.0 in Spanish courses. Students find that becoming involved with such an organization greatly enhances their interest in their studies and increases the value of the courses themselves.

Phi Xi Delta

A chapter of Delta Phi Delta, a national honorary, was established at Miami several years ago for the purpose of recognizing the outstanding work of art students. To become a Phi Xi, a student must be an art major or have outstanding scholastic work in some special division of art work.

Alpha Kappa Delta

The Ohio Alpha chapter of the national sociological honorary draws its comfort from those who have over a 3.0 average in all studies and will over a 3.5 average in sociology courses. This organization sponsors many interesting lectures for the benefit of its members and helps students keep in touch with the present-day work of sociologists.

Cosmopolitan Club

Founded at Miami only a few years ago, the Cosmopolitan sponsors discussions of international changes. Membership is drawn from foreign students and other students who are interested in foreign affairs.

Eta Sigma Phi

Membership in Eta Sigma Phi, classical language honorary, is open to all students maintaining a B average in Latin and Greek (trivia). Its purpose is to encourage the appreciation of the classics and promote a feeling of fellowship among the students who are engrossed in this study.

Phi Chi

The Miami Chapter of Phi Chi, national psychology honorary, was installed in May, 1940. The purpose of Phi Chi is not only to reward outstanding achievement in psychology, but also to encourage general scholarship excellence. The requirements are a high scholastic average and an ardent interest in practical psychological problems.

Phi Sigma

Membership in Phi Sigma is limited to up-to-date men doing exceptionally good work in zoology, botany, or geology. National multiphiles in these fields are brought to the college to speak at the regular meetings. The run of the organization is to stimulate student interest in the natural sciences.

Los Patrinos

This government honorary is for those students who are interested in problems of government and politics. A B average in government courses, a 2.5 general scholastic average, and recommendations by a professor are required for membership.

Kappa Delta Pi

Students who maintain a B average or better in Ar-School of Business enrollment is eligible for this national pre-fee scholarship opportunity.
Pre Omega Pi
The birth of this organization was established in 1939. It is open to students with a minimum GPA of 3.5 in Business Administration, at least 200 hours of business credit and a 3.0 average in all other subjects.
Alethius
Dedicated to Alethius is the campus literary honorary with membership open only to women. Requirements are at least 74 hours of English, in which 40 per cent of the grades must be A, and a 3.0 average for all subjects.
Delta Sigma Pi
Delt Sigma Pi is a national professional business fraternity whose local chapter was established in 1922. Membership in this fraternity is based upon business interest, scholarship, and interest in the careers offered by the School of Business Administration. A social fraternity on many campuses, it ranks among the top professional business societies.
Sigma Pi Sigma
Sigma Pi Sigma is an honorary for students in physics, meteorology, and chemistry who maintain a high scholastic average. The chapter on the campus is the Omega chapter of the national organization.
To Merle Players
To Merle Players is an honorary organization for students who are interested in acting. But even for those who aren’t actors, there are opportunities to gain plans for this game on a make-up, painting, publicity agent or possibly more. This group and other dramatic societies are sponsored by the speech department.
MUSICAL ORGANIZATIONS
Orchestra
Have you the yen to play a flute in a symphony ar-dreaming? If so, the University Orchestra is the place for you. The University Symphony Orchestra has twelve weeks, the fall for all those who are interested, and those with ability are chosen by Professor Henry Peters, conductor of the orchestra. The orchestra, in giving concerts once a month, works and becomes acquainted with a large variety of music. Some of these concerts are inspired Sunday afternoons “pop” concerts with faculty or student guests which, others are formal concerts of standard symphonic music, and yet others are comcluded with various music organizations in presenting their grand musical work.
Madrigal
Madrigal is the oldest choral singing group on the campus and includes some of the best singers’ voices. Under the direction of Miss Dave from, the group presents many popular programs of musicals, at least the USC, and is good friends with other organizations. They participate in formal concert tours in the year. Try-ons for new members are held in Bishop House early each fall.
ARTIST AND LECTURE SERIES

To supplement the students’ classroom experiences, the Artist and Lecture Series brings leading figures from the art and music world to the lecture platform. A wide variety of concert artists appear throughout the entire year. Last year was memorable for the larger audiences due to the presence of the Navy Units, concerts were repeated.

In an effort to please everyone, the Artist Series included off types of artists beginning with Alexander Karp, editor, who was followed by Percy Grainger, illusion, Patrick Tumlin, violin, and the perennial Cincinnati Symphony.

VARSITY SOCIAL CLUB

The Saturday night quiz of “who will we date” is the social presence of the Varsity Social Club. Nearby every Saturday McClatchey gym will be found crowded by eager Minstros, roller-meres, or even, on occasion, dancing. Last year the Versity had several problems to meet. But the Versity came through with the Upstate Versity and succeeded in 25g Versity with Iowa and displayed new attitudes. The Saturday night Versity tradition of good dance music was well maintained.

STUDENT-FACULTY COUNCIL

The Student-Faculty Council is the student-governing body composed of students elected by the upper and faculty members elected by the faculty. It is the definition of Student-Faculty Council that is made and that comprises the student body. Its members are elected in a single, non-overlapping term, and work in the interest of the students and the broader student participation. Principal achievement was the expansion of student government in planning assemblies and coordinating diameter policies.

In pursuance of the role of the Student-Faculty Council, the following rules shall be enforced:

Section 1. The Student-Faculty Council shall consist of six members, three of whom are students elected by the faculty, and three of whom are faculty members elected by the Student-Faculty Council. The students shall be elected on a single, non-overlapping, term, for a period of two years. Each of the students shall be eligible for re-election.

Section 2. The faculty members shall be elected on a single, non-overlapping term, for a period of two years. Each of the faculty members shall be eligible for re-election.

Section 3. The Student-Faculty Council shall meet at least once a month, and its meetings shall be open to the public.

Section 4. The Student-Faculty Council shall have the power to appoint any officer of the Council, to determine the terms of office of its members, and to adopt rules and regulations necessary for the effective operation of the Council.

Section 5. The Student-Faculty Council shall keep a record of its proceedings and make such reports to the faculty as it shall deem necessary.

Section 6. The Student-Faculty Council shall have the power to discipline its members for violation of the rules and regulations of the Council.

Section 7. The Student-Faculty Council shall have the power to amend these rules at any regular meeting, by a two-thirds vote of its members present.

Rules adopted by the Student-Faculty Council

Article II, Section 1. There shall be a Student-Faculty Council composed of six faculty members, chosen by the University Senate, and student members elected by the students according to the procedure established by the Student-Faculty Council. The student members shall be elected on a single, non-overlapping term, for a period of two years. Each of the student members shall be eligible for re-election.

Article II, Section 2. The Student-Faculty Council shall meet at least once a month, and its meetings shall be open to the public.

Article II, Section 3. The Student-Faculty Council shall have the power to appoint any officer of the Council, to determine the terms of office of its members, and to adopt rules and regulations necessary for the effective operation of the Council.

Section 4. The Student-Faculty Council shall have the power to discipline its members for violation of the rules and regulations of the Council.

Section 5. The Student-Faculty Council shall have the power to amend these rules at any regular meeting, by a two-thirds vote of its members present.

Section 6. The Student-Faculty Council shall have the power to discipline its members for violation of the rules and regulations of the Council.

Section 7. The Student-Faculty Council shall have the power to amend these rules at any regular meeting, by a two-thirds vote of its members present.
The same ruling is the freshman class. The chairman of the Student-Faculty Council shall attend the first meeting of the Student-Faculty Council to act in an advisory capacity. The council shall receive its powers of action which are delegated to it in the Construction of the Freshman class as granted by the Student-Faculty Council. It shall be the duty of the remaining freshman council to continue organizing the permanent freshman class constitution until such document is completed and passed by the Student-Faculty Council.

The constitution may at any time be amended upon the recommendation of the freshman council as passed by the Student-Faculty Council. The Student-Faculty Council may delegate special and specific or general powers to the freshman council at any time if deemed necessary or expedient.

15. Nominations for candidates for office in the freshman class council shall be made by petition, covering the valid signatures of not less than 10 members of the freshman class. Any signatures appearing on more than one petition for any one office shall be invalid.

16. Petitions of nomination shall be placed in the hands of the secretary of the elections committee on or after 12 noon of the second Saturday preceding the date set by the Council for freshman election.

17. Each candidate for nomination or a representative of a club shall appear before the freshman class as a freshman assembly on the Thursday following the Saturday on which nominations have been closed, and shall present his name, qualifications, and platform. The vote of the candidate who does not either appear as is not representative of this meeting shall not be placed on the ballot.

18. Election of officers for the freshman class Council shall take place the following Tuesday. Official ballots, prepared by the elections committee, shall be used in the election. Counting of the ballots and announcement of the results shall be supervised and acted on under the direction of the elections committee.

19. In order to conform to schedule AP, provided by University authorities touching freshman affairs, the elections Committee is hereby authorized, in its discretion, to change the dates from year to year, mentioned in sections 15, 16, and 17 for the submission of petitions for nomination, the freshman assembly, and the freshman election. Provided, however, the dates shall not be advanced earlier than the first week of the University Year. (Amended: October 2, 1940)

20. No freshman shall be eligible for a freshman elective office having less than a "C" average in his last previous grade report.

21. Prior to the election and installation of the president of the Freshman council, the chairman of the Student-Faculty Council shall call as the executive officer of the freshman council.

Section 1. Rules Providing for the Publicity of Campaign Expenditures. (a) In any regular or special election conducted by the Student-Faculty Council for office in the Student-Faculty Council, the Voting Social clubs, in the athletic student council, or in the various activities, shall be given to expenses incurred by the candidates for office in the manner hereinafter provided.

b. Each candidate individually or as one of a group of candidates, shall be responsible for the payment of all expenses incurred in any manner during the campaign for office. Such expense account shall list each item of expense incurred, the individual or firm furnishing the item or service, and the amount.

c. Such expense account shall be filed with the Secretary of the Election Committee of the Student-Faculty Council not later than 6 p.m. of the day following the election. The secretary shall report to the Student-Faculty Council at its next meeting on summary of the expense account and shall provide for publication in The Miami Student.

d. Any candidate not filing such expense account shall be asked to appear before the Election Committee and show his reasons for not complying with this rule. His name shall be published in The Miami Student.

MIAMI UNIVERSITY

NAFO

This Miami Chest was a voluntary organization to raise funds, through which students contributed, raised funds for the YMCA and the YWCA whose terms are a continuing feature of the quota. Any funds are the "NAFO and the World Student Union" are used for a general contingency fund from which expenditures are made to worthy organizations. The list of the year is marked by friendly rivalry on their teams with one another to win the dinner for the largest contribution.

Through the Miami Chest the student is freed from multiple appeals for money throughout the year.

RELIGIOUS GROUPS ON CAMPUS

At Miami, the several religious groups in the campus are not overburdened by the religious groups. The national and regional students who are interested in religious, educational, sociological, and social programs.

The monthly meeting, The Church House, is held at 7 p.m. on the first Thursday of each month.
Combining around Wesley House and founded this year by Mrs. Allian Mayhew, the Wesley Foundation, Morley's had added interest in two groups—a social society and fraternity.

Canterbury Club is an Episcopal Student Group organized to provide students with social, religious, and cultural interests in college.

The Lutheran and Christian Science students here on Miami have their own groups which often meet to discuss problems of religion or promote social and cultural interests which keep among the lists of fellowship. Rev. M. C. Farley attends the activities of the Lutheran Students Association.

The Catholic Students Club on campus meets to keep abreast of events of interest and religious affairs. Their plan was to meet during the summer months during the year.

All of these faiths are brought more closely together by the Millard League which provides social programs as well as discussion groups for the members.

The fraternity organizations of Miami have "gone to war." Several fraternity houses have been taken over by the property, and transformed into garrison dorms, while most of the members are in the service. In spite of this, most of the organizations are still active, although for the duration their future is uncertain.

You may have heard certain stories of the "Footless Fraternity." Four national organizations were founded here; three of which are branches on the Miami Triad. When the war is over and recruits are back to normal, fraternities will again play a large part in campus activities, with the competitive, friendly, and social functions which they are famous for.

The fraternities, represented at Miami include:

Beta Theta Pi
Delta Chi
Delta Kappa Epsilon
Delta Tau Delta
Phi Delta Theta
Phi Kappa Tau
Sigma Alpha Epsilon

SORORITIES

There are 15 social sororities now active on the Miami campus, and having been established only last year, the sorority setup is noticeably different from that of most schools. For we do not house sorority houses; all girls live in dormitories, and the sorority houses, which have been taken over by the school, meetups and other sorority activities are held in the sorority areas in North and South Halls.

Belonging to a sorority at Miami is not so important as it is in many other schools. Although, the friendship and social life associated with sorority activities are necessary, it is not necessary to belong to one to have a good time in college, or to participate in activities.

During nothing, sorority talk is naturally an every tongue, and all the girls are excited over the houses or parties by which they have received bids. After meeting a week, however, and pledges duty, dorms are regular talk, some of the sororians disappear, and girls who may have been disappointed at first because they were not pledged find friends and interest in them, charts, and clubs. Many of the houses are full of interest and activities, and one finds that even the most serious students are interested in the activities of the sororities.

Greek life at Miami is in its infancy, and the sorority system is slowly developing. The Greek system is a good one, and the sororities are working hard to establish themselves and gain the approval of the students.

The Miami Sorority System

Miami University

The sorority system at Miami University is a large student organization composed of intercollegiate women who are not fraternity or sorority members. Veryignificantly, it seeks representatives by all student sororities, being especially powerful in campus affairs. Members who enjoy a society and its formal and various other offices and parties.

One member from every organization is elected to the AII Council, which draws the organization's policies and activities. Undoubtedly, students may attend the meetings, which are held twice a month in North and Recreation Room.
Waves and Marines

At present, the women associates of the Navy and Marines, with their one staff of officers, occupy East and West Hills. They are part of the Naval Radio Training School and pursue a schedule similar to that of the cadets, which includes three code classes, one class of typing, one of theory, and one at intermittent each day. Upon entrance in this training course, their rating is that of seaman. Promotions are given according to the quality of their work, at the end of the sixteen weeks period.

The maximum age limit for Waves in radio work is 26. They are permitted to enter into many of the cadets' week-end parties as well as into those of the naval NDTS.

NAVAL RADIO TRAINING SCHOOL

Pilate Hill, Marion Gymnasium, and the Pines house the men of the Naval Radio Training School with administrative offices in the Pines. The cadets study codes, typing, theory, and procedures.

V-12

The V-12 unit consists of a minimum of 650 men. Some of the men are former Marine students; others have attended various colleges and have been sent here to complete third year majors for a certain number of home, depending upon the work they have already completed. They are not required to follow the V-12 course, but may continue their present fields of study with ship ap-
A small percentage of the V-15 cadets and men are beginners in a specialized curriculum and must take special courses.

Flexed courses may be carried by these students. In addition to their Navy curriculum, as far as this work does not interfere with the proper performance of assigned duties. Various courses may be substituted if they have previously covered the same work.

The V-15's are mainly on the same basis as regular college students. The college supervisor subjects, selection of instructors, and the discipline of the men, so far as possible. The Navy Commander is retained here. The amount of discipline exercised by the officer varies, in most cases. However, discipline is referred to here as a fast resort.

Young students may participate in all college athletics and other campus activities. Those activities will not interfere with their flight and research training which includes airs, swimming, and self-defense in addition to studies. Military activities will tend to a minimum, academic training being placed second. V-15's may also join fraternities and other organizations on the same basis as regular students, and at their own expense.

V-5

It is not known whether or not Miami will have a V-5 unit on campus during the school year of 1944-45. In the past year, Naval cadets have come here for elementary and intermediate flight training. The full training is a cadet's first flying instruction and is equivalent to a civilian flying student.
WOMEN’S SPORTS

Every Miami student enrolled in a four-year course is required to take part in the physical education program during her freshman and sophomore years, and must fulfill certain requirements in order to receive her degree. The requirements, which have recently been changed, are for acquiring physical fitness, improving marks in two team sports, two individual sports, and one rhythmic activity.

Students may enter and students may go, but note requires the Physical Education examination given by the Physical Education Department. Don’t try to figure it out—at least we’re the time when they retire, you get here and see the need for more or less activity to keep up with your colleagues. The process of elimination is very important—you know the trouble in deciding what color of tooth paste you prefer, it’s either blue or green and if it’s blue, you’re yourself lucky. Not only do you want the Physical Education examinees during this period, but many other students who may later become your teammates on campus, it’s one of the belongings necessary for entering college. Get it and wear it if you don’t have one.

PHYSICAL EDUCATION PROGRAMS

Before you leave for physical education you will meet the Physical Education staff. Miss Margaret Phillips, head of the department, will instruct you with her New York accent and sense of humor, but most of all she will discuss your program of physical education for two years which is required of all students. Miss Margaret Sharp will do her best to analyze you and find out your thrift and dislikes in the field of sports. Better start working now. Miss Jeanne. Benson and Miss Martha Bryan will give you advice. Learn to play, and you’ll find that in the future the physical education staff won’t hesitate to tell you so, either smart and you’ll find that their advice is good advice.

CAN YOU TALK IT?

Miami’s program offers you a large choice of activities. The program requirements call for two individuals, two rhythmic, and two team activities during your two-year work. This set-up extends you an opportunity to learn what you enjoy sports rather than a general knowledge in the particular sport you like. Several sports are offered as follows: hockey, tennis, soccer, archery, tennis, golf, camping and trail, horseback riding, and wrestling in the fall, badminton, bowling, gymnastics, fencing, social, soccer, and modern dancing in the winter, basketball, tennis, riding, golf, and archery in the spring. Each sport is a blend of fun and work combined to prepare you to dig in and come out on top.

ROSSON REVIEW

Booked out by a wealth of V-12 goldfish talent line full, Miami boxing one of the few boxed classes in Ohio. V-12 Grade B retired from all over the country. Coach Joe Slosson was able to blend together a highly promising athletic apparatus which included seven opponents, four of them novices and the only two football games for a much that has been exhibited by a Miami almost every year in the last ten years.

The team was led through this extremely successful campaign principally by two backfields now triple-steam quarterback Joe Thomas and Bob "Chub" Russell, three quarters Turf, a V.I.P. One of the greatest moments in Miami baseball history was experienced when senior leftfield coach "Bert" Frazier's call for spring training. The group was composed almost entirely of Miami V-13 students, who hailed from all sectors of the country and included many former college learners.

Unfazed weather was responsible for a short spring practice and a final training to tour drills. Coach Rider in his second season at Muncie was convinced that his 1954 team would be even better than the club he instigated in his first year. Muncie’s 1953 ballet club hung up the long-awaited sign wining and four defeats for an average of .583. That team led by Sam Flaxton, football player, and brave Tom Thiel, the oftmentioned "No. 88," had the N. M. L. powers on the edge. The 1954 team started out with a trio of victories, followed by a disappointing loss to Davenport.

The winning achievement of the year was when Hunter faced only 17 men to break Carmel’s non-gate win-ing streak by the score of 6-0. Beginning evidence of the setting point was shown in the Redskins’ downfall with over 400 yards by the score of 15-10 and 15-10.
The final game of the year proved to be the thriller of the season where Muncie tangled with Elmhurst. The 1954 Ohio conference champions the Wildcats played a brilliant game and forced the Golden Eagles’ defense to give up three touchdowns, but Richle was able to pull out the winning tally to end Muncie’s season with a 3-3 record.

The athletic department was faced with a terrific task in making use of a schedule because of transportation difficulties and lack of nearby schools with enough mainstreaming to face them. Final plans for the season were completed almost a week before the season’s start.
The opening game was expected to be won by Muncie on April 29. Following this was Ohio State, two games with Manchester, Ohio University’s final game with Manchester and closing on June 10 against Bowling Green.

INTRAMURALS

Intramural sports at Miami were almost in waking death at the start of this year. Old-timers there is something special in the construction season is baseball, basketball, bowling, track, swimming, weightlifting, frisbee, and golf. Miami is well equipped for all of these sports.

This year the "teams" of intramural sports had far less time to work by the many physical education programs. Electric Indians took part in each of the intramural intramural activities.

WRESTLING

Under the leadership of former All-American player CEE., main wrestling was almost turned into a popular sport at Miami before the effects of the new wrestling club of the school. Before, Mr. McMan was head of interest for several years. Coach Gillham worked out regularly with the men and ruled as much as much individual effort as possible. This is one sport whose men who had no experience with not at a disadvantage because most of the men had had gone. Wrestling is one of the features of the Miami PTU program.

BOWLING

Bowling is being played in a lower than usual before it turns one of the most important parts of the "U" physical education program. Due to the fact that Miami was more successful than usual in the College Clubs tournament this year.
