REGIONALS

National Measures of Quality and Value

Choosing a college is a personal decision. Many families turn to college rankings to help them choose the right school. While every family is different, most will agree that opting for a school that offers quality programs at a price they can afford matters most.

Miami University Regionals' Hamilton campus continually ranks amongst the best in the state by Stacker as providing the best return for your investment among public colleges in its annual rankings. The study found that Miami University Regionals graduates averaged a $134,000 return on investment after 10 years.

UniversityHQ ranked Miami Regionals as number two in the state for affordability, and placed its Nursing and Information Technologies majors in the top 100 for affordability in its 2022 rankings.

Miami University Regionals' online bachelor's degree program placed 17th in the 2021 Best Online Bachelor's Degrees: Colleges with the Highest Return on Investment ranking by Online U, a new ranking system for online degree programs. According to Optimal, a higher education data research company, the Online U 2020-2021 rankings were the first to use salary and debt data from the government to highlight the best online colleges.

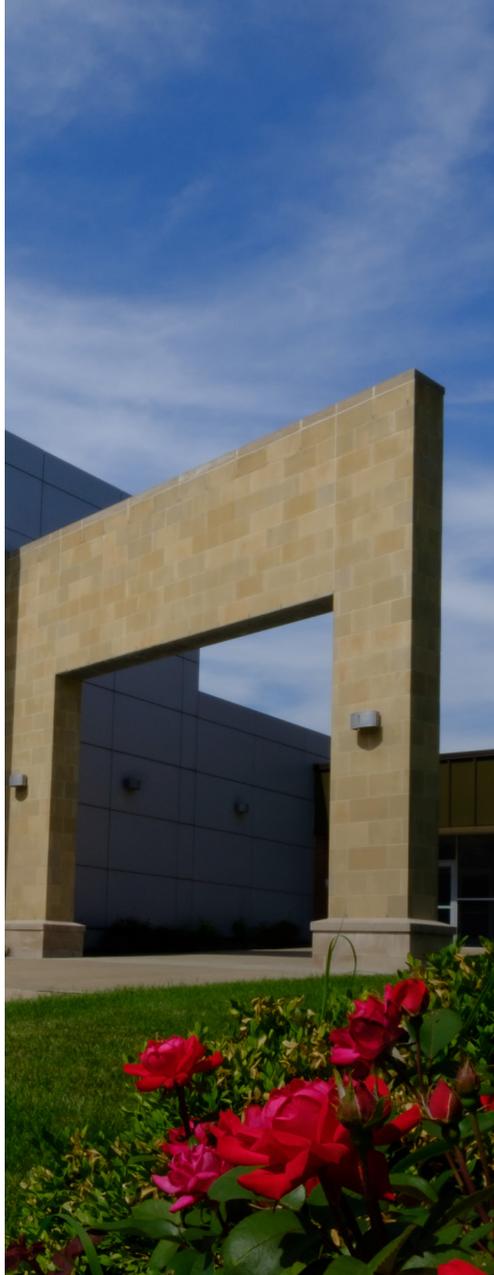

The Liberal Studies program at Miami University Regionals is one of 18 programs recognized in the Midwest by LiberalArtsEDU.org as offering one of the most affordable programs in the United States. The total estimated cost to earn the degree is $13,588 less than the regional average for similar programs.

Putting Affordability First

With one of the lowest tuition rates among four-year institutions in the state, choosing to study at Miami University Regionals not only makes good academic sense, it makes good fiscal sense.

Creating Access and Developing Opportunities

Higher education is constantly changing, and Miami University Regionals is no different. We actively seek out ways to create a diverse community of learners who will achieve their academic goals and ultimately make a difference in our world. An example of new or recently developed programs includes:

EARLY COLLEGE ACADEMY

Established in 2022, ECA allows students to earn an associate degree at no cost to them during their junior and senior years of high school. There are currently 25 students enrolled from Hamilton and Middletown high schools.

FUSION

Provides supplementary assistance designed to support students with executive functioning challenges, i.e., time management, organization, and problem-solving, that extend beyond mandated ADA accommodations. The retention rate for students in this program is 88%.

KENTUCKY COMMUNITY AND TECHNICAL COLLEGE SYSTEM

Miami University and Kentucky Community and Technical College System signed an institutional articulation agreement to create pathways for transfer students between associate and bachelor's degree programs. This innovative partnership will provide transfer opportunities to students from 16 community and technical colleges in the state of Kentucky.

SERVICE+

As Service+ AmeriCorps members, students advance the critical mission of nonprofit organizations in Butler County while enhancing their workforce and leadership skills. Forty-one students were enrolled in the initial cohort, providing a total of 18,900 service hours. In return, $282,156 was provided directly to Service+ students through living allowances and education awards.

WORK+

For students wanting to earn a degree debt free, there's Work+. Students work part-time at a partner employer, who in return agrees to pay them a salary and cover their tuition. More than 40 students are enrolled in the program in Fall 2022, which has an 87% retention rate. Fourteen employers are currently involved in the program:

- Avery Dennison
- Butler County Regional Transit Authority
- Community First Solutions
- YMCA of Greater Dayton, Great Miami Valley YMCA, and Lakota Family YMCA
- Fastest Labs
- GMi Companies
- Libra Industries
- Nation Coating Systems
- The Fischer Group
- thyssenkrupp Bilstein
- Worthington Industries

Many new partners are in the works.
