The more comprehensive review results shall be given to the evaluator that is making the decision to retain or not to retain an administrator. When used for such a purpose, the review would include such procedural steps as formation of an ad hoc review committee, with different constituencies represented according to their legitimate interest in the result; consideration of such added data as the administrator's self-assessment and interviews with appropriate administrators, faculty, librarians, and staff; and submission of a report and recommendations, after the subject administrator has had an opportunity to comment on the text, to the appointing administrator. The appointing administrator enacts the recommendations of the review committee, except in extraordinary circumstances and for reasons communicated to the committee with an opportunity for response by the concerned parties prior to a final decision. No decision on retention or non retention should be made without an assessment of the level of confidence in which he or she is held by the faculty. An administrator should neither be retained if found wanting by faculty standards nor arbitrarily dismissed if they meet the accountability standards of the academic community. In no case should a judgment on retention or non retention be made without consultation with all major constituencies. The final report shall be made public together with an account of actions taken as a result of the review.
