Learn to dine like a professional at the College of Arts and Science’s second annual etiquette and networking dinner!

This program provides an interactive approach to learning the finer points of dining etiquette, as well as tips for interviewing over dinner and other social situations.

Hosted by a professional trainer/presenter, the dinner is a fun, non-threatening way to practice business etiquette skills while enjoying a 3-course meal! This unique event also allows you to get to know College of Arts and Science alumni in a relaxed environment. The evening includes dinner, dessert, etiquette instruction, and getting to know your Alumni Table Hosts. Business attire is required.

Seats are limited, so don’t wait!
