Hilary Blair receives master of arts in teaching from Miami University

Jan 30th, 2016 · by Mesa Independent staff report · Comments

Mesa resident Hilary Blair has received a master of arts in teaching degree in the biological sciences from Miami University with coursework through Project Dragonfly and Phoenix Zoo.

Since being accepted to the Advanced Inquiry Program master's degree in 2013, she has explored conservation and education at Phoenix Zoo, while also conducting projects that have made a difference in the Mesa area. Ms. Blair is an experienced guide at Phoenix Zoo.

The AIP, a groundbreaking graduate degree focused on inquiry-driven learning and social change, combines coursework at Phoenix Zoo and seven other U.S. partner institutions with collaborative work in Dragonfly's Web-based learning communities.

Since 2004 Dragonfly and its international partner institutions have engaged more than 1,850 people in firsthand education and conservation research in communities and zoos throughout the country and at critical field sites in Africa, Australia, Asia and the Americas.

Project Dragonfly reaches millions of people each year through inquiry-driven learning media, public exhibits and graduate programs worldwide. Dragonfly is based in the department of biology at Miami University, a state university in Oxford, Ohio. Miami was established in 1809 and is listed as one of the eight original Public Ivies.
