Look inside Miami University's $46M student center: SLIDESHOW

In this week's print edition of the Business Courier, we include a list of the Tri-State's largest colleges and universities. When compiling the list, we learned there are a lot of big projects happening on campuses across the region. One of the biggest is happening at Miami University in Oxford. The $46 million Armstrong Student Center is expected to be completed in January, and an official celebration of its opening is planned for Feb. 7. To take a peek inside the building, click on the image at right. The 203,000-square-foot facility will house a theater, dining options, student organization spaces and a variety of common areas.

The main entrance of the student center goes into the Shade Family Room, which was formerly Rowan Hall.
