Scope: Who is Covered by this Policy?

Employees

Policy

Introduction

Miami University is committed to maintaining a healthy and safe learning, living and working environment and to creating an environment that promotes responsibility, dignity and respect in matters of sexual and interpersonal conduct.

This Protocol addresses sexual misconduct complaints arising under the U.S. Department of Education's Title IX regulations and complaints arising under University policy (collectively referred to as Sexual Misconduct violations). Sexual Misconduct is a broad term that includes sexual harassment, sexual violence, dating violence, stalking and sexual exploitation. Sexual Misconduct is strictly prohibited and will not be tolerated. Any person, regardless of gender, gender identity or sexual orientation can experience sexual misconduct. The University is dedicated to addressing Sexual Misconduct by providing:

- Education and prevention programming to inform the community about the risks and myths that contribute to sexual misconduct as well as bystander training.
- Assistance and support, including non-disciplinary supportive measures and accommodations.
- Procedures employees and other non-students should follow if a sexual misconduct crime occurs, including crimes of domestic violence, dating violence, sexual assault or stalking.
• Processes for an impartial investigation, adjudication and resolution that include appropriate disciplinary sanctions for those found responsible for Sexual Misconduct violations, including but not limited to possible sanctions of suspension and dismissal.

• When a Sexual Misconduct violation does occur, the University will take appropriate steps to respond so that every complainant receives appropriate support. Respondents are presumed not responsible and treated as responsible only after they are determined to be responsible following a hearing. University officials serve impartially without bias for or against any party.

Miami’s Protocol is designed to comply with applicable state and federal laws. Miami University reserves the right to modify or deviate from this Protocol when, in the sole judgment of the University, circumstances warrant in order to protect the rights of the involved parties or to comply with the law. This Protocol is not intended to, and will not be enforced so as to, infringe upon First Amendment rights, including the right to academic freedom.

This Protocol describes how the University typically responds to reports of Sexual Misconduct involving employees and other non-students. It also:

• Provides guidance for employees and other non-students who have been impacted by Sexual Misconduct.

• Provides links to the University’s employee disciplinary response to alleged Sexual Misconduct

• Identifies individuals that are available to provide support

• Identifies the individuals responsible for the Protocol

• Provides information on available support programs within the University

When the complainant and the respondent do not share the same status at the University (e.g., one party is a student and one party is a faculty or staff member) the following guidelines apply:

• Any report of an alleged Sexual Misconduct Violation by an employee or non-student will follow this Protocol.

• Any report of an alleged Sexual Misconduct Violation by a student will follow the Sexual Misconduct Protocol for Students.

• At the time of filing a Title IX Sexual Misconduct formal complaint, a complainant must be participating in or attempting to participate in the education program or activity of Miami University. At the time of filing a Non-Title IX Sexual Misconduct formal complaint there is no requirement for a complainant to be participating or attempting to participate in an educational program or activity at Miami University.

I. Definitions

A. Complainant
Any person who is reported to have experienced a sexual misconduct violation by an employee or other non-student.

B. Consent
Consent is when a person agrees or gives permission to another person to engage in certain sexual acts.

- Consent is a knowing, and voluntary verbal or non-verbal, agreement between both parties to participate in each and every sexual act.
- Consent to one sexual act does not imply consent to other or all sexual acts.
- Conduct will be considered "non-consensual" if no clear consent, verbal or non-verbal, is given. The absence of "no" does not mean "yes."
- A person has the right to change one's mind at any time. In other words, consent can be withdrawn at any point, as long as the person clearly informs the other party of the withdrawal.
- Taking drugs or consuming alcohol does not relieve the obligation to obtain consent.
- A person is not required to physically or otherwise resist an aggressor.

Effective Consent

- Effective consent can be given by words or actions so long as the words or actions create a mutual understanding between both parties regarding the conditions of the sexual activity. Ask: "Do both of us understand and agree regarding the who, what, where, when, why, and how this sexual activity will take place?"
- When a person affirmatively demonstrates that: they do not want to have sex; they want to stop any sort of sexual act; or they do not want to go any further, the other party must stop completely. Continued pressure after that point can be coercive.

Consent in Relationships
Current or past sexual relationships or current or past dating relationships are not sufficient grounds to constitute consent.

Regardless of past experiences with other partners or a current partner, consent must be obtained.

Consent can never be assumed, even in the context of a relationship. A person has the right to say “no” and has the right to change their mind at any time.

A person cannot legally give consent (no matter what they might say) when:
- The person is substantially impaired due to alcohol or drugs, incapacitated or unconscious.
- The person’s ability to resist or consent is substantially impaired because of a physical or mental condition.
- The person was coerced due to force, threat of force or deception or when the person was beaten, threatened, isolated or intimidated.

C. Formal Complaint

A formal document filed by a complainant alleging sexual misconduct against a respondent and requesting that the University investigate the allegation of Sexual Misconduct. Formal Complaints may also be filed by the Title IX Coordinator. When a Title IX Coordinator signs a formal complaint, the Title IX Coordinator is not a complainant or otherwise a party to the investigation or any process which may result from an investigation.

D. Hearing

See XIII. Disciplinary Process.

E. Party/Parties

After a Formal Complaint is filed, a Complainant and a Respondent each become a “Party” with respect to the complaint. The plural “Parties” may also be used when referring to more than one party.

F. Persons with Authority to Initiate Corrective Action

- Title IX Investigator
- Title IX Coordinator
- Office of Equity and Equal Opportunity (“OEEO”) Director and Associate Directors
- Miami University Police Officers
• President
• Provost, Associate Provosts, Assistant Provosts
• Vice Presidents, Associate Vice Presidents and Assistant Vice Presidents
• Deans, Associate Deans and Assistant Deans
• Chairs and Program Directors
• Directors, Supervisors, and other heads of offices
• Human Resources and Academic Personnel Unclassified Staff

G. Report
A verbal or written account of alleged sexual misconduct made to a person with authority to initiate corrective action. A report can be submitted by mail, by email, in person, by telephone, or by using the electronic incident reporting form. Reports may be made at any time, even after regular business hours.

H. Respondent
Any employee or other non-student alleged to have engaged in conduct prohibited by this policy. A respondent is presumed not responsible for the alleged conduct until a determination regarding responsibility is made at the conclusion of the disciplinary process.

I. Sexual Misconduct
Includes sexual harassment, sexual violence, dating violence, stalking and sexual exploitation under the U.S. Department of Education’s Title IX regulations and complaints arising under University Policy and any adjudicated violation of criminal sex offense in Ohio.

L. Student

A person who is participating in or attempting to participate in any of the University's educational programs or activities. This includes enrolled students, applicants for admission, those students who may have withdrawn or taken a leave of absence due to sexual misconduct, and students who withdraw while a complaint is being investigated or heard.

M. Supportive Measures

Non-disciplinary, non-punitive individualized measures offered to preserve access to educational programs and activities without unreasonably burdening the respondent. A formal complaint is not required for a complainant to receive supportive measures.

N. Retaliation

Any act of intimidation or coercion, discrimination or threat undertaken for the purpose of interfering with any right or privilege under this Protocol. This includes any adverse action that is taken because a person has made a report or complaint, testified, assisted, participated or refused to participate in any manner in an investigation, hearing, or other proceeding under this Protocol. The filing of any complaint that arises out of the same facts and circumstances as the sexual misconduct report or complaint, may constitute retaliation if it is filed for the purpose of interfering with any right or privilege secured by this Protocol.

O. Title IX Coordinator

Stalking includes repeatedly following, harassing, threatening or intimidating another by telephone, mail, electronic communication, social media or any other action, device or method that purposely or knowingly causes substantial emotional distress or reasonable fear of bodily injury or death. For the purpose of this definition:

1. Course of conduct means two or more acts, including, but not limited to, acts in which the stalker directly, indirectly or through third parties, by any action, method, device or means follows, monitors, observes, surveils, threatens or communicates to or about a person, or interferes with a person’s property.

1. Reports of sexual misconduct should be promptly shared with the Title IX Coordinator. Reports can also be made voluntarily by any university community member or individual who is directly involved in, observes, or reasonably believes that sexual misconduct may have occurred.

2. Making a report to the university does not preclude the individual from filing a report of a crime with law enforcement nor does it extend time limits that may apply in criminal processes. Individuals may request assistance from the Title IX coordinator or designee to notify law enforcement.

3. Individuals, including members of the university community, may submit reports anonymously via the following resources. Anonymous reports do not fulfill an employee’s duty to report. The university’s Anonymous Reporting Line via telephone at 1-866-294-9544 or https://secure.ethicspoint.com/domain/media/en/gui/13035/index.html.

V. Limited Amnesty
While the University does not condone underage drinking, illegal drug use, or violation of other University policies, it considers addressing sexual misconduct and interpersonal violence to be of paramount importance. To encourage reporting and adjudication of sexual misconduct and interpersonal violence, Miami University extends limited amnesty to a student complaining of sexual misconduct against an employee or other non-student. The University will generally not seek to hold the student responsible for a violation of the law (e.g., underage drinking or illegal drug use) or Code of Student Conduct during the period immediately surrounding the alleged sexual misconduct or interpersonal violence.

VI. Supportive Measures

Miami University provides a number of resources and support measures for employees and other non-students, if applicable. Employees or other non-students may, upon request, obtain support services, such as changing working and transportation circumstances, from the Title IX Coordinator. The University will make such accommodations or provide such protective measures if requested and if they are reasonably available. No police report, disciplinary complaint or investigation need occur before this option is available. The Title IX Coordinator will exercise discretion and sensitivity about sharing the identity of the employee or other non-student when arranging for support services. An employee or other non-student can access these services at any time, even if the person initially declined the service.

This may be requested by the Complainant, the Respondent, a witness, or other impacted members of the University community. Supportive Measures are available regardless of whether a formal complaint is filed. Examples of Supportive Measures include:

1. Assist the person in immediately attending to any medical needs. The Title IX Coordinator can arrange for a professional to accompany the person to the hospital if requested.

2. Assist the person in contacting a support person, such as a spouse/partner, friend or parent if desired.

3. Assist the person in obtaining a University no-contact order or a court-issued restraining order or other lawful order of protection.

4. Provide information on available medical and psychological resources.

5. Change class assignments so that the parties do not share the same classes (available to employees who are also students).

6. Change working conditions for on campus employment.
7. Provide transportation/parking options.

8. Assist in filing a complaint with the Miami University Police if on campus and Oxford Police or other appropriate police department if off campus. The Title IX Coordinator is required by law to notify appropriate law enforcement authorities of any reported incident of sexual assault, or interpersonal violence.

9. Inform the person of the right to have an investigation through the OEO. If the respondent is a University student, the Title IX Coordinator will inform the employee or other non-student of the right to have an investigation by the Office of Community Standards. The University’s processes address a much broader range of conduct than the criminal law.

The Title IX Coordinator will exercise discretion and sensitivity about sharing the identity of the employee or other non-student when arranging for supportive measures. Efforts will be made to maintain the confidentiality and privacy of the complainant unless one of the requested supportive measures requires revealing the identity of the complainant (e.g., a no contact directive). An employee or other non-student can access these services at any time, even if the employee or other non-student initially declined the service.

There may be times when the University must disclose some information about the employee or other non-student to a third party in order to provide supportive services. This information will be limited to only what is needed to ensure the supportive service is provided. When possible, the Title IX Coordinator will consult with the employee or other non-student regarding what and with whom the information will be shared prior to sharing the information. Nothing in this section shall limit the sharing of information in response to a health and safety emergency.

For supportive measures involving employees or other non-students, contact Ms. Kenya Ash, Title IX Coordinator and Director of the OEO, 219 E Spring Street, Hanna House, Oxford, OH 45056; (513) 529-7157; ashkd@miamioh.edu; https://www.miamioh.edu/diversity-inclusion/oeeo/index.html.

There are certain legal protections that may be available to immigrants or international students in the form of Visas, particularly the U visa and the T visa. The U visa provides temporary legal status and work eligibility for victims of certain crimes (including domestic violence, sexual assault, human trafficking, involuntary servitude and other violations). The T visa provides victim of human trafficking and immediate family members with temporary legal status and work eligibility. These visas can be applied for when agreeing to assist law enforcement, unless an individual meets one of the exceptions. Additional information is available through the U.S. Department of Homeland Security U.S. Citizenship and Immigration Services. For assistance, with this or other immigrant status questions, please contact Women Helping Women, 513-381-5610 or toll-free at 877-889-5610, or Legal Aid Society of Southwest Ohio, 513-241-9400 or toll-free 1-800-582-2682.

VII. Confidentiality

Miami University will preserve the parties’ confidentiality to the extent possible and allowed by law.
A. Confidential Reporting

A person may speak confidentially with certain persons in legally protected roles including the following:

- Women Helping Women (rape crisis counselors) are available 24 hours a day at 513-381-5610 or toll-free at 877-889-5610 and on campus during office hours at Warfield Hall 215 & 217 or 513-431-1111 or 513-846-8402 (call or text).

- Off-campus with clergy, counselors and physicians, including McCullough-Hyde Memorial Hospital (513-523-2111), where a Sexual Assault Nurse Examiner (SANE) is available.

- Free and confidential assessments, short-term counseling, referrals, and follow-up services for benefit eligible employees and their families through the University’s employee assistance program at 800-227-6007 or MyImpactSolution.com, using the username, Miamioh.

A confidential report does not result in a report to law enforcement or a University investigation. It will not be reported to the Title IX Coordinator, Human Resources or Academic Personnel.

B. Non-Confidential Reporting and Recordkeeping

Ohio law requires those not in a legally protected role with knowledge of a felony to report it to law enforcement. Miami personnel, including the Title IX Coordinator, Deputy Title IX Coordinators, Resident Assistants and Office of Residence Life professional staff, are required to notify the Miami University Police of any report of sexual misconduct or interpersonal violence. Conduct reported to the Miami University Police that may be a sexual misconduct violation involving employees or other non-students will be reported to the Title IX Coordinator. A report to the Miami University Police or other law enforcement agency does not require the pursuit of criminal charges. Neither the complainant nor the respondent is under any obligation to speak with the law enforcement authorities, even when the conduct is reported to them. Miami University will, upon request, assist an employee or other non-student in notifying law enforcement authorities.

For sexual misconduct or interpersonal violence that may also constitute a criminal offense that occurred on the Oxford campus, contact the Miami University Police Department directly at 911 (or 9-911 from a campus phone) or 513-529-2222 (non-emergency) to file a police report. Miami University Police officers will respond quickly, with sensitivity and compassion (see Promises to Victims of Crime). Regional Campus employees or other non-students should report to local law enforcement (Hamilton Campus- Hamilton Police at 513-868-5811, Middletown Campus- Middletown Police
To report a criminal offense that occurred off-campus, contact the local police in the area the offense occurred or call 911 (emergency). Upon request, the Title IX Coordinator and Miami University Police will assist an employee or other non-student in obtaining protection or restraining orders. Upon request, the Title IX Coordinator or the Miami University Police will assist employees or other non-students in notifying the Oxford Police or other appropriate police department of an off-campus offense. For definitions of criminal offenses, please see Appendix A.

The Miami University Police, the Title IX Coordinator and the Oxford Police Department share information on a need-to-know basis under an Information Sharing Agreement (PDF). Please note, a delay in reporting to police could weaken or result in a loss of evidence used to determine whether an individual is responsible for a criminal offense. In the State of Ohio, individuals may have up to 20 years to file a sexual assault report with the police.

Even if a party does not specifically request their information remain confidential, the University will seek to protect the confidentiality of both parties. When possible, the University will complete publicly available records without identifying personal information about the parties (e.g., first and last name, home or physical address, contact information email, telephone, fax, social security number, driver’s license number, passport number, date of birth, racial or ethnic background or religious affiliation). The Annual Security and Fire Safety Report, Crime Log and any other publicly available documents will not disclose a name, address, contact information, social security number, driver’s license number, passport number or any other personally identifiable information.

C. Police Reports

Police reports are open for inspection and copying under Ohio’s Public Records Act. The extent to which Miami University can protect the identity of an employee or other non-student contained in police reports is not absolute; however, the University uses its best efforts to protect the identity of the complainant and the intimate details of the report. Ohio law specifically permits the University to withhold the identity of an uncharged suspect but requires the release of the identity of a charged suspect.

Initial police incident reports and Campus Security Authority reports do not include personally identifying information (e.g., first and last name, home or physical address, contact information email, telephone and fax, social security number, driver’s license number, passport number, date of birth, racial or ethnic background or religious affiliation).
D. Safety Bulletins and Emergency Notifications

The Miami University Police Department (MUPD) is responsible for coordinating Clery Act compliance for Miami University. In collaboration with other campus units, MUPD’s Clery Coordinator is responsible for: collecting crime data and information, compiling the Annual Security Report and Annual Fire Safety Report, publishing the daily Clery Crime and Fire Log, coordinating the identification and training of the University’s Campus Security Authorities, and providing guidance for the issuance of safety bulletins and emergency notification.

If a report of sexual assault, dating/domestic violence, or stalking indicates there is an immediate threat to the health or safety of persons on campus or that an on-going serious or continuing threat to the campus community exists, an Emergency Notification or a Safety Bulletin will be issued. The purpose of a Safety Bulletin is to enable persons to protect themselves, heighten safety awareness and seek information that will lead to an arrest and conviction of the perpetrator. The Emergency Notification or Safety Bulletin does not include names or other personally identifying information.

For more information on the Clery Act, Safety Bulletins and Emergency Notifications, see the Annual Security and Fire Safety Report.

The University does not publish the name of crime victims or other identifiable information regarding victims in the Daily Crime Log or in the annual crime statistics that are disclosed in compliance with the Jeanne Clery Disclosure of Campus Security Policy and Campus Crime Statistics Act.

VIII. No Contact Directives

The Title IX Coordinator or Title IX Investigator during an investigation (or the appropriate personnel office during disciplinary proceedings), may direct an employee to have no contact with another individual for a specified period. No Contact Directives are issued when, in the judgment of the Title IX Coordinator or Title IX Investigator, there is reason to believe that a directive would be in the best interest of the parties and/or the community for maintaining safety. Such situations include, but are not limited to: harassment, threats, physical assault, stalking, domestic violence, dating violence, sexual misconduct, retaliation or other behaviors as indicated in this Protocol. No Contact Directives will typically be issued as mutual and time-limited, meaning both parties involved are subject to the same restrictions for a specified period of time. No Contact Directives prohibit all forms of communication between designated parties; direct or indirect, written, electronic, through a third party, or social media. Should a party fail to comply with a No Contact Directive, the party may be subject to disciplinary action.

No Contact Directives are distinct and different from court-imposed restraining orders or protective orders as they only apply to employees of Miami University or enrolled students. A No Contact Directive is a University action and is not recognized by city, county or state law as a legal action. If a party wishes to pursue a civil protection order, they must make the request through an appropriate court.

A No Contact Directive may be requested at any time through the OEEO. Modification requests will be considered when submitted through the OEEO and accompanied by evidence to support the request.

IX. Interim Suspension

An interim suspension may be imposed by the appropriate personnel office before the disciplinary procedures described in this rule are initiated or resolved. During an interim suspension, the employee is relieved of all employment responsibilities; the employee may be prohibited from all or any portion of University premises, University-related activities, or be permitted to remain only under specific conditions prior to the conclusion of the disciplinary process. An interim suspension will be with compensation until the disciplinary procedures are completed.

X. Investigation

A. Formal Complaint

Upon receipt of a formal complaint alleging a sexual misconduct violation the University will initiate an investigation. An investigation may also be initiated upon receipt of a formal complaint signed by a Title IX Coordinator. The Title IX Coordinator may conduct a preliminary review of a report of sexual misconduct and will weigh the following factors in determining whether to file a formal complaint:

- Seriousness of the alleged violation (including whether the violation involved the use of a weapon, other illegal activity, illegal drug or intoxicants, multiple respondents, etc.).

- Whether there have been other complaints/reports made regarding the respondent (e.g., a history of arrests, a record of misconduct at Miami or other institutions).

- Availability of other information to support the alleged violation.
Whether the circumstances suggest there is an increased risk of the respondent committing additional sexual misconduct violations (e.g., a pattern of behavior).

Whether the respondent has threatened the complainant or others.

Safety of the complainant and others.

B. Notice of Allegations

A respondent has a right to know the name of the complainant and information regarding the nature of the allegations in order to defend against the formal complaint. Thus, the University will not be able to both investigate a report and maintain the confidentiality of the complainant. Upon receipt of a formal complaint, the University will issue a written Notice of Allegations to the parties to initiate the investigation. Written notification of allegations will include:

- Notice of the investigation and disciplinary process;
- A copy of the formal complaint received by Miami University;
- The identities of the parties involved in the incident, if known;
- The conduct allegedly constituting sexual misconduct and the specific sections of this Protocol that have allegedly been violated;
- The date and location of the alleged incident, if known;
- A copy of this Protocol, and a copy of the Faculty Procedures for Disciplinary Action, Interim Unclassified Discipline Policy, and Interim Classified Discipline Policy, whichever is applicable;
- A statement that the respondent is presumed not responsible for the alleged conduct until a determination regarding responsibility has been made at the conclusion of the disciplinary process;
- The potential sanction(s) which Miami University may implement following any determination of responsibility;
- A statement that the parties may be accompanied throughout the process by an advisor of their choice who may be, but is not required to be, an attorney;
- A statement that the parties may request to inspect and review evidence;
- A statement informing the parties that it is a violation of this Protocol to knowingly make false statements or knowingly submit false information during the investigation or any resulting University process;
- The date, time and location of the initial investigatory interview(s);
A statement informing the parties of the process which allows for the temporary delay of the investigation or any resulting process, or the limited extension of time frames for good cause. Good cause may include the absence of parties, a party’s advisor, or witnesses, concurrent law enforcement activity, or the need to accommodate a disability;

A statement that if, in the course of an investigation, Miami University decides to investigate allegations of a Sexual Misconduct Violation about the complainant or respondent that are not included in the Notice of Allegations, Miami University will provide notice of the additional allegations to the parties whose identities are known; and

The identity of the investigator.

C. Investigator Conflicts of Interest/Bias

An investigator may not have a conflict of interest or bias for or against complainants or respondents generally or towards any individual complainant or respondent. If a party believes that the investigator has a conflict of interest or bias then that party may, within 3 business days of receipt of the Notice of the Allegations, file a request with the Director of OEEO, asking that a different investigator be assigned, setting forth in sufficient detail the basis for the request. The decision of the Director is final, subject to appeal under H. Request for Review (Appeal) after the completion of the investigation.

D. Mandatory Dismissal as a Title IX Sexual Misconduct Case

If an investigation determines that the alleged behavior does not constitute sexual misconduct under Title IX, in that it did not occur while the complainant was participating in or attempting to participate in an educational program or activity of the University, or did not occur within the geographical territory of the United States, the complaint will be dismissed under Title IX. Mandatory dismissals may be appealed in writing within 5 business days of the dismissal by either party to the Vice President for Institutional Diversity and Inclusion.

Cases dismissed as Title IX Sexual Misconduct may proceed as Non-Title IX Sexual Misconduct if the alleged misconduct meets one of the definitions therein (see Non-Title IX Sexual Misconduct definitions).

E. Review of Evidence

The parties will have a timely and equal opportunity to inspect and review any evidence obtained as part of the investigation that is directly related to the allegations raised in a formal complaint, including all relevant evidence (e.g., that which proves the allegations or absolves the respondent.)
F. Draft Report

Upon completion of the draft of the investigation report, the draft report will be sent to each party and the party’s advisor (if any). The purpose of the draft report is to provide both parties with an equal opportunity to inspect, review, and comment on any evidence relevant to the allegations raised in the formal report. The parties will have at least 10 business days to submit a written response to the draft report. Written responses, if any, received prior to the deadline will be considered by the investigator prior to completion of the final investigation report.

G. Report

The investigator will summarize relevant evidence and will either find reasonable basis to proceed to hearing for some or all of the allegations made in the formal complaint, or no reasonable basis to proceed to a hearing, resulting in a dismissal of the formal complaint. If the investigator finds that the matter should proceed to a hearing, the specific disciplinary sections allegedly violated will be listed as charges in the investigation report.

H. Request for Review (Appeal)

The complainant and the respondent each have the right to request that the Vice President for Institutional Diversity and Inclusion review the investigation based on:

- Alleged material violations of this Policy that resulted in a failure to conduct a reasonably thorough investigation, in which case the matter will be remanded to the OEEO for additional investigation;
- New evidence that was not available at the time of the investigation;
- Conclusions that are clearly erroneous and not supported by the investigation; or
- Investigator conflict of interest/bias.

The request for review must be submitted in writing to the Vice President for Institutional Diversity and Inclusion within five business days of the issuance of the OEEO report. The request for review must state the basis for review and include all supporting materials.

The request for review will be shared with all parties and the OEEO for their response, if any. Responses shall be filed within five business days of the parties’ and OEEO’s receipt of the request for review.

After review of the investigation, the Vice President for Institutional Diversity and Inclusion will issue a written report and share it with all parties and the OEEO. The parties will be given timely and equal access to information that will be used during any subsequent disciplinary meetings and hearings.

XI. Consolidation of Complaints

Miami University may consolidate formal complaints of allegations of Sexual Misconduct Violations by a complainant against more than one respondent, or by more than one complainant against one or more respondents, where the allegations of Sexual Misconduct arise out of the same facts or circumstances or course of conduct.

XII. Permissive Dismissal

Miami University may, at any time, dismiss a complaint of Sexual Misconduct when:

- A complainant notifies the Title IX Coordinator, in writing, that they would like to withdraw the formal complaint or any allegations therein;
- The respondent is no longer employed by Miami University; or
- Specific circumstances prevent the University from gathering evidence sufficient to reach a determination as to the formal complaint or allegations therein.

Please note that a complaint that is dismissed as Title IX Sexual Misconduct may still be considered as an alleged violation of Non-Title IX Sexual Misconduct if reasonable cause is found through an investigation and the complainant agrees to participate in the discipline process.

XIII. Disciplinary Process

See also Faculty Procedures for Disciplinary Action, Interim Unclassified Discipline Policy, and Interim Classified Discipline Policy.

A. Notice of Hearing

If an investigation results in a hearing regarding alleged violations of Title IX Sexual Misconduct or Non-Title IX Sexual Misconduct, the parties will receive a Notice of Hearing at least ten (10) business days prior to the hearing. The notice will include:

- The basis for discipline in sufficient detail to disclose the reasons and basis for the proposed discipline;
- A statement that the employee is presumed not responsible until a final determination has been made at the conclusion of the disciplinary process.
- A statement that the employee may be accompanied by an advisor of their choice throughout the hearing process;
- A statement that the complainant (if a party as set forth below) and employee may request to inspect and review evidence prior to the hearing;
- A statement that knowingly making false statements or knowingly submitting false information during the hearing is prohibited and may serve as grounds for disciplinary action.
- The proposed discipline;
- The date, time, and location of the hearing. Any party may seek a temporary delay of the hearing for good cause. Good cause includes, the unavailability of a party, a party’s advisor or a witness; concurrent law enforcement activity; or the need for language assistance or disability accommodation.

B. Standard of Review

The standard of review used to determine responsibility is a “preponderance” standard. This determination is based on the greater weight of the information and does not require a standard beyond a reasonable doubt.

C. Role of Advisors

- Cross-examination in a hearing must be conducted by a party’s advisor, not the party themselves.
- All parties have the opportunity to be accompanied to a meeting or disciplinary proceeding by an advisor of their choice, which may be an attorney.
- If a party does not have an advisor at the hearing to conduct cross-examination, one will be provided for them by Miami University.

D. Live Hearing

All parties providing information as part of a hearing must be physically present. At the University’s discretion, any and all parties and witnesses may appear at the hearing virtually with technology enabling participants to simultaneously see and hear each other.

E. Cross-Examination

- The advisor must appear at the hearing to ask questions on behalf of the accused employee, even if the employee fails to appear.
- The hearing officer has the authority to determine the relevance and admissibility of testimony and other evidence presented during the hearing and may place time limitations on opening and closing statements.
• If a person does not participate in the hearing to answer questions, the hearing officer may not rely on any statements or other information related to that person. The hearing officer may not use the lack of participation by any person as a factor in making determinations of responsibility.

F. Accommodation of Safety Concerns

The University may accommodate concerns for personal safety, well-being and/or concerns regarding confrontation among the complainant, the employee and other witnesses by providing separate facilities, by using a visual screen or permitting participation by closed circuit TV, video conferencing or other means.

G. Determination of Relevance

The hearing officer has the authority to determine the relevance and admissibility of testimony and other evidence presented during the hearing and may place time limitations on opening and closing statements.

H. Credibility of Witnesses

Credibility determinations of parties and witnesses will not be made based on the person's status within the University or at the hearing.

I. Privilege

The disciplinary process does not require any party to disclose legally privileged information, unless the person holding the privilege has waived it.

J. Record of Hearing

The University will make a record of the hearing and it will be made available to the parties.

K. Written Notification of Outcome

At the conclusion of the hearing, the parties will be simultaneously notified, in writing, of the outcome of the disciplinary proceedings including the result of any initial, interim and final decision, the procedures for appeal and any change to the results. This notification includes whether the respondent was found responsible, and if so, the sanction(s) imposed and the rationale as well as any remedies offered to the complainant in matters involving sexual harassment, sexual misconduct, domestic violence, dating violence or stalking.

L. Sanctions/Remedies
Possible disciplinary actions are as follows, but not limited to: spoken reprimand, written reprimand, suspension with pay, suspension without pay, reduction of pay, demotion to next lower classification, or dismissal. The appropriate action in each individual case will be selected based upon the relevant facts, history, and/or circumstances.

M. Appeals

Each party has the right to file a written appeal with the appropriate personnel office within seven business days of the written decision by the hearing officer.

All parties will be notified if an appeal is filed and will have seven business days to submit a written response to the appeal. Copies of the statements of appeal and any responses will be made available to all parties.

Appeals may be filed for one or more of the following reasons:

1. Inappropriate sanction.
2. Procedural irregularity in the adjudication of the case. In considering appeals based on a procedural defect, a new hearing will be ordered only if the irregularity is found to be substantial enough to have changed the outcome of the original hearing.
3. New evidence that was not reasonably available at the time of the decision. In considering appeals based on new evidence, a new hearing will be ordered only if the new evidence is found to be substantial enough to have changed the outcome of the original hearing.
4. Bias of the Hearing Officer.

N. Timeline

See Faculty Procedures for Disciplinary Action, Interim Unclassified Discipline Policy, and Interim Classified Discipline Policy.

XIV. Retaliation

Retaliation is strictly prohibited.

Any act of retaliation, including but not limited to witness or party intimidation or coercion is a violation of this Protocol.

XV. Miscellaneous

A. Training
Investigations and hearings are designed to provide a prompt, fair, and impartial resolution regarding an alleged disciplinary matter. The hearing will be held before a designated unbiased and impartial hearing board. All Title IX Coordinators, investigators, advisors, and decision-makers are trained using materials that will not rely on sex stereotypes and will promote impartial investigations and adjudications of formal complaints of sexual misconduct. These individuals will receive training on:

- The definition of sexual harassment (as defined in 34 CFR §106.30);
- The scope of Miami University’s education program and/or activity;
- How to conduct a disciplinary grievance process including investigations, hearings and appeals;
- How to serve impartially (specifically avoiding prejudgment of the facts at issue, conflicts of interest, and bias);
- The technology to be used at a live hearing;
- Issues of relevance of questions and evidence, including when questions and evidence about the complainant’s sexual disposition or prior sexual behavior are not relevant; and
- Issues of relevance to create an investigative report that fairly summarizes relevant evidence (applies only to investigators).

Training materials are posted on the website

B. Legal Options

In addition to University disciplinary action, a person who engages in a Sexual Misconduct Violation may be the subject of criminal prosecution and/or civil litigation. A police report must be made for criminal prosecution to be considered by the local prosecuting attorney. The chances of successful prosecution are greater if the report is timely and is supported by the collection of medical and/or legal evidence.

Complaints may also be filed with the United States Department of Education Office for Civil Rights, the Equal Employment Opportunity Commission, or by consulting an attorney at the person’s own expense. See How to File a Discrimination Complaint.

C. Education and Prevention

The OEO and the Division of Student Life create, support and evaluate education and support programs aimed at the eradication of sexual misconduct violations involving the Miami community. Through this commitment, the OEO and the Division of Student Life shall educate faculty, staff, and students about the following:
• Sexual Misconduct Protocol for Employees and Other Non-Students, the Sexual Misconduct Protocol for Students and the University's commitment to enforce them.

• Faculty, unclassified staff, and classified staff disciplinary procedures, where applicable.

• Miami University prohibits the crimes of dating violence, domestic violence, sexual assault and stalking as those terms are defined for purposes of the Clery Act.

• Steps to minimize individual risk of sexual assault, sexual misconduct, domestic violence, dating violence and stalking, including crime reduction tips, safety tips and healthy relationship education.

• Process and responsibility for reporting sexual misconduct violations.

• Awareness and resources for faculty, staff, and students who have experienced a sexual misconduct violation and for respondents.

• How to be a knowledgeable and supportive peer presence, including bystander intervention education that provides safe and positive options through recognizing, evaluating and determining one of three options: direct action, distraction or delegation.

• On-going wellness promotion programs that address issues including, but not limited to, sexual health and wellness, healthy relationships, violence prevention and drug and alcohol education.

• Comprehensive, ongoing universal campus-wide campaign: It's On Us. This campaign is committed to creating an environment that promotes responsibility, dignity and respect, conveying that each one of us has the power to prevent violence, can step up to help each other, and has the ability to demonstrate love and honor by supporting and caring for our fellow Miamians.

Miami University requires all new incoming faculty, staff, and students to complete an online education program, through the education technology company Everfi. Employees are required to complete a program on sexual assault and interpersonal violence, in addition to other forms of protected class-based harassment, discrimination and bias, and students are educated on the primary prevention and awareness associated with sexual assault and interpersonal violence, taking into account their unique perspectives and experiences, providing:

• Key definitions and statistics.

• Reflective and personalized content.
Bystander skills and confidence-building strategies.
Campus-specific policies, procedures and resources.
Rich data summaries to inform future programming.

The Miami University Police foster a safe campus environment by doing the following:

- Providing safety and security patrols as part of regular University police responsibilities.
- Including Sexual Misconduct Protocol information on its website and directly to those who elect to file a police report.
- Accurately maintaining and reporting statistics of Title IX violations as required by the Jeanne Clery Campus Security Act.
- Working with Facilities Management to provide adequate lighting on campus.
- Working with Telecommunications to provide sufficient emergency phones on campus.

D. Medical Treatment and Preservation of Evidence

A person who has experienced sexual misconduct is urged to seek appropriate medical evaluation immediately, ideally within 96 hours (4 full days) of the incident. For life-threatening conditions, call 911 (9-911 from a campus phone) or go to the nearest hospital emergency department. In Oxford, McCullough-Hyde Memorial Hospital has a trained Sexual Assault Nurse Examiner (SANE) who can help. Most area hospitals have a Sexual Assault Nurse Examiner (SANE) that will respond.
Any person who has experienced sexual misconduct is encouraged to request collection of medical/legal evidence. Prompt collection of physical evidence is essential should the person later decide to pursue criminal prosecution and/or a civil action.

Collection of evidence may involve interaction with police and a police report, but the decision to speak with the police about the alleged violation is the person’s.

If the sexual assault occurred within 96 hours (4 full days), a free and confidential exam can be administered at most local hospitals. The sooner the sexual assault is reported, the more likely evidence will still be present. “Date rape” drugs, including rohypnol and GHB, may still be present in the person’s system and should be tested for if the victim/survivor believes they may have been drugged. To help preserve evidence that may assist in proving the alleged violation/offense or in obtaining a protection order, place any soiled clothes in a paper (not plastic) bag and avoid the following:

- Bathing or douching
- Washing hands or face
- Urinating
- Drinking any liquids
- Smoking, eating or brushing teeth (including mouthwash and flossing)

If a person is uncertain about whether or not they want to report what has occurred, they can still have evidence collected. In cases of sexual assault or severe injuries, the police will be called to the hospital. The person can decide whether or not to speak with the police at that time to officially report what has happened.

While evidence may be collected anonymously (i.e., without a name attached to it) and/or when there is no report made to police, these cases are handled differently. A discussion about the merit of collecting evidence “anonymously” and/or when the person does not want to report should be discussed with medical personnel and/or an advocate.

Questions about evidence collection can be directed to Women Helping Women at 513-381-5610 or 877-889-5610 or the Sexual Assault Nurse Examiner (SANE).

SANE of Butler County provides medico-legal examination and treatment of reported sexual assault cases. SANE of Butler County responds to area hospitals, including:

- Fort Hamilton Hospital, 630 Eaton Ave., Hamilton, OH 45013, (513) 867-2000
- McCullough Hyde Memorial Hospital, 110 N. Poplar St., Oxford, OH 45056, (513) 523-2111
