Information for 2022-2023 Academic Year

Oxford Campus, Hamilton Campus, Middletown Campus, Voice of America Learning Center Campus, Dublin Coffman Campus, Wilmington Campus and the Luxembourg Campus

This annual report contains the crime and fire statistics for 2021, 2020, and 2019.

All policy statements and procedures contained within this Annual Security and Fire Safety Report apply to all Miami University campus locations unless otherwise specified in each section.

Policy for Reporting the Annual Disclosure of Crime Statistics

The Miami University Police prepares this report to comply with the Jeanne Clery Disclosure of Campus Security Policy and Crime Statistics Act. The statistics disclosed in this report are gathered from the local law enforcement agencies surrounding our campuses; the offices of Residence Life, Community Standards, Business Services, Intercollegiate Athletics and the Division of Student Life. The report is prepared in cooperation with each of those offices. For statistical purposes, crime statistics reported to any of these sources are recorded in the calendar year the crime was reported. A written request for statistical information is made on an annual basis to all Campus Security Authorities (as defined under the Clery Act). Each entity provides updated information on their policies and procedures and their educational efforts and programs to comply with the Act.

Fire Safety Report

This report of fire safety policies, procedures, and fire statistics is Miami University's response to the Higher Education Opportunity Act: Fire Safety Report. The statistics disclosed in this report are gathered from the local fire department and the Environmental Health and Safety Office. Learn about the policies regarding fire safety education and training programs provided to students and employees as well as rules on portable electrical appliances, smoking and open flames in residence halls. This information on fire safety also includes emergency procedures for evacuation and a list of contacts for reporting a fire. The statistics include a description of each on-campus housing facility fire safety system as well as the number of fire drills held annually. Pertinent safety issues for students in off-campus housing include landlord/tenant responsibilities, Oxford City housing codes, and fire prevention strategies.

All of the statistics are gathered, compiled, and reported to the University community via this report which is published by Miami University. Miami University Police Department submits the annual crime statistics purchased in this report to the Department of Education (ED). The statistical information gathered by the Department of Education is available to the public through ED website.

Each year, email notification of this website is made to all faculty, staff, and enrolled students. Written notification is provided to prospective students and employees. Copies of the report may be obtained from University Police, 513-529-2223.

Non-campus building or property

1. Any building or property owned or controlled by a student organization that is officially recognized by Miami; or

Hate Crimes—Hate crimes are crimes that manifest evidence that the victim was intentionally selected because of the victim's actual or perceived race (RA), religion (RE), sexual orientation (SO), gender (G), gender identity (GI), ethnicity (E), national origin (NO) or disability (D). In 2019, one incident of simple assault/intimidation occurred on campus in a residential facility that was motivated by hate of ethnicity which was unfounded by law enforcement. In 2020, one incident of simple assault occurred at a non-campus location that was motivated by hate of sexual orientation. In 2021, one incident of intimidation occurred on campus in a residential facility that was motivated by hate of sexual orientation.

Unfounded crimes. If a reported crime is investigated by law enforcement authorities and found to be false or baseless, the crime is unfounded and should not be included in your institution's statistics. Only sworn or commissioned law enforcement personnel may unfound a crime. There were eighteen crimes unfounded in 2019, seven crimes unfounded in 2020 and eight crimes unfounded in 2021.

[A] Non-Campus Property—Non-Campus is (1) any building or property owned or controlled by a student organization that is officially recognized by Miami; or (2) any building or property owned or controlled by Miami that is used in direct support of or in relation to, Miami's educational purposes, is frequently used by students, and is not within the same reasonably contiguous geographic area of Miami. The Oxford campus has both types of non-campus property. Buildings owned and controlled by student organizations include fraternity houses; non-contiguous buildings include those used by Miami in support of its educational purposes, such as study away locations.

[B] In 2020 a rape was reported at an unknown location and counted as an On Campus crime. It was later disclosed in 2021 that the reported rape occurred off-campus, and outside of Miami Clery geography. This statistic has been updated to reflect the removal of that crime.

Statistics listed in the "Residential Facilities" column are also counted in the "On Campus" column. The law requires institutions to break out the number of on-campus crimes that occur in residential facilities.

[A] Miami University Middletown English Language Center ("ELC") program has an agreement in place with RENDA Finance and Education Technology Company ("REDA") and Quest Holding International, LLC ("Quest"), whereby REDA and Quest have agreed to provide certain services related to the Miami University Middletown English Language Center ("ELC"). As part of the agreement, Quest is responsible for providing all first-year ELC students with housing, dining, and transportation services. First-year ELC students enter into a lease agreement with Quest (or one of its subsidiaries) for housing. Quest owns the Park Lane Apartments complex, which is reasonably contiguous to the Middletown Campus. Prior to guidance from the 2016 Campus Safety and Security Reporting Handbook, the housing was categorized as Non-Campus Property. In 2017 and 2018, the housing was determined to be reasonably contiguous to campus and therefore categorized as On Campus Residential Facilities. In 2019, upon re-examination of the agreement for ELC student housing it was determined that Miami University does not control the location therefore the location no longer qualifies as a Clery reportable geography.

[B] Non-Campus Property—Non-Campus is (1) any building or property owned or controlled by a student organization that is officially recognized by Miami; or (2) any building or property owned or controlled by Miami that is used in direct support of or in relation to, Miami's educational purposes, is frequently used by students, and is not within the same reasonably contiguous geographic area of Miami. The Middletown campus has no buildings owned or controlled by student organizations. The Middletown Campus has non-contiguous buildings used by Miami-Middletown in direct support of its educational purposes.

Hate Crimes—Hate crimes are crimes that manifest evidence that the victim was intentionally selected because of the victim's actual or perceived race (RA), religion (RE), sexual orientation (SO), gender (G), gender identity (GI), ethnicity (E), national origin (NO) or disability (D). No hate crimes were reported in 2019, 2020, or 2021.

Unfounded crimes. If a reported crime is investigated by law enforcement authorities and found to be false or baseless, the crime is “unfounded” and should not be included in your institution’s statistics. Only sworn or commissioned law enforcement personnel may “unfound” a crime. There were no crimes unfounded in 2019, 2020, or 2021.

University officials who have significant responsibility for student and campus activities are designated as Campus Security Authorities. They are responsible for reporting of a crime of which they become aware, including sexual assault, domestic violence, dating violence, and stalking, to the Miami University Police Department immediately.

As part of our continuing commitment to creating and maintaining One Miami that promotes responsibility, dignity, and respect for all members of our community, Miami University has made several important changes to our Policy Prohibiting Harassment and Discrimination, Title IX Protocol for Employees, and Title IX Protocol for Students. One of the most important changes requires all employees* to promptly report harassment, discrimination, sexual misconduct and interpersonal violence beginning July 1, 2017.

Those with a legal privilege of confidentiality and researchers may be exempted from reporting. For more information, please review the policy and protocols.*

Confidentiality

The University does not have procedures for voluntary confidential reporting of crimes. Violations of law will be referred to law enforcement agencies. Crimes reported to counselors at the Student Counseling Services, the Psychology Clinic, or to a physician or nurse at the Health Services Center are confidential by law. Some off-campus reports may also be legally confidential (for example, to clergy, the Community Counseling and Crisis Center, and McCullough-Hyde Hospital). Crimes reported to the above are not included in the annual crime statistics report.

Miami University will preserve students' confidentiality to the extent possible and allowed by law. A person may speak confidentially with certain persons in legally-protected roles including:

- Counselors at Student Counseling Service
- Medical staff at the Student Health Center
- Off-campus with clergy, counselors, physicians
- Women Helping Women at 513-381-5610 or toll-free at 877-889-5610

The University does not have any procedures to encourage pastoral or professional counselors to inform the persons they are counseling of any procedures to report crimes on a voluntary, confidential basis for inclusion in the annual disclosure of crime statistics.

In addition, the University sponsors several awareness campaigns throughout the academic year including Take Back the Night, The Clothesline Project and Walk a Mile in her Shoes. These events offer an opportunity for victims of sexual assault, domestic violence, dating violence, and stalking to share experiences in a private setting.

Clery Reporting

The degree to which confidentiality can be protected when a report is made to someone other than those identified above depends upon whether or not the individual to whom the offense is reported is legally required to report this information to law enforcement. Ohio law and University policy require those with knowledge of a felony to report it to law enforcement. Miami employees including Resident Assistants and professional residence life staff are required to report sex-based offenses (including sexual assault, domestic violence, dating violence, and stalking) to the Miami University Police who will, in turn, report it to the Title IX Coordinator. Reporting to the Miami University Police or other law enforcement does not require the victim to file criminal charges.

Public Records

Police reports are open for inspection and copying under Ohio's Public Records Act. The extent to which Miami University can protect the identity of victims of sex-based offenses contained in police reports is not absolute; however, the University uses its best efforts to protect the identity of the victim and the intimate details of the report. The identity of an uncharged suspect may be withheld.

Crimes Involving Miami Students

The Miami University Police Department (MUPD) incident reports involving students accused of misconduct are forwarded to the Office of Community Standards for review and potential action, as appropriate. MUPD officers have the authority to issue citations and make arrests involving criminal activity that occurs on campus, as deemed appropriate. MUPD will investigate a report when it is deemed appropriate.

Additional information obtained via the investigation will also be forwarded to the Office of Community Standards. If assistance is required from any of the local police departments listed above, MUPD will contact the appropriate unit.

Timely Warning

Safety Bulletin

In the event that a crime is reported on the University's campus property, non-campus property, or on the public property surrounding campus that, in the judgment of the Miami University Police Department, constitutes an on-going serious or continuing threat to the campus community, a Safety Bulletin will be issued. The purpose of a Safety Bulletin is to enable persons to protect themselves and to heighten safety awareness as well as to seek information that will lead to an arrest and conviction of the perpetrator when violent crimes against persons or major crimes against property have occurred. Every attempt will be made to distribute a Safety Bulletin soon after the incident is reported; however, the release of the Safety Bulletin is subject to the availability of facts concerning the incident. Safety Bulletins will not contain the names of victims. The University is not required to issue a Safety Bulletin with respect to crimes reported to a pastoral or professional counselor.

Safety Bulletins are usually distributed for the following Uniformed Crime Reporting Program (UCR)/National Incident Based Reporting System (NIBRS) classifications: arson, criminal homicide, and robbery. Cases of aggravated assault and sex offenses are considered on a case-by-case basis, depending on the facts of the case and the information known by Miami University Police Department (MUPD). For example, if an assault occurs between two students who have a disagreement, there may be no on-going threat to other Miami community members, and a Safety Bulletin would not be distributed. In cases involving sexual assault, they are often reported long after the incident occurred, thus there is no ability to distribute a "timely" warning notice to the community. Sex offenses and burglaries will be considered on a case-by-case basis depending on when and where the incident occurred, when it was reported, and the amount of information known by the Miami University Police Department. The Miami University Police Chief or designee reviews all reports to determine if there is an on-going threat to the community, and if the distribution of a Safety Bulletin is warranted. Safety Bulletins may also be posted for other crime classifications as deemed appropriate.

On the Oxford campus, the Chief of Police or a designee is responsible for preparing and distributing the Safety Bulletin via blast email to all University email accounts. The University News and Communications Office may also send a Safety Bulletin working with the Miami University Police Department. Safety Bulletins are posted on the Miami University Police website (<https://miamioh.edu/police/>) and distributed to students, faculty and staff via an email blast. Safety Bulletins may also be issued using some or all of the following methods of communication: text messages or emails sent through the University's e-2campus ALERT system, or building postings by building administrators.

On the Hamilton, Middletown, and Voice of America Learning Center campuses, the Director of Business and Administration or a designee is responsible for preparing and distributing the Safety Bulletins for their respective campuses via email blast to all University assigned email accounts of their faculty, staff and students on those campuses. The Dean of the Dolibois European Center or a designee is responsible for preparing and distributing the Safety Bulletins via email blast to the faculty, staff and students on that campus.

For the various campuses that support programs offered by the University's Department of Teacher Education or Department of Educational Leadership, the site coordinators or their designees will work with the Miami University Police Department to prepare and distribute the Safety Bulletins via email blast to all University assigned email account of its faculty, staff, and students on those campuses.

Emergency Notification v. Timely Warning

If there is an immediate threat to the health or safety of students or employees occurring on campus, Miami will follow its Emergency Notification Procedures. No Safety Bulletin based on the same circumstance will be issued. However, follow-up information will be disseminated to the community as needed.

Emergency Notification and Response

In the event of an emergency, contact Miami University Police at 911 to initiate the Emergency Messaging System.

Emergency Messaging System – Notification of an Immediate Threat

Miami University has developed emergency procedures, and the University will initiate and provide, without delay, immediate notifications to the appropriate segment(s) of the University community upon the confirmation of a significant emergency or dangerous situation involving an immediate threat to the health or safety of students, employee and visitors. The content of the notification will vary depending on the situation. At a minimum, the notification will describe the emergency, provide basic instructions to the community and will direct them to where they can receive additional information.

Miami University maintains multiple systems for alerting the Miami community about campus emergencies and will use some or all of those systems, depending on the circumstances. The university provides emergency notification services via text messages, VoIP telephones, university-owned computer screens, digital screens, emergency call tower speakers and email. If any of these systems fail or the University deems it appropriate, in-person communication may be used to communicate an emergency.

These notices also post to the University home page, portal, and police page. Miami student, faculty, and staff email addresses are automatically entered into the Miami Emergency Notification System. Cell phone numbers for current students, staff and faculty are also auto-entered into the Emergency Notification System.

To update one's data or to opt-out of text messages, individuals must log into the Emergency Notification System service through <https://miamioh.edu/police/services/etms/index.html> .

In addition, in the case of an emergency, the University can activate an alert service on its telephone system to send notice to all administrative phones on one or all campuses. The University may also elect to alert the media. All Miami University Police vehicles are equipped with bullhorns.

Emergency messaging will primarily be used only for those situations that pose an immediate threat to the health or safety of students or employees on campus or for the closing of an entire campus (i.e., severe weather, chemical spills, fires, and crimes). Messages about criminal activity generally will not be sent using these systems unless it is decided there is an imminent threat of danger. In those cases where a crime has been reported; and University Police determine that, although there is no immediate threat, the crime represents a serious or ongoing threat to the campus community, a Safety Bulletin will be issued as described above.

The Emergency Messaging System is provided in addition to existing emergency notification procedures and does not replace or eliminate any other emergency notification system (e.g., fire alarms, tornado sirens).

Miami will generally provide follow-up information to the campus community as appropriate via the University's website and/or social media and has a system to email the landlords of Oxford students if appropriate. Miami University also provides information to parents via the Parents Office, which may choose to send emails and/or post information on the Parents Office website, depending on circumstances.

Emergency Response Procedures

Miami University maintains the Miami University Emergency Response Plan that outlines responsibilities of campus units during emergencies. This plan outlines incident priorities, campus organization and specific responsibilities of particular units or positions. University units are responsible for developing emergency response and continuity of operations plans for their areas and staff. Campus emergency management provides resources and guidance for the development of these plans.

The Office of Environmental Health and Safety, the Miami University Police, and the University News and Communications Office receive information from various offices and departments on campus. If the Miami University Police or one of these offices confirms there is an immediate threat to the health or safety of some or all of the members of the campus community, the Miami University Police and the University News and Communications Office will determine the content of the message and either or both entities will use some or all of the methods described above to communicate to the campus community or appropriate segment of the campus community.

The Emergency Messaging System may be initiated from on-campus and from remote locations. Miami will, without delay and taking into account the safety of the community, determine the content of the emergency message and initiate the Emergency Messaging System, unless issuing a message will, in the judgment of the Miami University Police or other responsible authorities, compromise efforts to assist a victim or to contain, respond to, or otherwise mitigate the emergency situation. For guidance on response to a variety of potential dangers, see Emergency Procedures <http://miamioh.edu/campus-safety/emergency-procedures/index.html>

For more information and guidance on Emergency Preparedness and Response at Miami University Regionals please see the Regionals Campus Safety website. <https://miamioh.edu/regionals/campus-safety>

For the Wilmington Campus and Dublin Coffman Campus refer to the procedures posted in the building for guidance.

Additional Communication

In the event of a significant on-campus emergency or dangerous situation involving an immediate threat to the health or safety of students, faculty, or staff, the University will also post information on its homepage. <http://www.miami.muohio.edu/index.html> The University has access to an off-campus back-up server in the event the University's computing services fail during an emergency.

University News and Communications is charged with notifying the media in the event of an emergency. Updated information will be posted to the University's website and provided to the media.

Annual Publication

General information about the University's response and evacuation procedures is publicized each year as part of its Campus Safety Report, which is published as part of its compliance with the Clery Act. The University also publicizes a summary of the emergency response and evacuation procedures via email at least once each year in conjunction with a test (exercise and drill) that meets all of the requirements of the Higher Education Opportunity Act.

Annual Testing of Emergency Response and Evacuation Procedures

In conjunction with other emergency agencies, the University conducts emergency response drills and exercises each year, such as tabletop exercises, field exercises, and tests of the emergency notification systems on campus. These tests, which may be announced or unannounced, are designed to assess and evaluate the emergency plans and capabilities of the institution.

The Office of Environmental Health and Safety and the Miami University Police are responsible for testing the University's emergency response and evacuation procedures at least once per year. These tests may be announced (as in the case of the residence hall fire safety program) or unannounced (as in the case of emergency preparedness drills). The Office of Environmental Health and Safety is responsible for maintaining documentation for each test, including a description of the exercise, the date, time and place of the exercise, and whether the drill was announced or unannounced.

Ambulatory

1. An escort may be beneficial.
2. Evacuate with other building occupants.

Shelter-in-Place Procedures –What it Means to “Shelter-in-Place”

If an incident occurs and the buildings or areas around you become unstable, or if the air outdoors becomes dangerous due to toxic or irritating substances, it is usually safer to stay indoors, because leaving the area may expose you to that danger. Thus, to “shelter-in-place” means to make a shelter of the building that you are in, and with a few adjustments this location can be made even safer and more comfortable until it is safe to go outside.

Basic “Shelter-in-Place” Guidance

If an incident occurs and the building you are in is not damaged, stay inside in an interior room until you are told it is safe to come out. If your building is damaged, take your personal belonging (purse, wallet, access card, etc.) and follow the evacuation procedures for your building (close your door, proceed to the nearest exit, and use the stairs instead of the elevators). Once you have evacuated, seek shelter at the nearest University building quickly. If police or fire department personnel are on the scene, follow their directions.

How You Will Know to “Shelter-in-Place”

A shelter-in-place notification may come from several sources (e.g. Miami University Police Department, Housing Staff members, other University employees, local law enforcement, or other authorities utilizing the University’s emergency communications tools).

How to “Shelter-in-Place”

No matter where you are, the basic steps of shelter-in-place will generally remain the same. Should the need ever arise, follow these steps, unless instructed otherwise by local emergency personnel:

1. If you are inside, stay where you are. Collect any emergency shelter-in-place supplies and a telephone to be used in case of emergency. If you are outdoors, proceed into the closest building quickly or follow instructions from emergency personnel on the scene.
2. Locate a room to shelter inside. It should be:
 1. An interior room;
 2. Above ground level; and
 3. Without windows or with the least number of windows. If there is a large group of people inside a particular building, several rooms maybe necessary.
3. Shut and lock all windows (tighter seal) and close exterior doors.
4. Turn off air conditioners, heaters, and fans.
5. Close vents to ventilation systems as you are able.
6. Make a list of the people with you and communicate that information to law enforcement so they know where you are sheltering.
7. Turn on a radio or TV and listen for further instructions.
8. Make yourself comfortable.

Tornado

Know:

1. Tornado watch and tornado warning conditions
2. Where tornado shelters are located in your building
3. When to initiate appropriate emergency procedures

Tornado Watch – Weather conditions are right for a tornado to occur, but none have been sighted.

1. Notify others in your area that a tornado watch is in effect.
2. Monitor the weather with radio or television.
3. Note when the watch is in effect. Be prepared for an announcement that cancels or upgrades the watch to a warning.

Tornado Warning – A tornado has been sighted in the vicinity.

1. Remain calm. Proceed to your designated shelter area. If the building has no basement, go to the lowest level to a room or hallway away from windows. Restrooms, located near the center of the building and without windows, may provide good shelters.
2. Stay in the shelter until the warning is lifted.
3. Stay away from windows, and do not go outside. Flying debris can result in serious injury.

Tornado – A tornado strikes.

1. Curl up on the floor, face down, and cover your head with your arms and hands. If you are outdoors, curl up in a drainage ditch or low-lying area.
2. After the tornado, if the building is damaged, implement evacuation.
3. Assist those with injuries. Follow Medical Emergency procedures.

Active Shooter – Shelter-In-Place Guidance

If you find yourself involved in the very rare event of an active shooter situation, try to remain calm and use these guidelines to help you plan a strategy for survival.

If an active shooter is outside your building, go to a room that can be locked, close and lock all the windows and doors, and turn off all the lights; if possible, get everyone down on the floor and ensure that no one is visible from outside the room. Call 911 and inform the dispatcher of your location; remain in place until the police or a campus administrator known to you gives the “all clear.” Unfamiliar voices may be the shooter attempting to lure victims from their safe space; do not respond to any voice commands until you can verify that they are being issued by an official. Likewise, do not leave the room if the fire alarm is activated unless you can see smoke and flames and judge the fire to be a greater risk than the shooter.

If an active shooter is in the same building you are, determine if the room you are in can be locked and if so, follow the same procedures described above. If your room cannot be locked, determine if there is a nearby location that can be reached safely and secured, or if you can safely exit the building. If you decide to move from your current location, be sure to follow the instructions outlined below.

If an active shooter enters your office or classroom, try to remain calm. Dial 911, if possible, and alert police to the shooter’s location; if you cannot speak, leave the line open so the dispatcher can listen to what’s taking place. If there is no opportunity for escape or hiding, it might be possible to negotiate with the shooter. Attempting to overpower the shooter with force should be considered a last resort.

No matter what the circumstances, if you decide to flee during an active shooting situation, make sure you have an escape route and plan in mind. Do not attempt to carry anything while fleeing and leave coats and jackets behind so the police can easily see you are not armed; move quickly, keep your hands visible, and follow the instructions of any police officers you may encounter. Do not attempt to remove injured people; instead, leave wounded victims where they are and notify authorities of their location as soon as possible. Do not try to drive off campus until advised it is safe to do so by police or campus administrators.

Earthquake

During a major earthquake, you may experience shaking that starts out gentle, but quickly grows violent and knocks you off your feet or you may be jarred by a violent jolt (as though a building was hit by a truck), feel shaking, and have difficulty moving about.

During the Quake

1. Indoors— get under a desk or table or stand in a doorway or corner. Stay clear of windows, bookcases, mirrors, and fireplaces. If possible, extinguish open flames or ignition sources. Do not use elevator.
2. Outside— stay in an open area away from trees, buildings, walls, and power lines.
3. Crowded public place— do not rush to doors. Move away from objects that could fall.
4. Driving— pull over and stop. Avoid overpasses and power lines. Stay inside the vehicle until shaking stops. If the earthquake was severe, do not attempt to cross damaged bridges, overpasses, or damaged sections of road.

After the Quake

1. Check for injuries. Implement Medical Emergency procedures. If items can be moved by hand, help people who are trapped.
2. Use phone only to report serious injury, fire, or gas leak. If phone is not operating, go to the Police Services Center or the Emergency Operations Center (if identified).
3. If natural gas is leaking, extinguish all sources of ignition, and do not turn on or off any electrical switches in the area.
4. Attempt to block off damaged areas until help can arrive.
5. Do not touch downed power lines or damaged building equipment.
6. Implement Chemical Spill procedure if necessary.
7. If your building is damaged, evacuate and attempt to secure building against re-entry.
8. If you have a radio or cellular phone (and batteries and chargers), take with you.
9. Turn on a battery-powered radio for damage information.
10. Keep streets clear for emergency vehicles. Do not drive a vehicle unless there is an emergency.
11. Be prepared for aftershocks (usually smaller than the main quake, but may cause additional damage to weakened structures).

Hazardous Gas Odor (flammable, toxic, corrosive, oxygen, cryogenic)

Natural Gas Odor

Odorant, added to natural gas, can be detected at extremely low concentrations. Smelling natural gas does not necessarily constitute an immediate hazard. If gas odor is detected:

1. Call 911.
2. Report:
3. Name and phone number
4. Building and room number
5. Area of odor
6. How long odor has been noticed

Compressed Gas Cylinder

If a cylinder is leaking, and in the judgment of the person responsible for the cylinder, the valve cannot be closed, and an immediate hazard exists:

1. Turn on any exhaust ventilation and close all doors when exiting laboratory or shop.
2. Call 911. Report:
3. Name and phone number
4. Building
5. Room number where cylinder is located
6. Name of gas leaking
7. Implement building evacuation. Move to a safe distance and leave clear access for emergency personnel. Do not return to the building until instructed by Department of Safety staff.

Missing Student Policy

In accordance with the Higher Education Act, Miami University must develop and implement certain procedures to be followed when Residential Students are determined to be missing for 24 hours. The term “Residential Student(s)” means (1) a student living in a residence hall located on the University’s Oxford campus; and (2) a student living in overflow housing under the University’s control located in Oxford, Ohio. Any person who believes Residential Student is missing should immediately notify the Miami University Police Department at (513) 529-2222. In the event another University office receives a report of a missing Residential Student, that office is responsible for immediately notifying the Miami University Police Department. If a Residential Student lives outside of the Miami University Police Department’s law enforcement jurisdiction, then the Miami University Police Department will notify the appropriate local law enforcement agency.

The Miami University Police Department will make the determination as to whether a Residential Student is missing after it has verified that reported information is credible and circumstances warrant declaring the individual missing. If the Miami University Police Department determines that a Residential Student is missing for 24 hours, then the Miami University Police Department will notify the missing Residential Student’s confidential contact(s) (described below). If a Residential Student is under 18 years of age (and is not emancipated), then the Miami University Police Department will also notify such student’s custodial parent or guardian within 24 hours of the determination that the student is missing. For all missing Residential Students, the University will notify the local law enforcement agency within 24 hours of the determination that a residential student is missing, unless the local law enforcement agency was the entity that made the determination that such student is missing.

Student Emergency Contact Information

All students are required to provide the University with a telephone number (cellular phone or land line) at which they may be reached during the academic year and for any summer terms in which they are enrolled. All students are required to provide the University with emergency contact information, including the name, address, and phone number (including a cellular phone number if available) of a parent, guardian, spouse, or other person to contact in the event of an emergency.

Students who do not reside on campus are required to provide the University with the street address of the residence in which they are physically residing during the academic year and any summer terms in which they are enrolled.

In addition to registering a general emergency contact, Residential Students have the option to provide the University with a confidential missing person contact to be notified in the event the student is determined to be missing for more than 24 hours. A Residential Student may register the confidential missing person contact during the course registration process each term on a secure University website. A missing Residential Student’s confidential contact information will be accessible by campus officials and may be shared with law enforcement in the course of the investigation.

Building Security, Access, and Maintenance

Miami University maintains its campus facilities at the Oxford, Middletown, Hamilton, Voice of America Learning Center, and Luxembourg in a manner that minimizes hazardous and unsafe conditions. Parking lots and pathways are illuminated with lighting. Miami University has contracted with a privacy security company called Securitas to secure the Hamilton, Middletown, and Voice of America Learning Center campuses. MUPD and Securitas work closely with University Physical Facilities to address burned out lights promptly as well as malfunctioning door locks or other physical conditions that enhance security. Members of the University community are encouraged to report equipment problems to MUPD, Securitas, and Physical Facilities. In the event that Securitas no longer provides private security services to the university, Miami University will contract with another private security services company, which will provide security services substantially similar to those currently supplied by Securitas.

Oxford Campus

During business hours, most facilities except residences are open to students, parents, employees, contractors, guests, and invitees. The exterior and interior doors for all on-campus residence halls are locked 24/7 with access via residents' ID cards. Each day between 11:00 p.m. and 6:00 a.m., access to all residence halls is restricted to a single designated entry point that is accessible via residents' ID cards. In the case of periods of extended closing, the university will admit only those with prior approval to the halls.

From time to time Miami may lease apartment units in Oxford, Ohio, and then sub-let those units to students during the academic year. Hawks Landing is reasonably contiguous to the Oxford campus. Hawks Landing has building security and safety features typical of multi-unit apartment complexes, and local police regularly patrol the area surrounding Hawks Landing.

Other campus facilities have specified hours of operation and are secured at closing times. Faculty and staff may enter their office/academic buildings after hours via electronic codes on their ID cards. Emergencies may necessitate changes or alterations to any posted schedules.

University police officers actively patrol the campus. Shrubby and trees are regularly trimmed to maintain a safe and attractive landscape. All campus lighting is numbered to ensure accurate reporting and rapid repair of non-functioning lights. At least annually, a committee of staff and students tour the campus to determine where additional lighting may be needed. Also, the Residence Hall Association completes an annual walking check of campus lighting with a small group of students and staff accompanied by the residence life director and representatives from physical facilities. For more information, visit the Miami University Police web page on Safety Tips and Resources.

Hamilton Campus

The Hamilton campus does not currently have any on-campus housing facilities. Academic buildings are open during class hours and are typically secured by 10:30 p.m. The campus is patrolled 24/7 by Securitas, a private security company hired by the University. For more information, visit the Regionals Campus Safety website.

Middletown Campus

The Middletown campus does not currently have any on-campus housing facilities. Academic buildings are open during class hours and are typically secured by 10:30 p.m. The campus is patrolled 24/7 by Securitas, a private security company hired by the University. For more information, visit the Regionals Campus Safety website.

Voice of America Learning Center

The Voice of America campus does not have any on-campus housing facilities. Academic buildings are open during class hours and are typically secured by 10:30 p.m. when classes are in session. The campus is patrolled Monday through Thursday, 4:30 p.m. to 10:30 p.m. by Securitas, a private security company hired by the University. For more information, visit the Regionals Campus Safety website.

Luxembourg Campus

Academic buildings are open during class hours and are typically closed by 10 p.m. Monday–Thursday and 5 p.m. on Friday when classes are in session. The campus is closed to students on weekends. The campus is patrolled regularly by local police.

Miami leases apartment units in Differdange, Luxembourg and then sub-lets those units to students during the academic year. These buildings are reasonably contiguous to the Luxembourg campus and local police regularly patrol the area surrounding the buildings.

Dublin Coffman Campus

The Dublin Coffman campus does not have any on-campus housing facilities and consists of classroom space utilized at the Dublin Coffman High School located in Dublin, Ohio. The building is accessible through the front door where office personnel are able to give access to persons asking for entrance. During school hours, an exterior door buzzer system with camera and intercom capabilities is used to monitor access. During evening and night hours, the school doors are closed and locked while after-hours staff work inside the building. The campus is patrolled regularly by local police.

Wilmington Campus

Miami University utilizes classroom space at Wilmington College's Center for the Sciences and Agriculture located in Wilmington, Ohio. The building is accessible through several doors with many evening classes besides the one-room Miami University has access to. During evening and night hours, the doors remain unlocked while after-hour staff work inside the building. Although Miami University does not have a police or security presence at this location, the Wilmington College campus is patrolled 24/7 by a private security company hired by Wilmington College to conduct routine patrols of campus buildings to evaluate and monitor security-related matters. Wilmington College Physical Plant Department maintains campus facilities in a manner that minimizes hazardous and unsafe conditions. Parking lots and pathways are illuminated with lighting.

University Police Authority and Jurisdiction

The Miami University Police is located in the Police Services Center, 4945 Oxford-Trenton Road (SR 73), near Ditmer Parking Lot.

Miami University Police officers are fully sworn and armed law enforcement officers empowered to investigate alleged criminal activity, search and arrest as authorized by law, and use necessary and reasonable force to enforce the law and protect persons and property. They evaluate reported crimes, conduct investigations, and effect arrests.

Miami University Police enforce all state and local laws, including underage drinking, controlled substances, and rape or other forms of sexual assault. They are responsible for enforcing laws on all university-owned property and work cooperatively with the Oxford police and other local law enforcement agencies. Mutual aid agreements are in place with several local law enforcement agencies and can be found on the Police Department's mutual aid website.

<https://miamioh.edu/police/community-policing/mutual-aid-agreements> When a major crime occurs, the police chief of either jurisdiction may request the assistance of the other police department.

The Miami University Police also work cooperatively with the Office of Community Standards to enforce Miami's Code of Student Conduct.

Regional campus (Hamilton, Middletown, and Voice of America Learning Center) security is provided by contracted security personnel who are not sworn police officers and do not have arrest authority. The Hamilton City Police Department has law enforcement authority at the Hamilton campus, the Middletown City Police Department has law enforcement authority at the Middletown campus, the West Chester Police Department has law enforcement authority at the Voice of America Learning Center, the Dublin Police Department has law enforcement authority at the Dublin Coffman campus, the City of Wilmington Police Department has law enforcement authority at the Wilmington campus and the Police Grand-Ducale, Luxembourg has law enforcement authority at the Luxembourg campus.

All persons are encouraged to promptly and accurately report criminal activity to police.

Criminal Activity Non-Campus

The University does not own any non-campus residences of recognized student, fraternity, or sorority organizations. The City of Oxford has law enforcement responsibility for privately owned non-campus fraternities and sororities. The City of Oxford and the University do, however, have a mutual aid agreement. As a result, Miami police officers may assist the Oxford Police Department with non-campus incidents. Oxford Police also communicate with University officials when non-campus student organizations are engaged in non-campus criminal incidents. In accordance with the Code of Student Conduct, Miami University will address non-campus conduct when the behavior or the presence of the individual or student organization, in the University's sole judgment, impairs, interferes, or obstructs the mission, processes, or functions of the University.

Campus Crime Prevention and Security Awareness Programs

The Miami University Police patrol the Oxford campus 24 hours a day, 365 days a year, using cars, bikes, and officers on foot. Campus Security (Securitas) patrols the Hamilton and Middletown campuses 24 hours a day, 365 days a year, on foot and in vehicles. Campus Security (Securitas) patrols the Voice of America Learning Center Monday through Thursday, 4:30 p.m. to 10:30 p.m. on foot.

Emergency phones have been placed in locations throughout the Oxford, Hamilton, and Middletown campuses. When activated, an emergency phone connects a person to dispatch. Each emergency phone tower on the Oxford campus is capable of broadcasting emergency information to those in hearing distance of the tower. Police encourage all members of the community and visitors to report safety concerns to police.

The University Police Department may distribute throughout the Oxford campus printed materials and electronic notices promoting personal safety and alerting people to specific crimes or problems. The Institutional Response Team distributes safety awareness information online <https://miamioh.edu/campus-safety/emergency-procedures> and in printed materials, to students and employees. The Business Services and Student Life offices do the same thing for the Hamilton and Middletown campuses.

The University Police has a team of officers dedicated to community relations and crime prevention that coordinates numerous security awareness programs for the campus community, specifically to encourage students and employees to be responsible for their own security and the security of others. Printed and electronic materials are distributed regularly from the station, through campus mail or email, and at fairs to provide crime prevention tips and information.

The following security awareness and crime prevention programs were provided by Miami University Police during calendar year 2021:

- Alcohol and Drug Safety/Awareness related programs for students. Three sessions conducted upon request.
- New Student Orientation that provided general safety awareness, crime prevention, alcohol rules, and fire safety information to students. Information provided during one session of orientation.
- General safety awareness and crime prevention information provided to current students upon request during four sessions.
- International Student Orientation that provided general safety awareness and crime prevention information to international students. Information provided annually during two sessions of orientation.
- Active Shooter/Threat Awareness Training provided to faculty/staff. Information provided upon request during three sessions.

- Sexual Assault Awareness information provided to students, staff, and community members. Three sessions conducted upon request.

Workplace Violence

Miami University is committed to promoting and maintaining a safe working and learning environment for its employees and students. Threatening, intimidating, or violent behavior will not be tolerated. If such conduct occurs, it should be promptly reported to the proper authorities (police and/or appropriate personnel office) and will be investigated.

Persons found to have violated this policy will be subject to disciplinary action up to and including termination in accordance with the appropriate collective bargaining agreement, classified civil service rules, and/or University disciplinary policy.

Any person who is the victim of threatening or violent conduct in the workplace, or who observes such behavior, or who believes a credible threat of such behavior exists is expected to immediately report the conduct to the proper authorities (police and/or appropriate personnel office). Those who, in good faith, make such reports will be protected from retaliation.

Code of Student Conduct

The Office of Community Standards is responsible for administering the Code of Student Conduct <https://www.miamioh.edu/policy-library/students/student-code-of-conduct/code-of-conduct.html>, which applies to students on all Miami campuses. The Code outlines the rights and responsibilities of students, behaviors prohibited on and off-campus, possible sanctions, and the procedural rights of students and student organizations.

The Code of Student Conduct applies to Miami's undergraduate students, graduate students, and student organizations. The Code of Student Conduct prohibits misconduct on University premises (buildings or grounds owned, leased, operated, controlled, or supervised by the University), including the Oxford campus, Miami University Dolibois European Center, the Miami University Hamilton campus, the Miami University Middletown campus, and the Voice of America Learning Center, the Wilmington campus, and the Dublin Coffman campus. It also applies to misconduct in University programs and activities, regardless of location, and off-campus conduct that negatively impacts the campus community. Students and student organizations are subject to this Code of Student Conduct beginning at summer orientation, during academic terms for which they are enrolled, during breaks between terms, during University holidays and vacations, and during periods of suspension. Additionally, while Miami University does not routinely monitor social media sites and other electronic media, students should be aware that behavior on such sites when reported to the University may be investigated and adjudicated.

If a student or student organization breaks a law that also violates the Code of Student Conduct, they may be held accountable by both civil authorities and the University. The University may at its sole discretion elect to pursue disciplinary action in the absence of criminal charges, at the same time as criminal charges are pending, or if the criminal charges involving the same incident are not complete, have been reduced or are dismissed.

Student organizations (defined in the "Recognition of Student Organization" section of the policy "Student Organizations and Governance Bodies"), including fraternities and sororities (defined in the policy "Sororities and Fraternities"), are subject to the same conduct standards as individual students.

An organization may be held responsible for a violation of University policy or rule when:

1. One or more of its officers, members, or authorized representatives acting as a member of the organization commit the violation; or
2. The misconduct occurs at an event that is sponsored, financed, or endorsed by an organization where it is reasonable to believe that the organization's members knew or should have known that one or more of the participants engaged in conduct that is in violation of this Code; or

3. The misconduct occurs on the premises owned, leased, rented or operated by the organization where it is reasonable to believe that the organization's members knew or should have known that one or more of the participants engaged in conduct that is in violation of this Code.

The standard of review used to determine responsibility under the Code of Student Conduct is a "preponderance" standard. This determination is based on the greater weight of the information and does not require a standard beyond a reasonable doubt.

Ohio Revised Code Sections 3345.22 and 3345.23 procedures are commonly referred to as "1219" proceedings. The initiation of a "1219" proceeding against a student does not prohibit the University from taking University disciplinary action against that same student under the Code for the same conduct that gave rise to the "1219" proceeding. A student arrested for any of the defined offenses will automatically be subjected to the "1219" proceedings, which is summarized below.

- After a hearing that will be held no more than five days after arrest (continuances may be granted, that may not exceed a total of 10 days), students arrested for one of the offenses defined in Ohio Revised Code 3345.23(D) are subject to immediate suspension from the University. Students convicted of any of the offenses enumerated in Ohio Revised Code 3345.23(D) are subject to automatic dismissal from Miami University.
- Students suspended or dismissed under these "1219" procedures are not permitted on University property without the express permission of the President or the Board of Trustees. Students dismissed upon conviction may be re-admitted or admitted to any other Ohio tax-supported college or university, at the discretion of the college or university's board of trustees, but only after the lapse of one calendar year following dismissal and only upon terms of strict Disciplinary Probation (see Ohio Revised Code 3345.22 and 3345.23 for full text of the statutes and see Appendix A of the Code of Student Conduct for list of defined offenses of violence).

Any person, agency, organization or entity may make a complaint to the Office of Community Standards alleging a violation of the Code of Student Conduct. In addition, criminal acts such as sexual assault, assault, burglary, robbery, murder, and motor vehicle theft may also be reported to the Office of Community Standards, which will contact the University Police.

The Office of Community Standards is located in Room 9 Warfield Hall and can be reached at 513-529-1417 or at Office of Community Standards https://www.miamioh.edu/student-life/community-standards/index.html

Alcohol, Drug, and Substance Abuse Policies

The following information is provided in response to the Drug-Free Schools and Communities Act Amendments of 1989 (Public Law 101-226), which require that the university show that it has adopted and implemented a program to prevent the illicit use of drugs and the abuse of alcohol by students and employees; sanctions for violations of federal, state, and local laws and University policy, a description of health risks associated with alcohol and other drug use; and a description of available treatment programs for students and employees. The University must certify that it is in compliance with this law in order to receive any federal funds. The law requires, in part, the annual distribution of the following descriptive statements to each University student and employee. There is no distinction between full-time and part-time or permanent and temporary students and employees.

The unlawful possession, use, consumption or distribution of drugs and/or alcohol by students or employees on University property or as a part of any University activity is prohibited. Violators will be prosecuted in accordance with applicable laws and ordinances and will be subject as well to disciplinary actions by the University, in conformance with all University policies, guidelines, and procedures, including, without limitation, all applicable sections of the Student Handbook and Code of Student Conduct https://www.miamioh.edu/policy-library/students/student-code-of-conduct/code-of-conduct.html. Sanctions for violations may include suspension and/or termination/dismissal, as well as compulsory attendance at drug/alcohol education programs or other appropriate disciplinary measures. The Miami University Police Department is responsible for the enforcement of state underage drinking laws and the enforcement of Federal and State drug laws on the Oxford Campus. The Hamilton Police, Middletown Police, West Chester Police, Luxembourg Grand Ducale Police, Dublin Police and the City of Wilmington Police are responsible for the enforcement of state underage drinking laws and the enforcement of Federal and State drug laws on the respective branch campuses.

Alcohol Guidelines for Students and Employees

Legal and Responsible Use of Alcohol

The right to acquire, possess, and consume alcoholic beverages is limited by laws that establish minimum drinking ages, drinking and driving laws, and so on. Miami University also has established policies on alcohol use on campus and by campus groups. It is incumbent on students, faculty, and staff to become knowledgeable regarding these policies, whether for individual decision making or for planning programs and events for a department or organization, including student organizations.

On-Campus Consumption of Alcoholic Beverages – Compliance with Law

All on-campus possession and consumption of alcoholic beverages must be conducted in accordance with Ohio law and University policy regarding the possession, sale, and consumption of alcohol. Specifically:

1. Individuals under the age of twenty-one (21) may not purchase, possess, or consume beer, wine, or intoxicating liquor. It is also against the law for any person to furnish beer, wine, or intoxicating liquor to any person under twenty-one (21) years of age.
 2. No person shall have in his or her possession any open container of beer, wine, or intoxicating liquor in any public place except where the alcoholic beverage has been lawfully purchased for consumption on the premises of the holder of the appropriate permit from the State Department of Liquor Control.
 3. Only beer and wine (no intoxicating liquor) may be served at on-campus events to which students are invited. Exceptions must be approved by the Senior Vice President for Finance and Business Services.

Alcohol Guidelines for Faculty and Staff

General Rules

In the presence of students, faculty and staff are expected to model responsible adult behavior by either abstaining from the use of alcohol or consuming alcohol in moderation. At no time should a member of the faculty or staff be intoxicated in the presence of students or at a University event. In addition:

1. University faculty and staff may not purchase alcohol for undergraduate students – even if the student is of legal age to consume alcohol. This prohibition applies both on and off-campus, including restaurants, bars, athletic events, alumni events, events with cash bars and study away/ abroad trips.
2. Although strongly discouraged, faculty and staff who elect to purchase or serve alcohol to graduate students do so at their own risk and bear full legal responsibility. Faculty are encouraged to educate themselves about the laws regarding civil liability and to be aware that those who serve alcoholic beverages to underage students may be charged criminally. Faculty who elect to serve graduate students who are of age in their home are strongly encouraged to have a TIPS-trained bartender who can ensure that alcohol is only dispensed to participants who are 21 years of age or older and that only a modest amount of alcohol is served.
3. Faculty and staff should not accompany graduate or undergraduate students to restaurants, bars, clubs, and fraternity houses etc., where they are aware that underage drinking is taking place or where students are intoxicated.
4. Faculty and staff advisers to student organizations must be especially careful to encourage the student organization to adhere to University policy and civil law concerning the use of alcohol, and must never join them in breaking the law. Rather, they should encourage students to obey civil law and University policy concerning the use of alcohol and help them to understand how to use alcohol in a legal and responsible manner.

2. Only those 21 and older may consume alcohol.

3. Departmental funds (including program fees) may not be used to purchase alcohol. Alcohol may only be charged to an unrestricted gift account and cannot be charged to a departmental account or student organization account.
 4. The promotion and advertising of events sponsored by alcohol companies must be in accordance with Miami University policies. The main focus of such events must not be on promoting and advertising the use of the product.
 5. No alcoholic beverages may be given as prizes or awards.
 6. While listing the name of the company is permissible, symbols of alcohol may not be displayed on posters, signs, banners, or other advertisements for events. No advertisements featuring foaming mugs, cans, glasses, or kegs will be allowed.
 7. Promotion of events sponsored by alcohol companies must not encourage alcohol abuse or emphasize frequency or quantity of use.
 8. Advertising, both for promotion of events and for products, either on campus or in institutional media, should not portray drinking as a solution to personal or academic problems or as a necessary ingredient to social, sexual, or academic success. In addition, it should avoid demeaning or discriminatory portrayals of individuals or groups.
 9. Advertising or promotion of campus events should not associate the consumption of alcoholic beverages with the performance of tasks requiring skilled reactions, such as the operation of motor vehicles or machinery.
 10. The approval of the Senior Vice President for Finance and Business Services for events involving more than 5 students is required.

This includes, but is not limited to, being present in a residence hall room or with a group of persons where the prohibited use of alcohol or drugs is occurring. University Penalties and Sanctions - Students

Sanctions may be imposed individually or in combination with one another. Suspension or dismissal may be imposed for a single violation. Multiple violations or additional violations of the Code of Student Conduct may result in more severe sanctions.

No sanction will be imposed until all appeals are completed (see the “Appeals” portion of the Code of Student Conduct). Failure to complete a sanction will result in a hold on the student’s ability to register for subsequent semesters or additional disciplinary sanctions. Student organizations will not be reinstated until all sanctions are completed.

Students should be aware that disciplinary records may be reviewed by others within the University and may have adverse consequences for those seeking leadership opportunities, the second-year residency exemption, and/or enrollment in study abroad opportunities.

Registration for subsequent semesters may be withheld until the student completes all required sanctions.

Guidelines for sanctions for specific policy violations are available on the Office of Community Standards website and are subject to change based on individual circumstances.

Dismissal and Suspension/Revocation of Recognition

Dismissal is a sanction that permanently separates the student from the University without any opportunity to re-enroll in the future.

Suspension is a sanction that terminates the student’s enrollment for a specified period of time. The Office of Community Standards will determine the effective date of the suspension (either at the conclusion of the conduct process or at the close of the current semester/term) for a minimum of either fall or spring semester and may also include summer and/or winter term. (Note that a student may not be suspended solely for either summer and/or winter term.)

Suspension of a student organization is a revocation (withdrawal) of University recognition. During a period of revocation, a student organization forfeits all the rights and privileges afforded to them by University policy. A student organization whose recognition has been revoked must petition for reinstatement of recognition. Conditions for reinstatement of recognition will typically be outlined in the original sanction.

Conditions of Suspension and Dismissal

A student who has been dismissed or suspended from the University is denied all privileges afforded a student and must vacate campus. Students who are dismissed or suspended may not enter any Miami University campus/or other University property at any time for any reason in the absence of the express written consent of the Dean of Students or designee. To seek such permission, a suspended or dismissed student must file a written request with the Office of Community Standards for entrance for a limited, specific purpose. During the period of suspension or dismissal, a student may not attend classes (either in person or online), or participate in University-related activities, whether they occur on or off campus. All assigned educational sanctions must be completed prior to the conclusion of suspension; otherwise the suspension will remain in effect. Presence on campus in violations of sanctions could result in arrest. Academic credit earned elsewhere during a period of suspension will not be accepted in transfer. A student who has been suspended must apply for re-enrollment. Incomplete grades may not be removed during periods of suspension or dismissal.

Disciplinary Probation

Disciplinary probation is formal notice that a student's behavior or pattern of behavior was unacceptable. During the probation period, students should demonstrate a willingness and ability to respect and comply with the standards of behavior outlined in this Code. Continued misconduct of any kind during the probation period may result in suspension or dismissal. Disciplinary Probation is imposed for a definite period of time and may include additional sanctions. A student or representatives of an organization on probation may be required to meet periodically with a person designated by the Office of Community Standards.

Additional Sanctions

Sanctions may be imposed with or without suspension, revocation of recognition, or probation. Sanctions include but are not limited to:

1. Restrictions from participating in or sponsoring social, intramural, or co-curricular activities (including intercollegiate athletics);
2. Restriction of access to campus facilities, including residence halls;
3. Monetary payments for purpose of restitution or to cover the expense of educational sanctions;
4. Required University or community service;
5. Removal from or reassignment of University housing;
6. Loss of University privileges including, but not limited to, parking and computing/email resources;
7. Restriction of access to university-controlled space or resources;
8. Require planning of and/or attendance at educational programming;
9. Attendance at a conduct follow-up meeting(s);
10. Participation in required assessments.

Sanctioning Guidelines for Alcohol Violations

For a first-time violation related to the unauthorized use, possession or distribution of alcoholic beverages, including underage possession or consumption of alcohol, a student will typically receive:

- 6 months disciplinary probation.
- Attendance at a two-hour substance abuse program designed to acquaint students with their civil and legal responsibilities as well as the personal and career implications of alcohol and other substance abuse. There will be a fee of $150 to the student for the program.
- Participation in a restorative community experience.

For a first-time alcohol policy violation coupled with other misconduct, or a second violation related to the unauthorized use, possession or distribution of alcoholic beverages, including underage possession or consumption of alcohol, a student will typically receive:

- 12 months disciplinary probation.
- Attendance at a four-hour substance abuse education program and a fee of $200 from the student for the program.
- Participation in a comprehensive substance abuse assessment and a fee of $250 to the student for the assessment.
- Further intervention and an opportunity to participate in group sessions may be recommended by the counselor. There will be no additional fee to the student for participation in the group sessions at the Student Counseling Service.
- Participation in a restorative community experience.

The Office of Community Standards recognizes the negative consequences that can result from consuming alcoholic beverages with a higher alcohol content (i.e. distilled liquors such as vodka, whiskey, rum, etc.). When a student accepts responsibility for - or is found responsible for violating - the alcohol policy, the hearing officer will consider the type of alcoholic beverage involved as a factor in determining the appropriate sanctions. The Office of Student Wellness https://www.miamioh.edu/student-life/student-wellness/alcohol-other-drugs/alcohol/index.html maintains useful information about alcohol education for Miami University students and community members.

Please Note: First offenses of this behavior may result in probation, suspension or dismissal due to the severity of the behavior and/or the presence of aggravating circumstances associated with alcohol consumption.

For a subsequent alcohol violation coupled with other misconduct, a student will typically will receive:

- a minimum of one semester suspension
- disciplinary probation for a minimum of one year upon return to Miami University

Please note: If a student has been found responsible for two violations of the Alcohol policy and two calendar years have passed without a subsequent finding of responsibility for an Alcohol violation, the Office of Community Standards may choose to assign sanctions other than suspension depending on the student's disciplinary history, the severity of the behavior and/or the presence of aggravating circumstances associated with alcohol consumption.

Good Samaritan Policy – In the event the student incurs an alcohol violation following a Good Samaritan report, the prior file may be reviewed as part of the sanctioning process but will not be counted as a prior alcohol violation for the purpose of these sanctioning guidelines.

Informal Resolution Policy – In the event the student incurs an alcohol violation following participation in an Informal Resolution Process, the prior file may be reviewed as part of the sanctioning process but will not be counted as a prior alcohol violation for the purpose of these sanctioning guidelines.

Sanctions for Alcohol Violations by Student Organizations

University Penalties and Sanctions - Employees

Miami University employees found to be in violation of federal, state, or local law, or who violate the University's alcohol and drug policies, are subject to University disciplinary procedures and/or referral to the appropriate authorities for legal action.

Alcohol and other Drug Education for Students and Employees

Miami University encourages education as the first step in assisting students to take responsibility for their behavior and to understand the consequences of current and future behavior as it relates to drug and alcohol use.

Miami University requires all first-year students to participate in AlcoholEdu for College, an online educational program, prior to coming to campus. AlcoholEdu for College is a population-based prevention strategy (as defined by the National Institute for Alcohol Abuse and Alcoholism) to educate students about alcohol use, abuse and protective factors to minimize high-risk alcohol behaviors.

Bystander Intervention training is delivered to students in the first year seminar class UNV 101, Greek new member education, and by request. Skills to intervene safely and effectively are taught to students in situations of alcohol poisoning, sexual assault, and emotional or psychological distress.

Alcohol skills training programs are delivered by request. In addition, Miami makes available programs from the Alcohol Skills Training Program for high-risk student populations, such as fraternity and sorority members and student athletes. In addition, the Office of Student Wellness conducts awareness campaigns during National Collegiate Alcohol Awareness Week.

When students are sanctioned for violations, Miami University mandates one of two education programs, the Alternatives Program and the Chemical Abuse Education Program.

The Alternatives Program is a two-hour program that focuses on decision-making and responsible actions around alcohol use. The Chemical Abuse Education Program (CAEP), which is a four-hour program, focuses more specifically on drug use, abuse, and dependence. The primary focus of each program is to help students gain a broader knowledge regarding alcohol and other drug use by providing factual information about alcohol and other drug use and the negative consequences that may result from chemical use. Each program encourages abstinence and informs students of the health risks involved with continued use or abuse of alcohol or other drugs. These education programs also help students examine attitudes and influences, both internal and external, which affect their choices regarding chemical use.

Such programs support Miami's drug-free policy and employees and students are informed of Miami's drug-free policy and its implications. Employees are offered smoking cessation programs and, through an employee assistance program, counseling on alcohol or drug abuse, among other benefits.

bloodstream. The higher one's BAC, the more impaired he or she becomes by alcohol's effects. The short-term and long-term health effects of alcohol use and abuse may include:

- Alcohol intoxication, which can lead to various deleterious health effects, including a decreased ability to analyze sensory information resulting in disturbed balance, slurred speech, blurred vision, and dulled sensation of pain; dehydration; disrupted judgment; gastritis; impaired brain, judgment, and motor skills; and increased chance of death, accidents, and injuries, fall, sexual victimization, and suicide.

Sexual Assault and Interpersonal Violence Prevention, Education, and Resources

Miami University takes the safety of our students seriously. Miami strives to create an environment and culture that is safe for all community members and is respectful of all individuals. Sexual and interpersonal violence prevention and the response is crucial to creating a safe, supportive, and healthy environment for students, faculty, and staff. This programming includes such topics as sexual assault, domestic violence, dating violence, and stalking. Our programming starts with orientation in early summer for incoming students and their parents and extends into the first semester and beyond.

Sexual Assault Prevention, Risk Reduction, and Awareness Programs

Miami University engages in comprehensive, intentional, and integrated programming intended to respond to and prevent sexual assault, domestic violence, dating violence, and stalking that:

- Is culturally relevant, inclusive of diverse communities and identities, sustainable, respond to community needs and is informed by research or assessed for value, effectiveness, or outcome.
- Considers environmental risk and protective factors as they occur to the individual, relationship, institutional, community, and societal levels.

Educational programming consists of primary prevention and awareness programs for all incoming students and new employees and ongoing awareness and prevention campaigns for students and employees that:

- Identify sexual assault, domestic violence, dating violence, and stalking as prohibited conduct.
- Define using definitions provided by the Department of Education, state law, and/or Code of Conduct, what behavior and actions constitute consent to sexual activity in the State of Ohio and explain consent using the Code of Student Conduct <https://www.miamioh.edu/policy-library/students/student-code-of-conduct/code-of-conduct.html>.
- Provide a description of safe and positive options for bystander intervention. Bystander intervention means safe, effective, and positive options that may be carried out by an individual or individuals to prevent harm or intervene when there is a risk of harm, including sexual assault, domestic violence, dating violence, or stalking. Bystander intervention includes recognizing situations of potential harm, evaluating the situation and options, and deciding what intervention is appropriate. Refer to Bystander Intervention and Risk Reduction Information <https://miamioh.edu/campus-safety/bystander-risk-reduction> for more details
- Describe risk-reduction options. Risk reduction means options designed to decrease perpetration and bystander inaction and to increase empowerment for victims in order to promote safety and to help individuals and communities address conditions that facilitate violence. Refer to Bystander Intervention and Risk Reduction Information <https://miamioh.edu/campus-safety/bystander-risk-reduction> for more details

- Raise awareness of prohibitive behavior and/or consent and healthy relationships. Awareness programs are those programs that raise awareness of the various offenses, behaviors, and/or prosocial behaviors in regards to prevalence, statistics, normative information, options, resources, services, or other areas of interest/concern.
- Encourage primary prevention. Primary prevention programs are designed to prevent an offense from occurring. Such programs could include information regarding consent, healthy relationships, and positive prosocial behavior.
- Connect with Miami's ongoing prevention awareness campaign. The ongoing prevention awareness campaign is unifying, continuing the theme with the goal of preventing and raising awareness of sexual assault, domestic violence, dating violence, and stalking. Miami's campaign was discussed and developed in 2013 and 2014, with the implementation of the ongoing campaign in fall 2014.

Miami University has developed an annual educational campaign consisting of presentations that include distribution of education materials to new students; participating in and presenting information and materials during new employee orientation.

Primary Programming

Prior to the Start of School

All first-time incoming students on all campuses are required to take Haven: Understanding Sexual Assault. This online education program is designed to use a population-level approach to educate all students on the issues associated with sexual assault and interpersonal violence, taking into account their unique perspectives and experiences. Students are required to complete this program by the first day of classes. To ensure all students complete the program, a hold is placed on their second-semester registration.

All Residence Life staff, including professional staff and resident assistants, receive training not only on responding to sexual and interpersonal violence but also on what resources are available for prevention, education, risk reduction, and awareness.

Orientation

Incoming students and families at orientation receive two presentations focused on relevant student issues and concerns, including such topics as alcohol, sexual assault, and interpersonal violence issues, inclusion, and respect. Both new students and their families see a student-created presentation and a Community Expectations presentation facilitated by the Dean of Students office and the Miami University Police, after which incoming students participate in peer discussions and parents/families have a question and answer session with the Dean of Students staff member. Both the student-created and staff-presented sessions engage new students and their families in conversations about alcohol and sexual and interpersonal violence and personal responsibility, in order to help all students avoid unsafe situations. New students also attend debriefings with staff and SOULS (Student Orientation Undergraduate Leaders) on related topics relevant to college transitions. Since 2012, each new student also receives a wallet-sized emergency contact card, which lists the phone numbers, emails, and/or websites for university and community resources (e.g., local rape crisis/domestic violence hotline, local hospital, University Student Counseling Service, university police).

The Community Expectations presentation educates parents and students regarding sexual and interpersonal violence and alcohol. This section includes specific information regarding the Office of Community Standards, Title IX requirements, protocol for addressing and reporting offenses, consequences for violations, and statistics about campus-related crimes. In addition, every student and family received a handout regarding Title IX, confidential resources, non-confidential resources, prevention, education, and student organizations dedicated to preventing sexual and interpersonal violence. Miami Police, the Title IX Coordinator(s), and/or other administrators are on hand to answer questions regarding community expectations and safety. Student Orientation Undergraduate Leaders (SOULs) continue to facilitate small group discussions with new students after the Community Expectations session, and all new students continue to receive emergency contact cards with important contact numbers. Our efforts are designed to make it clear that the University takes sexual and interpersonal violence seriously and promises to treat those who report such crimes with respect and dignity.

Start of the School Year

Personal safety and responsibility are among the reminders mentioned in the Dean of Students' letter that is disseminated to all students before classes start each semester.

Programming is available upon request to student groups, classes, residence hall corridors, organizations, classes, and others throughout the year.

For off-campus students, volunteer employees and town residents perform walkabouts before classes start, personally delivering information that includes topics of safety and alcohol.

The Miami University Police Department brings together multiple resources and support services in a Campus Safety Fair in September. This fair is open to all students, faculty, and staff.

Residence Hall Resources

Residence hall safety begins with the existence of resident assistants (RAs) on duty, electronic door locks, an escort policy, outside doors being alarmed and programmed to sound if they are propped open.

1. All residence life staff, including RAs and professional staff, receives information and training on sexual and interpersonal violence awareness, response, and resources, Office of Equity and Equal Opportunity (OEEO), and Title IX and Clery Act reporting obligations.
2. On an annual basis, Residence Life staff, graduate assistants, and RAs engage in "Behind Closed Doors," which is an interactive role-playing training experience that simulates "real life" scenarios related to issues involving sexual and interpersonal violence, Title IX, Clery Act, and OEEO.

3. All residential students receive the “Staying Safe on Campus” information sheet, which includes tips for staying safe on campus, how to and when to contact the Miami University Police Department, as well as campus resources including: the emergency text messaging system, resources related to sexual assault, harassment, and discrimination, and the Just-in-Case App.
4. On an annual basis, all staff and students receive electronic information from the Dean of Students that includes information about sexual and interpersonal violence prevention, as well as how to file a complaint and what to expect from the University.
5. RAs review the “Staying Safe on Campus” information sheet in their first corridor meeting.
6. Each residential unit is required to provide interactive programming on alcohol awareness (two programs in the fall semester and one in the spring) and sexual assault and interpersonal violence (one each semester).
7. When RAs are on duty and safety issues or concerns are brought to their attention they are trained to respond safely and effectively to all reports, including incidents of sexual and interpersonal violence.

Ongoing Programming

Miami provides a variety of prevention programming including prevention, awareness, advocacy, risk reduction, bystander, initiatives, campaigns, and others. By offering a variety of programs, Miami strives to create an environment and culture that is safe for all community members and is respectful of all individuals as we work together to respond to and prevent sexual and interpersonal violence.

Campus Wide-Initiatives

As part of our ongoing programming, Miami has several ongoing campus wide-initiatives that unify programs, departments, and campuses.

It's On Us

- Launched in the spring of 2015, Miami joined with national and state efforts partnering in the It's On Us campaign.
- It's On Us is a cultural movement aimed at fundamentally shifting the way we think about sexual assault.
- It's On Us is a rallying cry inviting everyone to step up and realize that the solution begins with us. It's a declaration that sexual assault is not only a crime committed by a perpetrator against a victim but a societal problem in which all of us have a role to play. We are reframing sexual assault in a way that inspires everyone to see it as their responsibility to do something, big or small, to prevent it. We are asking everyone to create an environment, be it a residence hall, a party, a club, or a sports team, or the greater college campus, where sexual assault is unacceptable and survivors are supported.

I Am Miami

- Based on Miami's Code of Love and Honor, "I am Miami" is the phrase we use to define the culture to which we aspire and who we are as Miamians. Our students are encouraged to reflect on the important individual choices they make at Miami, choices that extend far beyond academics (and academic integrity) and into other dimensions of wellness and personal responsibility that have huge implications for both their short-term safety and their long-run success.
- Born of the Task Force for the Prevention of Sexual Assault, I Am Miami defines Miami as a community that cares for each other and our community.
- This University Campaign is designed to provide an opportunity for every member of the community to discuss and embrace a culture of respect, inclusion, care, and personal responsibility.

Step Up!

- The Division of Student Life, through the Office of Student Wellness, offers bystander intervention training to student groups including fraternity and sorority organizations to make students aware of the importance of safely and effectively intervening when they see dangerous or unacceptable behavior.
- Step Up! is based on a national program adopted by more than 120 colleges and universities nationwide. It has demonstrated success in helping students feel empowered to act and giving them a specific process and resources to intervene in a safe, early, effective way in situations that could endanger the health and safety of others. Miami has already received emails and correspondence from students who have shared powerful stories about using what they've learned in earlier training sessions to help someone. First-year students enrolled in University 101 receive Step Up! training as part of the course requirements, and new members in fraternities and sororities receive Greeks Step Up! training as part of new member education experience. Requests from other student organizations and classes to present Step Up! occur throughout the year.

Peer Education

HAWKS Peer Health Educators

- Miami's Health Advocates for Wellness Knowledge and Skills (HAWKS) Peer Health Educators provides programming on healthy relationships, safe sex, sexual and interpersonal violence and other wellness topics throughout the year. The mission of HAWKS is to actively engage students to consider important issues related to their health and wellness by presenting factual, relevant information that encourages them to honestly, realistically, and thoroughly reflect on their lifestyle and to help them make free and healthy choices. Requested programming includes: "Sex in the Basement", "Sexperts", "Understanding Sexual and Interpersonal Violence", "Can I Kiss You: Date Safe Project", and "Escalation".

MARS

- Men Against Rape and Sexual Assault (MARS) is a student organization which began in the 2001-2002 school year to address rape as a men's issue. They are a group of men from many different areas of campus life who share a common belief. MARS states violence against women, specifically sexual violence, has negative implications for all of society regardless of gender and sexual violence against women is also a men's issue. MARS main goals are to educate men on the seriousness of the issue and inform them of ways to prevent it.

SASS

- Sexual Assault Survivor Support (SASS) is a student-run organization dedicated to providing and cultivating a safe space that empowers, heals, and supports survivors of sexual and personal violence. Within this group, we welcome allies, advocates, and respective members alike to combat the misconceptions of rape culture and interpersonal violence on Miami's campus.

Advocacy and Awareness

- The Miami Center for Diversity and Inclusion, in addition to providing a welcoming, safe space for all genders and a space for learning about women's and gender issues, offers many resources and programming. Annually, the Women's Initiatives raises awareness and education through The Clothesline Project. The Center for Diversity and Inclusion provides a protocol for interns to respond to calls or walk-ins related to sexual and interpersonal violence, for the last two years this intern protocol has been reviewed by the Title IX Coordinator.
- Miami University Police will speak to student corridors or groups about personal safety and offer fee-based self-defense classes.
- Miami Men and Masculinities Committee focuses on raising awareness and creating discussion regarding healthy masculine identities. This committee has sponsored town hall meetings on campus with invited speakers to discuss identity development and challenge hegemonic masculinities.

Clothesline Project

- Address the issue of violence against women. It is a vehicle for individuals affected by violence to express and empower themselves by decorating a shirt. They then hang the shirt on a clothesline to be viewed by others as testimony to the problem of violence against women. This event is part of Domestic Violence Awareness Month and sponsored by the Center for Student Diversity and Inclusion - Women's Initiatives. The event is considered confidential.

Take Back the Night

- Take Back the Night is a march against rape and sexual assault meant to empower the women of Miami University. Before the march, The F Word (Feminists Working on Real Democracy, a student group) facilitates speakouts that allow students, faculty, staff, and community members to share their stories (if they wish) in a small group setting. This event occurs once per academic year and is sponsored by The F Word. The event is considered confidential.

Denim Day

- Denim Day occurs in Sexual Assault Awareness Month when individuals are encouraged to wear denim to raise awareness that it doesn't matter what someone is wearing, sexual assault is a crime and never the fault of the victim

One Billion Rising

- In 2014 and 2015, Miami University Women Against Violence and Sexual Assault sponsored One Billion Rising, a global call to survivors of violence and those who love them, on the Oxford Campus. At these events, WAVES provided information and awareness materials to the community regarding sexual and interpersonal violence. WAVES will sponsor One Billion Rising from time to time.

Targeted Audiences

Athletics

- Intercollegiate Athletics provides sexual and interpersonal violence awareness, prevention, and risk reduction sections within its KNH112 class for freshmen student-athletes, led by HAWKS Peer Health Educators.
- Every team meets with HAWKS annually for more specific programming geared toward that team's specific needs, be it alcohol education, identifying risk-taking behaviors, counseling, etc.
- Every team meets with NCAA compliance staff at the beginning of the year for NCAA rules education, and trained staff also provide education on resources regarding where to go and who they can talk to, both confidential and non-confidential.
- The athletic academic support staff office displays materials for sexual and interpersonal violence awareness and resources in the lobby area for student-athletes and staff.

Fraternities and Sororities

- Social Greek-lettered fraternities and sororities must adhere to adapted risk management strategies including that "No fraternity, sorority, or council will tolerate nor condone any form of sexist or sexually abusive behavior on the part of its members, whether physical, mental, or emotional. This is to include any actions that are demeaning to women or men, such as verbal harassment. The chapters and councils will not tolerate sexual assault in any form." All chapters must educate and instruct their members on the risk management policy and face fines or other sanctions if they violate the policy.
- HAWKS Peer Health Educators collaborate with fraternity and sorority leaders to provide Greeks Step Up!, a bystander intervention program for new members that looks at the topics of hazing, sexual violence, and drug & alcohol abuse.

These documents provide information about existing counseling, health, mental health, victim advocacy, legal assistance, visa and Immigration assistance and other services for victims with Miami and in the community. The Title IX Protocol for Students is available in English, Spanish and Chinese.

Each year, the President sends an email to all employees notifying them of the Title IX Protocol for Employees. The Title IX Coordinator (for employees), Ms. Kenya Ash (ashkd@MiamiOH.edu, 513-529-7157), the Deputy Title IX Coordinator (for students), Allison Kumar (titleix@MiamiOH.edu, 513-529-1870) and the Deputy Title IX Coordinator (for regional campus students), Dr. Bennyce Hamilton (hamiltbe@MiamiOH.edu, 513-529-7157) provide victims with written notification regarding available assistance in changing academic, living, transportation, and working situations. Response Training

Title IX Coordinators, Deputies, and Investigators receive regular training to maintain expertise and continuing education. Title IX Training Materials <https://www.miamioh.edu/campus-safety/sexual-assault/title-ix-training/index.html>

All Residence Life Staff, including professional staff and resident assistants, receive training on duty to report for purposes of the Clery Act, Title IX and to support survivors of sexual and interpersonal violence.

Miami University Student Orientation Undergraduate Leaders (SOULs) receive yearly training prior to Orientation to appropriately address, report, and lead discussions regarding sexual and interpersonal violence.

The university's hearing board officers and members receive specialized training on sexual and interpersonal violence (including sexual assault/misconduct, domestic violence, dating violence, and stalking).

Supportive Services

Miami's Student Counseling Services in Oxford and Counseling Services on the Regionals provides confidential support for victims of assault, including emergency counseling available 24 hours a day through Miami University Police dispatch.

In 2014, Miami University and Women Helping Women created and signed a Memorandum of Understanding (MOU) to improve services, support, and education in relation to sexual and interpersonal violence. This MOU has been updated annually. Women Helping Women provides confidential support for survivors of sexual assault.

Student Health Services provides confidential outpatient care for all eligible students. Services include general medicine and injury care, gynecology, immunizations, laboratory, and pharmacy. The goal of Student Health Services is to provide both medical care and education that supports a healthy college experience.

The university provides written notification to students and employees about existing counseling, health, mental health, victim advocacy, legal assistance, visa and immigration assistance, student financial aid, and other services available to victims both within the university and the community.

The university provides written notification to victims about options for and available assistance in, and how to request changes to academic, living, transportation and working situation or protection measures.

Miami University, the City of Oxford, Miami University Police, and Oxford Police annually review and sign a Law Enforcement Mutual Assistance Agreement.

Release of Disciplinary Information

The Clery Act and the Family Educational Rights and Privacy Act (FERPA), permit universities to disclose certain disciplinary information.

In cases of an alleged sex offense, domestic violence, dating violence, or stalking, in accordance with the Clery Act, both the complainant (and the alleged victim if different from the complainant) and the respondent(s) will be simultaneously notified, in writing, of the outcome of the disciplinary proceedings, the institution's procedures for appeal and any change to the result. If the alleged victim is deceased as a result of such crime or offense, the next of kin of such victim shall be treated as the alleged victim for purposes of this paragraph. The notification includes whether the respondent was found responsible and if so the sanction imposed. Upon request, the alleged victim of a respondent(s) of an alleged crime of violence will be advised of the final results (whether the respondent was found responsible and if so the sanction imposed) of the disciplinary proceeding. If the student is an alleged perpetrator of a crime of violence or sex offense as defined by FERPA, and is found responsible for violating the Code of Student Conduct, the University may disclose to any person the final results of University disciplinary proceedings (name of the student, section violated of the Code of Student Conduct, and sanction imposed).

The University may notify by email or regular U.S. mail the parents of students under the age of 21 who have been found responsible for violating the Code of Student Conduct regarding the use or possession of alcohol or drugs.

Sexual Offender Registration

The federal Campus Sex Crimes Prevention Act, enacted on October 28, 2000, requires institutions of higher education to issue a statement advising the campus community where law enforcement agency information provided by a State concerning registered sex offenders may be obtained. It also requires sex offenders already required to register in a State to provide notice, as required under state law, of each institution of higher education in that State at which the person is employed, carries on a vocation, volunteers services or is a student.

Under Ohio's Sex Offender Registration and Notification (SORN) law, responsibility for the registration of sexual predators has been assigned to the sheriff's office. Title IX Protocol - Students

Sexual Misconduct Protocol for Students

Scope: Who is Covered by this Policy?

Undergraduate and Graduate Students

Policy

Introduction

Miami University is committed to maintaining a healthy and safe learning, living and working environment and to creating an environment that promotes responsibility, dignity and respect in matters of sexual and interpersonal conduct.

This Protocol addresses sexual misconduct complaints arising under the U.S. Department of Education's Title IX regulations (34 C.F.R. Part 106) and complaints arising under Miami University's Code of Student Conduct (collectively referred to as Sexual Misconduct violations). Sexual Misconduct is a broad term that includes sexual harassment, sexual violence, dating violence, stalking and sexual exploitation. Sexual Misconduct is strictly prohibited and will not be tolerated. Any person, regardless of gender, gender identity or sexual orientation can experience sexual misconduct. The University is dedicated to addressing Sexual Misconduct by providing:

- Education and prevention programming to inform the community about the risks and myths that contribute to sexual misconduct as well as bystander training.
- Assistance and support, including non-disciplinary supportive measures and accommodations.
- Procedures students should follow if a sexual misconduct crime occurs, including crimes of domestic violence, dating violence, sexual assault or stalking.
- Processes for an impartial investigation, adjudication and resolution that include appropriate disciplinary sanctions for those found responsible for Sexual Misconduct violations, including but not limited to possible sanctions of suspension and dismissal.
- When a Sexual Misconduct violation does occur, the University will take appropriate steps to respond so that every complainant receives appropriate support. Respondents are presumed not responsible and treated as responsible only after they are determined to be responsible following a hearing. University officials serve impartially without bias for or against any party.

Miami's Protocol is designed to comply with applicable state and federal laws. Miami University reserves the right to modify or deviate from this Protocol when, in the sole judgment of the University, circumstances warrant in order to protect the rights of the involved parties or to comply with the law. This Protocol is not intended to, and will not be enforced so as to, infringe upon First Amendment rights, including the right to academic freedom.

This Protocol describes how the University typically responds to reports of Sexual Misconduct involving students. It also:

- Provides guidance for students who have been impacted by Sexual Misconduct.
- Outlines the University's student disciplinary response to alleged Sexual Misconduct
- Identifies individuals that are available to provide support
- Identifies the individuals responsible for the Protocol
- Provides information on available support programs within the University

When the complainant and the respondent do not share the same status at the University (e.g., one party is a student and one party is a faculty member) the following guidelines apply:

- Any report of an alleged Sexual Misconduct Violation by a student will follow this Protocol for Students.
- Any report of an alleged Sexual Misconduct Violation by an employee or non-student will follow the Title IX Protocol for Employees.
- At the time of filing a Title IX Sexual Misconduct formal complaint, a complainant must be participating in or attempting to participate in the education program or activity of Miami University. At the time of filing a Non-Title IX Sexual Misconduct formal complaint there is no requirement for a complainant to be participating or attempting to participate in an educational program or activity at Miami University.

I. Definitions

A. Complainant

Any person who is reported to have experienced a sexual misconduct violation.

B. Consent

Consent is when a person agrees or gives permission to another person to engage in certain sexual acts.

- Consent is a knowing, and voluntary verbal or non-verbal, agreement between both parties to participate in each and every sexual act.
- Consent to one sexual act does not imply consent to other or all sexual acts.
- Conduct will be considered "non-consensual" if no clear consent, verbal or non-verbal, is given. The absence of "no" does not mean "yes."
- A person has the right to change one's mind at any time. In other words, consent can be withdrawn at any point, as long as the person clearly informs the other party of the withdrawal.
- Taking drugs or consuming alcohol does not relieve the obligation to obtain consent.
- A person is not required to physically or otherwise resist an aggressor.

Effective Consent

- Effective consent can be given by words or actions so long as the words or actions create a mutual understanding between both parties regarding the conditions of the sexual activity. Ask: "Do both of us understand and agree regarding the who, what, where, when, why, and how this sexual activity will take place?"
- When a person affirmatively demonstrates that: they do not want to have sex; they want to stop any sort of sexual act; or they do not want to go any further, the other party must stop completely. Continued pressure after that point can be coercive.

Consent in Relationships

- Current or past sexual relationships or current or past dating relationships are not sufficient grounds to constitute consent.
- Regardless of past experiences with other partners or a current partner, consent must be obtained.
- Consent can never be assumed, even in the context of a relationship. A person has the right to say "no" and has the right to change their mind at any time.
- A person cannot legally give consent (no matter what they might say) when:
 - The person is substantially impaired due to alcohol or drugs, incapacitated or unconscious.
 - The person's ability to resist or consent is substantially impaired because of a physical or mental condition.
 - The person was coerced due to force, threat of force or deception or when the person was beaten, threatened, isolated or intimidated.

C. Emergency Removal

The removal of a respondent from the University's educational programs or activities on an emergency basis if it is determined that the respondent poses an immediate threat to the physical health and or safety of any student or other individual.

D. Formal Complaint

A formal document https://cm.maxient.com/reportingform.php?MiamiUniv&layout_id=6 filed by a complainant alleging sexual misconduct against a respondent and requesting that the University investigate the allegation of Sexual Misconduct. Formal Complaints may also be filed by a Title IX Coordinator. When a Title IX Coordinator signs a formal complaint, the Title IX Coordinator is not a complainant or otherwise a party to the investigation or any process which may result from an investigation.

E. Hearing

See the XIV. Hearing Process.

F. Party/Parties

After a Formal Complaint is filed, a Complainant and a Respondent each become a “Party” with respect to the complaint. The plural “Parties” may also be used when referring to more than one party.

G. Persons with Authority to Initiate Corrective Action

- Office of Community Standards- Director, Associate and Assistant Directors
- Title IX Investigator
- Dean of Students
- Title IX Coordinator
- Deputy Title IX Coordinators
- Office of Equity and Equal Opportunity Director and Associate Directors
- Miami University Police Officers

A report can be submitted by mail, by email, in person, by telephone, or by using the electronic incident reporting form. Reports may be made at any time, even after regular business hours.

I. Respondent

Any student alleged to have engaged in conduct prohibited by this policy. A respondent is presumed not responsible for the alleged conduct until a determination regarding responsibility is made at the conclusion of the Student Conduct Process.

J. Sexual Misconduct

Includes sexual harassment, sexual violence, dating violence, stalking and sexual exploitation under the U.S. Department of Education’s Title IX regulations (34 C.F.R. Part 106) and complaints arising under Miami University’s Code of Student Conduct and any adjudicated violation of criminal sex offense in Ohio.

K. Student

A person who is participating in or attempting to participate in any of the University's educational program or activities. This includes enrolled students, applicants for admission, those students who may have withdrawn or taken a leave of absence due to sexual misconduct, and students who withdraw while a complaint is being investigated or heard.

L. Supportive Measures

Non-disciplinary, non-punitive individualized measures offered to preserve access to education without unreasonably burdening the respondent. A formal complaint is not required for a complaint to receive supportive measures.

M. Retaliation

Any act of intimidation or coercion, discrimination or threat undertaken for the purpose of interfering with any right under this Protocol or Title IX. This includes any adverse action that is taken because a person has made a report or complaint, testified, assisted, participated or refused to participate in any manner in any investigation or hearing or other proceeding under this Protocol. The filing of a complaint under the Code of Student Conduct that does not involve sexual misconduct, but arises out of the same facts and circumstances as the sexual misconduct report or complaint, may constitute retaliation if it is filed for the purpose of interfering with any right or privilege secured by Title IX or this Protocol.

N. Title IX Coordinator

The designated University official who is primarily responsible for coordinating the University's compliance with Title IX and other alleged sexual misconduct.

O. Deputy Title IX Coordinator

D. Dating Violence

An act of violence committed by a person who is or has been in a social relationship of an intimate or romantic nature with the victim. The existence of such a relationship shall be determined based on consideration of the following factors:

Stalking includes repeatedly following, harassing, threatening or intimidating another by telephone, mail, electronic communication, social media or any other action, device or method that purposely or knowingly causes substantial emotional distress or reasonable fear of bodily injury or death. For the purpose of this definition:

1. Course of conduct means two or more acts, including, but not limited to, acts in which the stalker directly, indirectly or through third parties, by any action, method, device or means follows, monitors, observes, surveils, threatens or communicates to or about a person, or interferes with a person's property.
2. Substantial emotional distress means significant mental suffering or anguish that may, but does not necessarily, require medical or other professional treatment or counseling.
3. "Reasonable person" means a reasonable person under similar circumstances and with similar identities to the victim.

F. Dating Violence, Domestic Violence and Stalking

IV. Reporting Violations

Reports of sexual misconduct should be promptly shared with the appropriate Title IX Coordinator. Reports can also be made voluntarily by any university community member or individual who is directly involved in, observes, or reasonably believes that sexual misconduct may have occurred.

Making a report to the university does not preclude the individual from filing a report of a crime with law enforcement nor does it extend time limits that may apply in criminal processes. Individuals may request assistance from the Title IX coordinator or designee to notify law enforcement.

Individuals, including members of the university community, may submit reports anonymously via the following resources. Anonymous reports do not fulfill an employee's duty to report <https://www.miamioh.edu/policy-library/employees/general-employment/non-discrimination/duty-to-report.html> . The university's Anonymous Reporting Line via telephone at 1-866-294-9544 or <https://secure.ethicspoint.com/domain/media/en/gui/13035/index.html>.

V. Limited Amnesty

While the University does not condone underage drinking, illegal drug use, or violation of other University policies, it considers addressing sexual misconduct and interpersonal violence to be of paramount importance. To encourage reporting and adjudication of sexual misconduct and interpersonal violence, Miami University extends limited amnesty to both parties. The University will generally not seek to hold the student responsible for a violation of the law (e.g., underage drinking or illegal drug use) or Code of Student Conduct during the period immediately surrounding the alleged sexual misconduct or interpersonal violence.

VI. Supportive Measures

Miami University provides a number of resources and supportive measures for students. Students are encouraged to seek support and obtain appropriate medical attention. Upon receipt of a report, the Deputy Title IX Coordinator provides written notification to students about existing counseling, health, mental health, advocacy services, legal assistance, visa and immigration assistance, student financial aid and other services available both within the University and the community. The University provides written notification to students about options for and available assistance in, and how to request changes to academic, living, transportation and working situation or protection measures.

This may be requested by the Complainant, the Respondent, a witness, or other impacted members of the University community. Supportive Measures are available regardless of whether a formal complaint is filed. Examples of Supportive Measures include:

1. Academic support services and accommodations, including the ability to reschedule exams and assignments, change in class schedule, or tutoring;
2. Short- and long-term housing accommodations (available to Oxford students);
3. On-campus counseling services and/or assistance in connecting to community-based counseling services;
4. Provide transportation/parking options;
5. Assistance connecting to community-based medical services;
6. Assistance with completing the process of protecting a student's directory information at Miami University;
7. Work schedule or job assignment modifications (for University employment);

8. Mutual No Contact Directive;
9. Information about and/or assistance with obtaining personal protection orders; or
10. A combination of any of these measures.

The Deputy Title IX Coordinator will exercise discretion and sensitivity about sharing the identity of the student when arranging for supportive measures. Efforts will be made to maintain the confidentiality and privacy of the complainant unless one of the requested supportive measures requires revealing the identity of the complainant (e.g. a no contact directive). A student can access these services at any time, even if the student initially declined the service.

There may be times when the University must disclose some information about the student to a third party in order to provide supportive services. This information will be limited to only what is needed to ensure the supportive service is provided. When possible, the Deputy Title IX Coordinator will consult with the student regarding what and with whom the information will be shared prior to sharing the information. A determination of a Health and Safety Emergency under FERPA will take priority over supportive service privacy determinations.

For supportive measures involving Oxford campus and Luxembourg students, contact Ms. Allison Kumar, Deputy TIX Coordinator at 104 Warfield, Miami University, Oxford, Ohio 45056, titleix@miamioh.edu or at 513-529-1870.

For supportive measures involving Regional Campus students, and VOA students, contact Dr. Bennyce Hamilton, Title IX Coordinator for Regional Students and Regional Director of Diversity and Multicultural Services, Phone: (513) 785-3283; Email: hamiltbe@miamioh.edu, Online: <https://www.miamioh.edu/diversity-inclusion/oeeo/index.html> or via Mail: 117 Rentschler Hall, Miami University Hamilton, Hamilton, Ohio 45011; 144 Johnston Hall, Miami University Middletown, Middletown, Ohio 45042

The T visa provides victim of human trafficking and immediate family members with temporary legal status and work eligibility. These visas can be applied for when agreeing to assist law enforcement, unless an individual meets one of the exceptions. Additional information is available through the U.S. Department of Homeland Security U.S. Citizenship and Immigration Services. For assistance, with this or other immigrant status questions, please contact Women Helping Women, 513-381-5610 or toll-free at 877-889-5610, or Legal Aid Society of Southwest Ohio, 513-241-9400 or toll-free 1-800-582-2682.

VII. Confidentiality

Miami University will preserve the students' and other necessary parties' confidentiality to the extent possible and allowed by law.

A. Confidential Reporting

A person may speak confidentially with certain persons in legally protected roles including the following:

- Women Helping Women (rape crisis counselors) are available 24 hours a day at 513-381-5610 or toll-free at 877-889-5610 and on campus during office hours at Warfield Hall 215 & 217 or 513-431-1111 or 513-846-8402 (call or text).
- Licensed mental health professionals from Miami's Student Counseling Service (513-529-4634); after hour's emergencies by calling the Miami University Police at 513-529-2222 or 911 and asking for the on-call counselor.
- Medical staff at Miami's Student Health Center (513-529-3000).
- Off-campus with clergy, counselors and physicians, including McCullough-Hyde Memorial Hospital (513-523-2111), where a Sexual Assault Nurse Examiner (SANE) is available.

A confidential report does not result in a report to law enforcement or a University investigation. It will not be reported to the Title IX Coordinator, a Deputy Title IX Coordinator or to the Office of Community Standards.

B. Non-Confidential Reporting and Recordkeeping

Ohio law requires those not in a legally protected role with knowledge of a felony to report it to law enforcement. Miami personnel, including the Title IX Coordinator, Deputy Title IX Coordinators, Resident Assistants and Office of Residence Life professional staff, are required to notify the Miami University Police of any report of sexual misconduct or interpersonal violence. Conduct reported to the Miami University Police that may be a Title IX violation will be reported to the appropriate Deputy Title IX Coordinator. A report to the Miami University Police or other law enforcement agency does not require the pursuit of criminal charges. Neither the complainant nor the respondent is under any obligation to speak with the law enforcement authorities, even when the conduct is reported to them. Miami University will, upon request, assist a student in notifying law enforcement authorities.

For sexual misconduct or interpersonal violence that may also constitute a criminal offense that occurred on the Oxford campus, contact the Miami University Police Department directly at 911 (or 9-911 from a campus phone) or 513-529-2222 (non-emergency) to file a police report. Miami University Police officers will respond quickly, with sensitivity and compassion (see Promises to Victims of Crime https://miamioh.edu/policy/services/victimservices/index.html). Regional Campus students should report to local law enforcement (Hamilton Campus- Hamilton Police at 513-868-5811, Middletown Campus- Middletown Police 513-425-7700, VOA- West Chester Police, 513-777-2231, Luxembourg- Police Grand-Ducale, Luxembourg, +352 4997-1)

To report a criminal offense that occurred off-campus, contact the local police in the area the offense occurred or call 911 (emergency).

Upon request, a Deputy Title IX Coordinator and Miami University Police will assist a student in obtaining protection or restraining orders.

Upon request, a Deputy Title IX Coordinator or the Miami University Police will assist students in notifying the Oxford Police or other appropriate police department of an off-campus offense.

For definitions of criminal offenses, please see Appendix A.

The Miami University Police, the Deputy Title IX Coordinators and the Oxford Police Department share information on a need-to-know basis under an Information Sharing Agreement \(PDF\) https://miamioh.edu/files/documents/policy/Mutual_Aid_OPD_MUPD_Info_Sharing_508.pdf

Please note, a delay in reporting to police could weaken or result in a loss of evidence used to determine whether an individual is responsible for a criminal offense. In the State of Ohio, individuals may have up to 20 years to file a sexual assault report with the police.

Even if a party does not specifically request their information remain confidential, the University will seek to protect the confidentiality of both parties. When possible, the University will complete publicly available records without identifying personal information about the parties (e.g., first and last name, home or physical address, contact information email, telephone, fax, social security number, driver's license number, passport number, student identification number, date of birth, racial or ethnic background or religious affiliation). The Annual Security and Fire Safety Report, Crime Log and any other publicly available documents will not disclose a student's name, address, contact information, social security number, driver's license number, passport number, student identification number or any other personally identifiable information.

C. Police Reports

Police reports are open for inspection and copying under Ohio's Public Records Act. The extent to which Miami University can protect the identity of a student contained in police reports is not absolute; however, the University uses its best efforts to protect the identity of the complainant and the intimate details of the report. Ohio law specifically permits the University to withhold the identity of an uncharged suspect but requires the release of the identity of a charged suspect.

Initial police incident reports and Campus Security Authority reports do not include personally identifying information (e.g., first and last name, home or physical address, contact information email, telephone and fax, social security number, driver's license number, passport number, student identification number, date of birth, racial or ethnic background or religious affiliation).

A student arrested for certain criminal offenses, including rape, sexual battery, gross sexual imposition and domestic violence, may be subjected to a "1219" proceeding. "1219" refers to the section of Ohio law which provides for the suspension and dismissal of students arrested and convicted of crimes of violence that occur on or affecting University persons or property. The initiation of a "1219" proceeding against a student does not prohibit the University from investigating and taking University disciplinary action against the same student under the Code for the same conduct that gave rise to the "1219" proceeding. Additional information about "1219" procedures is in the Code of Student Conduct.

D. University Records-FERPA

The Family Educational Rights and Privacy Act (FERPA) protects students' educational records, including reports made to the Title IX Coordinator, a Deputy Title IX Coordinator or the Office of Community Standards. FERPA prohibits the University from releasing these records to persons outside the institution without the student's consent except in response to a lawful subpoena or as otherwise required by law. However, in some instances, if the student is found responsible for violating the Code of Student Conduct-Sexual Misconduct and Interpersonal Violence or Physical or Mental Abuse or Harm, the University may release the following information to anyone:

1. Name of the student found responsible (but not the identity of the complainant)
2. Code of Student Conduct violation
3. Sanctions imposed as a result of the disciplinary proceedings

E. Safety Bulletins and Emergency Notifications

The Miami University Police Department (MUPD) is responsible for coordinating Clery Act compliance for Miami University. In collaboration with other campus units, MUPD's Clery Coordinator is responsible for: collecting crime data and information, compiling the Annual Security Report and Annual Fire Safety Report, publishing the daily Clery Crime and Fire Log, coordinating the identification and training of MU's Campus Security Authorities, and providing guidance for the issuance of safety bulletins and emergency notification.

If a report of sexual assault, dating/domestic violence, or stalking indicates there is an immediate threat to the health or safety of persons on campus or that an on-going serious or continuing threat to the campus community exists, an Emergency Notification or a Safety Bulletin will be issued. The purpose of a Safety Bulletin is to enable persons to protect themselves, heighten safety awareness and seek information that will lead to an arrest and conviction of the perpetrator. The Emergency Notification or Safety Bulletin does not include names or other personally identifying information.

For more information on the Clery Act, Safety Bulletins and Emergency Notifications, see the Annual Security and Fire Safety Report <https://miamioh.edu/campus-safety/annual-report/index.html>.

Statistics regarding reports of sexual misconduct and interpersonal violence are included in the Annual Security and Fire Safety Report/Crime Statistics at Crime Statistics <https://miamioh.edu/campus-safety/annual-report/crime-stats/index.html>.

The University does not publish the name of crime victims or other identifiable information regarding victims in the Daily Crime Log or in the annual crime statistics that are disclosed in compliance with the Jeanne Clery Disclosure of Campus Security Policy and Campus Crime Statistics Act.

VIII. No Contact Directives

In the context of Title IX or Non-Title IX Sexual Misconduct, No Contact Directives are a supportive measure. The Dean of Students or designee may direct a student to have no contact with another individual for a specified period. No Contact Directives are automatically issued in cases of Title IX or other non-Title IX sexual misconduct. No Contact Directives will be issued as mutual and time-limited, meaning both parties involved are subject to the same restrictions for a specified period of time. No Contact Directives prohibit all forms of communication between designated students; direct or indirect, written, electronic, through a third party, or social media. Should a student fail to comply with a No Contact Directive, the student may be subject to disciplinary action for violating the Code of Student Conduct.

No Contact Directives are distinct and different from court-imposed restraining orders or protective orders as they only apply to enrolled students. A No Contact Directive is a University action and is not recognized by city, county or state law as a legal action. If a student wishes to pursue a civil protection order, they must make the request through an appropriate court <http://www.butlercountycourt.org/index.cfm?page=protectionOrders>.

IX. Emergency Removal and Appeal

The respondent may be removed from the University's educational programs or activities on an emergency basis if the Assistant Dean of Students determines that the respondent poses an immediate threat to the physical health and or safety of any student or other individual. This determination may be appealed to the Dean of Students.

X. Formal Complaint

Upon receipt of a formal complaint alleging a sexual misconduct violation, the Title IX Coordinator or designee will review the request of the complainant to pursue the investigative resolution process or the adaptable resolution process. The Title IX Coordinator will then initiate one of these actions with the understanding that as a case progresses, the action warranted can change, as described in these procedures.

A. Investigative Resolution

Investigative resolution includes, in the following order (1) an investigation by the Title IX Investigator or designee resulting in a written report containing a summary of the evidence; (2) a hearing, to determine by a preponderance of the evidence if there has been a Policy violation; (3) the imposition of sanctions and/or other appropriate remedies if there has been a finding; and (4) the opportunity to appeal both the finding and sanction. The goal of Investigative Resolution is to eliminate the Prohibited Conduct, prevent its recurrence, remedy its effects while maintaining the safety of the campus community and if there is a finding of responsibility, sanction the Respondent.

B. Adaptable Resolution

Adaptable Resolution (“AR”) is coordinated through the Office of the Dean of Students (“DOS”) and includes a spectrum of facilitated, structured, and adaptable processes. AR is designed to eliminate the Prohibited Conduct, prevent its recurrence, and remedy its effects while maintaining the safety of the campus community. This pathway offers the Respondent the opportunity to acknowledge harm and seek to repair the harm (to the extent possible) experienced by the Complainant and/or the University Community. AR does not include an investigation, hearing, or result in a finding of ‘responsible’ for a policy violation against a Respondent.

However, remedies may include any educational, restorative, and accountability-focused resolution as agreed to by the parties and approved by the Title IX Coordinator or designee.

Detailed information regarding investigative resolution, adaptable resolution, and other remedies is set forth below in Sections (XVI) respectively.

XI. Investigative Resolution

A. Investigation

Upon receipt of a formal complaint alleging a sexual misconduct violation the University will initiate an investigation. An investigation may also be initiated upon receipt of a formal complaint signed by a Title IX Coordinator. The Deputy Title IX Coordinator, in consultation with the University’s Title IX Coordinator, may conduct a preliminary review of a report of sexual misconduct and will weigh the following factors in determining whether to file a formal complaint:

- Seriousness of the alleged violation (including whether the violation involved the use of a weapon, other illegal activity, illegal drug or intoxicants, multiple respondents, etc.).
- Whether there have been other complaints/reports made regarding the respondent (e.g., a history of arrests, a record of misconduct at Miami or other institutions).
- Availability of other information to support the alleged violation.
- Whether the circumstances suggest there is an increased risk of the respondent committing additional sexual misconduct violations (e.g., a pattern of behavior).
- Whether the respondent has threatened the complainant or others.
- Safety of the complainant and others.

B. Notice of Allegations

A respondent has a right to know the name of the complainant and information regarding the nature of the allegations in order to defend against the formal complaint. Thus, the University will not be able to both investigate a report and maintain the confidentiality of the complainant. Upon receipt of a formal complaint, the University will issue a written Notice of Allegations to the parties to initiate the investigation. Written notification of allegations will include:

- Notice of the investigation and hearing process, including any informal resolutions which may be available;
- A copy of the formal complaint received by Miami University;
- The identities of the parties involved in the incident, if known;
- The conduct allegedly constituting sexual misconduct and the specific sections of the Code of Student Conduct allegedly violated;
- The date and location of the alleged incident, if known;
- A copy of the Code of Student Conduct;
- A statement that the respondent is presumed not responsible for the alleged conduct until a determination regarding responsibility has been made at the conclusion of the hearing process;
- The potential sanction(s) which Miami University may implement following any determination of responsibility;
- A statement that the student may be accompanied throughout the process by an advisor of their choice who may be, but is not required to be, an attorney;
- A statement that the complainant and respondents may request to inspect and review evidence;
- A statement informing the parties that it is a violation of the "Dishonesty" section of the Code to knowingly make false statements or knowingly submit false information during the investigation or any resulting process under this Code;
- The date, time and location of the initial investigatory interview(s);
- A statement informing the parties of the process which allows for the temporary delay of the investigation or any resulting process, or the limited extension of time frames for good cause. Good cause may include the absence of parties, a party's advisor, or witnesses, concurrent law enforcement activity, or the need to accommodate language assistance or accommodation of disabilities. The timeline may also be affected by the winter or spring break periods and summer or winter terms;
- A statement that if, in the course of an investigation, Miami University decides to investigate allegations of a Sexual Misconduct Violation or any other Code of Student Conduct violation about the complainant or respondent that are not included in the Notice of Allegations, Miami University will provide notice of the additional allegations to the parties whose identities are known; and
- The identity of the investigator.

C. Investigator Conflicts of Interest/Bias

An investigator may not have a conflict of interest or bias for or against complainants or respondents generally or any individual complainant or respondent. If a party believes that the investigator has a conflict of interest or bias that party may, within 3 days of receipt of the Notice of the Allegations, file a request with the Director of the Office of Community Standards, asking that a different investigator be assigned, setting forth in sufficient detail the basis for the request. The decision of the Director is final, subject to appeal under P. Appeals.

D. Mandatory Dismissal as a Title IX Sexual Misconduct Case

If an investigation determines that the alleged behavior does not constitute sexual misconduct under the U.S. Department of Education's Title IX Regulations, in that it did not occur while the complainant was participating or attempting to participate in an educational program or activity of the University, or did not occur within the geographical territory of the United States, the complaint will be dismissed. Mandatory dismissals may be appealed in writing within 5 class days of the dismissal by either party to the Director of the Office of Community Standards.

Cases dismissed as Title IX Sexual Misconduct may proceed as Non-Title IX Sexual Misconduct if the alleged misconduct meets one of the definitions therein (see Non-Title IX Sexual Misconduct definitions).

E. Review of Evidence

The parties will have equal opportunity to inspect and review any evidence obtained as part of the investigation that is directly related to the allegations raised in a formal complaint, including all relevant evidence, including both those that tend to prove the allegations or absolve the respondent.

The burden of proof and the burden of gathering evidence sufficient to reach a determination regarding responsibility rests on Miami University and not on the parties. Privileged medical and treatment records may only be accessed, considered, disclosed or otherwise used by Miami University with a party's written consent to do so

F. Draft Report

Upon completion of the draft of the investigation report, the draft report will be sent to each party and the party's advisor (if any). The purpose of the draft report is to provide both parties with an equal opportunity to inspect, review, and comment on any evidence relevant to the allegations raised in the formal report. The parties will have at least 10 days to submit a written response to the draft report. Written responses, if any, received prior to the deadline will be considered by the investigator prior to completion of the final investigation report.

G. Report

In the investigation report the Investigator will summarize relevant evidence and will either find reasonable basis to proceed to hearing for some or all of the allegations made in the formal complaint, or no reasonable basis to proceed resulting in a dismissal of the formal complaint. If the investigator finds that the matter should proceed to a hearing, the specific sections allegedly violated will be listed as charges in the investigation report.

XII. Consolidation of Complaints

Miami University may consolidate formal complaints of allegations of Sexual Misconduct Violations by a complainant against more than one respondent, or by more than one complainant against one or more respondents, where the allegations of Sexual Misconduct arise out of the same facts or circumstances or course of conduct.

XIII. Permissive Dismissal

Miami University may, at any time, dismiss a complaint of Sexual Misconduct when:

- A complainant notifies the Title IX Coordinator, in writing, that they would like to withdraw the formal complaint or any allegations therein;
- The respondent is no longer enrolled in or employed by Miami University; or
- Specific circumstances prevent the University from gathering evidence sufficient to reach a determination as to the formal complaint or allegations therein.

Please note that a complaint that is dismissed as Title IX Sexual Misconduct may still be considered as an alleged violation of Non-Title IX Sexual Misconduct if reasonable cause is found through an investigation and the complainant agrees to participate in the student conduct process.

XIV. Hearing Process

A. Notice of Hearing

If an investigation results in a hearing regarding alleged violations of Title IX Sexual Misconduct or Non-Title IX Sexual Misconduct, the parties will receive a Notice of Hearing at least ten (10) business days prior to the hearing. The notice will include:

1. The conduct allegedly constituting Title IX or Non-Title IX Sexual Misconduct and the specific sections of the Code of Student Conduct allegedly violated;
2. A copy of the Code of Student Conduct;
3. A statement that the respondent is presumed not responsible for the alleged conduct until a determination regarding responsibility has been made at the conclusion of the student conduct process;
4. The potential sanction(s) which Miami University may implement following any determination of responsibility;
5. A statement that the student may be accompanied throughout the process by an advisor of their choice who may be, but is not required to be, an attorney;
6. A statement that the parties may request to inspect and review evidence;
7. A statement informing the parties that it is a violation of the "Dishonesty" section of the Code to knowingly make false statements or knowingly submitting false information during the investigation or any resulting process under this Code;
8. Names of the members of the Board who will be determining responsibility in the case;

9. A statement informing the parties of the process which allows for the temporary delay of the student conduct process, or the limited extension of time frames for good cause. Good cause may include the absence of parties, a party's advisor, or witnesses, concurrent law enforcement activity, or the need to accommodate language assistance or accommodation of disabilities. The timeline may also be affected by break periods and summer or winter terms.

B. Conflicts of Interest/Bias

A Board member may not have a conflict of interest or bias for or against complainants or respondents generally or any individual complainant or respondent. If a party believes that any Board member has a conflict of interest or bias that party may within three (3) days of the Notice of Hearing, file a request with the Director of the Office of Community Standards, asking that a different Board member be assigned, setting forth in sufficient detail the basis for the request. The decision of the Director is final, subject to appeal under P. Appeals.

C. Rules of Decorum

All parties participating in the process are asked to adhere to the following rules of decorum. If any party does not adhere to these rules, they may be barred from participation in the process.

1. Follow directives given by the Board and/or process advisor with regard to relevance of questions, order of procedures, and any disruptive behavior.
2. Treat other participants with courtesy and respect.
3. Ensure that questioning is relevant, respectful, and not abusive.
4. Participants will refrain from yelling, cursing, or otherwise disrupting the process.
5. Address all participants using their preferred gender pronouns and name.

D. Standard of Review

The standard of review used to determine responsibility is a "preponderance" standard. This determination is based on the greater weight of the information and does not require a standard beyond a reasonable doubt.

E. Role of Advisors

- Cross-examination in a hearing must be conducted by a party's advisor, not the party themselves.
- All parties have the opportunity to be accompanied to a meeting or student conduct proceeding by an advisor of their choice, which may be an attorney.
- If a party does not have an advisor at the hearing to conduct cross-examination, one will be provided for them by Miami University.
- If an advisor does not adhere to the rules of decorum and other expectations communicated as part of the student conduct process, they may be dismissed from the process by the hearing authority or Office of Community Standards and barred from further participation and another advisor will be appointed.

F. Live Hearing

All parties providing information as part of a hearing must be physically present. At the University's discretion, any and all parties and witnesses may appear at the hearing virtually with technology enabling participants to simultaneously see and hear each other.

G. Board

The decision-making Board in cases of alleged Title IX Sexual Misconduct and Non-Title IX Sexual Misconduct is made up of three (3) members who are either staff or faculty members at Miami University.

H. Cross-Examination

- The advisor for each party will be permitted to ask questions of the other party and any witnesses. Questions will be asked directly of each participant, orally, and in real time.
- The Board will determine the relevance of each question asked before it is answered (see information below regarding relevance).
- If a person does not participate in the hearing to answer questions, the Board may not rely on any statements or other information related to that person. The Board may not use the lack of participation by any person as a factor in making determinations of responsibility.

I. Accommodation of Safety Concerns

The University may accommodate concerns for personal safety, well-being and/or concerns regarding confrontation among the complainant, the employee and other witnesses by providing separate facilities, by using a visual screen or permitting participation by closed circuit TV, video conferencing or other means.

J. Determination of Relevance

The Board will determine the relevance of questions asked during cross-examination prior to the questions being answered.

Questions and evidence about the complainant's prior sexual behavior are not relevant, unless such questions and evidence are offered to prove that someone other than the respondent is responsible or the questions and evidence concern specific incidents between the parties and are offered to prove consent.

K. Credibility of Witnesses

The Board is responsible for determining the credibility of the parties and witnesses. Credibility determinations of parties and witnesses will not be made based on the person's status within the University or at the hearing. The Board will not draw any inferences based solely on a party's or witness's absence from the live hearing or refusal to answer cross examination or other questions.

L. Privilege

Parties are not required to divulge any medical, psychological, or similar privileged records as part of the student conduct process.

M. Record of Hearing

An audio recording of the hearing will be made by the Office of Community Standards. The recording will be made available to the parties upon request.

N. Written Notification of Outcome

At the conclusion of the hearing the Board will adjourn to deliberate. The Board will provide written notification of the outcome of the hearing to all parties simultaneously. The written notification will include:

- The specific allegation that constitutes sexual misconduct
- Description of procedures that were followed, starting with the formal complaint and continuing through determination;
- The finding of facts that support the outcome;
- A conclusion applying the appropriate definition of the policies determined to have been violated;
- A rationale for each allegation regarding the determination of responsibility, sanctions of the respondent and remedies for the complainant; and
- Appeal procedures.

O. Sanctions/Remedies

Sanctions include suspension and dismissal and vary depending on the severity of the violation and the respondent's conduct history. Possible sanctions for Sexual Misconduct violations include: dismissal, suspension, removal from campus housing, educational intervention, no-contact orders and/or restrictions from participating in intercollegiate athletics or co-curricular activities. The notice of allegation will contain the possible sanctions that may be imposed if the respondent is found responsible. Remedies will be provided to the complainant as appropriate to restore or preserve equal access to the university's educational programs or activities.

P. Appeals

1. All parties have the opportunity to appeal the outcome of the hearing to the Vice President of Student Life. All appeals must be submitted in writing within five (5) business days of the receipt of the outcome of the hearing. Appeals must meet at least one of the following grounds:
 1. A conflict of interest or bias exists on the part of the investigator, Board member(s), or Title IX coordinator;
 2. New information exists that was not reasonably available at the time the determination was made that is determined to be substantial enough to have changed the outcome of the hearing;

3. A procedural irregularity in the hearing of the case occurred that is found to be substantial enough to have changed the outcome of the hearing, including failure to objectively evaluate all relevant evidence or error(s) related to determination of relevance; or
4. Inappropriate sanction.

All parties will be notified when an appeal has been filed and will be provided with a copy of the appeal and given an opportunity to respond prior to the appeal being submitted to the Vice President for Student Life. The appeal(s) and any responses will be submitted to the Vice President for consideration.

The outcome of the appeal will be sent in writing to all parties simultaneously and will contain the results and rationale for the appeal decision.

A decision becomes final when all parties are sent the outcome of the appeal, or when no appeal is filed by the deadline.

Q. Timeline

The University is committed to a full and fair process for every student and student organization. The University's investigation, hearing, and resolution processes generally take up to 120 business days depending upon the complexity of the matter. We conduct prompt and thorough investigations—typically within 45 business days of receipt of the report; hearings within 45 business days and any available appeals are typically resolved within 30 business days. On occasion the process may be temporarily delayed for good cause including the absence of parties, a party's advisor, or witnesses, concurrent law enforcement activity (see section: Legal Options), or the need to accommodate language assistance or accommodation of disabilities. The timeline may also be affected by the winter or spring break periods and summer or winter terms.

XV. Adaptable Resolution

A. Overview

The University recognizes that it is important to take into account the needs of Students, some of whom may prefer not to utilize an investigative resolution process. Adaptable Resolution ("AR") is a voluntary, remedies-based, structured process between or among affected parties that balances support and accountability without formal disciplinary action against a Respondent, while focusing on the expressed needs of the harmed party(ies). AR is generally designed to allow a Respondent to acknowledge harm and take steps to repair harm (to the extent possible) experienced by the Complainant and/or the University Community.

B. Required Elements for Participation

The AR process will only be initiated at the Complainant's request after the submission of a Formal Complaint. The request is subject to the approval of the Title IX Coordinator or designee and requires agreement to participate from both the Complainant and Respondent. Initial approval to enter the AR process will be determined through developed criteria reviewed by the Title IX Coordinator or designee. A Complainant may request the AR process at any time prior to a scheduled formal hearing. The University will provide the parties a written notice disclosing the allegations, the requirements of the adaptable resolution process, and any consequences resulting from participating in the process, including the records that will be maintained that could be shared. The written notice will inform the parties that either can request to terminate this process at any time before an agreement is reached and pursue an investigative resolution.

In order for the AR process to be an appropriate resolution option, both parties must have an understanding of and agree on the necessary elements of the process. Both the Complainant and Respondent must agree to the following terms to participate in the AR process:

- Participation in AR is voluntary and either the Complainant or Respondent can choose to end the process at any time prior to signing the agreement;
- Both the Complainant and Respondent must participate in individual conference meetings with appropriate staff to learn more about AR prior to participating;
- AR can be used only once in the course of a Formal Complaint.
- The Complainant and Respondent agree to comply with all requirements documented in the written resolution agreement;
- Both parties must execute a FERPA release permitting the institution to share relevant information with the other party(ies)
- If the parties cannot reach a resolution, the matter will be referred to the Title IX Coordinator to return to the investigative process;
- Participation in AR will not be noted on the Respondent's University transcript;
- The University reserves the right to suspend or terminate the Adaptable Resolution process and revert back to an investigation at any time.

Individuals may be accompanied by an advisor at any meetings related to AR. Information shared or obtained during AR will be treated as private to the extent permitted by law and the University will not take subsequent disciplinary actions related to the same complaint.

C. Considerations for Use of Adaptable Resolution Process

The AR process is an alternative resolution option provided by the University. The process is voluntary for all individuals involved and must be approved by the Title IX Coordinator or designee prior to utilization. The University will consider several factors when determining if this resolution process is appropriate:

- The Respondent's disciplinary history;
- Whether the Respondent has had several allegations and/or reports;
- Whether there was a use of a weapon or force;
- Whether physical bodily injury was sustained;
- Whether the alleged incident was committed by multiple perpetrators; and

- The power differential between the Complainant and Respondent, including whether the Complainant is a minor and/or affiliated with a vulnerable population

D. Sample Restorative/Educational Activities

The AR process is facilitated by a trained coordinator within the Office of the Dean of Students. The adaptable resolution coordinator may not have a conflict of interest or bias for or against Complainants or Respondents generally or any individual Complainant or Respondent specifically. If a party believes that the adaptable resolution coordinator has a conflict of interest or bias, that party should report those concerns to the Dean of Students. The Dean of Students will assess the circumstances and determine whether a different adaptable resolution coordinator should be assigned to the adaptable resolution process.

Adaptable resolution may include one or more of the following restorative approaches:

- Facilitated Dialogue: A structured and facilitated conversation between two or more individuals, most often the Complainant, the Respondent, and/or other community members.
- Restorative Circle or Conference Process: A facilitated interaction where individuals who have experienced harm can come together with an individual(s) who assumes responsibility for repairing harm, with the goal of creating a plan or agreement to repair the harm (to the extent possible).
- Restorative Shuttle Agreement: An indirect, facilitated conversation individually with the Complainant, the Respondent, and/or other participants to discuss experience and perspective and explore interests while working towards meeting expressed needs. This negotiated process does not require direct interaction between the parties or the parties and other participants, but rather, independently, with a coordinator to create an agreement to repair harm; and/or - Community Supported Accountability Circle (“CSAC”): A facilitated interaction between the Respondent and University faculty and/or staff designed to provide accountability, structured support, and the development of a learning plan. The focus of a CSAC is to balance support and accountability for an individual who has acknowledged their obligation to repair harm, prevent future harm, and willingness to engage in an individual educational process. The CSAC model does not require participation from the Complainant.

E. Resolution Agreements

Any Resolution Agreement reached during AR will be documented by the adaptable resolution coordinator and approved by the Title IX Coordinator or designee to ensure consistency with the University’s Title IX obligations. Once the Title IX Coordinator approves an Agreement, the parties are bound by its terms and cannot return to investigative resolution. An Agreement is not reached if the Title IX Coordinator or designee does not approve it.

Mutual voluntary Resolution Agreements may include, for example: attendance to an educational program designed to prevent additional harm, no contact directives on the part of the Respondent, or agreement by the respondent to not participate in specific University program(s) or activity(ies), etc. Agreements will include a detailed understanding of agreed upon consequences when obligations under the Agreement are not fulfilled.

F. Documentation of Adaptable Resolution

The following minimum records will be created and maintained by the University related to the AR process:

- Written notice disclosing the allegations
- Documentation of Complainant's request for AR
- University's determination of appropriateness for AR
- Participation Agreement signed by both parties
- Resolution Agreement signed by both parties

To fairly assess pattern or systemic behavior, the Title IX Coordinator will maintain records of all reports referred for adaptable resolution for a period of seven (7) years after the date of case closure. The University reserves the right to keep records for a longer period of time if deemed necessary. Records may be released if subpoenaed or ordered as part of an external legal process, such as a criminal investigation or civil complaint, or as otherwise required by law and/or University policy.

Disciplinary Records are created and maintained by the Office of Community Standards and document when a student is found responsible for a violation of the Code of Student Conduct. Completion of AR does not result in a finding of 'responsible' for a policy violation. A student's Disciplinary Record will be released only with the student's consent or as otherwise required by law and/or University policy.

G. Adaptable Interventions or Remedies for the University Community

In addition to the Agreement between the Complainant and the Respondent, and regardless of whether the University pursues an investigative resolution or takes other formal disciplinary action, the Title IX Coordinator may find it helpful or necessary to request additional community interventions or remedies designed to eliminate the misconduct, prevent its recurrence, and/or remedy its effects. Examples include, but are not limited to, the following:

- Requesting or recommending that the university provide training for specific individuals or groups;
- Continuing the provision of any Supportive Measures previously established;
- Identifying and recommending the need for any additional or ongoing measures, supports and remedies; or
- Recommending revisions to University policies, practices, or services

H. Timeline for Adaptable Resolution Process

The University will strive to complete adaptable resolution within 90 days from initiation. However, the process may be extended for good cause as determined by the Title IX Coordinator or designee.

XVI. Retaliation

- Retaliation is strictly prohibited.

- Any act of retaliation, including but not limited to witness or party intimidation or coercion is a violation of the Protocol and the Code of Student Conduct.

XVII. Miscellaneous

A. Training

Investigations and hearings are designed to provide a prompt, fair, and impartial resolution regarding an alleged sexual misconduct. The hearing will be held before a designated unbiased and impartial hearing board. All Title IX Coordinators, investigators, decision-makers, and any person who facilitates an informal resolution process are trained using materials that will not rely on sex stereotypes and will promote impartial investigations and adjudications of formal complaints of sexual misconduct. These individuals will receive training on:

- The definition of sexual harassment (as defined in 34 CFR §106.30);
- The scope of Miami University's education program and/or activity;
- How to conduct a grievance process including investigations, hearings and appeals;
- How to serve impartially (specifically avoiding prejudgment of the facts at issue, conflicts of interest, and bias);
- The technology to be used at a live hearing;
- Issues of relevance of questions and evidence, including when questions and evidence about the complainant's sexual disposition or prior sexual behavior are not relevant; and
- Issues of relevance to create an investigative report that fairly summarizes relevant evidence (applies only to investigators).

Training materials are posted on the website <https://www.miamioh.edu/campus-safety/sexual-assault/title-ix-training/index.html>

B. Legal Options

In addition to University disciplinary action, a person who engages in a Sexual Misconduct Violation may be the subject of criminal prosecution and/or civil litigation. A police report must be made for criminal prosecution to be considered by the local prosecuting attorney. The chances of successful prosecution are greater if the report is timely and is supported by the collection of medical and/or legal evidence.

Complaints may also be filed with the United States Department of Education Office for Civil Rights or by consulting an attorney at the person's own expense. See How to File a Discrimination Complaint <http://www2.ed.gov/about/offices/list/ocr/docs/howto.html> .

C. Education and Prevention

The Division of Student Life creates, supports and evaluates education and support programs aimed at the eradication of Title IX violations involving the Miami community. Through this commitment, the Division of Student Life shall educate students about the following:

- Sexual Misconduct Protocol for Students and the University's commitment to enforce it.
- Code of Student Conduct where applicable.
- Miami University prohibits the crimes of dating violence, domestic violence, sexual assault and stalking as those terms are defined for purposes of the Clery Act.
- Steps to minimize individual risk of sexual assault, sexual misconduct, domestic violence, dating violence and stalking, including crime reduction tips, safety tips and healthy relationship education.
- Process and responsibility for reporting Title IX violations.
- Awareness and resources for students who have experienced a sexual misconduct violation and for respondents.
- How to be a knowledgeable and supportive peer presence, including bystander intervention education that provides safe and positive options through recognizing, evaluating and determining one of three options: direct action, distraction or delegation.
- On-going wellness promotion programs that address issues including, but not limited to, sexual health and wellness, healthy relationships, violence prevention and drug and alcohol education.
- Comprehensive, ongoing universal campus-wide campaign: It's On Us. This campaign is committed to creating an environment that promotes responsibility, dignity and respect, conveying that each one of us has the power to prevent violence, can step up to help each other and has the ability to demonstrate love and honor by supporting and caring for our fellow Miamians.

Miami University requires all new incoming students to complete an online education program, through the education technology company Everfi. All other incoming students can access this prevention and awareness program, even if they are not required to take it. The program uses a population-level approach to educate all students on the issues, primary prevention and awareness associated with sexual assault and interpersonal violence, taking into account their unique perspectives and experiences, providing:

- Key definitions and statistics.
- Reflective and personalized content.
- Bystander skills and confidence-building strategies.
- Campus-specific policies, procedures and resources.
- Rich data summaries to inform future programming.

The Miami University Police foster a safe campus environment by doing the following:

- Providing safety and security patrols as part of regular University police/regional campus security responsibilities.
- Including Title IX Protocol information on its website and directly to those who elect to file a police report.
- Accurately maintaining and reporting statistics of Title IX violations as required by the Jeanne Clery Campus Security Act.
- Working with Facilities Management to provide adequate lighting on campus.
- Working with Telecommunications to provide sufficient emergency phones on campus.

Other information sources including the following:

- Annual Security and Fire Safety Report
- Sexual Assault, Sexual Misconduct, Interpersonal Violence, and Sexual Harassment
- If You or Someone You Know is a Victim/Survivor
- Resource Guide
- No-Hate Initiative
- No-Hazing Policy
- Alcohol, Drug, and Substance Abuse Policies
- Office of Student Wellness

D. Medical Treatment and Preservation of Evidence

A person who has experienced sexual misconduct is urged to seek appropriate medical evaluation immediately, ideally within 96 hours (4 full days) of the incident. For life-threatening conditions, call 911 (9-911 from a campus phone) or go to the nearest hospital emergency department. In Oxford, McCullough-Hyde Memorial Hospital has a trained Sexual Assault Nurse Examiner (SANE) who can help. Most area hospitals have a Sexual Assault Nurse Examiner (SANE) that will respond.

Any student who has experienced sexual misconduct is encouraged to request collection of medical/legal evidence. Prompt collection of physical evidence is essential should the student later decide to pursue criminal prosecution and/or a civil action. Collection of evidence may involve interaction with police and a police report, but the decision to speak with the police about the alleged violation is the students.

If the sexual assault occurred within 96 hours (4 full days), a free and confidential exam can be administered at most local hospitals. The sooner the sexual assault is reported, the more likely evidence will still be present. "Date rape" drugs, including Rohypnol and GHB, may still be present in the student's system and should be tested for if the victim/survivor believes they may have been drugged. To help preserve evidence that may assist in proving the alleged violation/offense or in obtaining a protection order, place any soiled clothes in a paper (not plastic) bag and avoid the following:

- Bathing or douching
- Washing hands or face
- Urinating
- Drinking any liquids
- Smoking, eating or brushing teeth (including mouthwash and flossing)

If a student is uncertain about whether or not they want to report what has occurred, they can still have evidence collected. In cases of sexual assault or severe injuries, the police will be called to the hospital. The student can decide whether or not to speak with the police at that time to officially report what has happened.

While evidence may be collected anonymously (i.e., without a name attached to it) and/or when there is no report made to police, these cases are handled differently. A discussion about the merit of collecting evidence “anonymously” and/or when the student does not want to report should be discussed with medical personnel and/or an advocate.

Questions about evidence collection can be directed to Women Helping Women at 513-381-5610 or 877-889-5610 or the Sexual Assault Nurse Examiner (SANE).

SANE of Butler County provides medico-legal examination and treatment of reported sexual assault cases. SANE of Butler County responds to area hospitals, including:

- Fort Hamilton Hospital, 630 Eaton Ave., Hamilton, OH 45013, (513) 867-2000
- McCullough Hyde Memorial Hospital, 110 N. Poplar St., Oxford, OH 45056, (513) 523-2111
- Mercy Health– Fairfield Hospital, 3000 Mack Rd., Fairfield OH 45014
- West Chester Hospital, 7700 University Dr., West Chester Township, OH 45069, (513) 298-3000
- Atrium Medical Center, 1 Medical Center Dr., Middletown, OH 45005, (513) 424-2111

Appendix A -Ohio Criminal Offenses

Sex Offenses

There is currently no definition of “Sexual Assault” in the Ohio Revised Code.

Ohio Revised Code 2907.02 – Rape

(A)(1) No person shall engage in sexual conduct with another who is not the spouse of the offender or who is the spouse of the offender but is living separate and apart from the offender, when any of the following applies:

(a) For the purpose of preventing resistance, the offender substantially impairs the other person’s judgment or control by administering any drug, intoxicant or controlled substance to the other person surreptitiously or by force, threat of force or deception.

(b) The other person is less than thirteen years of age, whether or not the offender knows the age of the other person.

Appendix B

The University can act to remove a student entirely or partially from its education program or activities on an emergency basis when an individualized safety and risk analysis has determined that an immediate threat to the physical health or safety of any student or other individual, arising from allegations of sexual harassment or other sexual misconduct, justifies emergency removal. The analysis will be conducted by the Dean of Students or designee. In all cases in which an emergency removal is justified, the Respondent will be given notice and the opportunity to challenge the decision immediately following the removal or prior to removal being imposed, if reasonably possible. Unless circumstances warrant an alternate means of delivery, the notice will be issued in writing and will be emailed to the respondent's Miami University email account.

Respondent may challenge the removal by requesting a meeting to give reason(s) for why the removal should be modified or not implemented. This meeting will be conducted by the Dean of Students or designee. This meeting is not a hearing on the merits of the allegation(s), but rather is an administrative process intended to determine solely whether the emergency removal is appropriate. When this meeting is not requested within three (3) business days of notice, objections to the emergency removal will be deemed waived.

A Respondent may be accompanied by an advisor of their choice at the review meeting. The student will be given access to a written summary of the basis for the emergency removal after notice and prior to the review meeting to allow for adequate preparation.

The Dean of Students or designee has sole discretion under this policy to implement or stay an emergency removal and to determine the conditions and duration. The Dean of Students or designee will prepare a written determination from the review meeting within two (2) business days of the meeting taking place. The Dean of Students or designee will implement the least restrictive emergency removal actions possible in light of the circumstances and safety concerns.

An emergency removal is not equivalent to a determination of responsibility or a sanction. The University may remove a respondent on an emergency basis whether the formal grievance process is underway or not. If, following an emergency removal, a formal sexual misconduct complaint is not filed by the Complainant or the Title IX Coordinator, the emergency removal will be lifted and the party notified promptly.

Violation of an emergency removal under this policy will be grounds for discipline, which may include expulsion or termination.

Title IX Protocol - Employees

Sexual Misconduct Protocol for Employees and Other Non-Students

Scope: Who is Covered by this Policy?

Employees

Policy

Introduction

Miami University is committed to maintaining a healthy and safe learning, living and working environment and to creating an environment that promotes responsibility, dignity and respect in matters of sexual and interpersonal conduct.

This Protocol addresses sexual misconduct complaints arising under the U.S. Department of Education's Title IX regulations and complaints arising under University policy (collectively referred to as Sexual Misconduct violations). Sexual Misconduct is a broad term that includes sexual harassment, sexual violence, dating violence, stalking and sexual exploitation. Sexual Misconduct is strictly prohibited and will not be tolerated. Any person, regardless of gender, gender identity or sexual orientation can experience sexual misconduct. The University is dedicated to addressing Sexual Misconduct by providing:

- Education and prevention programming to inform the community about the risks and myths that contribute to sexual misconduct as well as bystander training.
- Assistance and support, including non-disciplinary supportive measures and accommodations.
- Procedures employees and other non-students should follow if a sexual misconduct crime occurs, including crimes of domestic violence, dating violence, sexual assault or stalking.
- Processes for an impartial investigation, adjudication and resolution that include appropriate disciplinary sanctions for those found responsible for Sexual Misconduct violations, including but not limited to possible sanctions of suspension and dismissal.
- When a Sexual Misconduct violation does occur, the University will take appropriate steps to respond so that every complainant receives appropriate support. Respondents are presumed not responsible and treated as responsible only after they are determined to be responsible following a hearing. University officials serve impartially without bias for or against any party.

Miami's Protocol is designed to comply with applicable state and federal laws. Miami University reserves the right to modify or deviate from this Protocol when, in the sole judgment of the University, circumstances warrant in order to protect the rights of the involved parties or to comply with the law.

This Protocol is not intended to, and will not be enforced so as to, infringe upon First Amendment rights, including the right to academic freedom.

This Protocol describes how the University typically responds to reports of Sexual Misconduct involving employees and other non-students. It also:

- Provides guidance for employees and other non-students who have been impacted by Sexual Misconduct.
- Provides links to the University's employee disciplinary response to alleged Sexual Misconduct
- Identifies individuals that are available to provide support
- Identifies the individuals responsible for the Protocol
- Provides information on available support programs within the University

When the complainant and the respondent do not share the same status at the University (e.g., one party is a student and one party is a faculty or staff member) the following guidelines apply:

- Any report of an alleged Sexual Misconduct Violation by an employee or non-student will follow this Protocol.
- Any report of an alleged Sexual Misconduct Violation by a student will follow the Sexual Misconduct Protocol for Students.
- At the time of filing a Title IX Sexual Misconduct formal complaint, a complainant must be participating in or attempting to participate in the education program or activity of Miami University. At the time of filing a Non-Title IX Sexual Misconduct formal complaint there is no requirement for a complainant to be participating or attempting to participate in an educational program or activity at Miami University.

I. Definitions

A. Complainant

Any person who is reported to have experienced a sexual misconduct violation by an employee or other non-student.

B. Consent

Consent is when a person agrees or gives permission to another person to engage in certain sexual acts.

- Consent is a knowing, and voluntary verbal or non-verbal, agreement between both parties to participate in each and every sexual act.
- Consent to one sexual act does not imply consent to other or all sexual acts.
- Conduct will be considered "non-consensual" if no clear consent, verbal or non-verbal, is given. The absence of "no" does not mean "yes."
- A person has the right to change one's mind at any time. In other words, consent can be withdrawn at any point, as long as the person clearly informs the other party of the withdrawal.

- Taking drugs or consuming alcohol does not relieve the obligation to obtain consent.
- A person is not required to physically or otherwise resist an aggressor.

Effective Consent

- Effective consent can be given by words or actions so long as the words or actions create a mutual understanding between both parties regarding the conditions of the sexual activity. Ask: “Do both of us understand and agree regarding the who, what, where, when, why, and how this sexual activity will take place?”
- When a person affirmatively demonstrates that: they do not want to have sex; they want to stop any sort of sexual act; or they do not want to go any further, the other party must stop completely. Continued pressure after that point can be coercive.

Consent in Relationships

- Current or past sexual relationships or current or past dating relationships are not sufficient grounds to constitute consent.
- Regardless of past experiences with other partners or a current partner, consent must be obtained.
- Consent can never be assumed, even in the context of a relationship. A person has the right to say “no” and has the right to change their mind at any time.
- A person cannot legally give consent (no matter what they might say) when:
 - The person is substantially impaired due to alcohol or drugs, incapacitated or unconscious.
 - The person’s ability to resist or consent is substantially impaired because of a physical or mental condition.
 - The person was coerced due to force, threat of force or deception or when the person was beaten, threatened, isolated or intimidated.

C. Formal Complaint

A formal document https://cm.maxient.com/reportingform.php?MiamiUniv&layout_id=5 filed by a complainant alleging sexual misconduct against a respondent and requesting that the University investigate the allegation of Sexual Misconduct. Formal Complaints may also be filed by the Title IX Coordinator. When a Title IX Coordinator signs a formal complaint, the Title IX Coordinator is not a complainant or otherwise a party to the investigation or any process which may result from an investigation.

D. Hearing

See XIII. Disciplinary Process.

E. Party/Parties

After a Formal Complaint is filed, a Complainant and a Respondent each become a “Party” with respect to the complaint. The plural “Parties” may also be used when referring to more than one party.

- Title IX Investigator
- Title IX Coordinator
- Office of Equity and Equal Opportunity (“OEEO”) Director and Associate Directors

M. Supportive Measures

Non-disciplinary, non-punitive individualized measures offered to preserve access to educational programs and activities without unreasonably burdening the respondent. A formal complaint is not required for a complainant to receive supportive measures.

N. Retaliation

Any act of intimidation or coercion, discrimination or threat undertaken for the purpose of interfering with any right or privilege under this Protocol. This includes any adverse action that is taken because a person has made a report or complaint, testified, assisted, participated or refused to participate in any manner in an investigation, hearing, or other proceeding under this Protocol. To encourage reporting and adjudication of sexual misconduct and interpersonal violence, Miami University extends limited amnesty to a student complaining of sexual misconduct against an employee or other non-student. The University will generally not seek to hold the student responsible for a violation of the law (e.g., underage drinking or illegal drug use) or Code of Student Conduct during the period immediately surrounding the alleged sexual misconduct or interpersonal violence.

VI. Supportive Measures

Miami University provides a number of resources and support measures for employees and other non-students, if applicable. Employees or other non-students may, upon request, obtain support services, such as changing working and transportation circumstances, from the Title IX Coordinator. The University will make such accommodations or provide such protective measures if requested and if they are reasonably available. No police report, disciplinary complaint or investigation need occur before this option is available. The Title IX Coordinator will exercise discretion and sensitivity about sharing the identity of the employee or other non-student when arranging for support services. An employee or other non-student can access these services at any time, even if the person initially declined the service.

This may be requested by the Complainant, the Respondent, a witness, or other impacted members of the University community. Supportive Measures are available regardless of whether a formal complaint is filed. Examples of Supportive Measures include:

1. Assist the person in immediately attending to any medical needs. The Title IX Coordinator can arrange for a professional to accompany the person to the hospital if requested.
2. Assist the person in contacting a support person, such as a spouse/partner, friend or parent if desired.
3. Assist the person in obtaining a University no-contact order or a court-issued restraining order or other lawful order of protection.
4. Provide information on available medical and psychological resources.
5. Change class assignments so that the parties do not share the same classes (available to employees who are also students).
6. Change working conditions for on campus employment.
7. Provide transportation/parking options.
8. Assist in filing a complaint with the Miami University Police if on campus and Oxford Police or other appropriate police department if off campus. The Title IX Coordinator is required by law to notify appropriate law enforcement authorities of any reported incident of sexual assault, or interpersonal violence.

9. Inform the person of the right to have an investigation through the OEEEO. If the respondent is a University student, the Title IX Coordinator will inform the employee or other non-student of the right to have an investigation by the Office of Community Standards. The University's processes address a much broader range of conduct than the criminal law.

The Title IX Coordinator will exercise discretion and sensitivity about sharing the identity of the employee or other non-student when arranging for supportive measures. Efforts will be made to maintain the confidentiality and privacy of the complainant unless one of the requested supportive measures requires revealing the identity of the complainant (e.g., a no contact directive). An employee or other non-student can access these services at any time, even if the employee or other non-student initially declined the service.

There may be times when the University must disclose some information about the employee or other non-student to a third party in order to provide supportive services. This information will be limited to only what is needed to ensure the supportive service is provided. When possible, the Title IX Coordinator will consult with the employee or other non-student regarding what and with whom the information will be shared prior to sharing the information. Nothing in this section shall limit the sharing of information in response to a health and safety emergency.

For supportive measures involving employees or other non-students, contact Ms. Kenya Ash, Title IX Coordinator and Director of the OEEEO, 219 E Spring Street, Hanna House, Oxford, OH 45056; (513) 529-7157; ashkd@miamioh.edu; <https://www.miamioh.edu/diversity-inclusion/oeeo/index.html>.

The T visa provides victim of human trafficking and immediate family members with temporary legal status and work eligibility. These visas can be applied for when agreeing to assist law enforcement, unless an individual meets one of the exceptions. VII. Confidentiality

Miami University will preserve the parties' confidentiality to the extent possible and allowed by law.

A. Confidential Reporting

A person may speak confidentially with certain persons in legally protected roles including the following:

- Women Helping Women (rape crisis counselors) are available 24 hours a day at 513-381-5610 or toll-free at 877-889-5610 and on campus during office hours at Warfield Hall 215 & 217 or 513-431-1111 or 513-846-8402 (call or text).
- Off-campus with clergy, counselors and physicians, including McCullough-Hyde Memorial Hospital (513-523-2111), where a Sexual Assault Nurse Examiner (SANE) is available.
- Free and confidential assessments, short-term counseling, referrals, and follow-up services for benefit eligible employees and their families through the University's employee assistance program at 800-227-6007 or MyImpactSolution.com, using the username, Miamioh.

A confidential report does not result in a report to law enforcement or a University investigation. It will not be reported to the Title IX Coordinator, Human Resources or Academic Personnel.

B. Non-Confidential Reporting and Recordkeeping

Ohio law requires those not in a legally protected role with knowledge of a felony to report it to law enforcement. Miami personnel, including the Title IX Coordinator, Deputy Title IX Coordinators, Resident Assistants and Office of Residence Life professional staff, are required to notify the Miami University Police of any report of sexual misconduct or interpersonal violence. Conduct reported to the Miami University Police that may be a sexual misconduct violation involving employees or other non-students will be reported to the Title IX Coordinator. A report to the Miami University Police or other law enforcement agency does not require the pursuit of criminal charges. Neither the complainant nor the respondent is under any obligation to speak with the law enforcement authorities, even when the conduct is reported to them. Miami University will, upon request, assist an employee or other non-student in notifying law enforcement authorities.

For sexual misconduct or interpersonal violence that may also constitute a criminal offense that occurred on the Oxford campus, contact the Miami University Police Department directly at 911 (or 9-911 from a campus phone) or 513-529-2222 (non-emergency) to file a police report. Miami University Police officers will respond quickly, with sensitivity and compassion (see Promises to Victims of Crime https://miamioh.edu/policy/services/victimservices/index.html). Regional Campus employees or other non-students should report to local law enforcement (Hamilton Campus- Hamilton Police at 513-868-5811, Middletown Campus- Middletown Police 513-425-7700, VOA- West Chester Police, 513-777-2231, Luxembourg- Police Grand-Ducale, Luxembourg, +352 4997-1)

To report a criminal offense that occurred off-campus, contact the local police in the area the offense occurred or call 911 (emergency). Upon request, the Title IX Coordinator and Miami University Police will assist an employee or other non-student in obtaining protection or restraining orders. Upon request, the Title IX Coordinator or the Miami University Police will assist employees or other non-students in notifying the Oxford Police or other appropriate police department of an off-campus offense. For definitions of criminal offenses, please see Appendix A.

The Miami University Police, the Title IX Coordinator and the Oxford Police Department share information on a need-to-know basis under an Information Sharing Agreement \(PDF\) https://miamioh.edu/files/documents/policy/Mutual_Aid_OPD_MUPD_Info_Sharing_508.pdf. Please note, a delay in reporting to police could weaken or result in a loss of evidence used to determine whether an individual is responsible for a criminal offense. In the State of Ohio, individuals may have up to 20 years to file a sexual assault report with the police.

Even if a party does not specifically request their information remain confidential, the University will seek to protect the confidentiality of both parties. When possible, the University will complete publicly available records without identifying personal information about the parties (e.g., first and last name, home or physical address, contact information email, telephone, fax, social security number, driver's license number, passport number, date of birth, racial or ethnic background or religious affiliation). The Annual Security and Fire Safety Report, Crime Log and any other publicly available documents will not disclose a name, address, contact information, social security number, driver's license number, passport number or any other personally identifiable information.

C. Police Reports

Police reports are open for inspection and copying under Ohio's Public Records Act. The extent to which Miami University can protect the identity of an employee or other non-student contained in police reports is not absolute; however, the University uses its best efforts to protect the identity of the complainant and the intimate details of the report. Ohio law specifically permits the University to withhold the identity of an uncharged suspect but requires the release of the identity of a charged suspect.

Initial police incident reports and Campus Security Authority reports do not include personally identifying information (e.g., first and last name, home or physical address, contact information email, telephone and fax, social security number, driver's license number, passport number, date of birth, racial or ethnic background or religious affiliation).

D. Safety Bulletins and Emergency Notifications

The Miami University Police Department (MUPD) is responsible for coordinating Clery Act compliance for Miami University. In collaboration with other campus units, MUPD's Clery Coordinator is responsible for: collecting crime data and information, compiling the Annual Security Report and Annual Fire Safety Report, publishing the daily Clery Crime and Fire Log, coordinating the identification and training of the University's Campus Security Authorities, and providing guidance for the issuance of safety bulletins and emergency notification.

If a report of sexual assault, dating/domestic violence, or stalking indicates there is an immediate threat to the health or safety of persons on campus or that an on-going serious or continuing threat to the campus community exists, an Emergency Notification or a Safety Bulletin will be issued. The purpose of a Safety Bulletin is to enable persons to protect themselves, heighten safety awareness and seek information that will lead to an arrest and conviction of the perpetrator. The Emergency Notification or Safety Bulletin does not include names or other personally identifying information.

For more information on the Clery Act, Safety Bulletins and Emergency Notifications, see the Annual Security and Fire Safety Report <https://miamioh.edu/campus-safety/annual-report/index.html>.

Statistics regarding reports of sexual misconduct and interpersonal violence are included in the Annual Security and Fire Safety Report/Crime Statistics at Crime Statistics <https://miamioh.edu/campus-safety/annual-report/crime-stats/index.html>.

The University does not publish the name of crime victims or other identifiable information regarding victims in the Daily Crime Log or in the annual crime statistics that are disclosed in compliance with the Jeanne Clery Disclosure of Campus Security Policy and Campus Crime Statistics Act.

VIII. No Contact Directives

The Title IX Coordinator or Title IX Investigator during an investigation (or the appropriate personnel office during disciplinary proceedings), may direct an employee to have no contact with another individual for a specified period. No Contact Directives are issued when, in the judgment of the Title IX Coordinator or Title IX Investigator, there is reason to believe that a directive would be in the best interest of the parties and/or the community for maintaining safety. Such situations include, but are not limited to: harassment, threats, physical assault, stalking, domestic violence, dating violence, sexual misconduct, retaliation or other behaviors as indicated in this Protocol. No Contact Directives will typically be issued as mutual and time-limited, meaning both parties involved are subject to the same restrictions for a specified period of time. No Contact Directives prohibit all forms of communication between designated parties; direct or indirect, written, electronic, through a third party, or social media. Should a party fail to comply with a No Contact Directive, the party may be subject to disciplinary action.

No Contact Directives are distinct and different from court-imposed restraining orders or protective orders as they only apply to employees of Miami University or enrolled students. A No Contact Directive is a University action and is not recognized by city, county or state law as a legal action. If a party wishes to pursue a civil protection order, they must make the request through an appropriate court <http://www.butlercountycourt.org/index.cfm?page=protectionOrders>.

A No Contact Directive may be requested at any time through the OEEEO. Modification requests will be considered when submitted through the OEEEO and accompanied by evidence to support the request.

IX. Interim Suspension

An interim suspension may be imposed by the appropriate personnel office before the disciplinary procedures described in this rule are initiated or resolved. During an interim suspension, the employee is relieved of all employment responsibilities; the employee may be prohibited from all or any portion of University premises, University-related activities, or be permitted to remain only under specific conditions prior to the conclusion of the disciplinary process. An interim suspension will be with compensation until the disciplinary procedures are completed.

X. Investigation

A. Formal Complaint

Upon receipt of a formal complaint alleging a sexual misconduct violation the University will initiate an investigation. An investigation may also be initiated upon receipt of a formal complaint signed by a Title IX Coordinator. The Title IX Coordinator may conduct a preliminary review of a report of sexual misconduct and will weigh the following factors in determining whether to file a formal complaint:

- Seriousness of the alleged violation (including whether the violation involved the use of a weapon, other illegal activity, illegal drug or intoxicants, multiple respondents, etc.).
- Whether there have been other complaints/reports made regarding the respondent (e.g., a history of arrests, a record of misconduct at Miami or other institutions).
- Availability of other information to support the alleged violation.
- Whether the circumstances suggest there is an increased risk of the respondent committing additional sexual misconduct violations (e.g., a pattern of behavior).
- Whether the respondent has threatened the complainant or others.
- Safety of the complainant and others.

B. Notice of Allegations

A respondent has a right to know the name of the complainant and information regarding the nature of the allegations in order to defend against the formal complaint. Thus, the University will not be able to both investigate a report and maintain the confidentiality of the complainant. Upon receipt of a formal complaint, the University will issue a written Notice of Allegations to the parties to initiate the investigation. Written notification of allegations will include:

- Notice of the investigation and disciplinary process;
- A copy of the formal complaint received by Miami University;
- The identities of the parties involved in the incident, if known;

- The conduct allegedly constituting sexual misconduct and the specific sections of this Protocol that have allegedly been violated;
- The date and location of the alleged incident, if known;
- A copy of this Protocol, and a copy of the Faculty Procedures for Disciplinary Action <https://www.miamioh.edu/policy-library/employees/faculty/grievance-disciplinary-procedures-faculty/procedures-for-disciplinary-action.html> , Interim Unclassified Discipline Policy <https://www.miamioh.edu/policy-library/employees/unclassified-administrative-staff/disciplinary-procedures.html> , and Interim Classified Discipline Policy <https://www.miamioh.edu/policy-library/employees/classified-staff/discipline.html> , whichever is applicable;
- A statement that the respondent is presumed not responsible for the alleged conduct until a determination regarding responsibility has been made at the conclusion of the disciplinary process;
- The potential sanction(s) which Miami University may implement following any determination of responsibility;
- A statement that the parties may be accompanied throughout the process by an advisor of their choice who may be, but is not required to be, an attorney;
- A statement that the parties may request to inspect and review evidence;
- A statement informing the parties that it is a violation of this Protocol to knowingly make false statements or knowingly submit false information during the investigation or any resulting University process;
- The date, time and location of the initial investigatory interview(s);
- A statement informing the parties of the process which allows for the temporary delay of the investigation or any resulting process, or the limited extension of time frames for good cause. Good cause may include the absence of parties, a party's advisor, or witnesses, concurrent law enforcement activity, or the need to accommodate a disability;
- A statement that if, in the course of an investigation, Miami University decides to investigate allegations of a Sexual Misconduct Violation about the complainant or respondent that are not included in the Notice of Allegations, Miami University will provide notice of the additional allegations to the parties whose identities are known; and
- The identity of the investigator.

C. Investigator Conflicts of Interest/Bias

An investigator may not have a conflict of interest or bias for or against complainants or respondents generally or towards any individual complainant or respondent. If a party believes that the investigator has a conflict of interest or bias then that party may, within 3 business days of receipt of the Notice of the Allegations, file a request with the Director of OEEO, asking that a different investigator be assigned, setting forth in sufficient detail the basis for the request. The decision of the Director is final, subject to appeal under H. Request for Review (Appeal) after the completion of the investigation.

D. Mandatory Dismissal as a Title IX Sexual Misconduct Case

If an investigation determines that the alleged behavior does not constitute sexual misconduct under Title IX, in that it did not occur while the complainant was participating in or attempting to participate in an educational program or activity of the University, or did not occur within the geographical territory of the United States, the complaint will be dismissed under Title IX. Mandatory dismissals may be appealed in writing within 5 business days of the dismissal by either party to the Vice President for Institutional Diversity and Inclusion.

Cases dismissed as Title IX Sexual Misconduct may proceed as Non-Title IX Sexual Misconduct if the alleged misconduct meets one of the definitions therein (see Non-Title IX Sexual Misconduct definitions).

E. Review of Evidence

The parties will have a timely and equal opportunity to inspect and review any evidence obtained as part of the investigation that is directly related to the allegations raised in a formal complaint, including all relevant evidence (e.g., that which proves the allegations or absolves the respondent.)

F. Draft Report

Upon completion of the draft of the investigation report, the draft report will be sent to each party and the party's advisor (if any). The purpose of the draft report is to provide both parties with an equal opportunity to inspect, review, and comment on any evidence relevant to the allegations raised in the formal report. The parties will have at least 10 business days to submit a written response to the draft report. Written responses, if any, received prior to the deadline will be considered by the investigator prior to completion of the final investigation report.

G. Report

The investigator will summarize relevant evidence and will either find reasonable basis to proceed to hearing for some or all of the allegations made in the formal complaint, or no reasonable basis to proceed to a hearing, resulting in a dismissal of the formal complaint. If the investigator finds that the matter should proceed to a hearing, the specific disciplinary sections allegedly violated will be listed as charges in the investigation report.

H. Request for Review (Appeal)

The complainant and the respondent each have the right to request that the Vice President for Institutional Diversity and Inclusion review the investigation based on:

- Alleged material violations of this Policy that resulted in a failure to conduct a reasonably thorough investigation, in which case the matter will be remanded to the OEEI for additional investigation;
- New evidence that was not available at the time of the investigation;
- Conclusions that are clearly erroneous and not supported by the investigation; or
- Investigator conflict of interest/bias.

The request for review must be submitted in writing to the Vice President for Institutional Diversity and Inclusion within five business days of the issuance of the OEE0 report. The request for review must state the basis for review and include all supporting materials.

The request for review will be shared with all parties and the OEE0 for their response, if any. Responses shall be filed within five business days of the parties' and OEE0's receipt of the request for review.

After review of the investigation, the Vice President for Institutional Diversity and Inclusion will issue a written report and share it with all parties and the OEE0. The parties will be given timely and equal access to information that will be used during any subsequent disciplinary meetings and hearings.

XI. Consolidation of Complaints

Miami University may consolidate formal complaints of allegations of Sexual Misconduct Violations by a complainant against more than one respondent, or by more than one complainant against one or more respondents, where the allegations of Sexual Misconduct arise out of the same facts or circumstances or course of conduct.

XII. Permissive Dismissal

Miami University may, at any time, dismiss a complaint of Sexual Misconduct when:

- A complainant notifies the Title IX Coordinator, in writing, that they would like to withdraw the formal complaint or any allegations therein;
- The respondent is no longer employed by Miami University; or
- Specific circumstances prevent the University from gathering evidence sufficient to reach a determination as to the formal complaint or allegations therein.

Please note that a complaint that is dismissed as Title IX Sexual Misconduct may still be considered as an alleged violation of Non-Title IX Sexual Misconduct if reasonable cause is found through an investigation and the complainant agrees to participate in the discipline process.

XIII. Disciplinary Process

See also Faculty Procedures for Disciplinary Action <https://www.miamioh.edu/policy-library/employees/faculty/grievance-disciplinary-procedures-faculty/procedures-for-disciplinary-action.html>, Interim Unclassified Discipline Policy <https://www.miamioh.edu/policy-library/employees/unclassified-administrative-staff/disciplinary-procedures.html>, and Interim Classified Discipline Policy <https://www.miamioh.edu/policy-library/employees/classified-staff/discipline.html>.

A. Notice of Hearing

If an investigation results in a hearing regarding alleged violations of Title IX Sexual Misconduct or Non-Title IX Sexual Misconduct, the parties will receive a Notice of Hearing at least ten (10) business days prior to the hearing. The notice will include:

- The basis for discipline in sufficient detail to disclose the reasons and basis for the proposed discipline;

- A statement that the employee is presumed not responsible until a final determination has been made at the conclusion of the disciplinary process.
- A statement that the employee may be accompanied by an advisor of their choice throughout the hearing process;
- A statement that the complainant (if a party as set forth below) and employee may request to inspect and review evidence prior to the hearing;
- A statement that knowingly making false statements or knowingly submitting false information during the hearing is prohibited and may serve as grounds for disciplinary action.
- The proposed discipline;
- The date, time, and location of the hearing. Any party may seek a temporary delay of the hearing for good cause. Good cause includes, the unavailability of a party, a party's advisor or a witness; concurrent law enforcement activity; or the need for language assistance or disability accommodation.

B. Standard of Review

The standard of review used to determine responsibility is a "preponderance" standard. This determination is based on the greater weight of the information and does not require a standard beyond a reasonable doubt.

C. Role of Advisors

- Cross-examination in a hearing must be conducted by a party's advisor, not the party themselves.
- All parties have the opportunity to be accompanied to a meeting or disciplinary proceeding by an advisor of their choice, which may be an attorney.
- If a party does not have an advisor at the hearing to conduct cross-examination, one will be provided for them by Miami University.

D. Live Hearing

All parties providing information as part of a hearing must be physically present. At the University's discretion, any and all parties and witnesses may appear at the hearing virtually with technology enabling participants to simultaneously see and hear each other.

E. Cross-Examination

- The advisor must appear at the hearing to ask questions on behalf of the accused employee, even if the employee fails to appear.
- The hearing officer has the authority to determine the relevance and admissibility of testimony and other evidence presented during the hearing and may place time limitations on opening and closing statements.
- If a person does not participate in the hearing to answer questions, the hearing officer may not rely on any statements or other information related to that person. The hearing officer may not use the lack of participation by any person as a factor in making determinations of responsibility.

F. Accommodation of Safety Concerns

The University may accommodate concerns for personal safety, well-being and/or concerns regarding confrontation among the complainant, the employee and other witnesses by providing separate facilities, by using a visual screen or permitting participation by closed circuit TV, video conferencing or other means.

G. Determination of Relevance

The hearing officer has the authority to determine the relevance and admissibility of testimony and other evidence presented during the hearing and may place time limitations on opening and closing statements.

H. Credibility of Witnesses

Credibility determinations of parties and witnesses will not be made based on the person's status within the University or at the hearing.

I. Privilege

The disciplinary process does not require any party to disclose legally privileged information, unless the person holding the privilege has waived it.

J. Record of Hearing

The University will make a record of the hearing and it will be made available to the parties.

K. Written Notification of Outcome

At the conclusion of the hearing, the parties will be simultaneously notified, in writing, of the outcome of the disciplinary proceedings including the result of any initial, interim and final decision, the procedures for appeal and any change to the results. This notification includes whether the respondent was found responsible, and if so, the sanction(s) imposed and the rationale as well as any remedies offered to the complainant in matters involving sexual harassment, sexual misconduct, domestic violence, dating violence or stalking.

L. Sanctions/Remedies

Possible disciplinary actions are as follows, but not limited to: spoken reprimand, written reprimand, suspension with pay, suspension without pay, reduction of pay, demotion to next lower classification, or dismissal. The appropriate action in each individual case will be selected based upon the relevant facts, history, and/or circumstances.

M. Appeals

Each party has the right to file a written appeal with the appropriate personnel office within seven business days of the written decision by the hearing officer.

All parties will be notified if an appeal is filed and will have seven business days to submit a written response to the appeal. Copies of the statements of appeal and any responses will be made available to all parties.

Appeals may be filed for one or more of the following reasons:

1. Inappropriate sanction.
2. Procedural irregularity in the adjudication of the case. In considering appeals based on a procedural defect, a new hearing will be ordered only if the irregularity is found to be substantial enough to have changed the outcome of the original hearing.
3. New evidence that was not reasonably available at the time of the decision. In considering appeals based on new evidence, a new hearing will be ordered only if the new evidence is found to be substantial enough to have changed the outcome of the original hearing.
4. Bias of the Hearing Officer.

N. Timeline

XIV. Retaliation

Retaliation is strictly prohibited.

Any act of retaliation, including but not limited to witness or party intimidation or coercion is a violation of this Protocol.

XV. Miscellaneous

A. Training

Investigations and hearings are designed to provide a prompt, fair, and impartial resolution regarding an alleged disciplinary matter. The hearing will be held before a designated unbiased and impartial hearing board. All Title IX Coordinators, investigators, advisors, and decision-makers are trained using materials that will not rely on sex stereotypes and will promote impartial investigations and adjudications of formal complaints of sexual misconduct. These individuals will receive training on:

- The definition of sexual harassment (as defined in 34 CFR §106.30);
- The scope of Miami University's education program and/or activity;
- How to conduct a disciplinary grievance process including investigations, hearings and appeals;
- How to serve impartially (specifically avoiding prejudgment of the facts at issue, conflicts of interest, and bias);

- The technology to be used at a live hearing;
- Issues of relevance of questions and evidence, including when questions and evidence about the complainant's sexual disposition or prior sexual behavior are not relevant; and
- Issues of relevance to create an investigative report that fairly summarizes relevant evidence (applies only to investigators).

Training materials are posted on the website <https://www.miamioh.edu/campus-safety/sexual-assault/title-ix-training/index.html>

B. Legal Options

In addition to University disciplinary action, a person who engages in a Sexual Misconduct Violation may be the subject of criminal prosecution and/or civil litigation. A police report must be made for criminal prosecution to be considered by the local prosecuting attorney. The chances of successful prosecution are greater if the report is timely and is supported by the collection of medical and/or legal evidence.

Complaints may also be filed with the United States Department of Education Office for Civil Rights, the Equal Employment Opportunity Commission, or by consulting an attorney at the person's own expense. See How to File a Discrimination Complaint <http://www2.ed.gov/about/offices/list/ocr/docs/howto.html>.

C. Education and Prevention

The OEEO and the Division of Student Life create, support and evaluate education and support programs aimed at the eradication of sexual misconduct violations involving the Miami community. Through this commitment, the OEEO and the Division of Student Life shall educate faculty, staff, and students about the following:

- Sexual Misconduct Protocol for Employees and Other Non-Students, the Sexual Misconduct Protocol for Students and the University's commitment to enforce them.
- Faculty, unclassified staff, and classified staff disciplinary procedures, where applicable.
- Miami University prohibits the crimes of dating violence, domestic violence, sexual assault and stalking as those terms are defined for purposes of the Clery Act.
- Steps to minimize individual risk of sexual assault, sexual misconduct, domestic violence, dating violence and stalking, including crime reduction tips, safety tips and healthy relationship education.
- Process and responsibility for reporting sexual misconduct violations.
- Awareness and resources for faculty, staff, and students who have experienced a sexual misconduct violation and for respondents.
- How to be a knowledgeable and supportive peer presence, including bystander intervention education that provides safe and positive options through recognizing, evaluating and determining one of three options: direct action, distraction or delegation.

- On-going wellness promotion programs that address issues including, but not limited to, sexual health and wellness, healthy relationships, violence prevention and drug and alcohol education.
- Comprehensive, ongoing universal campus-wide campaign: It's On Us. This campaign is committed to creating an environment that promotes responsibility, dignity and respect, conveying that each one of us has the power to prevent violence, can step up to help each other, and has the ability to demonstrate love and honor by supporting and caring for our fellow Miamians.

Miami University requires all new incoming faculty, staff, and students to complete an online education program, through the education technology company Everfi. Employees are required to complete a program on sexual assault and interpersonal violence, in addition to other forms of protected class-based harassment, discrimination and bias, and students are educated on the primary prevention and awareness associated with sexual assault and interpersonal violence, taking into account their unique perspectives and experiences, providing:

- Key definitions and statistics.
- Reflective and personalized content.
- Bystander skills and confidence-building strategies.
- Campus-specific policies, procedures and resources.
- Rich data summaries to inform future programming.

The Miami University Police foster a safe campus environment by doing the following:

- Providing safety and security patrols as part of regular University police responsibilities.
- Including Sexual Misconduct Protocol information on its website and directly to those who elect to file a police report.
- Accurately maintaining and reporting statistics of Title IX violations as required by the Jeanne Clery Campus Security Act.
- Working with Facilities Management to provide adequate lighting on campus.
- Working with Telecommunications to provide sufficient emergency phones on campus.

D. Medical Treatment and Preservation of Evidence

A person who has experienced sexual misconduct is urged to seek appropriate medical evaluation immediately, ideally within 96 hours (4 full days) of the incident. For life-threatening conditions, call 911 (9-911 from a campus phone) or go to the nearest hospital emergency department. In Oxford, McCullough-Hyde Memorial Hospital has a trained Sexual Assault Nurse Examiner (SANE) who can help. Most area hospitals have a Sexual Assault Nurse Examiner (SANE) that will respond.

Any person who has experienced sexual misconduct is encouraged to request collection of medical/legal evidence. Prompt collection of physical evidence is essential should the person later decide to pursue criminal prosecution and/or a civil action.

Collection of evidence may involve interaction with police and a police report, but the decision to speak with the police about the alleged violation is the person's.

If the sexual assault occurred within 96 hours (4 full days), a free and confidential exam can be administered at most local hospitals. The sooner the sexual assault is reported, the more likely evidence will still be present. "Date rape" drugs, including Rohypnol and GHB, may still be present in the person's system and should be tested for if the victim/survivor believes they may have been drugged. To help preserve evidence that may assist in proving the alleged violation/offense or in obtaining a protection order, place any soiled clothes in a paper (not plastic) bag and avoid the following:

- Bathing or douching
- Washing hands or face
- Urinating
- Drinking any liquids
- Smoking, eating or brushing teeth (including mouthwash and flossing)

If a person is uncertain about whether or not they want to report what has occurred, they can still have evidence collected. In cases of sexual assault or severe injuries, the police will be called to the hospital. The person can decide whether or not to speak with the police at that time to officially report what has happened.

While evidence may be collected anonymously (i.e., without a name attached to it) and/or when there is no report made to police, these cases are handled differently. A discussion about the merit of collecting evidence "anonymously" and/or when the person does not want to report should be discussed with medical personnel and/or an advocate.

Questions about evidence collection can be directed to Women Helping Women at 513- 381-5610 or 877-889-5610 or the Sexual Assault Nurse Examiner (SANE).

SANE of Butler County provides medico-legal examination and treatment of reported sexual assault cases. SANE of Butler County responds to area hospitals, including:

Fire Safety

Fire Safety in Residence Halls

Miami takes a number of precautions to protect the safety of students living in residence halls. Learn about the policies regarding fire safety education and training programs provided to students and employees as well as rules on portable electrical appliances, smoking and open flames in residence halls. This information on fire safety also includes emergency procedures for evacuation and a list of contacts for reporting a fire.

Residence hall fires on university campuses are not uncommon. Miami University has been fortunate in avoiding a residence hall fire that has caused injury or serious damage. However, because the possibility for such fires exists, Miami has taken a number of precautions to protect the approximately 8,000 students who live in our 46 residence halls.

Future Improvements

Miami University is in the 11th year of a 20-year plan to renovate residential hall facilities, which includes upgrading fire alarm and suppression systems. All renovated residence halls have arc-fault circuit breakers that are more sensitive to circuit overload and thus enhance fire safety.

Equipment

- All residence halls are equipped with a fire alarm system. All alarm systems function and undergo rigorous testing and documentation each year. Fire safety specialists activate the alarm systems annually and inspect and clean the system components on an annual basis.
- All of Miami's residence halls have state-of-the-art "smart" systems, which provide total smoke detection throughout a building—every janitor's closet, every room, every hallway, all common areas. Furthermore, the "smart" systems provide fire officials with an exact location (down to room #) of the smoke's source.
- Fire extinguishers (ABC type) are located in residence halls and spaced in accordance with the Ohio Fire Code.
- All Miami residence hall rooms have flame-retardant mattresses and window shades. Public areas have carpets and drapery that meet maximum flammability standards. No Miami residence hall is more than four stories, and most are three stories.
- All residence halls are equipped with "Knox Security Key Boxes." These high-security boxes contain building master keys for use by the firefighters who come into a residence hall. The boxes are opened by a key that is on each fire truck. The sub-master keys in these "Knox Boxes" enable firefighters to quickly unlock all student room and building doors in order to maximize evacuation and rescue or to fight an active fire.

Fire Safety Education and Training Programs

At the start of the fall 2021 semester, and years prior, the University held fire and personal safety education programs for all new students living in on-campus student housing. Staff at the Fire and Personal Safety Fairs emphasized several key points to student participants:

- Reinforced key fire safety policies including but not limited to the requirement that everybody must vacate the building when the alarm sounds, prohibition of tampering with fire safety equipment, and the prohibition of candles in the residence halls
- Encouraged students to know the number of doors between their room and their primary and secondary routes of escape from their building
- Sensitized students to fire safety while avoiding incidents that desensitize students such as setting off the alarm by overcooking popcorn and easy-mac
- Demonstrated the proper use of a fire extinguisher.

During the Fire and Personal Safety Fairs [\[1\]](#), students were led through a simulated smoke-filled corridor and were then immediately debriefed in small-group discussions. Students also met members of the Miami University Police Department, Oxford Fire Department, Life Squad and student members of HAWKS peer educators.

Approximately 2,200 first-year students went through the Fire and Personal Safety Fair held in fall 2021. In addition to participating in and debriefing the Great Escape, students interacted with Miami University Police Department officers, Oxford Fire Department firefighters, and life squad personnel, staff from the Office of Environmental Safety and Risk Management and HAWKS Peer Health Educators during the event.

All new students are asked to complete an online fire safety course through our campus academic course system. The course reviews a variety of fire safety policies, discusses the impact of alcohol on fire safety, and encourages students to know their means of egress from their residence hall.

Approximately 1,839 first-year students completed at least one section of the online fire safety training.

Staff from the Environmental Health and Safety Offices implement a series of unannounced emergency evacuation drills several times during the academic year. During these drills they also conduct tests of the emergency notification systems in the buildings (alarms, automatic door closings, and, where applicable, public address).

Restrictions

- Miami restricts the use of any item that produces an open flame or heating surface in residence hall student rooms. Candles, incense, and hot plates are among the restricted items.
- Miami prohibits the use of halogen lamps in residence hall sleeping rooms.
- All residence halls are non-smoking, tobacco-free buildings. This includes all student rooms.

Student Housing Policies and Rules

Portable Electrical Appliances, Smoking, and Open Flames

The following policies are outlined in the Student Room Regulations https://miamioh.edu/policy-library/students/undergraduate/housing/student-room-regulations.html.

Appliances and Electrical Wiring

Aquariums (5 gallons or less), lamps, heating pads, personal computers, and fans are permitted in student rooms providing their use does not disturb the other occupants of the building and that their state of repair is not a fire hazard. Microwaves not exceeding 700 watts are permitted in rooms (one per room); compact refrigerators are provided by Campus Services. No privately-owned refrigerators are allowed.

Safety and insurance standards require that certain restrictions be placed on the use of other electrical appliances in residence halls. The university reserves the right to prohibit other appliances not listed below if the item constitutes a potential risk.

1. Popcorn poppers, hot plates, grills, skillets, coffee pots, and toasters are prohibited.
2. Sun lamps, dehumidifiers, space heaters, candle warmers, indoor grills, electric blankets, and gas appliances may not be used.
3. Personal air conditioners are not permitted under any circumstances.
4. Tampering, altering, or rewiring electrical outlets is a fire and safety hazard and is prohibited.

Candles and Incense

Pursuant to section 308.4.1 of the Ohio Revised Code, the burning and/or possession of candles, incense, and similar materials is a fire hazard and is prohibited in public spaces, residence hall rooms, sorority suites and on exterior window sills. The storage and use of flammable fluid is prohibited.

Smoke- and Tobacco-Free Environment

In order to promote the health of our students, faculty, staff, and visitors, all Miami University campuses are designated as Smoke- and Tobacco-Free Environments. Smoking is defined as the burning of tobacco or any other material in any type of smoking equipment, including, but not restricted to, cigarettes, electronic cigarettes, vaporizers, hookahs, cigars, or pipes. Smoking is prohibited at all times in all prohibited areas. The use of any tobacco product, including chewing tobacco, is also prohibited.

Smoking and tobacco use are prohibited in all Miami University-owned facilities and on the grounds of any University-owned property. This includes all buildings owned or controlled by Miami University, shelters, indoor and outdoor facilities, natural areas, indoor and outdoor theatres, bridges, walkways, sidewalks, residence halls, parking lots, and street parking and garages controlled by the University, (including inside personal vehicles parked on University property). Smoking and tobacco use are prohibited on sidewalks that adjoin University property. Smoking and tobacco use are also prohibited in any vehicle or equipment owned, leased, or operated by Miami University.

Miami University actively promotes and provides smoking cessation assistance and nicotine replacement therapy to students, faculty, and staff, as well as to their benefit-eligible spouses. Many services are provided at no cost or a reduced cost. Interested employees should contact My Benefits & Wellness <https://miamioh.edu/human-resources/my-benefits-wellness> . Interested students should contact Student Health Services <https://miamioh.edu/student-life/student-health-service>

Violations

Faculty, staff, and students violating this policy are subject to University disciplinary action. Violators may also be subject to prosecution for violation of Ohio's Smoking Ban (Ohio Revised Code Chapter 3794). Visitors who violate this policy may be denied access to Miami University campuses and may ultimately be subject to arrest for criminal trespass.

Emergency Fire and Evacuation Procedures In Case of a Fire

In the event of a fire, the University expects that all campus community members will evacuate by the nearest exit, closing doors and activating the fire alarm system (if one is present) as they leave. Once safely outside a building, it is appropriate to contact 911 and the MUPD. Students and/or staff are informed where to relocate to by staff if circumstance warrants at the time of the alarm. In the event fire alarms sound, University policy is that all occupants must evacuate from the building, closing doors as they leave. No training is provided to students or employees in firefighting or suppression activity as this is inherently dangerous and each community member's only duty is to exit safely and quickly, shutting doors along the exit path as they go to contain the spread of flames and smoke, and to activate the alarm as they exit. At no time should the closing of doors or the activation of the alarm delay the exit from the building.

Fire alarms alert community members of potential hazards and community members are required to heed their warning and evacuate buildings immediately upon hearing a fire alarm in a facility. Community members should familiarize themselves with the exits in each building.

1. Activate fire alarm if you discover fire or smoke.
2. Call 911 and provide information on the following:
 - Name
 - Building
 - Floor or room number
3. Do one of the following:
 - If the fire is small, use a fire extinguisher (if you are trained).
 - If the fire is beyond control or involved potentially explosive materials, follow the next steps to evacuate the building.
4. Close doors and windows as you leave. Leave lights on.

5. Walk, do not run, to the nearest stairway and proceed to ground level.
DO NOT USE ELEVATORS. When a fire alarm is activated, most elevators stop automatically. If you are caught in an elevator, push the emergency phone button.
6. Feel doors before opening. If a door is hot, do not open. Backtrack to an alternate evacuation route.
7. Alert other building occupants by loudly knocking on doors and yelling "FIRE" on your way out.
8. If you encounter smoke, stay low. Crawl if necessary.
9. Continue the evacuation if the alarm sound stops, and warn others who may attempt to enter the building.
10. Move to a safe location and leave clear access for emergency personnel. Do not return to the building until instructed by a safety official.
11. Someone familiar with the situation and who knows the area involved should meet the fire department. Immediately inform them if someone may be inside the building. If your building is damaged, evacuate and attempt to secure the building against re-entry.

If clothing is on fire:

1. Stop, drop, and roll. Do not run.
2. Smother flames by wrapping in a blanket, rug, coat, etc.

If you become trapped in a building:

1. Find a room with a window. Enter and close the door.
2. If smoke begins to enter around the door, seal with rags, tape, or other material.
3. Call 911. If no phone is available, signal from a window.
4. Shout at regular intervals to alert emergency personnel of your location.

Reporting a Fire

Per federal law, Miami is required to annually disclose statistical data on all fires that occur in on-campus student housing facilities. Therefore, if you encounter a live fire in any Miami facilities, you should immediately get to a safe place, then dial 911. Once the emergency has passed, you should notify MUPD at 513-529-2222 to investigate and document the incident for disclosure in the University's annual fire statistics.

If a member of the Miami University community find signs of an extinguished fire (i.e., non-emergency), and the person is not sure whether MUPD has already responded, you should report it immediately to MUPD at 513-529-2222 to investigate and document the incident for disclosure in the University's annual fire statistics. Reports may also be made to one of the following:

- Miami University Police Department, 513-529-2222
- University Fire Marshall, 513-529-2804
- Oxford Fire Chief, 513-523-6324

Leased Student Housing

Oxford Campus

From time to time Miami may lease apartment units in Oxford, Ohio, and then sub-let those units to students during the academic year. Hawks Landing and Oxford Commons are reasonable contiguous to the Oxford Campus. The lessor of Hawks Landing and Oxford Commons is responsible for maintaining the leased units in a tenable, safe, and sanitary manner, in compliance with all state and local housing, building, and health requirements applicable to the rental property. Each unit at Hawks Landing and Oxford Commons has a smoke detector and a fire suppression system. The lessor of Hawks Landing and Oxford Commons performs annual fire safety/fire suppression system inspections.

Luxembourg Campus

The housing provided by the Luxembourg program is similar to other leased housing at the Oxford campus. Miami manages two locations referred to as "the Gardeners House" and the "Chaves," consisting of two and eight units, respectively. These locations were made available for student use starting January 1, 2021. The lessor of the Gardeners House and the Chaves apartments is responsible for maintaining the leased units in a tenable, safe, and sanitary manner, in compliance with local housing, building, and health requirements applicable to the rental property. The Chaves apartments are equipped with a fire alarm system and there are fire extinguishers in the hallways.

Students in the Gardeners House and Chaves apartments are bound by the same policies of student conduct and rules as Oxford campus students, as stated above. Emergency fire and evacuation procedures are the same, with the exception of the emergency phone number being 1-1-2 in Luxembourg.

[1] Due to the COVID-19 pandemic, the 2020 Fire and Personal Safety Fairs were cancelled.
