GLOSSARY
Congratulations on making the decision to attend Miami University, the tenth-oldest public university in the nation with a long history of excellence in undergraduate liberal arts education. From its beginning, Miami has emphasized a deep and abiding commitment to our students’ growth and academic success.

In just a few short weeks, you will be joining the more than 4,000 other incoming first-year students to initiate your new life as a Miami student. The academic advising community has prepared this guidebook which gathers in one place essential and useful information for new students. I encourage you to review this guide carefully during and after summer orientation and continue to use it as a reference throughout your first academic year.

The guidebook should answer many of your academic questions, including curricular matters (e.g., “Which courses should I complete by the end of my first year? What requirements do I need to meet for graduation?”) as well as practical matters (e.g., “How do I learn who my advisor will be? Where should I go if I need support to succeed in my classes?”).

This book is meant as a guide in the true sense of that term and not as a substitute for other University publications such as the catalog (called the Miami General Bulletin) or the policy handbook (which is available in an online policy library). It also is intended to supplement, rather than replace, the many conversations we hope you will have with your academic advisor, residence hall director, and other academic support staff-persons with whom you will form a special relationship and about whom you will read more later in these pages.

The Miami community is rich with a wide range of opportunities that will be new to you. Many students are reluctant to admit they do not know something. Taking the initiative to seek counsel is a sign of maturity and a willingness to explore new opportunities—traits that Miamians hold dear. So, I encourage you to seek out your advisor and ask plenty of questions. Through thoughtful questions, careful reflection, and purposeful searching for information, your Miami experience will be more rewarding and meaningful.

I wish you well and hope your transition into our extraordinary community is successful and satisfying.

Sincerely,

Jason Osborne
Provost and Executive Vice President for Academic Affairs
Understand Our Mission & Focus on Academic Learning

Miami University, a student-centered public university founded in 1809, has built its success through an unwavering commitment to liberal arts undergraduate education and the active engagement of its students in both curricular and co-curricular life. It is deeply committed to student success, builds great student and alumni loyalty, and empowers its students, faculty, and staff to become engaged citizens who use their knowledge and skills with integrity and compassion to improve the future of our global society.

Miami provides the opportunities of a major university while offering the personalized attention found in the best small colleges. It values teaching and intense engagement of faculty with students through its teacher-scholar model, by inviting students into the excitement of research and discovery. Miami’s faculty are nationally prominent scholars and artists who contribute to Miami, their own disciplines and to society by the creation of new knowledge and art. The University supports students in a highly involving residential experience on the Oxford campus and provides access to students, including those who are time-and place-bound, on its regional campuses. Miami provides a strong foundation in the traditional liberal arts for all students, and it offers nationally recognized majors in arts and sciences, business, education, engineering, and creative arts, as well as select graduate programs of excellence. As an inclusive community, Miami strives to cultivate an environment where diversity and difference are appreciated and respected.

Miami instills in its students intellectual depth and curiosity, the importance of personal values as a measure of character, and a commitment to lifelong learning. Miami emphasizes critical thinking and independent thought, an appreciation of diverse views, and a sense of responsibility to our global future.

Respect Differences

Respect for human diversity is an essential element of the Miami University community. Miami University strongly opposes and will not tolerate harassment or discrimination on the basis of sex (including sexual harassment, sexual violence, or sexual misconduct, domestic violence, dating violence, or stalking), race, color, religion, national origin, disability, age, sexual orientation, gender identity, pregnancy, military status, or veteran status. This prohibition extends to harassment or discrimination based on the protected status listed above, including the creation of an intimidating, hostile, or offensive working, educational, or living environment. This policy also prohibits discrimination in employment based on genetic information as prohibited by the Genetic Information Nondiscrimination Act of 2008 (GINA).

The University is dedicated to ensuring access and equal opportunity in its education programs, related activities, and employment. Retaliation against an individual who has raised claims of illegal discrimination or cooperated with an investigation of such claims is prohibited.
Abide by the Code of Love & Honor

Want to know what Miamians value? Read and follow Miami’s Code of Love & Honor:

I Am Miami.

I believe... that a liberal education is grounded in qualities of character and intellect.
I stand... for honesty, integrity, and the importance of moral conduct.
I respect... the dignity, rights, and property of others and their right to hold and express disparate beliefs.
I defend... the freedom of inquiry that is the heart of learning.
I exercise... good judgment and believe in personal responsibility.
I welcome... a diversity of people, ideas, and experiences.
I embrace... the spirit, academic rigor, opportunities, and challenges of a Miami Experience, preparing me to make the world a better place.
I demonstrate... Love and Honor by supporting and caring for my fellow Miamians.

And because I Am Miami,

I act... through my words and deeds in ways that reflect these values and beliefs.

With a deep sense of accomplishment and gratitude,

I will... Love, Honor, and make proud those who help me earn the joy and privilege of saying,

“To think that in such a place, I led such a life.”
Students should bring questions or concerns to the attention of the Office of Equity and Equal Opportunity, Hanna House, 513-529-7157 (V/TTY) and 529-7158 (fax). Students with disabilities may contact the Office of Disability Resources, 304 Shriver Center, 529-1541 (V/TTY) and 529-8595 (fax).

Title IX Coordinator: Title IX of the Education Amendments of 1972 is a federal law prohibiting discrimination on the basis of sex in higher education. Sex discrimination includes sexual harassment and sexual violence. The University’s Title IX Coordinator is Ms. Kenya D. Ash, Director of the Office of Equity and Equal Opportunity, Hanna House, Miami University, Oxford, Ohio 45056. Ms. Ash may be reached at 513-529-7157 (V/TTY) or ashkd@MiamiOH.edu.

Deputy Title IX Coordinator for Athletics: Ms. Jennifer A. Gilbert, Associate Athletic Director/Senior Woman Administrator/Director of NCAA Compliance is the University’s Deputy Title IX Coordinator for matters related to equality of treatment and opportunity in Intercollegiate Athletics. This includes athletic financial assistance, accommodation of interest and abilities, and equity of athletic program benefits. Ms. Gilbert may be reached at Millett Assembly Hall, Miami University, Oxford, Ohio 45056, 513-529-3113 or gilberj2@MiamiOH.edu.

Deputy Title IX Coordinator for Students: Ms. Gabrielle Dralle, the Sexual and Interpersonal Violence Response Coordinator, is the University’s Deputy Title IX Coordinator for matters related to student sexual and interpersonal violence. This includes sexual misconduct, sexual violence, and sexual coercion of students. Ms. Dralle also serves as the coordinator for matters relating to student domestic violence, dating violence, and stalking. Ms. Dralle may be reached at 104 Warfield Hall, Miami University, Oxford, Ohio 45056, 513-529-1870 or dralleg@miamioh.edu.

Deputy Title IX Coordinator for Regional Students: Dr. Bennyce Hamilton, Regional Director of Diversity and Multicultural Services, is the University’s Deputy Title IX Coordinator for matters related to regional student sexual violence. This includes sexual misconduct, sexual violence, and sexual coercion of students. Dr. Hamilton also serves as the coordinator for matters relating to regional student domestic violence, dating violence, and stalking. Dr. Hamilton may be reached at 117 Rentschler Hall, 1601 University Boulevard, Hamilton, Ohio 45011 or 144 Johnston Hall, 4200 N. University Blvd, Middletown Ohio 45042, 513-785-3283 or hamiltbe@miamioh.edu.

Sections 504 of the Rehabilitation Act of 1973 and the Americans with Disabilities Act Coordinator: Section 504 and the ADA are federal laws prohibiting discrimination on the basis of disability. The University’s Section 504 and ADA Coordinator is Ms. Kenya Ash, Director of the Office of Equity and Equal Opportunity, Hanna House, Miami University, Oxford, Ohio 45056. Ms. Ash may be reached at 513-529-7157 (V/TTY) or ashkd@MiamiOH.edu.

For more information, see the Policy Prohibiting Harassment and Discrimination and the Title IX Protocol.

Promote a Healthy Environment

All Miami University campuses are designated as smoke- and tobacco-free environments. Smoking and tobacco use are prohibited in all Miami University-owned facilities and on the grounds of any University-owned property, including street parking and garages controlled by the University (including inside personal vehicles parked on University property), and sidewalks that adjoin University property.
ADVISING AT MIAMI

Your Academic Advisor

The goal of academic advising at Miami University is to assist students in steadily gaining ownership over the whole college experience. Through the art of dialogue, advisors teach students to value the learning process, apply decision-making strategies, put the college experience into perspective, set priorities and evaluate events, develop thinking and learning skills, gain personal and intellectual maturity, and make informed choices.

At orientation, an academic advisor with general knowledge of the University curriculum will be available to answer questions about your academic program, course selections, and career opportunities in your major.

In August, you will be assigned an academic advisor who has expertise in your identified major. If you are undecided and then choose a major, you will be assigned an advisor in your new department.

YOUR ACADEMIC ADVISOR IS YOUR BEST RESOURCE TO HELP YOU PLAN YOUR ACADEMIC SCHEDULE, TO OFFER GUIDANCE ON ACADEMIC SUCCESS, AND TO ENSURE THAT YOU GRADUATE IN A TIMELY MANNER.
Who is My Advisor?

To find your academic advisor’s name and contact information, wait until after the fall semester begins, and then take the following steps:

1. Log in to myMiami, accessible via the main Miami website.
2. Click on the “Student” tab located near the top of the screen.
3. Your advisor and contact information will be listed in the top right corner.

You may send your advisor an email to request an appointment.

What’s the Best Time to Meet with Your Advisor?

All first-year students should meet with their academic advisor between September and early November in the fall semester to plan for their winter term and spring semester and between mid-February and late March in the spring semester to plan for the following summer and fall semester.

Follow these guidelines to make the most of your advising relationship and to better ensure your academic success at Miami:

• Contact your advisor each semester during the windows of time noted above to arrange an appointment.
• Send the advisor a polite email that introduces yourself, asks for an advising appointment, and suggests multiple times when you are available to meet. If you don’t hear back after two days, leave the advisor a phone message.
• Meet with your advisor if you are experiencing difficulties, need clarification on academic requirements or policies, are considering a new or different major, or are preparing for graduation.
• Come to your advising session with a list of questions that you have.

Questions to answer:

What has been the most rewarding aspect of college so far?

What has been the biggest challenge of college so far?

Approximately how much time are you studying each week?

What are some of the short-term goals you have (for this and next semester)? List at least three.
What are some long-term goals you have (goals to accomplish before you graduate or after you graduate)?

Which people or what resources/offices can help you achieve some of your long- and short-term goals?

Carefully read your Degree Audit and determine which requirements you might like to take next semester. Look up those courses in the General Bulletin, and read the descriptions. Find and read the section in the General Bulletin about your major (if you have identified one). Use all this information to think about which courses you need to take and would like to take next semester. List some of those courses below.

What questions do you have for your academic advisor?
Once you have completed this worksheet, print out a copy of it and print out your Degree Audit Report. Take both to your advising session with your academic advisor.

Miami University offers multiple types of baccalaureate degrees, including Bachelor of Arts, Bachelor of Science, Bachelor of Integrative Studies, Bachelor of Fine Arts, and Bachelor of Music. It also offers several associate degrees, such as Associate in Arts, Associate of Applied Business, and Associate of Technical Study.
Global Miami Plan

Miami University was founded on the belief that a liberal education provides the best possible framework for life in a changing world. At Miami, liberal education complements specialized studies in the major. It is designed to help students understand and creatively transform human culture and society by giving students the broad knowledge and critical lifelong tools to ask questions, examine assumptions, exchange views with others, and become better global citizens.

The signature feature of the revised Global Miami Plan is its emphasis on critical thinking and written communication, which are embedded in all components of the plan. The Global Miami Plan also advances other learning objectives or competencies such as: civic knowledge & engagement, creative thinking, ethical reasoning, global learning, intercultural knowledge & competence, integrative learning, information literacy, inquiry & analysis, lifelong learning, oral communication, problem solving, teamwork, and quantitative literacy.

All students must complete liberal education requirements as well as courses in the major. The Global Miami Plan has six parts: Foundation Courses, a Thematic Sequence, Advanced Writing, Intercultural Perspectives, Experiential Learning, and a Capstone.

The Foundation (MPF) requirement is met by taking a minimum of 27 semester hours of Foundation courses across five specific areas:

I. English Composition (3 credit hours)
II. Creative Arts, Humanities, Social Science (9 credit hours)
   A. Creative Arts (3 credit hours)
   B. Humanities (3 credit hours)
   C. Social Science (3 credit hours)
III. Global Perspectives (6 credit hours)
   A. Study Abroad (6 credit hours fulfills requirement), or
   B. Global Courses (6 credit hours)
IV. Natural Science (6 credit hours, must include one laboratory course)
   A. Biological Science (3 credit hours minimum)
   B. Physical Science (3 credit hours minimum)
V. Mathematics, Formal Reasoning, Technology (3 credit hours)

The Thematic Sequence (MPT) requirement is met by completing related courses (at least nine credit hours) in an approved Thematic Sequence outside the student’s department of major. This requirement can also be fulfilled by a second major or a minor outside the student’s department of major.

The Advanced Writing requirement is fulfilled by completing three hours in an approved advanced writing course or set of courses. These courses are typically at the 200-300 level and focus on writing instruction.

The Experiential Learning requirement carries no specific credit hour minimum and can be fulfilled by coursework, service learning, independent study, internships, student teaching, or courses involving significant performance or portfolio projects.

The Intercultural Perspectives requirement is fulfilled by completing three credit hours in an approved Intercultural Perspectives course.

The Capstone course (MPC) requirement is met by completing a minimum of three credit hours in an approved Capstone course during a student’s senior year.
Divisional Requirements

Miami University has six different academic divisions. Five of them are located on the Oxford campus:

- College of Arts & Science
- College of Creative Arts
- College of Education, Health & Society
- College of Engineering & Computing
- Farmer School of Business
- College of Liberal Arts and Applied Science (located on the regional campuses)

The College of Arts & Science and the Farmer School of Business have additional course requirements for students who pursue majors in their division. For more information, see the sections on these two divisions in this guidebook.

Major Requirements

A major is a cohesive combination of courses including introductory, intermediate, and advanced coursework that designates a student’s primary area of undergraduate study. Majors may include required or optional concentrations. A major typically carries a minimum of 36 credit hours. Majors are designated on University transcripts at the time the degree is awarded.

You do not necessarily need to choose a major when you begin at Miami. If you are undecided about your major, you can either choose a division in which you believe you will end up selecting a major (e.g., College of Education, Health and Society, College of Engineering & Computing); or if you are not certain about an academic division, you can be generally undecided, in which case you will be in the University Studies Program in the College of Arts & Science. As such, you will receive guidance from faculty and professional advisors in selecting courses and ultimately in determining your major.

In many cases, if you use your first year to take courses that fulfill a part of the Global Miami Plan and explore areas of interest, you can still complete a major with no delay. Note, however, that some majors require four successive years and so should be started in the first semester. Your academic advisor can assist you with your academic plan.

To declare a major after taking classes for a semester or more, visit the department of the major where the major declaration process starts. Your new program information will be submitted by the department and should show on your academic records.
Co-Major and Minor Requirements

Co-majors are designed to provide a complementary perspective to a student's primary major and require at least 30 credits. Students receive the degree designation of their primary major with the co-major listed on the transcript. A co-major is usually declared after declaring one's primary major in one of Miami’s academic divisions. Completion of many co-majors satisfies the Global Miami Plan thematic sequence requirement.

A minor is a second field of study taken along with a major and is designed to widen your primary area of interest or increase your career opportunities. Completing a minor is optional. Most minors require fewer hours than majors—all require at least 18 credit hours in a specified program. Minors may be offered within one department or across several departments.

Minors are offered in many fields of study. A list of minors is in the "Understanding the Undergraduate Curriculum" chapter; requirements for each minor are included in each division's chapter.

To earn a minor, these are the minimum requirements (some minors require more):

- Notify the minor advisor that you want to enroll in the minor, and have the minor added to your academic record. Some minors have entry restrictions or requirements.
- You must have a 2.00 grade point average (GPA) across all coursework in a minor. Some minor programs may require a higher GPA.
- All courses taken for the minor must be for a grade, not for credit/no-credit, unless exceptions are stated.
- A minor can only be awarded with a bachelor's degree.

You may have more than one minor. All minors you complete are noted on your academic record. Courses used to satisfy the requirements for one minor may also be used to satisfy the requirements for another minor or major. Not all major programs allow students to record certain minors, and some minors are open only to certain majors. Check with your advisor for more information.

Students may use a minor to meet the Global Miami Plan Thematic Sequence requirement if the minor has nine hours outside the department of major and six of those nine hours are at the 200 level or above. See the Global Miami Plan section in the "Understanding the Undergraduate Curriculum" chapter for more information.

Electives

Elective courses are taken beyond the major, divisional, and Global Miami Plan requirements to complete the credit hours necessary for a degree. The number of electives varies by program. Electives are an excellent way for you to try out a possible major or minor, explore a side interest or hobby, or step out of your typical comfort zone to learn something new!

Other University Requirements

- Completion of 124 total semester credit hours
- At least 30 of the semester hours must be from Miami University (any campus), including 12 of the final 30 hours
- At least a 2.00 cumulative GPA
Living Learning Community Courses

A Living Learning Community (LLC) is a group of students who live together on a corridor or in a residence hall that is closely tied to an academic major, university program or initiative. Through partnerships with a variety of departments, faculty, and staff, students will have access to activities that tie directly into the theme of their LLC. In an LLC, students will be co-enrolled into one or more classes, which further support student’s transition and academic success at Miami University. Programming will be closely aligned with the community theme that often include faculty and staff partners, to assist in community building, academic success, cultural competency and intrapersonal development.

The table below lists each LLC and any associated courses for that community. If you have questions about your LLC and/or LLC courses, please contact the Office of Residence life at 513-529-4000 or residencelife@MiamiOH.edu. A Residence Life staff member will be present at summer orientation to address these questions during advising and registration.

| Humanities in Action: Migrations | The Humanities in Action Living Learning Community brings together students who want to connect their passion for art, culture, literature, and music to the most important issues in our contemporary world. In 2020-2021, we will explore the theme, “Migrations.” Activities and programming will be connected to Miami's renowned Humanities Center, which will organize lectures, performances, and other events that examine how human migration has inscribed the map of the world with rich diasporic traditions and cultural intermixtures. First-year students in the University Academic Scholars Program in the Humanities are encouraged to live in the Humanities in Action LLC. Possible Programs include:
  • Visits to cultural events and performances connected to the Miami University Humanities Center's program on “Migrations”
  • Tour of the Miami University Art Museum
  • Access to research and professional development opportunities for students interested in the humanities. | Required course: ENG 225H or ART 276 |

myMiami Portal

myMiami, which is available via the Miami University website home page, gives you access to a variety of information, resources, and services, such as:

- Web access to your Miami email
- Miami announcements and news headlines
- Information about university activities and offices
- Link to Canvas, which is the course management system (where many of your course syllabi and information will live)
- Link to the Hub, which is a directory of the student organizations and clubs
- Access to many Miami web services, including BannerWeb, which is where you can find your degree audit, course registration system, and transcript

This portal includes role-based tabs and a My Tab page you can customize with only the information you want to see.

Reminder: Be sure to provide your local contact information and the name of a family member or another significant person and their contact information. You also need to provide contact information for a person who can be readily contacted in case of a crisis or emergency. You can do this via the BannerWeb icon by clicking on Personal Information. Failing to do this could delay your ability to register for courses.

One Stop

The One Stop is a virtual and physical space that provides essential information relating to registration, financial aid, student records, billing and payment, veterans’ affairs, and residency. From this site, you can order transcripts, make a payment, see key deadlines, view your progress in completing degree requirements (through the degree audit), and more. Visit the website at http://MiamiOH.edu/onestop/ or head to Campus Avenue Building, room 100; Hamilton Campus Mosler Hall, room 102; or Middletown Campus Johnston Hall, room 114.
PREPARING FOR REGISTRATION

Semester Course Load

• You should aim to complete your degree by the end of the 2024 spring semester. Most students take credits during the fall and spring semesters, but you are also able to enroll in summer and winter terms.

• To meet the minimum graduation requirement of 124 credit hours in eight semesters, you should average 15-16 credit hours per semester and/or take summer and winter courses. We recommend that you take 15-18 credits each semester during your first year.

• Failure to enroll in at least 12 credit hours in the fall or spring semester (which is the minimum needed to be a full-time student) could have negative consequences for academic eligibility, future registration, insurance, and financial aid.

• The maximum credit-hour limit for an undergraduate student is based upon courses taken at all locations of Miami University and is limited to 20 credit hours in a semester. The limit for summer term is 16 credit hours, and the limit for winter term is 6 credit hours. A student who needs to exceed the maximum credit-hour limits must obtain permission from the dean of their academic division.
Adjusting Your Schedule

ADDING COURSES

Students may add, without a signature of acknowledgment from the instructor, courses that have open seats during the first three calendar days of all four terms or the first two calendar days of any sprint part of term. Adding during this period can be done online (see One Stop website for more information). Following this period, the instructor may approve a student to add a full semester course through the close of business on the fifth day of the semester/term (including weekends/holidays). An instructor may also refuse to accept a student after this period if, in their judgment, too much subject matter has already been covered. Departments may choose to approve the student action in addition to or in place of the course instructor.

DROPPING OR WITHDRAWING FROM COURSES

Dropping a course/withdrawing from a course is a formal administrative procedure; merely ceasing to attend class is not the same as dropping a course. Before dropping a course, a student should consult with their instructor and academic advisor. Students should refer to the Academic Calendar on the One Stop website (MiamiOH.edu/OneStop) for specific academic deadline dates.

A student may drop a course during the first 20 percent of the course, in which case no grade or other designation will appear on the student's official record. Here are the fall semester deadlines for dropping a course without a grade:

<table>
<thead>
<tr>
<th>FULL SEMESTER COURSE</th>
<th>SPRINT Q COURSE (LAST 12 WEEKS)</th>
<th>SPRINT T COURSE (FIRST 6 WEEKS)</th>
<th>SPRINT U COURSE (LAST 6 WEEKS)</th>
<th>SPRINT V COURSE (FIRST 8 WEEKS)</th>
<th>SPRINT W COURSE (LAST 8 WEEKS)</th>
</tr>
</thead>
<tbody>
<tr>
<td>Friday, September 11</td>
<td>Wednesday, September 23</td>
<td>Tuesday, September 8</td>
<td>Wednesday, October 28</td>
<td>Thursday, September 10</td>
<td>Monday, October 19</td>
</tr>
</tbody>
</table>

A student may withdraw from a course after the first 20 percent of the course and, ordinarily, before the end of 60 percent of the course. A grade of W will appear on the student’s official record; a W is not calculated in the student’s grade point average. Refer to the One Stop website (MiamiOH.edu/OneStop) for refund policy information as well as the academic calendar with specific academic deadline dates.

Changing Sections of the Same Course

There may be more than one section of the same course taught in a semester or term. The section number identifies the instructor, time, and location of the course. To change sections online, you must drop the section in which you are currently enrolled, and then add the new section.

Note: Because many students may be competing for available space in the same course, there is a significant risk that you will lose your place in the course altogether.
Course Information

CAMPUS LOCATION

It is important to register for courses which are offered on your campus! On the course list which is accessible via myMiami (see “Course List” in the Web Page Index), note the courses that are available on your campus.

RESTRICTIONS: WAITLISTING AND HOLDS

Some courses are restricted or have reserved seats to assure equity in scheduling for students who are required to take the course. All restrictions are based only on a student’s primary or secondary major of their primary degree. Restrictions remain on courses unless the academic department removes them. Even though courses appear to be open, many have restricted seats based on academic division, major/minor, level, degree, campus, etc. In some cases, it is possible to be waitlisted via the registration process in case a seat becomes available.

A variety of holds may be placed on your record that will restrict registration. To view holds on your record, log on to myMiami. Hold alerts and instructions for clearing the hold will appear at the top of the page after you log on.

PRE-REQUISITE & CO-REQUISITE REGISTRATION COURSES

Pre-requisites are approximations of the necessary specific or general academic knowledge, background, or semester classification required to succeed academically in a specific course. To enroll in some courses, you may need to have completed the pre-requisite course or courses which will be listed in the course description in this guidebook or in the General Bulletin.

Co-requisite courses indicate the courses required to be taken simultaneously. Some science courses have a required laboratory which must be taken as a co-requisite or at the same time as the given course. These courses are also indicated in the course description.

CROSS-LISTED COURSES

A cross-listed course is the same course catalogued under two or more subject codes (prefixes). Cross-listing of courses can provide students the opportunity to engage in interdisciplinary learning. Students may only earn credit for the same course under one subject code. If the course is repeatable for credit, students may only retake the course under the same subject code as the previous attempt. Students may sign up under any subject code of a cross-listed course (except if it is being repeated for credit), but they may be advised according to academic program requirements (where applicable).
Registration Instructions (After Summer Orientation)

You will register for the first time at summer orientation. After that, here are the steps you may use:

1. Log on to myMiami and click the link to BannerWeb.
2. Select “Student Services and Financial Aid”
3. Select “Registration”
4. Select “Check your Registration Status and Your Registration Dates and Times” to view your registration time as well as any registration holds that may be on your record. Any and all holds that restrict your registration will be listed here along with contact information for the appropriate office. You must clear your holds before registration will be permitted.
5. Select “Registration/Change of Schedule” to begin the registration process, or select “Look Up Courses to Add” to view a list of courses.

Please note:

- Oxford students are encouraged to register for 15-16 credit hours and are limited to scheduling no more than 17 credit hours during their registration date/time window (students in the College of Engineering and Computing have an 18 credit hour limit). During the open registration period, you may register for additional hours up to a maximum of 20 credit hours.

- Regional students are encouraged to register for 15-16 credit hours and are limited to scheduling no more than 20 credit hours during their registration date/time window.

- Be aware the you might receive an email notifying you of a "waitlisted seat now open". Students receiving this email have 24 hours to add the course before the opportunity will be given to the next student on the list.
Placement Guides

The following information is meant to provide information on courses that are part of a sequence. These guides are to help you determine where you should begin the sequence.

If you find you have chosen a course that is too difficult, you can drop it (before the deadline to drop, listed in the academic calendar at MiamiOH.edu/OneStop) and begin with an easier course in a later semester.
FOREIGN LANGUAGE

Placement is based on: (1) high school preparation, where one year of high school typically equates to one semester of college content, and (2) Miami University placement testing results or placement advising. Online placement tests are available for: French, German, Latin, Russian, and Spanish. Placement advice guides are available for: Arabic, Chinese (Mandarin), Italian, Japanese, Korean, and Portuguese. More information about these can be found via the Interactive Language Resource Center. Students interested in continuing their study of American Sign Language should communicate with the department of Speech Pathology & Audiology at spa@MiamiOH.edu for placement information.

If you are continuing with the same foreign language you studied in high school, and a Miami University placement exam exists, then you are required to take the exam before you register for courses in that language. Please plan ahead and allow yourself ample time to take the placement test seriously.

Things to note:
• Academic credit is NOT awarded for placement tests
• You must register for the course that matches your placement test results
• Earned credit in a language course takes precedence over a placement test score. For example, if you have transfer credit for Spanish 102, you would continue on to Spanish 201, even if your placement score is higher or lower than Spanish 201.
• After starting a language sequence, you cannot skip a course in the sequence leading to 202.

The regional campuses follow Oxford placement rules and also offer other standardized placement tests, such as Accuplacer.

The Accuplacer test is available to Regional students who do not have ACT or SAT scores.

The Miami Placement Test is only available to Oxford students who do not have an ACT or SAT score.

A score of 3 on the AP Calculus AB will confer credit for MTH 151. However, if you intend to eventually take Calculus II, the department recommends retaking MTH 151.

ADVANCED PLACEMENT PROGRAM (AP)

If you obtained an Advanced Placement (AP) exam score of 3 or higher, you will be awarded credit in the field (subject area) of the AP exam taken. The table below summarizes the credit earned for particular scores on AP exams.

Did you take college courses (through College Credit Plus, dual enrollment, or post-secondary) while in high school or as a transfer student? Evaluations of undergraduate credit are done by the Office of the University Registrar in the One Stop (Campus Avenue Building). Regional Campus students may submit their transcripts to the Regional One Stop (Hamilton Mosler Hall or Middletown Johnston Hall). Check online at www.transferology.com to see how specific course work will transfer to Miami.

Most college-level courses taken from regionally accredited institutions are transferable to Miami University if a passing grade was earned. All transferred credit is posted to your Miami record without grade, and grades earned elsewhere are disregarded in the computation of point averages.

If you attended an institution in regional accreditation candidacy status, you must validate your previous course work by earning 30 semester hours at Miami with at least a 2.00 cumulative grade point average.

If your previous institution was within the state of Ohio, there is a statewide policy to facilitate the transfer of credits throughout the state’s public higher education system. The policy creates a transfer module, which is a specific set of general education requirements. If you successfully complete the module at one college or university, you will have fulfilled the module at the school to which you transfer. You will, however, be required to complete any additional general education requirements that are not included in the transfer module. The policy also identifies Transfer Assurance Guide (TAG), Career Technical Assurance Guide (CTAG) and Military Transfer Assurance Guide (MTAG) courses which guarantee that the courses and their credits will transfer and apply toward the major at any of Ohio's public institutions of higher education.

If you believe that some of your transfer coursework may satisfy Miami requirements but the course does not correspond to a specific course, here are the steps to follow:

Global Miami Plan: you may petition the liberal education committee if you think a course(s) fulfills the spirit of a Global Miami Plan requirement. The petition process is explained at http://www.MiamiOH.edu/liberal-ed/.

English Composition: if this requirement was waived at another school, our English department will determine how you will complete the Global Miami Plan Foundation I course requirement. The department will notify the Registrar and the liberal education committee of its decision. No petition to the committee is required.

Requirements in your major/minor: each department will determine if transfer credit that is not a pre-approved TAG course will fulfill a requirement. Make an appointment with the Chief Departmental Advisor and take your course syllabus and the catalog description of the course with you to the appointment.

Choosing Between Different Levels of Courses

Familiarize yourself with Miami’s course numbering system below.

- We recommend that first-year students register for introductory level and Foundation courses (100-299).
- Transfer students should consider prerequisites and have prior knowledge of the subject before enrolling in higher level courses.

Differences Between High School and College Courses

<table>
<thead>
<tr>
<th>High School</th>
<th>College</th>
</tr>
</thead>
<tbody>
<tr>
<td>You can count on your parents and teachers to remind you of your responsibilities and to guide you in setting priorities.</td>
<td>You must balance your own responsibilities, set priorities, and face the consequences of your decisions.</td>
<tr>
<td>You don't need to be responsible for knowing what it takes to graduate.</td>
<td>Graduation requirements are complex and can differ from year to year. You are expected to know those that apply to you.</td>
</tr>
<tr>
<td>Classes generally have no more than 35 students in them.</td>
<td>Classes may sometimes number 100 students or more.</td>
</tr>
<tr>
<td>You may not need to read anything more than once, and sometimes listening in class is enough to perform well.</td>
<td>You need to review class notes and text material regularly.</td>
</tr>
<tr>
<td>You are expected to read short assignments that are then discussed, and often re-taught, in class.</td>
<td>You may be assigned substantial amounts of reading and writing which may not be directly addressed in class.</td>
</tr>
<tr>
<td>You may study outside of class as little as 0 to 2 hours a week, and this may be mostly last-minute test preparation.</td>
<td>You need to study at least 2 to 3 hours outside of class for each hour in class.</td>
</tr>
<tr>
<td>Teachers remind you of incomplete work and let you know what you missed if you are absent.</td>
<td>Professors may not remind you of incomplete work. If you are absent from class, you will need to approach another student in the class or consult the syllabus for any material you missed.</td>
</tr>
<tr>
<td>Teachers approach you if they believe you are falling behind or need assistance.</td>
<td>Professors are usually open and helpful, but most will expect you to initiate contact if you need assistance.</td>
</tr>
<tr>
<td>Teachers present material to help you understand the material in the textbook and prepare for examinations.</td>
<td>Professors are interested in you understanding the topics and concepts of the discipline, but they may not follow the textbook. Instead, they may supplement the textbook by offering illustrations, background information, or related research. Or they may expect you to relate ideas presented in class to what you read in the textbook.</td>
</tr>
<tr>
<td>Teachers often take time to remind you of due dates of upcoming assignments.</td>
<td>Professors expect you to consult the syllabus.</td>
</tr>
<tr>
<td>Teacher may take roll for class attendance.</td>
<td>Professors may not always take attendance, but they are still likely to know if you are not there.</td>
</tr>
<tr>
<td>Testing is frequent and covers small amounts of material.</td>
<td>Testing is usually infrequent and may be cumulative, covering large amounts of material. You, not the professor, need to organize material to prepare for the test.</td>
</tr>
<tr>
<td>Makeup tests or extra credit are often available.</td>
<td>Makeup tests and extra credit are seldom an option.</td>
</tr>
<tr>
<td>Grades are given for most assigned work, and consistently good homework grades or attendance may raise your overall grade when test grades are low.</td>
<td>Grades may not be provided for all assigned work, and grades on major papers and tests usually provide most of the grades.</td>
</tr>

First-Year Success Courses

To help you transition smoothly into life at Miami and better ensure your academic success, we recommend enrolling in one of the courses below which are designed for first-year students.

Important to Note:

- Because these courses have similar goals, we recommend enrolling in only one of these courses.
- Be sure to enroll in a section offered on your campus.

Intercultural Perspectives Courses

Intercultural Perspectives courses prepare students for effective citizenship in a diverse multicultural society in the U.S. or beyond. In these courses, students will recognize new perspectives about their own cultural rules and biases. Some first-year students who have high numbers of Advanced Placement or college credit may decide to enroll in one of these courses. Full descriptions of the courses can be found on the Office of Liberal Education website.

Course Descriptions

AAA 201. Introduction to Asian/Asian American Studies. (3) Since the mid-nineteenth century, Americans have viewed Asia as alien, mysterious, alluring, repressed and have alternately been compelled by and frightened by what they have regarded as incommensurable cultural differences between the United States and Asia. In addressing this, we will focus on the following themes: colonialism and nationalism, national and ethnic identities, emigration and immigration, and popular culture and mass media, as a way to put in perspective, if not dispel, prevailing stereotypes of Asian and Asian America and gain a more complex and nuanced understanding of the complex and rich geo-political, cultural and historical terrain of Asia/Asian America. This course is designed to provide a general introduction to the related disciplines of Asian Studies, and Asian American Studies and to familiarize students with some of the major debates, points of connection and contention. We will consider how "Asia" and "Asian America" are defined, geopolitically and strategically to allow us to develop a critical view about Asian and Asian American studies in a transnational frame. Through an examination of fiction, film and sociological works, students will acquire a better understanding about what is being researched in this field.

AAA/REL 203. Religions of India. (3) Explores the major religions of India and their growth outside India. Asks how these religions have contributed to the religious pluralism of America. Also asks how Asian American and non-Asian American practitioners of these religions have changed the way that religion is practiced in India and other parts of Asia.

AAA 207. Asia and Globalization. (3) The Asian-Pacific region is one of the most dynamic, complex, and challenging focal points of world today. In the past half century, many countries in Asia have undergone significant political, economic, social, and cultural changes, which are tightly intertwined with the concepts and tenets of globalization. With countries such as China and India on the rise, and global superpowers such as Russia and Japan encountering their own modern challenges, the Asian continent has been facing a transformation that is at once a response to globalization and itself a powerful force influencing global community. Accordingly, the course highlights cross-cultural values through a comparative lens of Asia and globalization, and aims to study recent transformations in Asia and their impact on its own future and the world. The study will be framed both in the Asian internal context and in the external context of globalization. The course specifically focuses on, though is not limited to, how external global influence and the internal cultures of major Asian countries interact with each other in ways that uniquely mark and inform the economic, social, religious, educational, and cultural transformations in Asia.

AAA/BWS/PSY 210. Psychology Across Cultures. (3) A topics course, focused on the examination of culture and cultural perspectives, within the United States and globally, as frameworks through which theories and findings of the field of psychology may be critically evaluated. Prerequisite: PSY 111.

AAA/ENG 269. Colonial & Postcolonial Literature. (3) Introduction to postcolonial literature and theories of colonial and postcolonial identity.

AAA/ENG/WGS 351. Cultural Politics of Gender and Sexuality in Asian/America. (3) Intensive interdisciplinary study of imaginative representations of the encounters between "Asia" and "America," broadly conceived, particularly the entangled relations among their diverse constituencies in the contexts of colonialism and globalization. Key topics include feminist critique of gendered violence and human rights issues; Euro-American militarism and sex tourism; the emergence of new categories of sex, gender, and kinship as lived experiences mediated by transnational consumer culture and institutional structures; masculinity and Asian diasporic nationalisms; pan-Asian movements against racism, colonialism, and neoliberalism both in Asia and the U.S.; and the emergence of new critical, artistic and aesthetic practices.

AAA 410. Asian/Asian American Studies. (3) In-depth examination of political-economic relations, historical and sociocultural formations, ethno-linguistic, rhetorical, and religious practices, and literary and artistic representations.
AMS 205. Introduction to American Cultures. (3) This course explores what it means to be “American.” As an introduction to the interdisciplinary study of American cultures and identities, past and present, it examines key ideas, events, texts, images, objects, places, and other reflections of American cultures and identities. Students will consider how the meaning and significance of America and American identity has been defined, discussed and debated from multiple perspectives.

AMS 207. America: Global and Intercultural Perspectives. (3) Explores the local dimensions of globalization by focusing on how global networks and practices affect life and culture in the United States. Students examine the theoretical and practical questions associated with membership in local communities, in the US as a nation-state, and in the global community at large.

AMS/FST/ITL 222. Italian American Culture. (3) Survey and investigation of the history of Italian immigration in America, the development of Italian American communities across the land, and the contributions that Italian Americans have made to American society and culture. Taught in English.

AMS/REL 241. Religions of the American Peoples. (3) American religious pluralism and the experience of minority peoples such as Roman Catholics, Jews, and Eastern Orthodox. Emphasis on historical, social, and cultural themes. Readings in fiction and autobiographical writings.

AMS/AAA/ENG 248. Asian American Literature. (3) Survey of Asian American writing (including the novel, poetry, drama, nonfiction, etc.) from the early 20th century to the present. Addresses immigration experiences, growing up in America, and writing as cultural expression. Course uses an interdisciplinary approach to the study of literature, drawing on history, sociology, ethnic studies, and current trends in American literature studies.

AMS 301. American Identities. (3) Focusing on a specific theme, topic or issue, the course explores social and cultural identity, intercultural exchange, and public culture in the United States. The course connects theory and practice through collaborative and interactive research and learning in American Studies. Approaches include service learning, field research, experiential learning or applied research. Prerequisite: AMS 205.

AMS 302. Immigrant America. (3) Examination of US immigration and emigration in historical and contemporary perspective. Using a transnational lens, the course explores a range of topics related to American culture, identity, politics, and history in the context of the growing global interconnectedness. Recommended prerequisite: AMS 205.

AMS 305. American Icons. (3) American Icons are objects, images, and symbols of identification, which represent the United States and are associated with the idea of America both at home and in the global world. The significance of American icons derives not solely from their own internal qualities, but often from the qualities and ambitions that they have come to represent for others. Through a critical examination of their creation, dissemination, and legacies, this course explores the variety of meanings that these figures and symbols have come to represent. Central themes include the relevance of the past for the present, varieties of cultural representation, the impact that different forms of representation have on their content, and the coherence of American culture.

AMS/REL 342. Religious Pluralism in Modern America. (4) Historical and cultural analysis of religious communities of the US of primarily non-European origin. Includes African American, Native American, Latino, Middle Eastern and Asian traditions, including Islam.

AMS/HST/WGS 382. Women in American History. (3) Survey of the history of women’s lives and roles in American society from the colonial period to present. Emphasis on examining women’s individual and collective roles in private and public spheres and on exploring how specific economic and political transformations have affected women's lives.

AMS/HST/WGS 392. Sex & Gender in American Culture. (3) Examination of change over time in the construction of sexual norms, attitudes, and behaviors in American culture, as well as of gender roles. Covers the period just prior to the Indian-European encounter to the present.

ARC 107. Global Design. (3) Introduces the role and influence of design on people and environments within a contemporary global context. Open to students in all majors.

ARC 188. Ideas in Architecture. (3) Study of the relationship between architecture and the cultural, social, and environmental contexts in which it exists through selected historical and contemporary examples. Primarily intended for non-majors; does not meet departmental requirements.

ARC 212. Principles of Environmental Systems. (3) Understanding of the basic principles that inform the design of environmental and structural systems and their integration into building design. Corequisite: ARC 211 and ARC 201 or 203; co-requisite and prerequisite waived for non-majors.

ARC 221, 222. History of Architecture I, II. (3, 3) Thorough and systematic survey of the history of architecture, urban design, and allied arts across global contexts. Non-majors welcome.

ARC 427. The American City Since 1940. (3) Examination of the American city and its physical transformation since 1940. Studies how different experiences of the city are conditioned by issues of class, race, gender, culture.

ART 162. Arts of Africa, Oceania and Native America. (3) This course is a survey of the visual and performed arts of Africa, Oceania and Native America. These regions and their arts, often relegated to the constructed category of "non-Western," will be considered from their religious, political, historical and cultural contexts. The course also explores the Western bias inherent in the study of "non-Western" art, providing students with a broader understanding to the ways in which cultures from around the world produce, employ and conceptualize what the West has conventionally label as "art." In examining sculpture, multi-media installation, festivals, masquerade, textiles, dress, ritual spaces, international artists and many more, students are exposed to alternative ways of looking at and understanding visual and performed expression.

ART 181. Concepts in Art. (3) Introduction to visual and thematic concepts as applied to art in various cultures and historical periods. Offered only on the regional campuses.

ART/AMS 183. Images of America. (3) Investigating the power and influence of visual art imagery, either about, targeted to, or made by diverse segments of historic and contemporary American society and how this imagery has helped or hindered our coming together as a diverse nation. Explores the use of art stereotypes as a basis for evaluation, how visual components help define culture, the decoding of cultural codes and how the idea of taste and aesthetics influences the way we see ourselves and others. Offered only on the Middletown campus.

ART 187. History of Western Art: Prehistoric-Gothic. (3) Historical survey of Western art, including development of concepts necessary for analysis and appreciation of great works of art.

ART 188. History of Western Art: Renaissance-Modern. (3) Historical survey of Western art, including development of concepts necessary for analysis and appreciation of great works of art.

ART 189. History of Western Dress. (3) Provides an overview of Western dress from ancient times to the present. Emphasis on the social and cultural factors that have influenced the evolution of dress for both men and women.

ART 195. Introduction to Art Education (3) Thematic approaches to art education will be discussed and applied through personal artmaking, lesson planning, and experiences in community and school settings. Field experience hours required. Can be taken with ART 295 or ART 296.

ART 233. Global Perspectives on Dress. (3) This course is designed to provide the student with an overview of the ART 286. History of Asian Art: China, Korea, and Japan. (3) Introduction to major artistic traditions of China, Korea, and Japan. Emphasis placed on understanding the cultural foundations of Bronze Age art in East Asia, the impact of Buddhism in the region, and later painting and ceramic traditions.

ART 256. Design, Perception, and Audience. (3) An introduction to perception and audience issues for the artist/designer and those interested in art/design, to learn how audiences perceive, receive and react to visual messages. Universal design principles, usability, learning theory, communication theory and semiotics are discussed.

ART/BWS 276. Introduction to the Art of the Black Diaspora. (3) Introduces visual arts produced by black artists in Africa, the U.S., and the Black Diaspora. Examines seminal creative ideas, philosophies, and movements and focuses on the work of key artists in analyzing the contextual significance of art in society.

ART 283. Modern America. (3) A chronological survey of 20th-century American art and visual culture that examines how modern artists challenged traditions of making art and the structure of the art world and addressed issues of gender, race, and class. Explores works of art and visual representation that shaped and reflected culture through the lenses of patriotism, politics, and progress.

ART 286. History of Asian Art: China, Korea, and Japan. (3) Introduction to major artistic traditions of China, Korea, and Japan. Emphasis placed on understanding the cultural foundations of Bronze Age art in East Asia, the impact of Buddhism in the region, and later painting and ceramic traditions.

ART/BWS 335. Arts of West Africa. (3) Examines the visual and performed expressions of West Africa, spanning from centuries-old archaeological sculpture to contemporary art and artists working today. Due to Africa’s long and layered history with neighboring regions and global interactions, it also addresses connections to North Africa, the trans-Saharan trade network, the trans-Atlantic slave trade, Diaspora cultures and international artists who identify with West Africa. West Africa is well known for its rich artistic culture: wooden sculpture, masquerades, ritual, elaborate textiles, dress, ceramics, architecture, metalwork, multi-media installation, beadwork, festivals and many more. Explores these artistic genres, learning about the role of art in the lives of the people who make and use it.

ASO 201 Introduction to Applied Social Research (3) Social scientists conduct empirical research in order to explain our social world. ASO 201 is the first course in a sequence of three foundational courses that will provide students with the knowledge and skills they need to design, conduct and interpret applied social research. Students gain an overview of the multiple theoretical approaches guiding social research. They will examine approaches from multiple social science disciplines to explore, understand, and implement practical solutions to important social issues. Prerequisite: At least one 100 level social science course.

ATH/FST 135. Film as Ethnography. (1) Explores anthropological approaches to the study of human diversity and variation through the lens of ethnographic and documentary films. Exposes students to basic concepts in anthropology including cultural and linguistic relativity, globalization, and representational practices.

ATH 145. Lost Cities & Ancient Civilizations. (3) Archaeological and anthropological approaches for understanding human cultural, social, and ecological adaptations in global prehistory. Examines similarities and differences among prehistoric peoples and civilizations and their global contexts and interconnectedness in terms of political economy and social organization; technologies, engineering, and environment; and religion and symbolic systems.

ATH 155. Introduction to Anthropology. (4) Introduction to anthropology with emphasis on understanding the social and biological contexts of human life. Topics include the biological and cultural origins of humanity, prehistory, and cultural diversity.

ATH 175. People of the World. (3) Provides an appreciation of human cultural, social, and linguistic variation around the world and through time. Develops anthropological and ethnographic approaches to understanding cultural differences and similarities in political, social, and economic organization; marriage and family patterns; environment and beliefs systems; and other aspects of globalized human cultural life.

ATH 185. Cultural Diversity in the U.S. (3) Anthropological and ethnographic approaches to the study of cultural, social, and linguistic variation in the United States, its territories, and borderlands. As an introduction to cultural anthropology, the course provides a foundation for understanding historical and contemporary contexts related to globalization and diaspora; ethnic, racial, and class identities; political economy and environment; belief systems; and ethnographic methodology.

ATH/ENG/GER 219. Introduction to Linguistics. (3) Scope of linguistics: fundamental concepts and methods of linguistic science in its descriptive and historical aspects.

ATH/HST/POL/REL/RUS 254. Introduction to Russian and Eurasian Studies. (3) Examines the major developments that have shaped Russian and Eurasian culture, society and politics over the last millennium. The course incorporates perspectives from the social sciences, humanities and the fine arts.

ATH 304. Native North America: Anthropological Perspectives. (3) Critical and interdisciplinary approaches to the anthropological and ethnographic study of the Indigenous peoples of North America, including examination of the multifaceted cultures, histories, and identities of contemporary Native American/First Nations communities. Topics include sovereignty and interdependence, colonization and resistance, linguistic and cultural vitality, and expressive culture and representational practices.

ATH/BWS 307. The Middle East: Anthropological Perspectives. (3) Survey and analysis of various cultural groups in contemporary Southwest Asia and North Africa.

ATH 313. Latin American Archaeology. (3) Explores the archaeology of Central and South America through topics such as the Aztec temples, Maya hieroglyphs, and Inka Imperial roads. Students learn about Latin America from the first people to European colonialism and beyond through scientific investigation and hands-on work with artifacts.

ATH 358. Travelers, Migrants and Refugees: Transnational Migration and Diasporic Communities. (3) Explores global flows of people across national and cultural boundaries; investigates ways dispersed people build and maintain social networks, communities, and identities.

ATH 361. Language and Power. (3) Explores the role of linguistic performance, verbal art, and other communicative practices in negotiating power and disparate access to opportunities and resources within and among social groups. Special attention will be given to how identities, ideologies, and worldviews are linguistically created, recreated, and challenged in global contexts.

ATH 405. Food, Taste, and Desire. (3) Explores food consumption as a meaningful practice embedded in local, national, and global relations and in social, economic, and political contexts. Topics include history of food consumption; food and power; nation, the state, and food; gender, sexuality and consumption; consumption, marketing, and subjectivity; globalization; hunger and memory; need, taste, and desire; and food aesthetics, moralities, and poetics.

ATH 426. Field Research. (4-6) This experiential, off-campus capstone allows students to conduct ethnographic fieldwork in local, regional, or global practicum contexts. Students will learn to design ethnographic research, collect data using ethnographic methods, conduct qualitative analysis of original data, and create ethnographic representations based on original data. In addition, students will gain experience with formal research ethics training. Prerequisite: at least three ATH credit hours or permission of instructor.

ATH/CLS 431. Archaeology of Power. (3) Examines social and political power in the past, from small scale societies to states and global systems. Explores theoretical approaches to diversity and inequality with case studies from around the world and throughout history that include authority, gender, race, religion, class, colonialism and empire.

BIO/MBI 115. Biological Concepts: Ecology, Evolution, Genetics, and Diversity. (4) Integrated study of microbes, plants, and animals, emphasizing biological diversity and interdependence of life and environment. 3 Lec. 1 Lab.

BIO/MBI 116. Biological Concepts: Structure, Function, Cellular and Molecular Biology. (4) Biological principles common to microbes, plants, and animals, including interactions between organism and environment. 3 Lec. 1 Lab.

BIO 121. Environmental Biology. (3) Local, regional, and global environmental issues examined in the context of current ecological theory and principles of resource use and management. Weekly discussion period provides opportunity for interaction. Not open to Biology, Botany, or Zoology majors.

BIO 126. Evolution: Just a Theory? (3) This course is a critical examination of the evidence and principles of evolution and the nature of science designed for non-science majors and those considering majoring in natural sciences. It emphasizes the relevance of evolutionary biology to our lives and society as a whole.

BIO 131. Plants, Humanity, and Environment. (3) Introduction to fundamental concepts in plant biology, ecology, and scientific perspective as they relate to issues of social concern.

BIO 155. Field Botany. (3) Field/laboratory-oriented, interpretive introduction to botany in the regional out-of-doors. Emphasis given to identification, uses, habit, habitat and communities of plants, and fungi in the context of local terrestrial and aquatic environments. 1 Lec. 2 Lab.

BIO 161. Principles of Human Physiology. (4) Examines physiological systems of the human body. Lecture provides basic information regarding function of these systems from an integrative perspective. In laboratory, use hands-on approach and work in small groups to conduct experiments and/or carry out projects to illustrate the physiological concepts presented in lecture. Not open to Biology, Botany, or Zoology majors. 3 Lec. 1 Lab.

BIO 171. Human Anatomy and Physiology. (4) Study of the structure and function of the human body including basic cellular principles, embryology, reproductive system, endocrine system, and nervous system. Does not count toward the Biology, Botany or Zoology majors. (Offered at Hamilton and Middletown campuses). 3 Lec. 1 Lab.

BIO 176. Ecology of North America. (3) Basic principles of ecology, major biomes of North America, and pertinent environmental issues. Biomes range from tundra to tropical rainforest. Environmental issues include biodiversity, deforestation, desertification, and other land management problems, each analyzed from a scientific perspective but involving social, economic, and humanistic factors as well.

BIS/EGS 305. Integrative Writing in Global Contexts. (3) Through this advanced composition course, students develop and exercise means to integrate multiple perspectives and disciplinary discourses through writing for global audiences. Readings focus on issues in diversity and intercultural communication, assignments involving various genres and disciplinary methodologies, and projects that analyze and integrate multiple forms of writing help students draw on their liberal learning to address real-world challenges in regard to diverse others and the interconnected global community.

BIS 410. Advanced Special Topics Seminar in Integrative Studies. (3) Topical offerings in integrative studies in emerging and established fields of interdisciplinary study such as Critical Animal Studies, Youth Studies, Area Studies, Critical Race Studies, and Environmental Studies. May be taken for credit more than once with different content and permission of instructor.

BWS 156. Introduction to Africa. (4) A survey of Africa's varied and complex history and culture. It focuses on African geography, environment, history, economics, politics, as well as its rich cultural heritage. It approaches the study of Africa from a comparative historical and interdisciplinary... perspective as well as situates it within the context of global developments.

BWS 248. African-American Experience. (3) Concentrates on a socio-historical analysis of the African-American experience. Purpose is to investigate and understand the interaction between race, power, privilege, institutional structures, and ideas associated with this experience in America; provides alternative perspective for viewing this experience.

BWS/FSW/SOC 362. Family Poverty. (3) Examines definitions, theories, causes and consequences of family poverty in the U.S. Identifies the extent and degree of U.S. poverty and demographic characteristics of those who are poor or likely to become poor. Consideration given to programs that reduce poverty and/or its negative effects, including those practiced in the past, those now practiced, and those that offer promise for improving the economic and social status of those who are poor. Costs and benefits of welfare and welfare reform and strategies for preventing poverty among future generations also discussed and evaluated. Prerequisite: FSW 295 or SOC 262.

BWS/ENG/WGS 432. Feminism and the Diaspora: UA Women of Color. (3) Concerns issues of language, history, geography, social-psychology, and culture for U.S. women of color (black, Asian-American, Latina, American Indian, and others). Includes works by and about women on gender, ethnicity, class, sexuality, and other differences.

CCA 111. Innovation, Creativity and Design Thinking. (3) Explores the roots of original thought and its role in the evolution of different areas of human endeavor. The course will present scientific and scholarly ways of understanding creativity, but will also engage students in a series of exercises to experience processes through a diverse range of media and project types. Team work, problem-solving and leadership skills will also be addressed, and students will both self-author and collaboratively author original concepts.

CCA 121. Introduction to the Integrated Arts and Culture. (3) This course will focus on learning basic arts vocabulary, concepts and principles, with an emphasis on those words and ideas that are common to all of the arts. Students will be exposed to the fundamental steps of the creative process that are integral to various artforms. This vocabulary and process will be examined in context through the historical and cultural study of a particular urban location. Co-requisites: CCA 221 and 321.

CEC 266. Metal on Metal: Engineering and Globalization in Heavy Metal Music. (3) This course addresses the linkages among heavy metal music, global culture and engineering developments. Heavy metal is a truly global popular music with major impacts from Europe, Asia, the Americas and beyond. Advances in various technologies have extensively influenced heavy metal, enabling some of its most defining characteristics. This course explores the interplays of technology, music and culture by integrating the powerful history of metal with an overview of the engineering impacts. Students will engage in demonstrations and discussions of the musical breadth along with the engineering technologies.

CHI 251. Traditional Chinese Literature in English Translation. (3) Chinese literature up to the end of the Qing Dynasty (1911). Introduction of unique features of Chinese literature, society and culture. Study selected classics in Taoism, Confucianism, and Buddhism, and masterpieces in fiction, poetry, and drama.

CHI 252. Modern Chinese Literature in English Translation. (3) Read selected representative works from mainland China, Taiwan, and Hong Kong, including fiction, poetry, criticism, and film. Lectures furnish the socio-cultural background to establish a framework for understanding and interpretation.

CHI/JPN 255. Drama in China and Japan in English Translation. (3) Provides historical overview of major traditional dramatic art forms of China and Japan: Zaju, Kunqu, Beijing Opera, Noh, Kyogen, Bunraku, and Kabuki. Critically treats and interprets theatrical conventions in each and attempts to clarify aesthetic significance.
CHI 257. Chinese Satire. (3) This course examines several significant works of satire in twentieth-century Chinese literature. Through class discussions, weekly writings and longer essays we will analyze techniques of satire in modern Chinese fiction, identify and assess the ways satirical works shed light on Chinese history, culture and society, and identify and explain the similarities and differences between Chinese and Western satire. Taught in English.

CHM 111. Chemistry in Modern Society. (3) For non-science majors. Considers both nature of basic chemical processes and ways that chemistry affects our society. Introduction to how scientists approach problems and make decisions. 3 Lec.

CHM 111L. Chemistry in Modern Society Laboratory. (1) Laboratory course for non-science majors. Students will explore basic chemistry principles that are relevant in everyday life through experimentation and data analysis. Critical thinking will be emphasized through inquiry-based activities. Emphasis will be placed on activities that develop quantitative reasoning skills, including data handling in context of case studies, and on the communication of scientific information through writing.

CHM 121. Introduction to Forensic Chemistry. (4) Integrated lecture and laboratory course for all majors that, by incorporating the exciting theme of forensic science, builds an appreciation for the underlying aspects of chemistry. The topics include paper chromatography of ink, soil analysis, synthetic and natural fibers, fingerprints, ions in urine, drug analysis, fire accelerants, blood alcohol determination, and microscopic hair analysis. Typically taught on the Middletown campus. 3 Lec. 1 Lab.

CHM 131. Chemistry of Life Processes. (4) Integrated lecture and laboratory course for non-science majors that relate basic inorganic and organic chemical processes to those of biochemistry. Explores the nature of atoms and molecules in terms of simple structures and reactions, and the more complex structures of biochemical molecules and their interactions with living systems. 3 Lec. 1 Lab. Prerequisite: introductory high school physical science and algebra or CHM 109.

CHM 141. College Chemistry. (3) General chemistry lecture course. Examines the fundamentals of atomic and molecular structure, chemical reactions and stoichiometry, properties of solutions, thermochemistry, gases, and chemical bonding. Students also develop ideas, experience, methodology, and skills used in the application of scientific methodology. Credit not given for both CHM 141R and 141. Prerequisite: one year of high school chemistry and a math sub-score of 22 on the ACT or 520 on the SAT, credit for MTH 025, or permission of instructor. IVB, LAB. Corequisite registration in CHM 144.

CHM 141R. College Chemistry. (4) Coordinated lecture, recitation and lab (144) to develop ideas, experience, methodology, and skills used in the application of scientific methodology. Framework is consideration of fundamental principles of atomic and molecular structure, chemical bonding, properties of solutions, and chemical reactions. Gain skills in developing hypotheses, observing chemical phenomena, collecting data, and evaluating results critically. Prerequisite(s): no high school chemistry and math sub-score of 22 on the ACT or 520 on the SAT (offered on the regional campuses only). Credit not given for both CHM 141 and 141R. Corequisite course: CHM 144.

CHM 144. College Chemistry Laboratory. (2) Presents laboratory exercises to illustrate the fundamental principles of chemistry. An emphasis will be placed on safety, laboratory skills, techniques for simple quantitative measurements and the use of modern instrumentation for data collection and analysis. Students will also gain skills in developing hypotheses, observing chemical phenomena, collecting and sharing data and evaluating results critically. Corequisite registration in CHM 141 required.

CHM 144M. College Chemistry Laboratory for Majors. (2) Covers content similar to CHM 144. The focus of this laboratory course is for students with an interest in chemistry or biochemistry as a major. Prerequisite: high school chemistry or permission of instructor. Corequisite registration in CHM 141M required.

CIT/CSE 262. Technology, Ethics, and Global Society. (3) Inquiry into a wide range of information technology issues, from moral responsibilities affecting computer professionals to wider ethical concerns associated with information technology in day-to-day living. Topics include general aspects of ethics, common ethical theories, professional codes of ethics in IT; privacy, security, and reliability in using computer systems and the Internet, issues and responsibilities in Internet usage; legal issues in IT; global perspectives of computing issues; and general problems related to ethical and responsible computing. Prerequisite: ENG III and a minimum of 20 credit hours earned.

CIT 448. Global and Strategic Issues in Information Technology. (3) While information technologies remain the same across national borders, their usage and context change according to country cultures and national laws. Features such as information infrastructure, languages, business practice, intellectual property protection, and tariffs impact the adoption of IT in a transnational organization. In this course, students will define global technology issues and their impact, understand cultural differences and their effect on standards for the use of technology, develop resources to make informed decisions personally and professionally, and generally raise global awareness within an IT context. IIIC. Prerequisite(s): CIT/CSE 262 or permission of instructor.

CJS 101. Introduction to Criminal Justice Studies. (3) Offers an overview of America’s criminal justice system, with an emphasis on the development, functions, and current issues/problems facing the current criminal justice system. Course specifically focuses on the history, roles, and present state of the police, courts, and corrections.

CJS 451. Comparative Justice Systems. (3) A survey of the major legal traditions in world, as well as an examination of rule of law, civil rights, policing, and punishment & corrections in specific jurisdictions for the purpose of understanding how law and justice systems develop, how systems interact and converge, and how peoples from around the world approach justice. Comparisons between the United States and other nations/systems will occur with the intention of better understanding, critically assessing, and improving systems in the United States. Prerequisite: junior or senior standing.

CLS 101. Greek Civilization in the Mediterranean Context. (3) Exploration of ancient Greek civilization, from pre-Homeric to Hellenistic times, presented within a broad framework of cultures with which Greece interacted in the Mediterranean basin. Various aspects of Greek civilization are highlighted including history, politics, economics, society, art, science, philosophy, and literature.

CLS 102. Roman Civilization. (3) Exploration of the legacy of ancient Roman civilization from its legendary beginning through the Republic to the Empire at its greatest extent. Various aspects of Roman civilization highlight the Roman experience including history, literature, philosophy, political and social institutions, religion, art, and the unique ability of Rome to assimilate Greek and other cultures.

CLS 121. Introduction to Classical Mythology. (3). Introduction to Greek mythology. Presentation, explanation, and interpretation of myths within representations of mythology, as well as comparative study of non-Greco-Roman myth.

CMR 106. Introduction to Business and the Economy. (3) Introduction to various functional areas of business and everyday business and economic principles and problems including consumer choice, supply and demand, money, banking system, investment growth, inflation, government policy, taxes and employment.

CMR 117. Personal Finance: An Introduction. (3) Introductory course in managing your money to become more knowledgeable about personal finance, thereby enabling you to make wiser financial decisions. Topics include: career planning, financial tools, budgets, income taxes, checking and savings accounts, building good credit, credit cards and loans, vehicles, homes and other major purchases, managing health expenses, insurance, investments, retirement and estate planning.

CMR 244. Introduction to Global Business. (3) The globalization of the U.S. economy significantly impacts both organizations and their employees. Business opportunities and career paths that once seemed assured, no longer are. This course analyzes how businesses and individuals compete in the new global economy.
CSE 282. Computer-Based Business Analysis. (3) Practical applications of analytical tools for managerial decision-making using Microsoft Excel. Advanced formatting, charting, functions, formulas and data organization are covered. Emphasis on presentation and analysis of data.

CMR 402. Cross Cultural Leadership Skills. (3) Today’s global business environment makes cross-cultural leadership a critical skill. This course will help you foster international awareness, appreciate global diversity and adapt to different business and social settings. It will explore business practices, communication and decision-making styles across countries. The course will focus on effective leadership skills of business development, negotiation, and motivation. This is a hands-on course that will include case studies, self-reflection papers and an in-depth country report. Prerequisite: CMR 113 or 244.

CRE 151. Introduction to Black World Studies. (4) Introduces the Afrocentric perspective as it has developed in anthropology, history, political science, geography, sociology, religious studies, mass communications, theatre, art, etc. Covers theories, research, methodologies, and practice of Africana studies. Students develop historical and contemporary understanding of the African diaspora.

CSE 151. Computers, Computer Science, and Society. (3) Perspective on potential and limitations of computing technology. Topics include the problem-solving in computing, computers as thinking machines, and the impact of computing on societies. Exposes students to programming languages and various computer tools. Not open to CSE and MIS majors.

CSE 163. Introduction to Computer Concepts and Programming. (3) Introduction to computers in data processing, survey of various hardware and software concepts, and analysis and solution of problems by computer programming. Lecture/laboratory, project-oriented course to provide numerous opportunities to analyze problems, formulate alternative solutions, implement solutions, and assess their effectiveness. Solutions implemented via a structured programming language. No prior knowledge of computer concepts or programming assumed. Prerequisite: high school algebra and trigonometry.

CSE 243. Problem Analysis Using Computer Tools. (3) Students will learn to use personal computer productivity tools to analyze data, work with others in conducting analyses, develop conclusions and effectively communicate results. Students will utilize spreadsheet tools to analyze data and will be challenged to evaluate data from multiple perspectives in order to develop conclusions supported by their analysis. Students will use word processing tools to integrate text and graphical information that clearly and concisely communicates their conclusions. While an important part of the course is learning to use the software tools, the emphasis of the course is learning to use these tools to solve problems and communicate results.

DST/EDP/SOC 272. Introduction to Disability Studies. (3) Explores the link between the social construction of disability and that of race, class, gender, ethnicity, and sexual orientation as they pertain to social justice in a multicultural and democratic society. Promotes critical analysis of dominant and nondominant perspectives on disability.

DST/EDP/SOC 375 (Dis)Ability Allies: To Be or Not To Be? Developing Identity and Pride from Practice. (3) Explores what it means to be ally to/in/with the disability community in America. The course emphasizes identity formation and how that formation can inform the construction of the ally identity. Through deconstructing learned values, knowledge, and images of disability that mitigate ally behavior, students discover the micro and macro structures that support ally behavior. By exploring how social control and social change have worked in other civil rights movements, students understand the necessity of identifying and including allies in the disability movement.

ECO 131. Economic Perspectives on Inequality in America. (3) Introduction to economic perspectives on inequality in the United States, particularly the relationship between inequality and population diversity. The role of the market and of public policy in generating, transmitting, and ameliorating inequality. Dimensions of inequality include earning inequality, poverty, and unequal access to education and health care. Dimensions of diversity include race, ethnicity, gender, age, socioeconomic class, immigration status, and sexual orientation.
ECO 201. Principles of Microeconomics. (3) Nature and scope of microeconomics, including the role of the market in resource allocation, the role of competition, the forces governing the distribution of income, and the role of foreign trade in economic welfare.

ECO 356. Poverty and Income Distribution. (3) Application of economic analysis to poverty, income inequality, and factor shares. Discussion of determinants of earnings, including education, ability and discrimination. Analysis of efficiency and costs of programs to reduce poverty such as minimum wages, cash transfers, and in-kind transfers. Prerequisites: ECO 201 and ECO 202.

EDL 203. Introduction to Critical Youth Studies. (3) Overview of Critical Youth Studies which allows class participants to explore and appreciate their identities, to develop an awareness of issues affecting different populations of youth, and to learn a variety of tools for self-expression and activism. This curriculum draws from key fields in youth studies to provide students with a multidisciplinary and layered understanding of youth. EDL 203 foregrounds underrepresented voices and bodies that have been invisible and/or marginalized within the study of youth, specifically, and U.S. society, generally.

EDL 204. Sociocultural Studies in Education. (3) Introduction to the field of social foundation of education using a cultural studies approach to investigate selected educational topics.

EDL 232. Introduction to Community-Based Leadership. (3) Introduction to Community-Based Leadership explores theories and practices of leadership in public institutions and communities. Students critically examine three concepts central to community-based leadership: public, leadership, and democracy. Using the scholarship of leadership studies and civic engagement, students explore what it means to work in public life and lead for the public good in local, national, and international contexts. Students accomplish these goals through readings, class discussions, analytical and reflective writing, and community-based learning experiences connecting theory with practice. The course will help students develop their own vision and plan for participating in community-based leadership as Miami students and as engaged citizens.

EDP 101. Critical Issues in the Psychology of the Learner. (3) Critical investigation of issues, theories, and principles related to the nature of the learner and learning process, including such topics as psychological methodology, perception, cognitive processing, personality, and social dynamics, within the context of historical, social diversity, and cross-cultural perspectives. Credit not granted to students who have earned credit for PSY 111.

EDP 201. Human Development and Learning in Social and Educational Contexts. (3) In-depth examination of theoretical issues and principles of human development and learning, including developmental changes, motivational and learning processes, exceptionalities and other individual differences, and dynamics of social groups. The ways human development and learning can be fostered within diverse social and educational contexts and the interactive influences of contextual differences on direction and nature of these processes are a major focus for systematic inquiry. This is a “hybrid” class with a combination of online classes and assignments paired with weekly meetings.

EDP 209. Development, Learning, and Diversity. (3) A student-centered multicultural exploration of existing and mythical differences perceived within and between U.S. cultural groups that are significant for human development and education such as language, intelligence, cognition, aptitude, motivation, personality, values, and attitudes.

EDP 256. Psychology of the Exceptional Learner. (3) Critical analysis of human beings considered exceptional (outside the norm) in learning and behavior. Topics include inter- and intra-individual differences comprising exceptionalities, issues surrounding identification and classification of individuals, society’s responses to exceptional individuals, and societal challenges to develop the human potential of all persons.
EDP/DST/SOC 272. Introduction to Disability Studies. (3) Explores the link between the social construction of disability and that of race, class, gender, ethnicity, and sexual orientation as they pertain to social justice in a multicultural and democratic society. Promotes critical analysis of dominant and nondominant perspectives on disability.

EDP 279. Technology + Media Literacy and Learning. (3) Technology + Media Literacy and Learning fosters technology and media literacy for undergraduate students in teacher preparation programs. This course focuses fostering knowledge in skills and integration of technology tools, media and digital resources for teaching and learning.

EDP 366. Cross-cultural Examination of the United States and China within an Educational Context. (3) This course is designed for students to gain basic knowledge, including both similarities and differences, revolving about China and America, in an educational context. The goal of this course is to help students broaden their knowledge about varying cultures in order to better understand how teachers can best help students learn and grow. The students will gain a deeper understanding of China and America and what each country faces in the years to come. Students will focus on the challenges and opportunities each culture provides to individuals through examining similarities and differences. Students will explore different culture related topics and come to a conclusion regarding their pre and post conceptions of the topic. Students will explore and research one topic more in depth to prepare for a research paper.

EDT 181, 182. Physical Science. (4, 4) Introduction to fundamental concepts and principles of physics, chemistry (181) astronomy, meteorology, and earth science (182). Basic and integrated processes of science as well as science concepts introduced and related to societal problems to promote understanding and interaction within a technological society. Encouraged to think critically, understand contexts of knowledge, and participate in scientific enterprise. Required for early childhood education majors. 3 Lec. 1 Lab.

EDT 202. Global Childhood Education: Diversity, Education & Society. (3) This course focuses on increasing awareness, sensitivity, and understanding of the diverse cultural, ethnic, linguistic, religious, and family backgrounds of children in education from broader perspectives. It provides students with an opportunity to explore the multicultural American society as well as the global communities. It starts by learning about ourselves that is a basic foundation to understand and respect others. It also offers a chance to see, feel, and think in a different way than we have ever had before. Such mental, emotional, and intellectual “bothering and challenging” is consistently planned and encouraged in this course in order to reexamine our taken-for-granted assumptions and expectations. This course discusses the critical issues by connecting them to application into educational practice and settings. Therefore, it attempts to incorporate the various meanings and concepts of social justice, equality, multiculturalism, diversity and globalization and internationalism into education.

EDT 205. Race, Cultural Diversity, and Equity in Education. (3) This course will explore the complex relationship between race, cultural diversity, and inequity in education. It will interrogate the idea and construction of “race” and will examine how racial inequities are produced, maintained, and resisted in educational institutions. It will attend to diversity within groups by considering the dynamics of race as it intersects with gender, class, sexuality, dis/ability, language, and religion. The course will also analyze the historical and ongoing exclusion and marginalization of minoritized groups, and the hegemonic dominance and normalization of whiteness in education policies, curriculum and pedagogy, assessment and achievement, teacher and student identities, school and classroom spaces, and family and community engagements.

EDT 221. Teaching English Language Learners in PK-12: Culture & Second Language Acquisition. (3) The first of three sequenced courses in the Teaching English Language Learners (TELLs) certificate, EDT 221 TELLs in PK-12: Culture & SLA provides the theoretical foundations necessary for PK-12 teachers to work successfully with English Language Learners (ELLs) in the mainstream classroom. A field experience component, coupled with comprehensive case study assignments, enables teachers to obtain real-word understanding of the cultural and language development issues facing ELLs, their families and their teachers in schools.
EDT 323. Teaching English Language Learners in PK-12: Instructional Theories & Practices. (3) The second of three sequenced courses in the Teaching English Language Learners (TELLs) certificate, EDT 323 TELLs in PK-12: Instructional Theory & Practices provides the instructional foundations necessary for PK-12 teachers to work successfully with English Language Learners (ELLs) in the mainstream classroom. A field experience component, coupled with comprehensive case study assignments, enables teachers to obtain real-world understanding of the instructional and assessment issues facing ELLs and their teachers in schools.

EDT 425: Teaching English Language Learners in PK-12: Active Learning & Literacy. (3) The third of three sequenced courses in the Teaching English Language Learners (TELLs) certificate, EDT 425 TELLs in PK-12: Active Learning & Literacy provides the instructional foundations necessary for PK-12 teachers to work successfully with English Language Learners (ELLs) in the mainstream classroom. A field experience component, coupled with comprehensive case study assignments, enables teachers to obtain real-world understanding of the linguistic and literacy issues facing ELLs and their teachers in schools. Prerequisites EDT 221 or EDT 323

ENG 108. U.S. Cultures & Composition for Second-Language Writers. (4) For students who need further work in English before enrolling in college composition. May be used as an elective, but not to meet the Miami Plan or the College of Arts and Science requirements.

ENG 111. Composition and Rhetoric. (3) Study and practice of effective explanatory, expressive, and persuasive writing.

ENG 122. Popular Literature. (3) Exploration in detail of one genre of popular literature. Possible subjects include detective fiction, science fiction, the western, and the romance novel. Special attention given to why a culture invests in popular genres.

ENG 123. Introduction to Poetry. (3) Exploration of the wide range of literature and oral performance called poetry. Study of critical terms used to discuss and write about poetic conventions, forms, and sub-genres.

ENG 124. Introduction to Fiction. (3) Study of basic characteristics (narrative design, character, point of view, style, and tone) and essential forms (short-short story, story, novella, and novel) of the genre of literary fiction.

ENG 125. Introduction to Drama. (3) Critical analysis of dramatic literature from the ancient Greeks to modern performance art, using dramatic structure and theory to read play texts as productions of their cultural contexts.

ENG 129. Books You Need to Read. (3) Introduction to Literature through formal analysis of major works by authors such as William Shakespeare, Jane Austen, Mark Twain, and Toni Morrison. Designed for non-majors. Texts and authors vary.

ENG 134. Introduction to Shakespeare. (3) Introduction to Shakespeare’s works. Gives students who are new to collegiate-level literary studies an overview of the range of Shakespeare’s works and the variety of approaches to those works. Prerequisite or co-requisite: Composition and Rhetoric.

ENG 163. Literature and Travel. (3) Study of travel literature from a range of periods and genres. Topics of study include the relation of individual and national identity; imperialism and cultural relativity; the invention of geography; and the politics of tourism.

ENG/DST 169. Disability and Literature. (3) This course studies the construction of disability identity in literature, personal memoir, and popular culture by investigating how texts that feature disability question notions of “normalcy” and “deviancy.” It emphasizes interdisciplinary understandings of disability in historical and contemporary frameworks.

ENG/IMS 171. Humanities and Technology. (3) Introduction to methods of thinking used in humanities disciplines (literature, history, philosophy, classics, etc.), computer technologies, and their relationship. Practical skills (web
ENG 202. Varieties of American English: Dialect Diversity & Language Culture. (3) This interactive course focuses on varieties of English within the context of diverse cultures in the United States. Primary topics include: linguistic diversity, language change, gender differences in language use, language (use) and social class, attitudes toward language as well as examination of specific varieties of English such as African American English, Appalachian English, Native American English, Vietnamese American English, English spoken by persons of Latin American descent, Hawaiian Pidgin English, Gullah, Louisiana Creole, and others.

ENG 201. Language Awareness. (3) Introduces various ways of looking at language: sociological, psychological, and formal. Students study how language plays a role in every human activity, from gender and racial stereotyping to the development of automata.

ENG/FST 220. Literature and Film. (3) Study of the relationship between film and genres of literature, focusing on a comparison of techniques of rhetoric, fiction, and drama and those of film. Primary consideration given to film adaptations of works of fiction and drama. Extensive screenings of films may be repeated once when topic changes.

ENG/FST 221. Shakespeare and Film. (3) Study of selected plays of Shakespeare that have been filmed. Students read plays and view one or more versions of each play.

ENG/WGS 232. Women Writers. (3) Introduction to women’s writing in English. Readings may include poetry, drama, fiction and non-fiction by women writers from various historical periods and national traditions.

ENG/IMS 238 Narrative & Digital Technology. (3) Applies to digital games those notions about narrative structure and character development that have evolved in literature. Students will explore digital art as literary critics, asking whether games are “art” and analyzing how post-modern literary/digital art participates in globalization. Students compose narratives in writing as well as 3-D graphics.

ENG/AMS 246. Native American Literature. (3) Survey of published Native American fiction, poetry, memoir, drama and non-fiction from the mid-19th century to the present. Explores cultural contexts and emphasizes an interdisciplinary approach that includes historical, sociological and anthropological as well as literary perspectives.

ENG 251 Introduction to European Literature. (3) Introduction to the masterpieces of European literature, its creation stories, its epic heroes and heroines, its infamous loves and equally infamous deaths. From these literary works, you will gain a sense of the variety of human experiences across time and cultures and broaden your understanding of literary purpose.

ENG/LAS 254. Latino/a Literature and the Americas. (3) Study of fiction, poetry, and nonfiction by Chicano/a, Cuban American, Puerto Rican, and Central American writers, with an emphasis on the various cultural and historical contexts that influence and are represented in the writings. Specific study of writing in transnational communities situated in more than one part of the Americas.

ENG 272, 273, 274. English Literature to 1660; English Literature 1660-1900; English Literature 1901 to Present. (3, 3, 3) Selected major texts and issues in English literature and culture from the beginning to 1660, including The Civil War and Paradise Lost, with attention to historical context reflected in religious, philosophical, political, and social perspectives and issues such as gender, class, ethnicity, and canon formation; British literature from 1660 to 1901, with attention to issues of class, race, and gender in the context of accelerating economic, social, environmental, political, and religious change; to developments in education, psychology, philosophy, science, and technology; and to relations with other literatures and arts; selected British fiction, nonfiction, poetry, and drama from 1901 to present with special attention to the impact on literary imagination of two global conflicts and loss of Empire.

ENG 275, 276. American Literature to 1900; American Literature 1900 to Present. (3, 3) Introduction to multiplicity of voices in American culture as expressed in literary texts written in and about America: from colonial period to 1900; 1900 to present.
ENG 332. Early British Women Writers. (3) Survey of women writers from the beginnings of English to 1800. Includes writers such as Margery Kempe, Julian of Norwich, Elizabeth Carey, Aemelia Lanyer, Mary Wroth, Margaret Cavendish, Lucy Hutchinson, Aphra Behn, Frances Burney, and Anne Radcliffe.

ENG/WGS 435. Queer Theory. (3) Analysis of how gender and sexuality have informed our understanding of cultural texts and contexts. Emphasizes how discourses of gender and sexuality function within a variety of historical, cultural, and/or aesthetic traditions.

ENG/BWS/WGS 437. Black Feminist Theory. (3) This course examines critical and theoretical issues in black feminism from slavery to the present. One of the central goals of the course is to interrogate race, gender, class, and sexuality in the context of black women’s thoughts and experiences. The class will read, discuss and analyze a wide variety of texts including critical essays, films, selected fiction, print and visual media.

ENG/DST 494/EDP 489. Disability in Global and Local Contexts. (3) Examines contemporary disability issues and policies and the lived experiences of persons with disabilities in international and local contexts, with emphasis on understanding disability within particular communities—both locally and in other countries—and on learning multiple research methods. Prerequisite: permission of instructor.

FRE 131. Masterpieces of French Literature in Translation. (3) Accessible introduction to French culture through the study of selected examples of significant works in literature and the arts (understood in a broad sense). Works are examined in their social, historical, and ideological contexts and cover the period from the Middle Ages to the mid-20th century. All readings in English translation.

FRE 202. Critical Analysis of French Culture. (3) Second-semester, intermediate French course addresses literary and cultural issues through the study of short stories, poetry, film, journalism, and advertising. Works represent several French-speaking countries. Because texts, discussion, and compositions are in French, students continue to develop speaking, listening, reading, and writing skills.

FST 201. Film History and Analysis. (3) Introduction to basic principles of cinematic form and to major movements and issues in the history of cinema. Primary emphasis given to principal methods of critical thinking in film studies, from close analysis of formal and stylistic elements in a single film to more global ways of understanding and interpreting films within their aesthetic, social, historical, and political contexts. Includes screenings of representative films, lectures, discussions, group activities, papers, and exams.

FST/IDS 206. Diversity and Culture in American Film. (3) Analysis of the representation of diversity and culture as portrayed in American motion pictures.

FST 282. Sexualities and Film. (3) Exploration of film representations of diverse sexualities (e.g., gay, lesbian, bisexual, and transgendered) from the silent era to the present.

FSW 142. Exploring Helping Professionals. (3) The course provides an introduction to various helping professions. Students will explore the history of the helping relationship, the professionalizations of helping, and current influences of technology, managed care, and models of service delivery on professional helping. Students will examine characteristics of a helping professional, two major approaches to helping, and techniques for self-care and managing interpersonal relationships.
FSW 206. Social Welfare; Impact on Diverse Groups. (4)
Critical analysis of historical and current interactions of social welfare policies, programs, and services with diverse recipient populations. Attention given to contexts in which social welfare has been developed and provided.

FSW 245. Children and Families: Ages Conception – 12. (3)
Students in this course will examine the developmental contexts and theoretical perspectives of working with children and families. They will conduct in-depth analyses of the complex relationships between school, community and family resources in an educational setting.

FSW 261. Diverse Family Systems Across the Life Cycle. (3) Introduction to and survey of the diversity of family systems. Emphasizes the North American experience while drawing upon global understandings. Covers the nature of family systems and how these may vary by social class, ethnicity, urban-rural residence, and other aspects of sociocultural context. Stresses how family systems change across their life span, as well as how individuals experience different family systems in their life spans.

FSW/WGS 361. Couple Relationships; Diversity and Change. (3) Investigation of intimate couple relationships in their many diverse forms. Focuses on social and psychological factors influencing development and maintenance of such couple relationships as dating, cohabitation, and marriage. General principles are discussed as well as factors that are more specific to certain age groups, relationship types, or sociocultural settings. Prerequisite: Three hours of social science.

GEO 101. Global Forces, Local Diversity. (3) Application of geographic concepts to patterns and processes of economic, political, and cultural changes at global, regional, and local scales.

GEO 111. World Regional Geography: Patterns and Issues. (3) Introduction to world geography emphasizing regional approach and comparisons; combines analysis and synthesis of characteristics distinctive to each principal culture realm; focuses upon selected topical issues involving ethnic, political, economic, social, and environmental aspects.

GEO 121. Earth’s Physical Environment. (4) Study of the earth’s physical environment, using systems approach to understand energy and material cycles, global circulation, and temporal dynamics. Focus on influence of physical processes on spatial patterns and on interrelationships of the atmosphere, soils, vegetation, and landforms. 3 Lec. 1 Lab.

GEO 122. Geographic Perspectives on the Environment. (3) An introduction to physical geography that enables class participants to understand and interpret the environmental conditions of any geographic locality on earth. Special emphasis is placed on understanding relationships between geographic patterns and processes in the atmosphere (weather and climate), biosphere (vegetation and soils), and lithosphere (landforms). With knowledge of global physical environments, it is possible to predict the suitability an area may have for human habitation, and also the influences certain human activities may have on the physical environment.

GEO/SJS 159. Creating Global Peace. (3) Focuses on the study of peace, as represented across disciplinary boundaries and at local-to-global scales of analyses. Combines guest lectures, scholarly readings and other media, reflective writing and discussion, and a service-learning commitment that together explore different ways of thinking about peace, and ‘peace’ practices at global to local scales.

GEO 201. Geography of Urban Diversity. (3) Introduction to the processes and patterns that shape life in the American City. Students interpret urban landscapes—historical and contemporary—in relation to their environmental, economic, and cultural contexts. Students develop a geographic perspective on the social and spatial development of diverse American communities, a necessary foundation for addressing current issues in urban development and planning.

GEO/ITS/SOC 208. The Rise of Industrialism in East Asia. (3) Introduction to historic parameters, geographic variables, state policies, and sociocultural contexts of industrialism in East Asia (China, Japan, Korea, Taiwan, Hong Kong, and Singapore).
GEO/WGS 302. Geography and Gender. (3) This class adopts a geographic approach to the study of gender relations. The role of space and place in shaping the diversity of gender relations throughout the world will be considered. Through case studies, the importance of gender relations in understanding a variety of issues will be stressed.

GEO/WGS 309. Native American Women. (3) Survey of writings and films by and about Native American women. The objective of the course is to provide students with a broad overview of Native American perspectives on a variety of topics including indigenous viewpoints on research methods, environmental activism, politics and policy, and critical analysis.

GEO/WGS 436. Women, Gender, and the Environment. (3) Seminar discussing literature on the role of women in their relationships with natural resources as advocates, practitioners, and scholars. Ideas on ecofeminism will be introduced from more-developed “north” and developing “south” perspectives, and then directed toward the study of gender and development, and participatory tools in gender analysis.

GEO 455. Race, Urban Change, and Conflict in America. (3) Since the 1960s, changes at both global and local levels have affected the American city. Traditional study of the city has not focused on race and the effect of such changes on race. Conflicts with racial undertones occur on a daily basis in most American cities. More often these are conflicts over production, distribution, and consumption of public and private goods and are manifest in the housing market, job market, and access to education and social services amongst others. This seminar focuses on race in urban America within the context of conflict and change.

GER 151. The German-American Experience. (3) Explores the role that America’s largest ethnic group, the German-Americans, has played in the history and culture of the United States. Topics include German settlements in Colonial America, the Eighteen-Forty-Eighters, and German-Americans in Hollywood.

GER 231. Folk Fairy Tales and Literary Fairy Tales. (3) Introduction to the principles of folklore studies. Close reading of all 210 tales in the Grimms’ collection, and a survey of literary fairy tales from Goethe to Hesse and Kafka. Emphasis in the second half of the course is on the way literary tales use folklore motifs.

GER 232. The Holocaust in German Literature, History, and Film. (3) Critical reading, reflection, and discussion of Holocaust representations. Introduction to historical and political context and survey of debates surrounding memory culture. Examination of fiction, autobiographical writing, historical texts, and film with a focus on German-language sources. Taught in translation.

GER 252. The German-Jewish Experience. (3) Discusses readings of and about major Jewish figures in the German-speaking world. Frames historical background. Discovers constants and changes over time. Assesses terms for analyzing culture.

GER/FST 261. German Film in Global Context. (3) Traces the dynamic development of German speaking cinema from 1895 to the present within a global context that defines filmmaking beyond national borderlines. The global context is determined by the international spread and commonality of: 1) technological innovations (camera, lighting, and sound systems, editing techniques); 2) commercial practices (of production, collaboration, distribution, exhibition), 3) political influences (the interplay of film, war, and ideology), and 4) aesthetic trends (the international popularity of certain genres, formal devices, and specific cultural preferences). The course is taught in English and all the films have English subtitles.

GER 321. Cultural Topics in German-Speaking Europe Since 1870. (3) Explores several major cultural foci within the German, Austrian, and/or Swiss experience. Readings, discussions, guided research projects predominantly in German.

GER 322. Comparative Study of Everyday Culture: German-Speaking Europe and the USA. (3) Explores patterns of everyday life in German-speaking European culture and compares them with similar cultural patterns in contemporary U.S. life. Lectures, readings, and discussions in German.
GHS 101. Introduction to Global Health. (3) Introduces students to the complexity and ethical dilemmas of global health as a practical field that seeks to work with organizations and local communities to solve health problems. Students will learn to assess knowledge from multiple disciplines to thoroughly describe global health programs. This course is the required gateway to the Global Health Minor.

GIC 101. Global and Intercultural Studies. (3) An interdisciplinary approach to global and intercultural dynamics and issues. Examines historical and contemporary transnational perspectives to understand processes of globalization in an age of global social responsibility.

GIC 301. Approaches to Global and Intercultural Studies: Globalization and Belonging. (3) This course provides an interdisciplinary examination of how “we” and “they” are shaped in the context of heightened globalization. Specifically, how are citizenship, nationhood, ethnicity and race being imagined in an increasingly inter-connected world, and with what implications for democracy, social justice, and human rights. The U.S. provides foundational examples, but comparisons will be drawn from cases in Latin America, Europe, and Southern Africa.

GLG 111. The Dynamic Earth. (3) Earth as a geophysical-geochemical unit and its internal and external processes. Formation of minerals and their relationships in rocks. Earth stresses and rock deformation, mountain building, and earthquakes. Geomorphic (landscape) evolution by mass wasting and wave, stream, wind, ground water, glacial, and volcanic activity.

GLG 115L. Understanding the Earth. (1) Laboratory course exploring Earth from multiple perspectives. Earth in the solar system; Earth in time; the solid Earth; Earth’s surface in flux; Earth’s atmosphere and hydrosphere. Emphasis on use of computers in exploring geologic phenomena.
Prerequisite or co-requisite: GLG 111 or 121 or 141 (students enrolled in these courses are not required to take the lab).

GLG 121. Environmental Geology. (3) A survey of introductory geology with a sub theme of human interaction with the geologic environment. Topics include flooding, earthquakes, volcanoes, water quality and availability, energy, use and abuse of natural resources and land-use planning.

GLG 141. Geology of U.S. National Parks. (3) A survey of introductory geology with a sub theme of the structure and geologic evolution of North America as exemplified by the geologic features and development of U.S. national parks and other public lands.

GTY 110. Opening Minds through Art (OMA) Volunteer Experience. (1) OMA is an intergenerational visual art program for people with dementia. It is grounded in the belief that people with dementia are capable of expressing themselves creatively. Its approach is to capitalize on what people with dementia can still do. OMA currently offers its program at 15 sites that serve people with dementia in long-term care facilities, adult day centers and those living at home. In this Service-Learning course, you will volunteer weekly in the OMA program.

GTY 154. Big Ideas in Aging. (3) Overview of the processes of aging. Emphasis placed on “typical” aspects of aging from three perspectives: the aging individual, social context of aging, and societal responses to an aging population.

GTY 260. Global Aging. (3) Integrates bio-demographic and socio-cultural approaches to the study of global aging by drawing on cross-cultural quantitative and qualitative data including ethnographic records. Developed and developing countries are compared and contrasted in terms of a wide range of issues related to aging, from global to local. The phenomenon of global aging is explored and addressed through active engagement with international organizations and individuals.

GTY 310. Opening Minds through Art (OMA) Leadership Experience. (2; maximum 6) OMA is an intergenerational visual art program for people with dementia. It is grounded in the belief that people with dementia are capable of expressing themselves creatively. Its approach is to capitalize on what people with dementia can still do. OMA currently offers its program at 15 sites that serve people with dementia in long-term care facilities, adult day centers and those living at home. OMA has four primary goals: 1) to promote the social engagement, autonomy, and dignity of people with dementia by providing creative self-expression opportunities; 2) to provide staff and volunteers with opportunities to build close relationships with people with dementia; 3) to show the public the creative self-expression capacities of people with dementia through exhibitions of their artwork; and 4) to contribute to the scholarly literature on dementia care and the arts. In this Service-Learning course you will have a leadership role in OMA. Prerequisite: GTY 110.

GTY/SOC 318. Social Forces and Aging. (3) Examines the social forces that shape the diverse experiences of aging for individuals and the social structures in which they live. Particular emphasis is given to sociological issues such as age stratification, the life course, demographic change and its effects, and societal aging as a force in social change. Prerequisite: SOC 151, SOC 153 or GTY 154.

HST 111. Survey of American History. (3) Survey of the interplay of forces that have brought about evolutionary development of American economic, cultural, and political history from 1492 to the Era of Reconstruction, 1877. A functional and synoptic treatment of America's great historical problems.

HST 112. Survey of American History. (3) Survey of the interplay of forces that have brought about evolutionary development of American economic, cultural, and political history from 1877 to the present. A functional and synoptic treatment of America's great historical problems.

HST 197. World History to 1500. (3) Introduction to the origins and early development of individual civilizations prior to the period of Western European hegemony. Stresses interdependency and interrelations among cultures, and compares social, political, and religious experiences of peoples with one another.

HST 198. World History Since 1500. (3) Provides global perspective as well as introduction into history of individual civilizations. Stresses interrelations among societies and cultures and compares experiences of peoples and civilizations with one another.

HST 213. Appalachia: Cultures and Music. (3) History of country music since 1925 in context of Appalachian culture, regional modernization, and emergence of national media. Authenticity and cultural traditions, fans and artists, performance ceremonies, African American and gospel contributions, technological innovation in recording, radio, movies, and television.

HST/BWS 224. Africa in History. (3) Survey course focusing on the changing historiography of Africa, African ancient civilizations, the emergence and development of the Bantu and Nilotes, Eastern Africa and the Orient, early Christianity and Islam, trans-Saharan trade, the medieval Sudanic Empires, statelessness and state formation, Africa and the West between 1400 and 1800, South Africa to 1870, the Mfecane, the Sudanic Jihads, long-distance trade, and African-European relations in the 19th century.

HST/BWS 225. The Making of Modern Africa. (3) Survey of the transformation of Africa, south of the Sahara, from the time of the scramble for, and partition of, the continent among European powers in the second half of the 19th century to the present. Emphasis on economic, social, cultural, political, and intellectual features of this period. This is done through the reading of monographs, articles, and literary works (novels, plays, poems, etc.) on African experiences with colonialism, the rise and triumph of nationalism, African womanhood, popular culture and the experiences of change, and the rise and nature of post-colonial economic and political crises in the region.

HST 245. Making of Modern Europe, 1450-1750. (3) Survey of European history in global context from the Renaissance through the Enlightenment. Emphasis on political, cultural, and religious change in the first global age. Class also introduces students to the skills of historical thinking, and why they are essential to living in a global age.

HST/LAS 260. Latin America in the United States. (3) Interdisciplinary examination of historical, social, economic, and cultural forces that have shaped the experience of peoples of Latin, Hispanic, Latino/a background in the United States.

HST 296. World History Since 1945. (3) From Hiroshima to the information age. Focuses on the politics of identity and social history.
HST 372. Native American History since 1840. (3) American Indian history from 1840 through the twentieth century and into the present.

IDS 159. Strength Through Cultural Diversity. (3) Serves as an interdisciplinary introduction to diversity. A primary goal of this course is to facilitate students’ abilities to build their cultural competencies and their abilities to work toward a socially just and inclusive world by providing the conceptual tools and vocabulary to think about, discuss and experience diversity. Topics covered include multiculturalism, ethnocentrism, prejudice, discrimination, privilege, the impacts of social and cultural change, and the engagement of students in the global community.

IDS 259. Introduction to the Miami Tribe of Oklahoma. (3) Offers an interdisciplinary examination of the Myaamia as a living people within a living culture – a people with a past, present and future. Explores pre-contact economy, social and political organization; the historic period of contact, treaties and federal legislation and the cultural basis of Myaamia responses; and present-day issues of concern to the dependent sovereign nation of the Miami Tribe of Oklahoma.

IMS 211. Introduction to Game Studies. (3) Offers an introduction to key historical and contemporary research in game studies and theories of play, with particular attention paid to the digital video game. The course surveys current debates and issues in the field of game studies, introduces various methods for interpreting games, and cultivates a deeper understanding of the importance of games and play in contemporary social, political, and cultural contexts.

IMS 222. Introduction to Interaction Design and Development. (3) This course is an opportunity to investigate interactive design and front-end development as it relates to a variety of media types. Using industry standard tools, students will learn to design, implement, and refine interactive media for specific audiences. For the purpose of this class, interactive media includes a variety of software and hardware solutions that intersect the domain of human-computer interaction. Effective interactive design is often achieved by the creative application of sometimes disparate disciplines. Students should expect to incorporate their understanding of art theory, psychology, commercial business practice, and creative problem solving.

IMS 254. Design Principles Applied. (3) An understanding of design principles is central to the creation of digital solutions and interfaces. This course introduces students to the principles of design in a seminar format with some simple exercises to apply various principles. Whether it be the design of a system/organization or the creation of an application like a website, a design solution is the unification of various elements. This multi-disciplinary approach explores various forms of design and how principles are used to create a holistic solution. No prior design experience required.

IMS 384. Rhetoric of Games. (3) The study of video games has exploded in the last decade. While the field of “game studies” is still relatively small in academia, when partnered with disciplinary knowledge, the study of the rhetoric of games constitutes some of the most cutting-edge theoretical and practical liberal arts work being done in all of the academy. In this class, students will learn to apply rhetorical thinking and disciplinary knowledge to the study of games. A particular focus will be placed on cultural (race and gender) rhetorics as related to games and gaming. Prerequisite: IMS 211.

ITL 221. Italy, Matrix of Civilization. (3) An investigation of Italian contributions to civilization through recorded history, from the cultures of the Etruscans and the Romans to contemporary Italians, taking into consideration the Italian peninsula’s geography and history, the artistic outpouring of the Renaissance, the scientific revolution, opera, literature, cinema, emigration and immigration, and Italy’s multi-ethnic future. Taught in English. No prerequisites. Offered once a year.

ITL/AMS/FST 222. Italian American Culture. (3) A survey and investigation of the history of Italian immigration in America, the development of Italian American communities across the land, and the contributions that Italian Americans have made to American society and culture. Taught in English. No prerequisites. Offered once a year.

ITS 201. Introduction to International Studies. (3) Integration of core disciplines comprising international studies, with analysis of major world regions and issues.
Recommended for freshmen and sophomores.

JPN 231. Tales of the Supernatural in English Translation. (3) Focusing on the supernatural, this course examines major literary works chronologically, Tale of Genji (ca. 1010), to contemporary films.

JRN 101. Introduction to Journalism. (3) Introduces issues facing news media in a democratic society. These include ethics, law, and press performance in the context of news criticism and journalism history. Students explore several journalistic modes and a variety of careers in journalism. They learn critical news consumption and several basic writing styles.

KNH 125. Introduction to Public Health. (3) Public health is a multidisciplinary field aimed at reducing preventable morbidity and premature mortality, and promoting a higher quality of life in populations and groups through health intervention. This course is designed to introduce the basic tenets, applications, and foci of public health, including integrating public health with other health professions. It will provide a history of public health, an overview of the core disciplines, current events and issues in the field.

KNH 188. Physical Activity and Health. (3) Critical examination of relationships among exercise, physical activity, fitness, and health from epidemiological perspective. The role of genetic, sociocultural, economic, geographic and political influences on physical activity patterns, exercise habits, fitness and health are explored. A description of the physiological mechanisms that link physical activity and health are also examined.

KNH 206. AIDS: Etiology, Prevalence and Prevention. (3) Analysis of personal and social aspects of AIDS, with special emphasis upon preventive behaviors and their education potential.

KNH 213. Global and Community Nutrition. (3) Explores the integration of current food and nutrition research into the development of public policy with emphasis on implementation of Global and Community Nutrition programs. Prerequisite: KNH 102.

KNH 214. Global Well-Being. (3) As a result of the positive psychology movement that has gained momentum around the world, well-being is now known to be a significant factor influencing quality of life, health, and human performance. This course explores the essence of well-being and its relevance to everyday living. The course also broadens students' perspective by exploring well-being within cultural and global contexts. Students will be given multiple opportunities to examine institutional and cultural influences on individual and societal well-being as well as the global forces influencing the development and use of the human experience of well-being across the globe.

KNH 242. Personal Health. (3) Variable course content based upon students' personal health problems and needs. Includes such topics as mental health, marriage and family, mood modifiers, nutrition, etc. Prerequisite: sophomore standing.

KNH 276. Current Issues in Leisure and Sport. (3) This course engages students in a critical examination of leisure as negotiated practices and experiences. Issues of globalization, sustainability, social equality and social justice are explored and provide a context for students to reflect on their leisure and inform their future professional practice.

KNH/BWS/SOC 279. African Americans in Sport. (3) Socio-historical analysis participation of African Americans in sport and society, and examination of the role sport has played in African Americans' integration into the larger society. Investigates the way the image of African Americans has been constructed and maintained through sporting practices. Sociological theories and concepts used to examine the impact of historical events, such as Reconstruction, black migration, and World Wars, on African American involvement in sport and other institutions.

KNH 448. Global Sport Perspectives. (3) This course provides students with a global perspective about sport, including research and professional practice information, across diverse cultural and global contexts. Students are provided opportunities to examine the global forces influencing sport participation, to critically analyze the meaning of sport for others and oneself, and to rethink complex issues and events in sport.
KNH/WGS 475. Women, Gender Relations and Sport. (3) Explores the meanings of women's participation in sport and physical activity using sociological, feminist, and cultural studies perspectives. Special consideration given to the ideological significance of sport in U.S. culture and way in which sporting women accept and challenge contemporary gender relations. Prerequisite: junior or graduate standing.

LAS 207. Latin America Before 1910. (3) Focuses on Latin America and the Caribbean before the twentieth century through broad historical survey emphasizing cultural, geographical, political, and social developments in colonial and pre-colonial Americas.

LAS 208/ATH 206. Introduction to Latin America. (3) An interdisciplinary introduction to contemporary Latin America and the Caribbean through anthropology, art, geography, environment, film, history, literature, music, politics, sports and others.

LAS/ATH/BWS/WGS 325. Identity, Race, Gender, Class. (3) Develops conceptual tools and critical perspectives that enable students to better understand and analyze the processes through which identities are constructed and experienced. Learning activities facilitate analysis of individual identities as experienced through the life cycle and across diverse cultural and subcultural contexts, and build a systematic understanding of the processes and dynamics through which identities and identity groups develop and interact.

MAC 143. Introduction to Media. (3) Introduction to major mass communication theories as a context to examining some major issues surrounding mass media in American society.

MAC/WGS 461. Gender, Sexuality and Media. (3) Examines how media help to shape notions of gender in society, how gender ideologies influence mass media perspectives and practices, and how mediated representations may reinforce or challenge social hierarchies based in differences of gender, race, ethnicity, class and sexual orientation.

MBI 111. Microorganisms and Human Diseases. (3) Discussion of microorganisms and human diseases they cause, with particular emphasis on the impact of these relationships on the development of human societies—past, present, and future. May not be used to fulfill A.B. requirements for microbiology majors.

MBI 121. The Microbial World. (3) Introduces basic concepts in the study of microorganisms - bacteria, viruses, and fungi. Topics include microbial structure and function, metabolism, genetics and the immune system. Special emphasis is placed on the impact of microorganisms on medicine, agriculture, food production, biotechnology, and the environment.

MBI 123. Experimenting with Microbes. (1) A series of laboratory exercises and demonstrations emphasizing general techniques of isolation, characterization, and cultivation of selected microorganisms. Co-requisite registration in MBI 111 or 121 required. May not be used to fulfill A.B. requirements for microbiology majors.

MBI 131. Community Health Perspectives. (3) Discussion of community health primarily from the perspective of leading causes of disease and death in the U.S. Exploration of the impact of environment, behavior, and disease, including prevention and treatment strategies, on human health, public resources, and quality of life for society. May not be used to fulfill A.B. requirements for microbiology majors.

MBI 143. Parasitology and Mycology Labs. (1) Combination of laboratory exercises, demonstrations, and discussions exploring concepts and techniques used in parasitology and mycology laboratories, including public health, research, and diagnostic laboratories. Does not count as credit toward an A.B. or B.S. in microbiology.
MBI 161. Elementary Medical Microbiology. (4) Elementary microbiology for students interested in a single unit devoted to understanding characteristics and activities of microorganisms and their relation to health and disease. Taught in Hamilton and Middletown only. Does not count as credit toward an A.B. in microbiology.

MGT 304. Cross-Cultural Management. (3) The course is designed to familiarize students with the major concepts used in managing people in diverse environments, both internationally and domestically. In addition to learning about a variety of cultures, students can become more adept at thinking about issues from multiple perspectives. Prerequisite: MGT 211 or 291.

MGT 402. Employment Law. (3) Examines the growing body of law that governs the employment relationship. Students learn the rights and responsibilities of employers and employees by reading and discussing judicial decisions. Aims at improving students’ ability to analyze legal questions and to identify the applications of the law for the practice of human resource management.

MTH 115. Mathematics for Teachers of Grades P-6. (4) Service Course. Topics include problem solving, numeration, computation, number theory, and rational numbers. Designed to provide content background for teaching mathematics in elementary grades. Successful completion of this course may require an examination in basic mathematics. Open only to early childhood or middle childhood majors not concentrating in mathematics and to special education majors. Prerequisite: two years of high school algebra or a college algebra course.

MTH 119. Quantitative Reasoning. (4) Quantitative reasoning is a course designed to satisfy the Miami Plan Formal Reasoning requirement for students in majors that do not specifically require a mathematics course beyond the level of Precalculus. The focus is on critical thinking and applications, and all topics are covered from a contextual standpoint. Topics include mathematical reasoning and problem solving, consumer math, probability, and statistics. Prerequisites: Successful completion of MTH 049, or an ACT Math score of at least 18, or an SAT Math score of at least 500, or a Miami International Math Placement Test score of at least 6, or permission of instructor.

MTH 121. Finite Mathematical Models. (3) Service Course. Introduction to linear, probabilistic, graph-theoretic, and network models with emphasis on development of algorithms. Systems of linear equations, linear programming, matrix algebra, graphs, networks, discrete probabilistic models, and linear recurrence relations with applications of these topics to areas in the management, social, and biological science. Prerequisite: MTH 102 or 104 or three years of college preparatory mathematics including Algebra II.

MTH 151. Calculus I. (5) Limits and continuity, derivatives, integration, calculus of trigonometric and exponential functions. Prerequisite: Successful completion of MTH 125, or an ACT Math score of at least 26, or an "old" SAT Math score of at least 590, or a "new" SAT Math score of at least 610, or score of at least 16 on the Miami International Math Placement Test.

MTH 249. Calculus II. (5) Fundamental concepts of MTH 151 (limits and continuity, differentiation, integration) followed by content of MTH 251. The honors course offers an in-depth treatment of these topics. Admission to the honors course requires honors standing or permission of the instructor. Prerequisite: a grade of B or better in MTH 151; if credit earned through the AP exam, a score of 4 or above. Limited to first-year students.

MUS/AMS 135. Understanding Jazz: Its History & Context. (3) History of jazz in the United States from its origins to the present. Emphasis placed on developing aural perceptions of stylistic differences between historical periods and significant performers.

MUS 184. Opera: Passport to the Liberal Arts. (3) Focuses on opera as the “total art work”, encompassing history, art, literature, theatre, business and traces the course of opera’s
MUS 225. And the Beat Goes On . . . The History of Rock and Roll. (3) This survey of Rock and Roll examines the roles the genre has played in the American imagination since the 1950s, and the perception and reception of the genre through time. It focuses on the ways that Rock fits into the narratives on American culture, gender and race, examining this music through the lens of politics, aesthetics, and society. The course progresses through the changing landscape of Rock from its roots in American popular culture in the early 20th century, continuing to the present day. The discussion continues through Metal and Hard Rock, to punk and disco, and much more. Students will learn to identify the formal, harmonic, rhythmic and textual characteristics that distinguish Rock subgenres. Through readings, films, demonstrations, class discussions and activities, and a great deal of music, this course explores the history of Rock and Roll, placing in context the musical, political and social forces that shaped its evolution and revolution.

MUS 185. Diverse Worlds of Music. (3) An investigation of music as it exists in diverse areas around the world. The approach will be ethnomusicological, best defined as an exploration of music and its relationship to human culture.

MUS 186. Global Popular Music. (3) This course is a survey of popular music throughout the world. Through the study of specific cultures and repertories, students will explore and engage in popular music in various cultural contexts in the United States, Europe, Asia, Africa and Latin America. The goal is to give students a broad understanding of what exactly is popular music, how it can be defined, and the differences and similarities amongst diverse popular music traditions.

MUS 189. Great Ideas in Western Music. (3) Development of a sequential listening skill and a descriptive vocabulary used in a study of the style of Western Art Music from Middle Ages through 20th century.

MUS 206. Tracking Sounds: A History of Film Music. (3) This course traces the technological developments, socio-political and economic trends, and musical styles that have shaped film music history from the end of the nineteenth century to today. The chronological trajectory of the course considers music in the silent film era (1895-1928), the early sound era (1928-1934), the Hollywood “Golden Age” (1935-1959), the New American Cinema (1960-1976), 1970s Eclecticism and Classicism, and postmodern film of the video and digital age since the 1980s. The course consistently engages film, animated features and film musicals produced in the United States, as well as international film from Germany, France, Russia, England and Japan. Students will watch and listen to clips of films in class and will periodically be expected to view and listen to entire films on their own. As an interdisciplinary course intended for students interested in both film and music studies, students do not need knowledge of music notation or theory.

MUS 211: History of Western Music. (3) History of Western music from antiquity to the present placed in global context. Music and society; analysis of representative styles from scores. Prerequisite: MUS 201-202 or permission of instructor.

MUS/IMS 221. Music Technologies. (3) Introduces students to the fundamentals of music technology in the context of its historical and cultural use. Scientific foundations of acoustics, digital audio, and audio engineering as well as technical skills for music production and notation will be addressed. Participants will learn the skills-based foundations of music technology through hands-on projects. Critical discussion will consider the social impact of contemporary and historical systems of recording, notation, and dissemination. Applications in the fields of interaction design, music entertainment, game design, digital signal processing, electrical engineering, music education, acoustics, and mass communications will be explored.

MUS 225. And the Beat Goes On . . . The History of Rock and Roll. (3) This survey of Rock and Roll examines the roles the genre has played in the American imagination since the 1950s, and the perception and reception of the genre through time. It focuses on the ways that Rock fits into the narratives on American culture, gender and race, examining this music through the lens of politics, aesthetics, and society. The course progresses through the changing landscape of Rock from its roots in American popular culture in the early 20th century, continuing to the present day. The discussion continues through Metal and Hard Rock, to punk and disco, and much more. Students will learn to identify the formal, harmonic, rhythmic and textual characteristics that distinguish Rock subgenres. Through readings, films, demonstrations, class discussions and activities, and a great deal of music, this course explores the history of Rock and Roll, placing in context the musical, political and social forces that shaped its evolution and revolution.

MUS/AMS 285. Introduction to African-American Music. (3) General survey of traditional West African music and its offspring in America from slavery to the early 1990s. Major emphasis is placed on the contributory, sociological settings for significant musical forms and styles. Prerequisite: MUS/ AMS 135 or MUS 185.

MUS/WGS 287. Enter the Diva: Women in Music. (3)
American women in music from 1900 to present. Women have made considerable contributions to the various genres and traditions that define American music. From popular forms to concert music there are numerous women who have constructed a musical discourse that chronicles their experiences in America and their conceptions of womanhood. This course is designed to chronicle the experiences of these women musicians and vocalists and discuss their musical approaches. Discussions include traditional music practices as well as contemporary popular music styles. Prerequisite: MUS 135, 185 or 189, or permission of instructor.

MUS 385. The Roots of Black Music: Blues, Gospel and Soul.
(3) Development of these music genres in America. In-depth analysis of stylistic differences and musical and cultural relationships between each. Prerequisite: MUS/AMS 285 or permission of instructor.

MUS/AMS 386. The History and Development of Hip Hop Culture in America.
(3) Surveys development of the Hip Hop culture (rapping, graffiti art, breaking, Djing) from black vernacular forms in Africa and America. Prerequisite: MUS/AMS 285, MUS 385, or permission of instructor.

NCS 401. Capstone in Nonprofit and Community Studies.
(3) Focuses on the production of a senior project in collaboration with an appropriate community partner. As part of the Miami Plan, it emphasizes sharing of ideas, synthesis, and critical, informed action and reflection, and includes student initiative in defining and investigating problems or projects. Culminates in a public presentation for community and university members.

NSG 430. Nursing Care of Aggregates: Families and Communities.
(4) This course provides a theoretical and a practicum background in community health nursing. The course is based on the synthesis of nursing theory and the public health sciences. Emphasis is on the promotion and maintenance of the health of populations with a particular emphasis on vulnerable populations, culture and cultural beliefs affecting care. The course assists students to recognize and analyze the interrelationship among individuals, families, population groups and the community in determining the health status of each. A practicum experience allows students to apply theory to practice and use their new knowledge and understanding of persons belonging to vulnerable populations in real world settings. Pre or co-requisite MBI 361.

PHL 103. Society and the Individual.
(3) A study of the relationship between human beings and the societies in which they live and of the implications different perspectives on this relationship have for a view of social justice. We investigate this relation in terms of its political, economic, social, ethical, and epistemological dimensions. Introduces fundamental questions of philosophy and basic reasoning skills, methodologies, and concepts used by philosophers. Students are prepared for further work in philosophy and develop skills in critical thinking, reading, and writing for any area of learning.

PHL 104. Purpose of Chance in the Universe.
(3) Is the present universe the result of purpose or chance? Positions and arguments on this question by scientists and philosophers at different points in Western history are studied. Special attention is paid to recent developments in scientific cosmology that throws important new light on the question. Whether the results of the inquiry support purpose or chance more strongly is considered. Introduces fundamental questions of philosophy and basic reasoning skills, methodologies, and concepts used by philosophers. Students are prepared for further work in philosophy and develop skills in critical thinking, reading, and writing for any area of learning.

PHL 105. Theories of Human Nature.
(3) There have been various ways that human beings have understood themselves and their place in nature. Every conception of the self embodies a conception of what can be known, of how we ought to live, of what values we ought to hold, and to what extent we are free. We will consider various conceptions of the person in light of these questions. This course will introduce fundamental questions of philosophy and basic reasoning skills, methodologies, and concepts used by philosophers. Students are prepared for further work in philosophy and develop skills in critical thinking, reading, and writing for any area of learning.

PHL 106. Thought and Culture of India. (3) Examines India's history and civilization, philosophies and religions, arts and literature, science and technology as a culture's self-understanding and self-expression of its ideas, values, and ways of thinking. Comparisons made between Indian and other ways of thought and modes of living.

PHL 131. Introduction to Ethics. (3) This course introduces students to, and cultivates, ethical reasoning. The course will foster students' capacity to recognize ethical issues and situations, to understand different ethical perspectives and concepts, and to engage in ethical deliberation. Students will have opportunities to analyze concrete situations and human conduct in relation to ethical principles, ideas, and frameworks and thereby to reflect more deeply on their own values and on the social context of ethical obligations and ethical dilemmas. Course topics may include the nature of our responsibilities to ourselves and to others, confrontations between the rights of an individual and those of society, and consideration of what it means to lead a good life. The course aims to enrich students' ability to see themselves as ethical actors in the world. (This course is the first course in the Ethics thematic sequence and counts toward the minor in Ethics, Society, and Culture.)

PHL 273. Formal Logic. (4) Survey of elementary logical systems: Aristotelian, Boolean, sentential, quantified. Scientific method and issues in the philosophy of logic may be included.

PHY 101. Physics and Society. (3) Introduction of fundamental principles of physics and discussion of the interaction of science and society, today and in the past. Provides skills in thinking critically about societal problems that have a scientific or technological component.

PHY 103. Concepts in Physics Laboratory. (1) Laboratory course illustrating the basic concepts of physics. For the general student; complements physics lecture offerings at the nonspecialist level. Prerequisite or co-requisite: PHY 101, 111, 118, 121, 131, or 141.

PHY 111. Astronomy and Space Physics. (3) Study of space exploration, astrophysics, astronomy, and cosmology.

PHY 118. Introduction to Atmospheric Science. (3) Introductory survey of a broad range of atmospheric phenomena with emphasis on how they can affect our lives and mankind's impact on a changing atmospheric environment. Quantitative, illustrative, and mostly non-mathematical approach to processes that pertain to such topics as composition of the atmosphere, global climate, large-scale weather systems and the nature of violent storms. Develops skills in the areas of problem solving (using charts instead of equations) and elementary weather forecasting.

PHY 121. Energy and Environment. (3) Application of physics principles and models to societal uses of energy. Includes mechanics, electricity and magnetism, thermodynamics, and atomic and nuclear physics. Energy topics include resources, environmental problems, global atmospheric challenges, nuclear power, solar energy, alternative energy systems, and energy conservation. Algebraic skills are required but no previous course in physics is needed.

PHY 131. Physics for Music. (3) Introduction to the basic physics of sound within the context of music. Production, transmission, and reception of sound waves; traditional and electronic musical instruments; physics of sound reproduction.

PHY 141. Physics in Sport. (3) Various aspects of a dozen or more sports are treated using the laws of physics. Provides the non-science student with insight into principles governing motion, dynamics, and other elements of physics in sports.

PHY 161. Physics for the Life Sciences with Laboratory I. (4) This is a quantitative introduction to the basic physical laws of nature. Classical mechanics and quantum physics are emphasized. Concepts are developed through lectures, demonstrations, computer simulations, laboratory activities, and problem solving. Qualitative reasoning is emphasized and quantitative problem-solving skills are developed. Algebra and trigonometry are used. No previous physics course is required. Prerequisite: ACT Math sub score 26 or SAT Math sub score 610 or Math Placement Test score of 16 or MTH 125.

PHY 162. Physics for the Life Sciences with Laboratory II. (4) This is a quantitative introduction to the basic physical laws of nature. Thermal physics, electromagnetism, and relativity are emphasized. Concepts are developed through lectures, demonstrations, computer simulations, laboratory activities, and problem solving. Qualitative reasoning is emphasized and quantitative problem-solving skills are developed. Algebra and trigonometry are used.

PHY 191. General Physics with Laboratory I. (5) This is a quantitative introduction to the basic physical laws of nature. Classical mechanics and quantum physics are emphasized. Concepts are developed through lectures, demonstrations, computer simulations, laboratory activities, and problem solving. Qualitative reasoning is emphasized and quantitative problem-solving skills are developed. Concepts from differential and integral calculus are developed and used. No previous physics course is required. 4 Lec. 1 Lab. Corequisite: MTH 151 or equivalent.

PHY 192. General Physics with Laboratory II. (5) This is a quantitative introduction to the basic physical laws of nature. Thermal physics, electromagnetism, and relativity are emphasized. Concepts are developed through lectures, demonstrations, computer simulations, laboratory activities, and problem solving. Qualitative reasoning is emphasized and quantitative problem-solving skills are developed. Concepts from differential and integral calculus are developed and used. 4 Lec. 1 Lab. Prerequisite: MTH 151 or equivalent, PHY 191 or equivalent. Co-requisite: MTH 249, MTH 251 or equivalent.

POL 142. American Politics and Diversity. (3) Foundations and operations of the American political system, with emphasis on “the people” and how they belong to, challenge, and change the system. How the competing values of unity and diversity influence American politics.

POL 221. Modern World Governments. (3) Comparative introduction to the development, governmental structures, and political processes of societies in the modern world. Case studies used to relate theories to actual problems and governing strategies in contemporary political systems.

POL 241. American Political System. (3) Theories and methods of political analysis applied to the American political system. Political beliefs, behavior, institutions, and public policies in the American case will be examined.

POL 271. World Politics. (3) Introduction to international politics with emphasis on factors and processes producing harmony and conflict in interactions within the international system.

POR/FST/MUS 204. Brazilian Culture Through Music and Film. (3) Through music, lyrics and rhythms this course raises questions about history, national identity, social, religious, and ethnic diversity in Brazil.

POR/BWS/ENG/WGS/FST 383. Brazilian Women through Literature and Film. (3) Addresses questions about gender, race, class and stereotype of women's bodies in 20th-century Brazil.

PSY 111. Introduction to Psychology. (3) Introduction to content, methods, issues, and theories of psychology. Credit not granted to students who have earned credit in EDP 101. Corequisite: PSY 112.

PSY 325. Psychology of Prejudice and Minority Experience. (3) Consideration of psychological factors underlying prejudice toward racial, ethnic, and other minorities. Impact of prejudice and discrimination on members of minority groups. Prerequisite: PSY 221 and PSY 294.

REL 101. American Religious Encounters. (3) Introduction to the study of religion as a phenomenon of human culture. Various examples of religion are observed and compared in relationship to a thematic and methodological framework.

REL/BIO 128. Religion, Science and Origins. (3) A team-taught, interdisciplinary introduction to the science behind the theory of evolution and to religious responses to that theory, including contemporary controversies around creation science and intelligent design. Multiple disciplinary perspectives are brought to bear, drawn from fields in both the natural sciences (such as biology) and the humanities (such as philosophy of science, sociology of knowledge, science studies, intellectual and cultural history, and comparative religion).

REL/RUS 133. Imagining Russia. (3) Survey of Russian history, society, politics, economy, literature, film, and arts from a variety of intellectual perspectives. Classroom lectures plus out of class cultural presentations.

REL 275. Introduction to the Critical Study of Biblical Literature. (3) Surveys, origins, historical development, and content of texts, both canonical & non-canonical, that contributed to the formation of the Bible against the background of the advent and continuing development of modern literary and historical-critical methods.

REL 286. Global Jewish Civilization. (3) How did the Jewish people persist through the vicissitudes of enslavement, conquest, dispersion, and return, over the course of three thousand years of history? In this course, we will study the encounter between Jews and the cultures and lands in which they lived, through a consideration of Jewish sacred texts and literature, spanning the globe from Ancient Mesopotamia to modern America.

REL/WGS 313. Marriage Across Cultures. (3) Engages feminist theory and gender studies to explore the consequences of different types of marital formations (polygamous as well as monogamous) for the lives of women and men in selected Western and non-Western cultures.

REL 314. Social and Religious History of the Jewish People. (3) Cultural, social, and religious history of Jews in Europe, America, and the Middle East since Enlightenment with emphasis on 20th century and in the context of the larger society and culture.

RUS 137. Russian Folklore. (3) Introduction to Russian folklore, including study of the folk tale, charms and incantations, ceremonial poetry connected with the calendar, jokes, proverbs, folk ditties, wedding ceremonies, funeral customs, modern gestures, and graffiti. Some discussion devoted to Slavic pre-Christian society and survivals of heathen customs in the Christian era.

RUS/ENG 255. Russian Literature from Pushkin to Dostoevsky in English Translation. (3) Examines works by Pushkin, Lermontov, Gogol, Turgenev, and Dostoevsky and a number of critical essays representative of a variety of viewpoints. Uses interdisciplinary approach which takes into account social, historical, political, religious, as well as literary factors.

RUS/ENG 256. Russian Literature in English Translation; From Tolstoy to Nabokov. (3) Treatment of selected works of Russian literature (realism, modernism, postmodernism) with special attention to Tolstoy, Chekhov, Bunin, Sologub, Bulgakov, Babel and Nabokov. Cross-listed with ENG.

SJS/SOC 165. Introduction to Social Justice Studies. (3) The Introduction to Social Justice provides a basis to understand, interpret, and solve social problems in fair, equitable, and just ways.

SJS 215. EMPOWER I: Educational and Economic Justice and Service-Learning (3) EMPOWER explores how educational and economic injustices impact communities and considers strategies for social change. This course contains a Service-Learning component.

SJS/SOC/GIC 487. Globalization, Social Justice and Human Rights. (3) This course explores the theories, issues, debates, and pedagogy associated with globalization, social justice, and human rights. The course provides students with a unique opportunity to explore these topics within the classroom and, via internet and other technologies, across classrooms located around the globe. The student, through collaborative projects with peers around the world, will reflect upon how globalization shapes and transforms local communities and national cultures. Prerequisites: GIC 101, SOC 151 or 152 or SJS/SOC 165.

Considerable treatment of comparative folklore worldwide.
SOC 151. Social Relations. (4) Introduction to and application of the principles, methods, and major theoretical orientations of sociology in providing a basic understanding of the social aspects of human life. (MPF 151F for freshmen only). Credit is NOT given for both SOC 151 and SOC 153.

SOC 153. Sociology in a Global Context. (3) Designed to develop the sociological imagination—an imagination that allows students to place themselves in a larger, ever-changing global world. Serves as a prerequisite for upper level sociology courses and as an entry course for the Sociology major, Sociology minors and thematic sequences. Credit for the sociology major is NOT given for both SOC 151 and SOC 153.

SOC/WGS 203. Sociology of Gender. (3) Description and analysis of gender in human society with special attention to constraints placed on both males and females by current socialization practices, and to issues in equality from historic as well as contemporary perspectives.

SOC/FSW/BWS 362. Family Poverty. (3) Examines the definitions, theories, causes, and consequences of family poverty in the U.S. Identifies the extent and degree of U.S. poverty and demographic characteristics of those who are poor or likely to become poor. Consideration given to programs that reduce poverty, and/or its negative effects, including those practices in the past, those now practiced, and those that offer promise for improving the economic and social status of those who are poor. Costs and benefits of welfare and welfare reform and strategies for preventing poverty among future generations also discussed and evaluated.

SOC 372. Social Stratification. (3) Major theoretical approaches toward the study of social classes and social differentiation. Particular emphasis on the nature and consequences of stratification systems within the U.S. Prerequisite: SOC 151 or SOC 153; or SOC/SJS 165.

SOC/GIC 421. Critical Race and Post-Colonial Studies. (3) Utilizes critical sociology (intersectionality, critical race, and post-colonial theory) to investigate how race and social structures interact over time both within the U.S. and globally. Specifically the course examines the theories, research and policy associated with intersectional identities of race, class, gender, place and context. Finally, it investigates the role of intersectionality in (re)producing systems of inequality, privilege, and how they can be transformed. Prerequisites: CRE 151, GIC 101, SJS 165 or SOC 151.

SPA 127. Introduction to Communication Disorders. (3) Overview of disorders of communication, special problems of speech, language and hearing impairments, and treatment.

SPA 223. Theories of Language Development. (3) Survey of the integration of scientific and theoretical knowledge about the normal acquisition of language from birth to adulthood. Introduction to the linguistic aspects of cultural, political, and environmental impacts on acquisition of language, relationship between English and coexistent languages, gender-related differences in conversational interactions, and the complex interaction of culture and language development.

SPA/DST 312. Deaf Culture: Global, National and Local Issues. (3) Provides a comprehensive orientation to the Deaf and hard-of-hearing communities in continents around the globe. Students will learn the basic vocabulary and grammar of American Sign Language. Consideration will also be given to sign systems in Europe and the U.S. The students will be introduced to the sociolinguistic aspects of educational, political and environmental impacts on Deaf culture, identity, and language.

SPN 292. Language and the Latin American Diaspora. (3) This is a course on the sociolinguistic manifestations of the Latin American diaspora, with concentration on the US and Spain as two parallel but not equal migratory contexts. Students will study the historic causes and social consequences of linguistic phenomena such as social bilingualism, language contact, language policy, and language in the mass media. Class work emphasizes the discursive analysis of original oral and written texts from immigrant communities and host societies. Taught in translation.

SPN 315. Introduction to Hispanic Literature. (3) Close reading and critical analysis of selected poetry, essay, narrative fiction, and drama from Spain and Latin America. Prerequisite: SPN 311.
THE 261. Statistics. (4) Service Course. Descriptive statistics, basic probability, random variables, binomial and normal probability distributions, tests of hypotheses, regression and correlation, analysis of variance. Emphasis on applications. Credit not normally given for more than one of these: ISA 205, STA 261, STA 301, STA 368.

STC 136. Introduction to Interpersonal Communication. (3) Introduction to major theories and empirical research regarding the role of interpersonal communication and related personal, contextual, and cultural variables in the development of various types of dyadic relationships. (Non-majors only. Does not count toward any communication degree). Credit not granted to students who have earned credit in STC 134.

THE 101. Introduction to Theatre: Drama and Analysis. (3) Examination of drama and theatre production as modes of human expression. Students will explore myriad approaches to script analysis and theatre criticism within various historical and cultural contexts.

THE 123. Acting for the Non-Major: Text and Performance. (3) Introduction to the art of acting for the non-theatre major. Focuses on developing basic acting skills through improvisation and scene work; includes study of script analysis and acting theory. Credit cannot be applied to major degree in theatre.

THE 191. Experiencing Theatre. (3) This course introduces non-majors to all aspects of theatre arts through online lectures and assignments as well as weekly face-to-face class sessions. This course will help students appreciate the theatre—its role in our lives as well as the ways in which it is created. Credit cannot be applied to the theatre major or minor.

THE 257. Stagecraft and Theatre Technologies. (3) An introduction to the technologies involved in the conception and creation of visual environments that help tell theatrical stories. Topics include scenic construction, lighting instrumentation and control, and digital and traditional exploration of graphic representation of theatrical environments.

THE 393. Cultural, Ethnic and Gender Issues in Dramatic Literature. (3) May be offered with various focuses (including African, African American, Latin American, Asian American, feminist perspectives, as well as others) as it explores culture, race, gender and identity in performance. Emphasis on developing student appreciation of and critical response to drama and performance. Prerequisite: THE 101 or THE 191.

WGS 201. Introduction to Women’s Studies. (3) Interdisciplinary introduction to the study of women which focuses on determinants and expressions of women’s roles.

WGS 202. Introduction to GLBT Studies. (3) Introduction to the scholarly field of GLBT (Gay, Lesbian, Bisexual, Transgender) Studies. Provides the intellectual foundation for the further study of non-normative genders and sexualities.

WGS 301. Woman and Difference: Intersections of Race, Class, and Sexuality. (3) Investigation of the interdisciplinary theoretical approaches to the interplay of race, class, gender, sexual orientation, and other aspects of social identity in women’s lives; analysis of the ways social difference is defined, used, and experienced. Emphasis on feminist and womanist theories that take into account the interdependence of multiple categories of social difference. Open to majors and minors or other students with permission of instructor. Prerequisite: WGS 201.

WST 201. Self and Place. (3) Investigates various disciplinary models for how place and identity interact in American culture, and, specifically, how the local environment, including geographical location, ethnic traditions, and family traditions, impact our lives. Students draw upon their own life experiences to begin to formulate their intellectual interests.
BEGINNING YOUR ACADEMIC PLAN

Key Tips

- Seek a balance in your schedule. Select a combination of courses that meet different needs and promote different skills (writing, quantitative learning, reading).

- Leave time for breaks between classes. Grouping all of your classes into a few days or toward the end of the day may be tempting, but you need to give yourself time in between classes to study, review for a quiz, or eat.

- Remember you are planning only for your first year, not for your entire four years. Use the first year to meet prerequisites and Global Miami Plan Foundation courses, as well as courses of potential interest.

Student Class Schedule Worksheet

INSTRUCTIONS

1. Students pursuing most majors should plan on taking approximately 15-18 credit hours your first semester.

2. Try to take courses from different areas of the Global Miami Plan Foundation.

3. Remember that not all courses will have available seats. So be sure to have a first, second, and third choice for all of your course selections.

4. Take into account your foreign language, math and other placement recommendations in making choices.

5. If you anticipate receiving AP or transfer credit, consult the chart on pages 33-36 of this publication or check with your advisor at summer orientation to see where those credits may fit.

6. If you are in a living-learning community that includes a course, those will be automatically added to your schedule.

7. Follow this scheduling order when completing the worksheet: Enter courses required for your major, then courses that you are most interested in taking and that will fulfill the Global Miami Plan, then math/formal reasoning (if applicable to your first year), then English (if applicable to your first year), and finally electives.

8. Online courses are completely online and do not require you to attend a regular class meeting. Online courses are typically offered through a password-protected collaborative learning environment called Canvas. Course content is typically available 24 hours a day and communication takes place in a variety of ways. The advantages of online courses include flexibility, mobility, and accessibility. Keep in mind these courses can be very time-consuming and require discipline and good time management to complete. These courses are designated in the Course List with an attribute of Online Course (ONL).

Information about Divisions & Suggested First-Year Schedules

College of Arts & Science

The divisional requirement in the College of Arts and Science is called the College Requirement (CAS). These requirements emphasize skills and competencies needed for the 21st century, as well as breadth of knowledge in the humanities, social sciences, and natural sciences (biological and physical). Together with the depth of knowledge acquired within a major, the CAS Requirement prepares students for a variety of educational, professional, and career aspirations.

If you are working toward a Bachelor of Arts (A.B.), you must fulfill all sections of the CAS Requirement; if you are working toward a Bachelor of Science (B.S.), you must fulfill only CAS-A (foreign language), but the B.S. requires more hours within your major and related hours.

CAS-A FOREIGN LANGUAGE

Direct acquisition of a different communication system facilitates access to a foreign culture. It also promotes understanding of how language structures human consciousness, increases the understanding of your own language, and makes possible a more informed awareness of the interaction between language and other social institutions.

All foreign languages taught at Miami are applicable for this requirement. They include: American Sign Language, Arabic, Chinese, French, German, Italian, Japanese, Korean, Latin, Portuguese, Russian, and Spanish.

The foreign language requirement may be met in any one of the following ways:

- Passing the 202 course (or its equivalent in a program abroad), or a language course at/above the 300 level that has 202 as a prerequisite; courses in English translation cannot apply to this requirement.

- Earning credit through a foreign language examination (Advanced Placement, College Level Examination Program, International Baccalaureate) with an appropriate score. Information on acceptable scores is included in the Academic Planning chapter of this Bulletin.

- International students whose native language is not English may use English to satisfy the foreign language requirement. (See the College of Arts & Science Academic Advising Office.)

- Students who are fluent in a language not offered at Miami University should work with a CAS academic advisor on how to satisfy this requirement.

- In some language departments admission to language skills courses may be denied to native or quasi-native speakers and heritage speakers.

LAT 202 may fulfill either CAS-A or CAS-B-LIT, but not both.

The foreign language placement guide in the Academic Planning chapter describes the background necessary to enter a course at a certain level; this will help you choose your first course. Our online placement tests are diagnostic tools and do not award academic credit.

CAS-B HUMANITIES

The human experience and how we record it can be expressed in many forms, but some of the most traditional ways have evolved into the subjects of: history, language, literature, philosophy, and religion. These humanities are important as they help us understand the intricacies of human values and how they have shaped the world around us. Through studying these subjects, we are able to connect with cultures past, present, and different from our own.
Requirement:

- Nine semester hours total

- Six semester hours must be from two different sub-categories: history, literature, philosophy, and religion.

- Humanities courses include all courses from the departments of History, (including CLS 101 and CLS 102), Philosophy (except PHL 273), Comparative Religion, and literature courses offered by the departments of: Classics; English; French and Italian; German, Russian, Asian, Middle Eastern Languages and Cultures; Spanish and Portuguese; and Theatre.

- The remaining three semester hours may be taken from the sub-categories, or from a list of courses that do not fall into a specific sub-category.

CAS-C SOCIAL SCIENCE

Through the systematic study of individual interpersonal interactions, the behavior of social sub-groups, and larger cultural and societal norms, we are able to analyze how the world operates and then begin to predict future actions or behaviors. These social science subjects, help us understand - with data -the world beyond our personal experience.

Requirement:

- Nine semester hours total

- Six semester hours must be from two different sub-categories: anthropology, economics, geography, political science, psychology, and sociology/gerontology/social justice.

- Social Science courses include all courses from the departments of Anthropology; Economics; Geography (except GEO 121, GEO 431/GEO 531, and GEO 432/GEO 532); Political Science; Psychology; and Sociology and Gerontology.

- The remaining three hours may be taken from the sub-categories, or from a list of courses that do not fall into a specific sub-category.

CAS-D NATURAL SCIENCE

Learning to understand natural phenomena through observations and experimentation is important as it relies on a structured process to organize, test, and analyze information and reach logical conclusions. The physical sciences are involved largely with the behavior of energy, particles, atoms, and molecules, while the biological sciences are concerned with nature, variation, richness, and interactions of phenomena of life. This requirement introduces you to various aspects of scientific inquiry as practiced in biology, botany, chemistry, geology, microbiology, physical geography, and physics. Laboratory experience is included to demonstrate the relationship between theories or models used within a given science and experimental results.

Requirement:

- Ten semester hours from courses within the College of Arts and Science natural science areas

- At least three semester hours in biological science

- At least three semester hours in physical science

- One laboratory course

- Biological science includes all courses offered by the departments of Biology (except BIO 128) and Microbiology, as well as GEO 431/GEO 531 and GEO 432/GEO 532.

- Physical science includes all courses offered by the departments of Chemistry and Biochemistry, Geology & Environmental Earth Science, and Physics; as well as GEO 121 and GEO 122.

- Consult with an advisor to identify an appropriate laboratory course for you to take.
CAS-E FORMAL REASONING
Students pursuing a liberal education must expand and enhance their capacity to reason. This requirement does that through the study of inductive and deductive thinking; through disciplines that employ formalized languages as the means to develop such thinking. This includes areas like data analysis, mathematics, statistics, logic, and linguistics. Unlike the Miami Plan Foundation V, this requirement does not include topics pertaining to technology.

Requirement:
• Three semester hours, designated as CAS-E

• Math placement is based upon your ACT/SAT math sub-scores. Please consult the mathematics and statistics placement guide in the Academic Planning chapter or an academic advisor to determine the appropriate course to take.

• Many majors either require or strongly suggest a specific course for this requirement

CAS-QL QUANTITATIVE LITERACY
It is a must nowadays for students to be able to gather, manipulate, and analyze data and data sets. This ability to ‘tell a story with numbers’ will only grow in importance.

Requirement:
• Three semester hours, designated as CAS-QL

• A student cannot take a course for both this requirement and the Global Miami Plan Foundation V or CAS-E requirements; however, the same course can be applied to other areas in the Global Miami Plan Foundation or CAS requirements and the CAS-QL.

CAS-W WRITING COMPETENCE
Educated individuals need to exhibit advanced writing abilities in their chosen field of study. Our students learn the writing practices and conventions of their discipline and how to effectively communicate with others both in their field and out. Effective writing is learned gradually and through ongoing attention and sustained feedback. As such, each Bachelor of Arts major has a course or set of courses embedded in the requirements for the major.

Planning for Registration
As you plan for your academic program, keep these important points in mind:

• Have multiple choices selected for each requirement to help the registration process

• Since you are required to earn credit at the 202 level or higher in a foreign language, we encourage you to either build on your high school courses or start a new language and complete this requirement within your first two years. See the Foreign Language Placement Guide in Planning Your Schedule section of this Guidebook.

• While many Global Miami Plan courses do overlap with the CAS requirement, do not assume that all of them will count for both.

• Courses taken to fulfill your major, minor, or major related hours can also count toward toward the Global Miami Plan or the College requirements.
Pre-Professional Programs

PRE-DENTISTRY
Most pre-dental students at Miami plan to receive the A.B. degree, majoring in chemistry, microbiology, or zoology. However, you may choose any major as long as the basic required courses are included in the program. The General Bulletin provides more details.

PRE-LAW
Law schools do not require specific courses or majors for admission; however, courses that develop your skills in communication, detailed reading, research, and writing will be helpful. Many students opt to take courses in ethics, literature, logic, history, criminology to help develop these skills. Also, basic courses in accountancy, government, and American national traditions and history are desirable. Students should connect early with the Sue J. Henry Center for Pre-Law Education in 159 Upham Hall (513-529-0877), if they are interested in a future in law.

PRE-MEDICINE
The choice of major for premedical students is not specified by any medical school. While many students major in biology, chemistry, microbiology, psychology or zoology, most medical schools admit majors from across the board, as long as the student has met the basic science requirements. The premedical studies co-major includes all of the basic science requirements and is an option for any undergraduate student, regardless of major. See a description of this co-major later in this Guidebook.

The official handbook, Medical School Admission Requirements, is available in the Science Library. More information is also available in Miami's General Bulletin. Students should also connect with the Mallory-Wilson Center for Healthcare Education in 106 Pearson Hall (513-529-3737) to take advantage of the opportunities and services they offer.
First-Year Schedules by Division

Arts and Science: Suggested First-Year Courses

“MP” designates a Global Miami Plan Foundation course. ENG 111 can be taken either fall or spring semester, but should be completed within the first year.

AMERICAN STUDIES (A.B.)

Potential Career Paths: advertising law, diplomacy museums & cultural institutions, education, non-profit administration, entrepreneurship, public policy, film & television, sales & marketing, journalism, social work.

Fall semester:
AMS 205 Introduction to American Cultures (3) MP or AMS 207 America: Global and Intercultural Perspectives (3) MP
Foreign language (3-4) CAS-A
ENG 111 Composition and Rhetoric (3) MP

Two of these:
WGS 201 Introduction to Women’s Studies (3)
CRE 151 Introduction to Critical Race and Ethnicities (3) MP or Other MP/CAS course (3)
ENG 275 or 276 Life and Thought in American Literature (3) MP
HST 111/112 Survey of American History (3) MP
HST 212 United States History since 1945 (3)
POL 241 American Political System (3) MP

Spring semester:
AMS 206 Approaches to American Culture CAS-W MP (3)
Foreign language (3-4) CAS-A
ATH 185 Cultural Diversity of the U.S. (3) MP or Other MP/CAS course (3)
Natural science (3-4) MP

One of these:
GEO 219 Geography of the United States and Canada (3)
POL 142 American Politics and Diversity (3) MP
REL 101 American Religious Encounters (3) MP
SOC 153 Sociology in a Global Context (3) MP

ANALYTICS CO-MAJOR

To complete the analytics co-major, you must also complete the requirements for a primary major. Students may select any major as the primary major, although majors in statistics, mathematics and statistics, computer science in the College of Engineering and Computing, and information systems in the Farmer School of Business will find the most overlap among the requirements. First select courses recommended for the primary major, and then select courses to satisfy the introductory requirements for the co-major.

Fall or spring semester:
STA 261 Statistics (4) MP or STA 301 Applied Statistics (3) or STA/ISA 125 Introduction to Business Statistics (3)
CSE 148 Business Computing (3) or CSE 174 Fundamentals of Programming and Problem Solving (3)

Note: If you receive AP credit for STA 261, you should enroll in STA 363 Introduction to Statistical Modeling (3) or ISA 225 Principles of Business Analytics (3)
ANTHROPOLOGY (A.B.)

Potential Career Paths:  anthropologist, archaeologist, cultural resource manager, health care provider (e.g. nurse, paramedic, physician), human relations manager, human design researcher, human rights advocate, English language instructor, international business manager, international research fieldworker, lawyer, marketing director, medical advocate, medical researcher, museum curator, sales manager, user design consultant.

Fall semester:

Take any one of the following four ATH core courses in the fall and a 300 level ATH course of your choice:

ATH 212 Introduction to Archaeological Theory and Methods (4) or ATH 231 Foundations of Cultural Anthropology (4) or ATH 255 Foundations of Biological Anthropology (4) or ATH 265 Introduction to Linguistic Anthropology (4)

ENG 111 Composition and Rhetoric (3) MP or Other MP/CAS course (3)

Foreign language (3-4) CAS-A

Humanities or creative arts (3) MP and/or Natural science (3-4) MP

Spring semester:

Take a remaining one ATH core courses not taken in the fall and a 300 level ATH course of your choice:

ATH 212 Introduction to Archaeological Theory and Methods (4) or ATH 231 Foundations of Cultural Anthropology (4) or ATH 255 Foundations of Biological Anthropology (4) or ATH 265 Introduction to Linguistic Anthropology (4)

ENG 111 Composition and Rhetoric (3) MP or Other MP/CAS course (3)

Foreign language (3-4) CAS-A

Humanities or creative arts (3) MP and/or Natural science (3-4) MP

BIOCHEMISTRY (A.B., B.S.)

Potential Career Paths:  applied research and product development including foods, pharmaceuticals, biomaterials, genetically modified products; clinical and biomedical research, quality assurance, toxicology, biomedical engineering, medical equipment and drug sales and marketing, bioinformatics. Gaining admission into graduate schools in biochemistry, biophysics, and professional schools in medicine, pharmacy, and health-related sciences.

Fall semester:

CHM 141 or 141H College Chemistry (3) MP and

CHM 144M or 144 College Chemistry Laboratory (2) MP

CHM 147 Introductory Seminar - Chemistry and Biochemistry (1)

ENG 111 Composition and Rhetoric (3) MP

Humanities, creative arts, or social science (3-4) MP or foreign language (3-4) CAS-A

MTH 151 Calculus I (5) MP

Spring semester:

BIO/MBI 116 Biological Concepts : Structure, Function, Cellular, and Molecular Biology (4) MP strongly recommended

CHM 142 or 142M or 142H College Chemistry (3) and

CHM 145M or 145 College Chemistry Laboratory (2)

ENG 111 Composition and Rhetoric (3) MP or Humanities, creative arts or social science (3-4) MP or Foreign language (3-4) CAS-A

MTH 251 Calculus II (4)
BIOLOGICAL PHYSICS (B.S.)

Potential Career Paths: astrophysicist, nuclear physicist, systems analyst, applications programmer, geophysical surveyor, laser technician, medical physics, medical & dental school, as well as advanced study in the field.

Fall semester:

- ENG 111 Composition and Rhetoric (3) MP or Other MP/CAS course (3)
- MTH 151 Calculus I (5) or MTH 249 Calculus II (5) MP
- PHY 191 General Physics with Laboratory I (5)
- PHY 185 Experiencing the Physical World (1)
- Humanities, creative arts, social science or global perspectives (3-4) MP or foreign language (3-5) CAS-A

Spring semester:

- ENG 111 Composition and Rhetoric (3) or Other MP/CAS course (3)
- MTH 251 Calculus II (4) or MTH 252 Calculus III (4)
- PHY 192 General Physics with Laboratory II (5)
- Humanities, creative arts or social science (3-4) MP or foreign language (3-4) CAS-A

Note: Biological physics majors pursuing a premedical studies path should replace the humanities, creative arts, social science or global perspectives (3-4) MP or foreign language (3-5) CAS-A with CHM 141/144 in the fall semester and CHM 142/145 in the spring semester.

BIOLOGY (A.B., B.S.)

Potential Career Paths: environmental analyst/planner, laboratory technician, park naturalist, healthcare administrator, high school biology teacher, curator in a museum, zoo or botanical garden, or admission to pre-professional schools (medical, veterinary, dental, etc.) or graduate school.

Fall semester:

- BIO/MBI 115 Biological Concepts : Ecology, Evolution, Genetics, and Diversity (4) MP
- BIO 147 Introductory Seminar (1)
- CHM 141, CHM 144 College Chemistry and Laboratory (3, 2) MP
- ENG 111 Composition and Rhetoric (3) MP or Other MP/CAS course (3)
- Humanities, creative arts, or social science (3-4) MP or foreign language (3-4) CAS-A

Spring semester:

- BIO/MBI 116 Biological Concepts : Structure, Function, Cellular, and Molecular Biology (4) MP
- CHM 142, CHM 145 College Chemistry and Laboratory (3, 2)
- ENG 111 Composition and Rhetoric (3) or Other MP/CAS course (3)
- Humanities, creative arts or social science (3-4) MP or Formal reasoning (3-6) CAS-E or Foreign language (3-4) CAS-A

BOTANY (A.B., B.S.)

Potential Career Paths: U.S. Forest Service botanist, landscape management & design consultant, marine/freshwater biologist, tissue culture specialist, plant physiologist, agricultural commodity grader, forensic scientist, in addition to gaining admission into graduate and professional schools or entering the profession in education, industry, government, and non-governmental organizations.

Fall semester:

- BIO/MBI 115 Biological Concepts : Ecology, Evolution, Genetics, and Diversity (4) MP or BIO 191 Plant Biology (4) MP
- BIO 147 Introductory Seminar (1)
- CHM 141, CHM 144 College Chemistry and Laboratory (3, 2) MP
- ENG 111 Composition and Rhetoric (3) MP or Other MP/CAS course (3)
- Humanities, creative arts, or social science (3-4) MP or foreign language (3-4) CAS-A

Spring semester:

- BIO/MBI 116 Biological Concepts : Structure, Function, Cellular, and Molecular Biology (4) MP or Other Natural Science (3-4) MP
CHM 142, 145 College Chemistry and Laboratory (3, 2) or Other Natural Science (3-4) MP
ENG 111 Composition and Rhetoric (3) or Other MP/CAS course (3)
Humanities, creative arts, or social science (3-4) MP or Formal reasoning-mathematics (3-5) CAS-E or foreign language (3-4) CAS-A

CHEMISTRY (A.B., B.S.)
Potential Career Paths: applied research and product development including consumer goods, polymers, bulk chemicals; hazardous waste management and environmental chemistry; quality assurance, forensics, chemical engineering, technical sales and marketing, chemical information and patents; gaining admission into graduate schools in chemistry, chemical engineering, and professional schools in medicine, pharmacy, and health-related sciences.

Fall semester:
CHM 141 or 141H College Chemistry (3) MP and CHM 144M or 144H General Chemistry Laboratory (2) MP
CHM 147 Introductory Seminar - Chemistry and Biochemistry (1)
ENG 111 Composition and Rhetoric (3) MP or Other MP/CAS course (3)
MTH 151 Calculus I (5) MP
Humanities, creative arts or social science (3-4) MP or Foreign language (3-5) CAS-A

Spring semester:
CHM 142 or 142M or 142H College Chemistry (3) and CHM 145M or 145H College Chemistry Laboratory (2)
ENG 111 Composition and Rhetoric (3) MP or Other MP/CAS course (3)
MTH 251 Calculus II (4)
Humanities, creative arts or social science (3-4) MP or Foreign language (3-5) CAS-A

CLASSICAL HUMANITIES (A.B.)
Potential Career Paths: research and policy analyst, public relations specialist, communications media planner, executive manager, foreign service representative, travel agent, legislative assistant, editorial assistant in publishing houses, advertising copy editor, in addition to gaining admission into graduate school and professional school of law.

Fall semester:
CLS 101 Greek Civilization (3) MP or CLS 121 Classical Mythology (3) MP
ENG 111 Composition and Rhetoric (3) MP or Other MP/CAS course (3)
Latin or Greek (3-5) CAS-A
Natural science (3-4) MP
Social science (3-4) MP

Spring semester:
CLS 102 Roman Civilization (3) MP or CLS 121 Classical Mythology (3) MP
ENG 111 Composition and Rhetoric (3) MP or Other MP/CAS course (3)
Latin or Greek (3-4) CAS-A
Natural science (3-4) MP
Social science (3-4) MP

COMPARATIVE MEDIA STUDIES CO-MAJOR
To complete the comparative media studies co-major, you must also complete the requirements for a primary major. Students may select any major as the primary major. The co-major is intended to supplement the first major by adding a media concentration. First select courses recommended for the primary major, and then select courses to satisfy the introductory requirements for the co-major.

Fall or spring semester:
CMS 101 The Smartphone and Society (3) MP
MAC 143 Introduction to Media (3) MP
CRITICAL AND CLASSICAL LANGUAGES AND CULTURES CO-MAJOR

Students are increasingly electing to study more than one foreign language and, quite frequently, combine a Western language with a non-Western one. This co-major is designed to help students structure language course selections so that they can acquire significant competence in both of the languages, even if it does not delve as deeply into either language as a major otherwise would. To complete this co-major, you must also complete the requirements for a primary major. First select courses recommended for the primary major, and then select courses to satisfy the introductory requirements for the co-major.

Fall semester:
ENG 111 Composition and Rhetoric (3) MP or Other MP/CAS course (3)
Language 1 101 (4) (or upper-level language course, depending on placement)
Language 2 101 (4) (or upper-level language course, depending on placement)
Humanities or creative arts (3) MP
Natural science (3-4) MP

Spring semester:
ENG 111 Composition and Literature (3) MP or Other MP/CAS course (3)
Language 1 102 (4) (or upper-level language course, depending on placement)
Language 2 102 (4) (or upper-level language course, depending on placement)
Humanities or creative arts (3) MP
Natural science (3-4) MP

CRITICAL RACE & ETHNIC STUDIES (A.B.)

Potential Career Paths: range of fields in communications, government, education, and business.

Fall semester:
CRE 151 Introduction to Critical Race and Ethnic Studies
ENG 111 Composition and Rhetoric (3) MP or Other MP/CAS course (3)
Foreign language (3-4) CAS-A
Formal reasoning (3-5) CAS-E
Elective

Spring semester:
A course in one of the CRES tracks or AAA/BWS/LAS/WGS 211
ENG 111 Composition and Rhetoric (3) MP (if not taken in the fall)
HST 111 or 112 American History (3) MP
SOC 153 Sociology in a Global Context (3) MP or POL 142 American Politics and Diversity (3) MP or ATH 155 Introduction to Anthropology (4) MP or ATH 175 Peoples of the World (3) MP
Foreign language (3-4) CAS-A
Natural science (3-4) MP

DATA ANALYTICS (A.B.)

Bioinformatics Track:

Fall semester:
MTH 133 Mathematical Foundations of Data Analytics (4) Required during 1st semester at Miami
STA 261 Statistics (4) MP; if you have credit for calculus I take STA 301 Applied Statistics. (3) *Prerequisite for STA 363
Foreign language (3-4) CAS-A
ENG 111 Composition and Rhetoric (3) MP or Other MP/CAS course (3)
Additional MP/CAS course (3)

Spring semester:
STA 363 Introduction to Statistical Modeling (3)*
BIO/MBI 116 Biological Concepts: Structure, Function, Cellular, and Molecular Biology (4) MP
Foreign language (3-4) CAS-A
ENG 111 Composition and Rhetoric (3) MP or Other MP/CAS course (3)
Additional MP/CAS course (3)

Geospatial Analytics Track:

Fall semester:
MTH 133 Mathematical Foundations of Data Analytics (4) Required during 1st semester at Miami
STA 261 Statistics (4) MP; if you have credit for calculus I take STA 301 Applied Statistics. (3) *Prerequisite for STA 363
GEO or GLG elective (3-4)
Foreign language (3-4) CAS-A
ENG 111 Composition and Rhetoric (3) MP or Other MP/CAS course (3)

Spring semester:
STA 363 Introduction to Statistical Modeling (3)*
GEO 242 Mapping a Changing World (3)
Foreign language (3-4) CAS-A
ENG 111 Composition and Rhetoric (3) MP or Other MP/CAS course (3)
Additional MP/CAS course (3)

*Students must complete STA 363 by the end of their first year at Miami.

DATA SCIENCE AND STATISTICS (B.S.)

Potential Career Paths: actuary, data analyst, data scientist, financial planner, investment analyst, psychometrician, along with careers in business, government, education and advanced study in graduate school.

Fall semester:
MTH/STA 147 First Year Seminar in Mathematics and Statistics (I)
MTH 151 Calculus I (5) MP) or MTH 251 Calculus II (4) or MTH 249 Calculus II (5) MP or Students with AP credit for BC Calculus should consult with a MTH advisor about the appropriate MTH course.
STA 301 if credit for Calculus I has already been earned. (Students with credit for STA 261 should not take STA 301, but should take take STA 363 instead.)
CSE 174 (3) Fundamentals of Programming and Problem Solving.
ENG 111 Composition and Rhetoric (3) MP or Other MP/CAS course (3)
Foreign language (3-4) CAS-A
Natural science (3-4) MP or other MP course

Spring semester:
MTH 251 Calculus II (4) or MTH 252 (or 252H) Calculus III (4) if MTH 249 (or) taken fall semester.
MTH 222 Introduction to Linear Algebra (3) if credit for Calc II has been earned
STA 363 (3) and/or STA 401 (3) if earned credit for Calculus II and Intro Statistics (261 or 301) or Statistics elective (e.g. STA 333)
ENG 111 Composition and Rhetoric (3) MP or Continue MP course work
Foreign language (3-4) CAS-A

Note: Completing STA 401 and MTH 222 by the end of the first year opens up the possibility for taking the STA 463/466 sequence in the second year. Even if the STA 463/466 sequence is taken in the third year, a student is well on track for completing the Statistics major by the end of four years.
DIPLOMACY AND GLOBAL POLITICS (A.B.)

Potential Career Paths: business, international organizations, advanced study in the social sciences and law, foreign service, armed forces, intelligence services, federal, state, and local government, law enforcement, lobbying, think tanks, and non-profit organizations.

Fall semester:
ENG 111 Composition and Rhetoric (3) MP or Other MP/CAS course (3)
POL 221W Modern World Governments (3) or POL 271W World Politics (3)
Humanities or creative arts (3) MP
Natural science (3-4) MP
Foreign language (3-4) CAS-A

Spring semester:
ENG 111 Composition and Literature (3) MP or Other MP/CAS course (3)
POL 221 Modern World Governments (3) or POL 271 World Politics (3)
Humanities or creative arts (3) MP
Foreign language (3-4) CAS-A
Formal reasoning (3-4) CAS-E

EAST ASIAN LANGUAGES AND CULTURES (A.B.)

Potential Career Paths: computer software industry, commercial airline industry, military, education, publishing, in addition to advanced study in the field.

Fall semester:
ENG 111 Composition and Rhetoric (3) MP or Other MP/CAS course (3)
CHI 101 Elementary Chinese (4) or JPN 101 First-Year Japanese (4)
Humanities or creative arts (3) MP
Natural science (3-4) MP
Social science (3-4) MP

Spring semester:
ENG 111 Composition and Rhetoric (3) MP or Other MP/CAS course (3)
CHI 102 Elementary Chinese (4) or JPN 102 First-Year Japanese (4)
Humanities or creative arts (3) MP
Natural science (3-4) MP
Social science (3-4) MP

ECONOMICS (A.B.), QUANTITATIVE ECONOMICS (B.S.)

Potential Career Paths: forecast analyst, economic analyst, investment banker and adviser, commodities/stock broker, credit accounting coordinator, pension funds administrator, international insurance broker, foundation administrator, foreign trade analyst, in addition to advanced study in the field and professional school in law.

Fall semester:
ENG 111 Composition and Rhetoric (3) MP or Other MP/CAS course (3)
MTH 151 Calculus I (5) or MTH 249 Calculus II (5) MP
Humanities or creative arts (3) MP
Natural science (3-4) MP
Foreign language (3-4) CAS-A
Spring semester:
ECO 201 Principles of Microeconomics (3) MP
ENG 111 Composition and Rhetoric (3) MP or Other MP/CAS course (3)
Humanities or creative arts (3-4) MP
Natural science (3-4) MP
Foreign language (3-4) CAS-A

ENERGY CO-MAJOR
To complete the energy co-major, you must also complete the requirements for a primary major. Students may select any major as the primary major, although majors in the biological or physical sciences, social sciences, architecture, and business will find this type of interdisciplinary training the most complementary to their primary majors. First select courses recommended for the primary major, and then select courses to satisfy the introductory requirements for the co-major.

Fall semester:
One of these:
PHY 121 Energy and Environment (3) MP or
PHY 161 Physics for the Life Sciences with Laboratory I (4) MP or PHY 191 General Physics with Laboratory I (5) MP
One of these:
MTH 151 Calculus I (5) MP or
CSE 243 Problem Analysis Using Computer Tools (3) MP or ISA 245 Database Systems and Data Warehousing (3) MP

Spring semester:
IES 211 Energy and Policy (3)
One of these:
GEO 121 Global Physical Environments (4) MP or
GLG 121, 115L Environmental Geology and Understanding the Earth (3, 1) MP

ENGINEERING PHYSICS (B.S.)
Potential Career Paths: astrophysicist, nuclear physicist, systems analyst, applications programmer, geophysical surveyor, laser technician, electrical engineering, mechanical engineering, civil engineering, as well as advanced study in the field.

Fall semester:
ENG 111 Composition and Rhetoric (3) MP or Other MP/CAS course (3)
MTH 151 Calculus I (5) or MTH 249 Calculus II (5) MP
PHY 191 General Physics with Laboratory I (5)
PHY 185 Experiencing the Physical World (1)
Humanities, creative arts, social science or global perspectives (3-4) MP or foreign language (3-5) CAS-A

Spring semester:
ENG 111 Composition and Rhetoric (3) or Other MP/CAS course (3)
MTH 251 Calculus II (4) or MTH 252 Calculus III (4)
PHY 192 General Physics with Laboratory II (5)
Humanities, creative arts or social science (3-4) MP or foreign language (3-4) CAS-A
ENGLISH (A.B.) (CREATIVE WRITING)

Potential Career Paths: assistant editor, advertising copywriter, assistant creative director, in addition to law, advertising, editing and publishing, freelance writing, writing for video games, and teaching.

Fall semester:
ENG 111 Composition and Rhetoric (3) MP or Other MP/CAS course (3)
ENG 226 Introduction to Creative Writing Short Fiction and Poetry (3)
Foreign language (3-4) CAS-A
Natural science (3-4) MP
Social science (3-4) MP

Spring semester:
ENG 111 Composition and Rhetoric (3) MP or Other MP/CAS course (3)
ENG 298 Introduction to Literary and Cultural Studies (3)
Foreign language (3-4) CAS-A
Natural science (3-4) MP
Social science (3-4) MP

ENGLISH (A.B.) (LITERATURE)

Potential Career Paths: professional editing and writing, teaching, advertising and marketing, film and social media, consulting, management, government and NGO work, in addition to advanced study in graduate and professional school (law, business, library science, journalism, and medicine).

Fall semester:
ENG 111 Composition and Rhetoric (3) MP or Other MP/CAS course (3)
Foreign language (3-4) CAS-A
Natural science (3-4) MP
Social science (3-4) MP
Introductory literature course (ENG 100- or 200-level)

Spring semester:
ENG 111 Composition and Rhetoric (3) MP or Other MP/CAS course (3)
Foreign language (3-4) CAS-A
Natural science (3-4) MP
Social science (3-4) MP
Introductory literature course (ENG 100- or 200-level) or ENG 298 Introduction to Literary and Cultural Studies (3)

ENGLISH (A.B.) (PROFESSIONAL WRITING)

Potential Career Paths: editor and copywriter, grant writer, content strategist, web coordinator, digital media and marketing, usability and user experience specialist, information designer, in addition to advanced study in law, medicine, and library science.

Fall semester:
ENG 111 Composition and Rhetoric (3) MP or Other MP/CAS course (3)
Foreign language (3-4) CAS-A
Social science (3-4) MP
Natural science (3-4) MP

One of these:
ENG 223 Strategies for Writers (3)
ENG 224 Digital Writing and Rhetoric: Composing with Words, Images and Sounds (3)
ENG 171 Humanities and Technology (3)

Spring semester:
- ENG 111 Composition and Rhetoric (3) MP or Other MP/CAS course (3)
- Foreign language (3-4) CAS-A
- Creative arts (3) MP
- Social science (3-4) MP

One of these:
- ENG 223 Strategies for Writers (3)
- ENG 224 Digital Writing and Rhetoric: Composing with Words, Images and Sounds (3)
- ENG 171 Humanities and Technology (3)

ENVIRONMENTAL EARTH SCIENCE (A.B.)

Potential Career Paths: environmental consulting and planning firms, energy and mineral resource companies, or government agencies, such as the National Park Service, environmental protection agencies, health department as well as in schools and universities, a wide array of both small and large corporations, legal practices, non-profit organizations, and even the news media.

Fall semester:
- GLG 147 Introductory Seminar to Geology, Earth Science and Environmental Earth Science (1)
- ENG 111 Composition and Rhetoric (3) MP or Other MP/CAS course (3)
- Humanities, creative arts, or social science (3-4) MP
- Foreign language (3-4) CAS-A
- GLG 115L Understanding the Earth (1) MP and

One of these:
- GLG 111 The Dynamic Earth (3) MP
- GLG 121 Environmental Geology (3) MP
- GLG 141 Geology of U.S. National Parks (3) MP

Note: Students in the Environmental Earth Science major are encouraged, but not required, to select GLG 121.

Spring semester:
- ENG 111 Composition and Rhetoric (3) MP or Other MP/CAS course (3)
- GLG 204 Survival on an Evolving Planet (4)
- Humanities, creative arts, or social science 3-4) MP
- Foreign Language (3-4) CAS A

ENVIRONMENTAL SCIENCE CO-MAJOR

To complete the environmental science co-major, you must also complete the requirements for a primary major. Students may select any major as the primary major, although majors in the biological or physical sciences will find the most overlap among the requirements. First select courses recommended for the primary major, and then select courses to satisfy the introductory requirements for the co-major.

Fall or spring semester:

One of these:
- ATH 175 Peoples of the World (3) MP
- GEO 101 Global Forces, Local Diversity (3) MP
- IES 211 Energy and Policy (3)
- POL 241 American Political System (3) MP
- POL 261 Public Administration (3)
One of these:
BIO/MBI 115 Biological Concepts (offered only in fall) (4) MP
BIO 121 Environmental Biology (3) MP
BIO 131 Plants, Humanity and Environment (3) MP
BIO 176 Ecology of North America (3)
BIO 191 Plant Biology (4) MP

One of these:
CHM 111, 111L Chemistry in Modern Society and Laboratory (3, 1) MP
CHM 142, 145 College Chemistry and Laboratory (3, 2)* has prerequisites

One of these:
GEO 121 Global Physical Environments (4) MP
GEO 122 Geographic Environments (3) MP
GLG 111, 115L The Dynamic Earth and Understanding the Earth (3, 1) MP
GLG 121, 115L Environmental Geology and Understanding the Earth (3, 1) MP
GLG 141, 115L Geology of U.S. National Parks and Understanding the Earth (3, 1) MP

FILM STUDIES CO-MAJOR

Potential Career Paths: all careers in the film and television industry, managerial and creative; writer/critic; editor; program researcher; archivist; curator; festival programmer; marketer; designer; teacher; professor, and many other related careers.

MATHEMATICS, MATHEMATICS & STATISTICS (A.B. OR B.S.)

Potential Career Paths: actuary, financial planner, investment analyst, psychometrician, along with careers in business, government, education and advanced study in graduate school.

The mathematics and mathematics and statistics majors provide useful tools for success in business, computing, engineering, and the physical and social sciences.

Fall semester:
ENG III Composition and Rhetoric (3) MP or Other MP/CAS course (3)
MTH/STA 147 First Year Seminar in Mathematics and Statistics (1)
MTH 151 Calculus I (5) MP or MTH 249 Calculus II (5) MP
See placement guide for appropriate course. Students with AP credit for BC Calculus should consult with a MTH advisor about the next appropriate MTH/STA course. Students in the Honors program with AP credit for BC Calculus are advised to wait until the spring when MTH 252H is offered and consult with a MTH advisor about taking MTH 222 or 222T/331T. Statistics majors should speak with a STA advisor about taking STA 301 in the fall.
Foreign language (3-4) CAS-A
Natural science (3-4) MP or other MP course

If interested in programming and computing, take:
CSE 153 Introduction to C/C++ Programming (3) or CSE 163 Introduction to Computer Concepts and Programming (3) MP or CSE 174 Fundamentals of Programming and Problem Solving (3)

Spring semester:
ENG III Composition and Rhetoric (3) MP or Other MP/CAS course (3)
MTH 251 Calculus II (4) or MTH 252 (or 252H) Calculus III (4) if MTH 249 taken fall semester. Consult with a MTH/STA advisor about additional possibilities, such as MTH 222 or STA 301.

Natural science (3-4) MP

Note: Media and Culture students are required to earn a second major outside the Department of Media, Journalism and Film.

MEDICAL LABORATORY SCIENCE (B.S.)

Potential Career Paths: medical laboratory scientist, research lab scientist, MLS specialist in hematology, medical microbiology, parasitology, mycology, molecular biology, immunohematology and clinical chemistry. Public health lab scientist along with other careers within the clinical laboratory, public health laboratory, research or industrial laboratory. Often go on to advanced study in graduate or professional school.

Administered by the Microbiology department, this degree is available as a combined program. See the General Bulletin for program details.

Fall semester:
CHM 141, 144 College Chemistry and Laboratory (3, 2) MP
ENG 111 Composition and Rhetoric (3) MP or Other MP/CAS course (3)
BIO/MBI 115 Biological Concepts: Ecology, Evolution, Genetics, and Diversity (4) MP
MBI 147 Microbiology Introductory Seminar (1)
Foreign language (3-4) CAS-A or Humanities, creative arts, or social science (3-4) MP

Spring semester:
CHM 142, 145 College Chemistry and Laboratory (3, 2)
ENG 111 Composition and Rhetoric (3) MP or Other MP/CAS course (3)
BIO/MBI 116 Biological Concepts: Structure, Function, Cellular, and Molecular Biology (4) MP
Foreign language (3-4) CAS-A or Humanities, creative arts, or social science (3-4) MP

MICROBIOLOGY (A.B., B.S.)

Potential Career Paths: staff microbiologist, lab technician, research assistant, technical sales representative, along with careers in universities, colleges, schools, hospitals, government agencies (CDC, EPA, NASA), congress, industry (biotechnology, food safety, pharmaceutical, food technology), business (patent law, intellectual property), and communications (medical & science writers). Many go on to advanced study in graduate or professional school.

Fall semester:
CHM 141, 144 College Chemistry and Laboratory (3, 2) MP

MBI 147 Microbiology Introductory Seminar (1)
Foreign language (3-4) CAS-A or Humanities, creative arts, or social science (3-4) MP

Spring semester:
CHM 142, 145 College Chemistry and Laboratory (3, 2)
ENG 111 Composition and Rhetoric (3) or Other MP/CAS course (3)
BIO/MBI 116 Biological Concepts: Structure, Function, Cellular, and Molecular Biology (4) MP
Foreign language (3-4) CAS-A or Humanities, creative arts, or social science (3-4) MP

NEUROSCIENCE CO-MAJOR
This co-major is multidisciplinary, including coursework in biology, psychology, chemistry and statistics. It provides basic framework for students planning advanced work at the graduate level. To complete this co-major, you must also complete the requirements for a primary major. First select courses recommended for the primary major, and then select courses to satisfy the introductory requirements for the co-major.

Fall semester:
BIO/MBI 115 Biological Concepts: Ecology, Evolution, Genetics, and Diversity (4)
CHM 141, 144 College Chemistry and College Chemistry Lab (3, 2) MP
ENG 111 Composition and Rhetoric (3) MP or Other MP/CAS course (3)
Foreign language (3-4) CAS-A

Spring semester:
BIO/PSY 159 Seminar in Neuroscience (1)
BIO/MBI 116 Biological Concepts: Structure, Function, Cellular and Molecular Biology (4) MP
CHM 142, 145 College Chemistry and Chemistry Laboratory (3, 2) MP
ENG 111 Composition and Rhetoric (3) MP or Other MP/CAS course (3)
Foreign language (3-4) CAS-A

Note: PSY 111 Introduction to Psychology and PSY 112 Foundational Experiences in Psychology are not required for the co-major, but many students with this co-major opt to take it to fulfill their MP Social Science requirement.

ORGANIZATIONAL LEADERSHIP (A.B.)
Potential Career Paths: Businesses (consulting), finance and insurance, governmental agencies, sales, manufacturing and distribution, human resources, marketing and market research, healthcare, and retail management.

Fall semester:
SOC 153 Sociology in a Global Context (3) MP

PREMEDICAL STUDIES CO-MAJOR

The Premedical Studies Co-Major is designed to provide students with a broad-based science background that prepares them to pursue advanced degrees in medicine as well as other healthcare related fields. The co-major must be taken in conjunction with a primary major (it cannot be taken independently), and students are free to pursue any primary major offered at Miami. There are many ways in which students can schedule the classes required of the co-major (this is highly influenced by their primary major), and there is no right or wrong timeline for getting into a health professions school. However, if they hope to start medical school directly after they graduate, we strongly recommend that they take at least college chemistry and PMD 101 during the fall semester or plan to take classes in the summer after their first year. Lastly we recommend students take biology in their first year, especially if they are planning to major in a biological science.

Fall Semester:
- BIO/MBI 115 Biological Concepts: Ecology, Evolution, Genetics, and Diversity (4)
- CHM 141, 144 College Chemistry and College Chemistry Lab (3, 2) MP

Audition/Portfolio Requirement
All prospective students (except those applying to Art and Architecture History or Emerging Technology in Business and Design) must submit a portfolio or complete an audition/interview at the time of application to the university to be directly admitted into a creative arts program.

No-Major Option (CCA Undeclared)
If you were not directly admitted into the creative arts major of your choice or if you are unsure of which major you are interested in pursuing, you may declare a Creative Arts - Undeclared major. This allows a student to strengthen their application to a selected degree program and/or to explore various options for majors in the arts. Note that this may extend the time required to complete your degree.

The following first-year course recommendations allow you to choose a broad range of electives and sample creative arts courses on a space-available basis. Please see a divisional advisor to plan a course of study.

ART, ART EDUCATION, AND COMMUNICATION DESIGN (prospective majors)
If you have not submitted a portfolio at the time of your application to Miami University and want to declare a concentration in studio art or art education, you must successfully complete a minimum of six credit hours of art studio courses and be enrolled in at least six additional hours of art studio when you submit a portfolio for review. For art education, you must also have completed ART 195 Introduction to Art Education. For further information about admission to studio art, please see the chief departmental advisor for art. To learn more about art education, please contact art education professors Dr. Baer (baersa@miamioh.edu) or Dr. Danker (dankers@miamioh.edu).

Any student wishing to pursue advanced study in communication design, including those admitted to pre-communication design, must complete:
- ART 102 Color Theory (1.5)
- ART 105 Technical Drawing (1.5)
- ART 111 Design and Composition (3)
- ART 121 Observational Drawing (3)
- ART 151 Pre-Communication Design (1)
- A portfolio review in the spring semester (a student is not eligible for the portfolio review unless the above coursework is completed or in-progress)

Fall semester suggested coursework:
ART 111 Design and Composition (3)* or ART 121 Observational Drawing (3)

Art foundation courses (choose two):
- ART 102 Color Theory and Practice (1.5)
- ART 103 Creative Practices in New Technology (1.5)
- ART 104 Problem Solving (1.5)
- ART 105 Technical Drawing (1.5)

Additional course for Art Education:
- ART 195 Introduction to Art Education (3) MP

ART 187 History of Western Art: Prehistoric-Gothic (3) MP or ART 188 History of Western Art: Renaissance-Modern (3) MP

Arts Management Co-Major

Given the challenges for artists, arts, and cultural organizations to survive in an increasingly competitive business environment, the need for educated arts managers is increasing. The practice of arts management is a synthesis of art, creativity, innovation, management, and entrepreneurship. The co-major prepares students to balance aesthetic understanding with specialized skills in generating income, managing boards, stimulating public access, and sustaining the mission and vision of organizations whose primary purpose is the delivery, presentation, and preservation of arts and culture. These skills are applicable to arts councils, museums, community arts centers, galleries, orchestras, and other creative enterprises. To complete the co-major, you must also complete the requirements for a primary major.

Fall or Spring semester:
CCA 111 Innovation, Creativity and Design Thinking (3) MP
CCA 201 Introduction to Arts Management (3)

Art Therapy Co-Major

The primary goal of the co-major is to prepare students interested in pursuing a career in art therapy to apply to art therapy graduate programs. Art therapists can work in any setting that employs helping professions, for example: hospitals, schools, correctional facilities, domestic violence shelters, geriatric facilities, psychiatric facilities, residential facilities, day programs for developmental disabilities and chronic mental illness, etc. Art therapy uses the art process and the therapeutic relationship between the client and art therapist to process trauma, enhance self-esteem, improve relational abilities, decrease anxiety/depression, and increase an overall enhanced sense of well-being. Students who pursue and complete a master's degree in art therapy will be eligible for mental health licensure in their state, which grants the ability then to have four broad career opportunities (Art Therapist, Art Educator*, Counselor, and Artist).

The art therapy co-major builds upon the minor and the foundation of three lateral, human-centered perspectives significant to the field of art therapy: art studio, art education, and psychology. Students will explore connections between art production, methods of facilitating art experiences with people across the lifespan, and an understanding of human behaviors. Introduction to Art Therapy will tie the courses together through presenting exploratory art-making activities, foundational readings, and possible pathways to a career in the profession. The co-major curriculum provides students with an interest in art therapy additional skills and competencies from more in depth coursework. Advanced coursework in both a 2D studio area and 3D studio area is required. To complete the co-major, you must also complete the requirements for a primary major.

*Check state licensure requirements for public school contexts

Fall or Spring semester:
ART 194 Introduction to Art Therapy (3)
ART 195 Introduction to Art Education (3) MP
PSY III Introduction to Psychology (3) MP and PSY 112 Foundational Experiences in Psychology (1)
Fashion Co-Major

The Fashion program emphasizes creativity and experimentation while offering students the opportunity to develop a broad set of basic skills in design language, technique, and business. These skills are fundamentals for employment in the fashion industry. Key content includes an overview of the fashion industry, product making, design foundations, textile materials, historical context, fashion business, and opportunities to build skill in a cognate area, such as fashion design, jewelry design, or buying, planning, and forecasting. Opportunities exist for an applied international fashion experience and a study away in New York City. Seats are limited in the fashion co-major; students may apply after completing at least one semester of coursework at Miami. To complete the co-major, you must also complete the requirements for a primary major.

Fall or Spring semester:
FAS 101 Introduction to the Fashion Industry (3)
FAS 281 Contemporary Fashion History (3) or ART 189 History of Western Dress (3) MP or ART 233 Global Perspectives on Dress (3) MP
Submit application to the fashion program

Emerging Technology in Business + Design

Formerly known as Armstrong Institute for Interactive Media Studies (AIMS), the Department of Emerging Technology in Business + Design (ETBD) is a cross-disciplinary institute that works with students and faculty from across Miami University, offering undergraduate, graduate certificate and graduate programs. We explore the intersection of technology, design business, and how digital technology is transforming traditional areas of inquiry. ETBD is committed to preparing students for the opportunities that interactive media present through hands-on, interactive and project-based courses and experiences, where students are encouraged to experiment, innovate and collaborate.

ETBD emphasizes cross-functional knowledge and places a heavy emphasis on making. Students in ETBD develop depth in areas as diverse as web and app design/development, interaction design, user experience design, social media, digital marketing, design thinking, visualization, game design and development, games and learning, digital and algorithmic art, robotics, mechatronics, mobile development, and digital entrepreneurship.

EMERGING TECHNOLOGY IN BUSINESS AND DESIGN: BACHELOR OF ARTS

The BA in Emerging Technology in Business and Design (ET) is an interdisciplinary degree designed to provide depth in theory and practice of interactive & digital design, development, business, innovation, and digital disruption.

Students who wish to declare a major in Emerging Technology in Business and Design after enrolling at Miami must submit an application. Please visit www.MiamiOH.edu/etbd for information about the application process.

Potential Career Paths: careers in interactive web design & development; mobile app design & development; game studies, game design, game development, games & learning; interactive marketing, social media marketing; web & social analytics; user experience & interaction design; code/algorithmic art; interactive & digital art; simple robotics; innovation, startups, and tech entrepreneurship; 3D design & animation; virtual environments, simulations, and VR; design thinking; music technology; interactive data visualization

Fall Semester:
IMS 101 Introduction to ETBD (1)
IMS 222 Introduction to Interaction Design and Development (3)
IMS 254 Design Principles Applied (3)
IMS 259 Art and Digital Tools I (3)
ENG 111 Composition and Rhetoric (3) MP or other MP course (3)

202 McGuffey, 513-529-6317

Director of Student Services: Roxann Sommers, 202 McGuffey, 513-529-6317.

The College of Education Health and Society prides itself on our efforts to provide outstanding student services and resources. Our innovative multidisciplinary curriculum is designed to prepare our students for tomorrow's challenges and opportunities and give them the tools to succeed in today's society. We offer significant resources to ensure our students are steadily moving forward and are well-prepared for a successful career.

No-Major Option (Undeclared)

It is possible to begin some degree programs in the College of Education, Health and Society without declaring a specific major. Advisors will help you plan your program. The following general first-year course selection provides flexibility for a major within EHS or another division.

Fall semester:
- ENG 111 Composition and Rhetoric (3) MP or other MP course (3)
- One course in Foundation II: Creative Arts, Humanities; and/or Social Science (3)
- One course in Foundation III: Global Perspectives (3)
- Foundation IV- Natural Science (with Lab) (4)
- UNV 101 I Am Miami (1) and/or EDL 100 Career Development for the College Student (2)

Spring semester:
- One course in Foundation IV: Mathematics, Formal Reasoning and Technology (3)
- One course in Foundation III: Global Perspectives (3)
- Two courses in Foundation II: Creative Arts, Humanities and/or Social Science (6)
- One course Intercultural Perspective (3)

Teacher Licensure Programs:
- Primary Education Pre K-5 – pre-K through grade 5
- Middle Childhood education – grades 4 through 9
- Adolescent Young Adult education – grades 7 through 12
- Foreign language education – Chinese, French, German, Latin and Spanish – multi age licensure
- Inclusive Special education – mild moderate and moderate/intense - Intervention specialist – multi age dual licensure

Teacher/Professional licensing requirements are subject to change. Please check appropriate state's board of education website for the most up-to-date requirements.

*See the College of Creative Arts for Teaching Licensure Programs in Art and Music

ADMISSION NOTES for Teacher Education and Inclusive Special Education majors:

TEACHER EDUCATION

Teacher Education Cohort Admission to Primary Pre K-5 Early Childhood and Middle Childhood education programs

A cohort is defined as a group of students selected by the Department of Teacher Education to experience certain parts of their program together, provided they satisfy the prerequisite retention requirements for the methods courses for their licensure field and for student teaching. A cohort is identified by its general subject or licensure area and by a semester or academic year during which the members start or complete their methods courses.
Students must apply for acceptance to their cohort during their first year. Applications are submitted online through the Department of Teacher Education website. Criteria for admission is based on a minimum 2.75 cumulative GPA in at least 30 credit hours, completion of EDT 190 and EDP 201 with a grade of B or higher in each course, and a score at or above the 50th percentile in Reading, Writing, and Math on the ACT or SAT. Students not meeting these criteria should work directly with the Teacher Education Coordinator of Advising to discuss alternative pathways for cohort admission. Students in AYA and Foreign Language majors are admitted directly into these programs but also must meet specific criteria to be admitted to the cohort.

Students must apply for acceptance to their program toward the end of their first year. Application forms may be obtained from the Department of Teacher Education, 401 McGuffey Hall (513-529-6443). Criteria for admission is based on a minimum 2.75 GPA in at least 12 credit hours of Miami Plan courses taken for a grade and at least a 21 composite score on the ACT exam or an SAT score of 1060 (math + verbal). Students not meeting these criteria should work directly with the Teacher Education Coordinator of Advising to discuss alternative pathways for cohort admission. Students in AYA and Foreign Language majors are admitted directly into these programs.

INCLUSIVE SPECIAL EDUCATION

Mild/Moderate and Moderate/Intensive Intervention Specialist Dual Licensure

Inclusive Special Education Cohort Admission

A cohort is a group of students in a common year designated to take instructional (methods) courses in a common group, as well as complete their student teaching during the same academic year. Selection is limited for each cohort to ensure quality of instruction. Students must declare a pre-major in Special Education at the time of university admission or soon thereafter.

After declaring a pre-major, students must apply to the cohort by February 15 of their freshman year or by September 1 of their sophomore year. Applications may be obtained from the Department of Educational Psychology, 201 McGuffey Hall.

Admission to the Inclusive Special Education program is limited to those who are eligible for admission to teacher preparation programs and have completed 15 semester hours with a grade point average of 2.75 or above and completion of EDP 201 Human Development and Learning in Social and Educational Contexts as well as 100 hours of service experience with persons with exceptionality (this can be paid or volunteer work and may include junior and senior high school years). Write a one-page essay describing your current philosophy and interest in educating learners with exceptionalities.

Retention

There are retention checkpoints for each cohort at the time of registration for each instructional procedures course and at the time of application to supervised teaching. The department has established retention criteria specific to each major for each retention point, which are available from the department.

Technology Requirement

All teacher education programs will be infusing technology into their classes to assist teacher candidates in their preparation to teach in tomorrow's schools. All students seeking a degree in a teacher education program will be required to have a laptop computer when accepted into their teacher education cohort.

Licensure for Non-Education Majors

If you choose a major in the College of Arts and Science and wish to seek licensure in that subject, you must also declare a major in the appropriate education licensure program and apply to the appropriate department of major. You may not enroll in certain education professional courses until you have been selected into a particular program.* The licensure requirements are the same as the education degree requirements, whether or not you choose to have a subject area major in the College of Arts and Science. You may graduate with two degrees.
EDUCATION STUDIES (non-licensure)
The Bachelor of Science in Education Studies is designed for students who desire a career in education outside of the classroom. Since education studies are not tied to teacher licensure, students have the flexibility to explore a wide range of education topics. The core curriculum provides students with a solid foundation in education including research and discussion of youth, families, health, wellness and justice issues. Students select the following concentrations for this major: Creativity, Innovation & Learning; Disability Studies & Education; Sexuality, Education and Society; Equity & Educational Change; or Critical Youth Studies.

Advising
Each EHS undergraduate student has been assigned an academic advisor in their major to help with professional and career advice. A department advisor can help with more complicated departmental advising questions such as double majors, adding minors, and studying abroad.

During orientation advisors will assist you in selecting courses within your major and initial registration for the coming semester.

Athletic Training

As nationally mandated by the Commission on Accreditation of Athletic Training Education (CAATE), the professional athletic training program at Miami University will transition from the Bachelor's level to the Master's level. Students wishing to pursue athletic training should enroll in the Bachelor of Science in Kinesiology and Health program with a major in Kinesiology, with the intention of applying to the Master of Athletic Training program during junior year.

Public Health

Health Promotion and Behavioral Public Health tracks (focus areas) are located in the Department of Kinesiology and Health Public Health major. Human Disease & Epidemiology and Health Policy & Administration are located in the College of Arts and Science.

Bachelor of Science in Social Work

Admission Notes for Social Work

Students may declare the social work major at any time. However, formal acceptance into the program must occur before a student is eligible to take FSW 306 and FSW 406 (upper level social work courses). In order to be accepted, students must:

- Complete FSW 201 & FSW 206 with a grade of “C” or better.
- Read the Undergraduate Social Work Student Handbook and submit a signed acknowledgement form indicating acceptance of the policies.
- Attend one of the Undergraduate Social Work student information sessions (typically offered at the start of Fall and Spring terms).

Students will receive written notification of formal acceptance once these steps are completed.

SOCIAL WORK

Fall semester:
ENG 111 Composition and Rhetoric (3) or Other MP course (3)
FSW 201 Introduction to Social Work and Family Life Education (3)
SOC 153 Sociology in a Global Context (3) MP

No-Major Option (Undeclared)
You may be uncertain about the field of study you wish to choose. This uncertainty is a natural part of the process of selecting and pursuing educational and career goals. The following general first-year course selection provides maximum flexibility if you are considering a major in a science/math-based program.

Fall semester:
CHM 141, 144 College Chemistry and Laboratory (3, 2) MP or PHY191 General Physics with Laboratory I (5) MP
CEC 101 Computing, Engineering, and Society (1)
Miami Plan elective (3) MP
ENG 111 Composition and Rhetoric (3) MP or Miami Plan elective (3)
MTH 151 Calculus I (5) or MTH 249 Calculus II (5)* MP

Spring semester:
CHM 142, 145 College Chemistry and Laboratory (3, 2) or PHY 192 General Physics with Laboratory II (5) MP or Miami Plan electives (3, 3)
Humanities or Social Science
CSE/ECE 102 Introduction to Computing and Engineering or CPB 102 Introduction to Chemical and Bioengineering or MME 102 Introduction to Mechanical and Manufacturing Engineering (3)
ENG 111 Composition and Rhetoric (3) MPF I or Miami Plan elective (3)
MTH 251 Calculus II (4)
Miami Plan elective (3) (optional)*

Check the mathematics placement guide in Planning Your Schedule section of this Guidebook and consult your advisor for appropriate course level. Students who take a prerequisite to MTH 151 will not hinder their academic progress.

During summer orientation/initial registration, faculty advisors will assist you in selecting courses within this pattern. If you select a specific program in Engineering and Computing, please refer to the recommended course pattern described in the department information below by major.

Engineering and Computing: Suggested First-Year Courses

BIOMEDICAL ENGINEERING
This program is accredited by the Engineering Accreditation Commission of ABET (http://www.abet.org/).

Biomedical Engineering is the application of biology, chemistry, mathematics, physics and engineering sciences such as transport phenomena, thermodynamics, imaging, and bioinformatics to design of medical equipment, diagnostic devices, and biocompatible materials. It is also related to biotechnology with applications in pharmaceutical and fermentation industries, and control of biological systems.

Fall semester:
CEC 101 Computing, Engineering, and Society (1)
CHM 141, 144 College Chemistry and Laboratory (3, 2)* MP
ENG I11 Composition and Rhetoric (3) MP
MTH 151 Calculus I (5) or MTH 249 Calculus II (5)* MP
MP Foundation course (3)
Spring semester:
CHM 142, 145 College Chemistry and Laboratory (3, 2)
CPB 102 Introduction to Chemical and Bioengineering (3) or equivalent
PHY 191 General Physics with Laboratory I (5)
MTH 251 Calculus II (4)

* This is a very rigorous schedule and is recommended only for students with the appropriate preparation in math and science. Alternate schedules are available and should be discussed with your academic advisor. Check the mathematics placement guide in Planning Your Schedule section of this Guidebook and consult your advisor for appropriate course level. Students who take a prerequisite to MTH 151 will not hinder their academic progress.

CHEMICAL ENGINEERING
This program is accredited by the Engineering Accreditation Commission of ABET (http://www.abet.org/).

Chemical engineering students learn to apply the concepts of chemistry, biochemistry and biological science, and mathematics to solve problems in process engineering, product development, and research and development.

Fall semester:
CHM 141, 144 College Chemistry and Laboratory (3, 2)* MPF IVB
CEC 101 Computing, Engineering, and Society (I)
ENG 111 Composition and Rhetoric (3) MP
MTH 151 Calculus I (5) or MTH 249 Calculus II (5)* MP
MP Social Science or Humanities course (3)

Spring semester:
CHM 142, 145 College Chemistry and Laboratory (3, 2)
CPB 102 Introduction to Chemical and Bioengineering (3) or equivalent
PHY 191 General Physics with Laboratory I (5)
MTH 251 Calculus II (4)

* This is a very rigorous schedule and is recommended only for students with the appropriate preparation in math and science. Alternate schedules are available and should be discussed with your academic advisor. Check the mathematics placement guide in Planning Your Schedule section of this Guidebook and consult your advisor for appropriate course level. Students who take a prerequisite to MTH 151 will not hinder their academic progress.

COMPUTER ENGINEERING
This program is accredited by the Engineering Accreditation Commission of ABET (http://www.abet.org/).

Computer engineers design and develop computers and digital systems, both stand-alone and ones that are included in products that range from home appliances to industrial robots, from cars to aircraft. The program combines topics from computer science and electrical engineering.

Fall semester:
CSE 174 Fundamentals of Programming and Problem Solving (3)
CEC 101 Computing, Engineering, and Society (I)
ENG 111 Composition and Rhetoric (3) MP or MP Biological Science course (3)
MTH 151 Calculus I (5) or MTH 249 Calculus II (5)* MP
PHY 191 General Physics with Laboratory I (5) MP

Spring semester:
CSE 271 Object Oriented Programming (3)
ECE 102 Introduction to Computing and Engineering (3) or equivalent
MTH 251 Calculus II (4)
PHY 192 General Physics with Laboratory II (5) MP
ENG 111 Composition and Rhetoric (3) MP or MP Biological Science course (3)

* Check the mathematics placement guide in Planning Your Schedule section of this Guidebook and consult your advisor for appropriate course level. Students who take a prerequisite to MTH 151 will not hinder their academic progress.
COMPUTER SCIENCE

This program is accredited by the Computing Accreditation Commission of ABET (http://www.abet.org/).

The computer science student graduates with an understanding of the key principles and practices of computing and the mathematical and scientific concepts that underpin them. The program emphasizes software design and development.

Fall semester:

- CSE 174 Fundamentals of Programming and Problem Solving (3)
- CEC 101 Computing, Engineering, and Society (1)
- ENG 111 Composition and Rhetoric (3) or Other MP course (3)
- MTH 151 Calculus I (5) or MTH 249 Calculus II (5)* MP
- Miami Plan electives (3-6)

Spring semester:

- CSE 271 Object-Oriented Programming (3)
- MTH 231 Elements of Discrete Mathematics (3)
- Math/Statistics Elective (3-4)
- CSE 102 Introduction to Computing and Engineering (3) or equivalent
- ENG 111 Composition and Rhetoric (3) or Other MP course (3)

* Check the mathematics placement guide in Planning Your Schedule section of this Guidebook and consult your advisor for appropriate course level. Students who take a prerequisite to MTH 151 will not hinder their academic progress.

ELECTRICAL ENGINEERING

This program is accredited by the Engineering Accreditation Commission of ABET (http://www.abet.org/).

Electrical engineering involves the design of circuits, devices, and systems, including computing systems, communication systems, control systems, digital circuits, sensors, and instruments. Electrical engineers apply math, science, and engineering to achieve the optimum design.

Fall semester:

- CEC 101 Computing, Engineering, and Society (1)
- CSE 174 Fundamentals of Programming and Problem Solving (3)
- ENG 111 Composition and Rhetoric (3) or MP Creative Arts course (3)
- MTH 151 Calculus I (5) or MTH 249 Calculus II (5)* MP
- PHY 191 General Physics with Laboratory I (5) MP

Spring semester:

- ECE 102 Introduction to Computing and Engineering (3) or equivalent
- MTH 251 Calculus II (4)
- PHY 192 General Physics with Laboratory II (5) MP
- ENG 111 Composition and Rhetoric (3) or MP Creative Arts course (3)
- Miami Plan Biological Science course (3)

* Check the mathematics placement guide in Planning Your Schedule section of this Guidebook and consult your advisor for appropriate course level. Students who take a prerequisite to MTH 151 will not hinder their academic progress.

ENGINEERING MANAGEMENT

This program combines engineering, business, science, mathematics, and the liberal arts to help you address technological problems in their larger organizational and societal contexts. You choose an engineering concentration in environmental engineering, paper science and engineering, manufacturing engineering or electronics and computing.

Fall semester:

- CHM 141, 144 College Chemistry and Laboratory (3, 2) MP or PHY 191 General Physics with Laboratory I (5) MP **
- CEC 101 Computing, Engineering, and Society (1)
ENG 111 Composition and Rhetoric (3) MP or Other MP course (3)

MTH 151 Calculus I (5) or MTH 249 Calculus II (5)* MP

CSE 174 Fundamentals of Programming and Problem Solving (3) or Miami Plan elective (3)

Spring semester:

CHM 142, 145 College Chemistry and Laboratory (3, 2) or PHY 192 General Physics with Laboratory II (5) MP

CSE/ECE 102 Introduction to Computing and Engineering or CPB 102 Introduction to Chemical and Bioengineering or MME 102 Introduction to Mechanical and Manufacturing Engineering (3)

MTH 251 Calculus II (4)

Miami Plan Foundation II or IIIB (3) or PHY 191 General Physics with Laboratory I (5)

ENG 111 Composition and Rhetoric (3) MP or Other MP course (3)

* Check the mathematics placement guide in Planning Your Schedule section of this Guidebook and consult your advisor for appropriate course level. Students who take a prerequisite to MTH 151 will not hinder their academic progress.

 If your concentration is manufacturing engineering or electronics and computing, taking physics is preferable; for environmental or paper science concentrations, taking chemistry is preferable.

MANUFACTURING ENGINEERING

This program is accredited by the Engineering Accreditation Commission of ABET (http://www.abet.org/).

Manufacturing engineers design, develop, and control the manufacturing process so that quality products can be produced on time and at a competitive cost.

Fall semester:

CEC 101 Computing, Engineering, and Society (1)

ENG 111 Composition and Rhetoric (3) MP or Other MP course (3)

MTH 151 Calculus I (5) or MTH 249 Calculus II (5)* MP

PHY 191 General Physics with Laboratory I (5) MP

Miami Plan elective (3)

Spring semester:

MME 102 Introduction to Mechanical and Manufacturing Engineering (3) or equivalent

MTH 251 Calculus II (4)

PHY 192 General Physics with Laboratory II (5) MP

ENG 111 Composition and Rhetoric (3) MP or Other MP course (3)

Miami Plan Humanities or Creative Arts course (3)

* Check the mathematics placement guide in Planning Your Schedule section of this Guidebook and consult your advisor for appropriate course level. Students who take a prerequisite to MTH 151 will not hinder their academic progress.

MECHANICAL ENGINEERING

This program is accredited by the Engineering Accreditation Commission of ABET (http://www.abet.org/).

Mechanical engineers research, develop, analyze, design, manufacture, and test tools, engines, power systems, machines, and other mechanical devices and systems.

Fall semester:

CEC 101 Computing, Engineering, and Society (1)

ENG 111 Composition and Rhetoric (3) MP or Other MP course (3)

MTH 151 Calculus I (5) or MTH 249 Calculus II (5)* MP

PHY 191 General Physics with Laboratory I (5) MP

Miami Plan elective (3) Humanities or Creative Arts

Spring semester:

MME 102 Introduction to Mechanical and Manufacturing Engineering (3) or equivalent
SOFTWARE ENGINEERING

Products from the phone in your hand to spacecraft on Mars are made possible by high-quality computer software. Software engineering is about creating such software. Problem solving, software design, programming, management, teamwork and professional practice are just some of the topics that are covered by the software Engineering major. You also select a specialization area from a broad range of topics such as interactive media studies, network centric systems, quality issues in contemporary business and industry, game and entertainment systems, and others.

Fall semester:
CEC 101 Computing, Engineering, and Society (1)
CSE 174 Fundamentals of Programming and Problem Solving (3)
ENG 111 Composition and Rhetoric (3) MP or Other MP course (3)
MTH 151 Calculus I (5) or MTH 249 Calculus II (5)* MP
Miami Plan electives (3-6)

Spring semester:
CSE 102 Introduction to Computing and Engineering (3) or equivalent
CSE 271 Object-Oriented Programming (3)
MTH 231 Elements of Discrete Mathematics (3)
Math/Statistics Elective (3-4)
ENG 111 Composition and Rhetoric (3) MP or Other MP course (3)

* Check the mathematics placement guide in Planning Your Schedule section of this Guidebook and consult your advisor for appropriate course level. Students who take a prerequisite to MTH 151 will not hinder their academic progress.

Farmer School of Business
1022 FSB, 513-529-1712
Assistant Dean: Chanelle White, 1022 FSB, 513-529-1712.

The Farmer School of Business offers programs for those interested in careers in business, industry, and other complex organizations.

ADMISSION NOTES

Admission to the Farmer School of Business is limited and the criteria for admission are subject to change as enrollment demands vary. Visit http://MiamiOH.edu/fsb/admission/index.html for more information.

Direct Admission

Admission to the Farmer School of Business generally takes place upon entry as a first year student. The academic credentials required will vary during each admission cycle and are determined by the Office of Admission. The review process is holistic and comprehensive and considers many variables to establish the context of a student’s achievements and demonstrated potential to be successful in the rigorous curriculum. Additional details are available on the Farmer school website: http://MiamiOH.edu/fsb/admission/highschool/index.html
Admission for Current Students
Current Miami University students who were not offered direct admission or who did not apply to the Farmer School of Business may seek admission through a non-competitive process by completing the following admission requirements: a student must have earned at least 30 graded credit hours at Miami University and hold a GPA of 3.50 or higher in a set of Miami Plan Foundation and business courses taken at Miami University; this set must include MTH 151 and ECO 201. For more information, please contact the FSB Student Services Office at (513)529-1712 and visit the Farmer School website: http://MiamiOH.edu/fsb/admission/current-student/admission/index.html

If you are transferring from another institution, refer to the requirements detailed in the Transfer Students section of this Guidebook.

Business Minors
Admission to the Farmer School of Business is not required for a business minor. However, admission to most Farmer School of Business minors is limited and the respective departments are responsible for managing their enrollments. Students may enroll in a maximum of two Farmer School of Business minors. Some minors are available to students on a first-come, first-served basis while others have entry restrictions or requirements. Therefore, to increase the likelihood of gaining entry into a FSB minor, interested students should contact the department offering the minor as early as possible in their academic careers. Completion of a FSB minor may require taking coursework during summer and winter terms and/or online.

REGISTERING FOR COURSES
The Farmer School of Business calls its divisional requirements the “common core of business courses.” These include courses in accountancy, business, business law, computing, economics, entrepreneurship, finance, management, marketing, and statistics. In addition, the school has a mathematics requirement (MTH 151 Calculus I), a communications requirement (BUS/ENG/284 Advanced Business Communication), a Business Capstone requirement, and a diversity requirement. Courses that satisfy the diversity requirement can be found on the FSB advising website: www.fsb.miamioh.edu/diversity-courses. Most FSB diversity courses satisfy the Miami Plan Foundation Intercultural Perspectives.

When you register, keep these things in mind:
• Calculus I (MTH 151) or its equivalent is required of all business students. Your ACT Math score will determine placement into MTH 151 or a precalculus course. If you have questions, consult the math advisor during orientation or an advisor in the Department of Mathematics. MTH 151 will fulfill Miami Plan Foundation V.
• Business Analysis (BUS) 101, 102, 104 and Entrepreneurship (ESP) 103 are required for all first year business students and are taken concurrently in either the fall or spring semesters. These four courses are known as the First Year Integrated Core (FYIC).
• Information Systems and Analytics (ISA) 235 is required of all business students. To prepare for this course, you should schedule the prerequisite course Computer Science and Software Engineering (CSE) 148, Business Computing in either semester of the first year.
• Economics (ECO) 201 and 202 are required of all business majors and will fulfill the social science requirement of the Miami Plan Foundation IIC.

BUS 102 Foundations of Business Communication (2)
ESP 103 Creativity, Innovation and Entrepreneurial Thinking (2)
BUS 104 Introduction to Computational Thinking for Business (2)
Elective (0-2)
*Students who have Advanced Placement (AP) or college level transfer work may advance coursework into one or more business core courses (ACC 221, ACC 222, STA/ISA 125, ISA 225, ECO 201, ECO 202) in the first year, as appropriate and interested.

College of Liberal Arts & Applied Science (Regional Campuses)
Miami Hamilton and Miami Middletown are regional, community-based campuses of Miami University, a highly-regarded public university with a national reputation. Regional locations include the Voice of America- Learning Center (VOALC) in West Chester.

The College of Liberal Arts & Applied Science is home to Miami’s Regional Campuses’ twelve academic departments. Since its formation, it has offered a flexible and affordable model of education to better meet the needs for economic, community and work-force development in our region. Academic offerings include the following:

- Certificates
- Associate degrees
- Bachelor degrees
- Beginning coursework for most Miami University bachelor’s degree programs

Online courses are completely online and do not require you to attend a regular class meeting. Online courses are offered through a password-protected collaborative learning environment called Canvas. Course content is available 24 hours a day and communication takes place in a variety of ways. The advantages of online courses include flexibility, mobility, and accessibility. Keep in mind these courses can be very time-consuming and require discipline and good time management to complete.

Certificates
Customer Service Certificate
The customer service certificate provides fundamental skills in customer service, personal interactions and computer applications for customer service representatives.

For information, contact the Department of Commerce at 7847 VOA Park Drive, West Chester, OH 45069, 513-785-7706, commerce@MiamiOH.edu.

CMR 261 Customer Service & Satisfaction (3)
CMR 282 Computer-Based Business Analysis (3)
CMR 301 Personal Organizational Skills (3)

Associate Degrees - Suggested First-Year Courses

COMMERCE: ASSOCIATE OF APPLIED BUSINESS
The Associate of Applied Business degree is available in three major areas: digital business systems, marketing management, and business management.

Potential Career Paths: Graduates without extensive work experience typically start in entry-level, management-support positions and advance to more responsible positions with experience, motivation, and ability.

Fall Semester:
ENG 111 Composition and Rhetoric (3) MP
CMR 106 Introduction to Business and the Economy (3) MP
CMR 111 Introduction to Management I (3)
CMR 181 Computers and Business (3)
STC 136 Intro to Interpersonal Communication (3) MP

Spring Semester:
CMR 101 Introduction to Accounting (3)
CMR 106 Introduction to Business and the Economy (3) MP
CMR 105 Introduction to Marketing (3)
STA 261 Statistics (4) MP OR MTH 119 Quantitative Reasoning (4) MP
MPF III Global Perspectives OR IV Natural Science (3)

COMPUTER TECHNOLOGY: ASSOCIATE IN APPLIED SCIENCE

Potential Career Paths: computer programmers and system support personnel

Fall Semester:
ENG 111 Composition and Rhetoric (3) MP
MPF IIA Creative Arts (3)
MTH 151 Calculus I (5) MP
CEC 101 Computing, Engineering and Society (1)
CSE 174 Fundamentals of Programming and Problem Solving (3)

Spring Semester:
STC 135 Principles of Public Speaking (3) or STC 231 Small Group Communication (3)
MPF III Global Perspectives (3)
MTH 251 Calculus II (4)
CSE 271 Object Oriented Programming (3)
CSE/CIT 262 Technology, Ethics, and Global Society (3) MP

COMPUTER AND INFORMATION TECHNOLOGY: ASSOCIATE IN APPLIED SCIENCE

Potential Career Paths: technically skilled professionals who can design computer programs and systems, support users, and provide administration and maintenance of computer networks.

Fall Semester:
ENG 111 Composition and Rhetoric (3) (MP I) or Global Miami Plan (3)
STC 135 Introduction to Public Expression and Critical Inquiry (3)
MTH 125 Precalculus (5)
CIT 167 IT People and Practices (2)
CIT 168 IT Tools and Techniques (4)

Spring Semester:
CIT 268 Intro to Human-Computer Interaction (3)
CIT 214 Database Design (3)
CSE 163 Introduction to Computer Concepts and Programming (3) MP
Major Concentration (3)
MPF IIA Creative Arts or MPF IV Natural Science (3-4)

CRIMINAL JUSTICE: ASSOCIATE IN APPLIED SCIENCE

Potential Career Paths: law enforcement officers; corrections officers; and may work within probation, parole or private security agencies.

Fall Semester:
ENG 111 Composition and Rhetoric (3) MP
MPF IIA Creative Arts (3)
CJS 101 Introduction to Criminal Justice Studies (3) MP
MPF IV Natural Science (3-4)
POL 142 American Politics and Diversity (3) or CRE 151 Black World Studies (3) MP

Spring Semester:
CJS 211 Policing in America (3)
CJS 281 Corrections (3)
CJS 125/225 Law and the Courts (3)
MPF IIB Humanities (3)
Elective (3)

ENGINEERING TECHNOLOGY: ASSOCIATE OF APPLIED SCIENCE
Accredited by the Engineering Technology Accreditation Commission of ABET, http://www.abet.org/ First year students who want to pursue a bachelor's degree in Engineering Technology must first earn an associate degree in Engineering Technology. Students should begin with the following suggested coursework in either Electrical and Computer Engineering Technology or Mechanical Engineering Technology

Electrical and Computer Engineering Technology: Associate in Applied Science

Potential Career Paths: electronic technicians, electrical maintenance technicians, computer maintenance and network technicians, engineering assistants, and other related paraprofessional positions.

Fall Semester:
ENG 111 Composition and Rhetoric (3)
ENT 135 Computer-Aided Drafting (3)
ENT 137 Introduction to Engineering Technology (1)
ENT 192 Circuit Analysis I (3)
MTH 125 Precalculus or MTH 151 Calculus (5) MP (course based on math placement)

Spring Semester:
STC 135 Principles of Public Speaking (3)
CSE 153 Introduction to C/C++ Programming (3)
ENT 193 Circuit Analysis II (3)
ENT 196 Electronics (3)
PHY 161 Physics for the Life Sciences with Laboratory I (4) MP

Mechanical Engineering Technology: Associate in Applied Science

Potential Career Paths: Engineering Technicians within manufacturing related areas such as testing, analysis, design, and development of products.

Fall Semester:
ENT 135 Computer-Aided Drafting (3)
ENT 137 Introduction to Engineering Technology (1)
ENT 151 Engineering Materials (3)
MTH 125 Precalculus or MTH 151 Calculus (5) MP (course based on math placement)
PHY 161 Physics for the Life Sciences with Laboratory I (4) MP

Spring Semester:
CSE 163 Introduction to Computer Concepts and Programming (3) MP
ENG 111 Composition and Rhetoric (3) MP
ENT 152 Computer-Aided Manufacturing I (3)
ENT 271 Mechanics I: Statics (3)
PHY 162 Physics for the Life Sciences with Laboratory I (4) MP

GENERAL STUDIES: ASSOCIATE IN ARTS

Potential Career Paths: management, healthcare, sales, marketing, or continue with a bachelor's degree.

Fall Semester:
ENG I11 Composition and Rhetoric (3) MP
MPF IIA Creative Arts (3)
MPF IIB Humanities (3)
MPF III Global Perspective (3)
MPF IV Physical or Biological Science (4)

Spring Semester:
Division Course (CLAAS, CAS, CEC, CCA, EHS, FSB)
MPF III Global Perspective (3)
MPF IIC Social Science (3)
MPF IV Physical or Biological Science (4)
MPF V Math, Formal Reasoning, Technology (3)

PREKINDERGARTEN EDUCATION: ASSOCIATE IN APPLIED SCIENCE

Potential Career Paths: public or private child care centers, preschools, or Head Start programs as teachers, support personnel or administrators/directors.

Fall Semester
ENG I11 Composition and Rhetoric (3) MP *
EDT 190 Introduction to Education (3) * †
EDP 201 Human Development and Learning in Social and Educational Contests (3) MP * †
EDT 273 Prekindergarten Integrated Curriculum I (3)
FSW 283 Introduction to Child Care Administration (3)

Spring Semester
MTH 115 Mathematics for Teachers (4) MP
FSW 382 Infant and Toddler Caregiving and Supervision (3)
FSW 207 Serving and Supporting Children, Youth and Families I (4)
KNH 245 Issues of Health & Wellness for the Young Child (3)*
EDT 274 Prekindergarten Integrated Curriculum II (3)

* Course can be applied to Bachelor of Science Degree in Early Childhood Education.
† TAG course required by the state of Ohio Department of Education.

TECHNICAL STUDY: ASSOCIATE OF TECHNICAL STUDY

Potential Career Paths: Career paths would depend upon the technical courses chosen, such as engineering, computing, or commerce.

Fall Semester:
ENG I11 Composition and Rhetoric (3) MP
STC 135 Principles of Public Speaking (3) or STC 136 Introduction to Interpersonal Communication (3) MP or STC 231 Small Group Communication (3)
MPF IV Biological or Physical Science (4)
Technical Courses from CIT, CMR, ENT, NSG (6)

Spring Semester:
EGS 215 Workplace Writing (3) GMP
MPF IIA Creative arts, MPF IIB Humanities, or MPF IIC Social Science course (3)
MPF III Global Perspectives (3)
Technical Courses from CIT, CMR, ENT, NSG (6)

Bachelor Degrees - Suggested First-Year Courses

APPLIED BIOLOGY: BACHELOR OF SCIENCE
Applied Biology offers two concentrations: 1) Environmental Biology and 2) Human Biology & Health Sciences.

Potential Career Paths: Graduates with this applied biology degree are qualified for careers such as: lab technicians, laboratory research assistants, consultants, U.S. and Ohio Environmental Protection Agency field and lab positions, field biology, technical writers, pharmaceutical sales representatives, and natural resource managers.

Environmental Biology Concentration

Fall Semester:
ENG 111 Composition and Rhetoric (3) MP
MPF IIA Creative Arts (3)
MPF IIB Humanities (3)
BIO 115 Biological Concepts: Ecology, Evolution, Genetics, and Diversity (4) MP
GLG 121 Environmental Biology (3) MP

Spring Semester:
STA 261 Statistics (4) MP
BIO 116 Biological Concepts: Structure, Function, Cellular, and Molecular Biology (4) MP
MPF III Global Perspective (3)
ECO 201 Microeconomics or POL 241 American Political System (3) MP
GLG 115L Understanding the Earth (1) MP

Human Biology & Health Science Concentration

Fall Semester:
ENG 111 Composition and Rhetoric (3) MP
MPF IIA Creative Arts (3)
BIO 115 Biological Concepts: Ecology, Evolution, Genetics, and Diversity (4) MP
CHM 141R College Chemistry I (4) MP
CHM 144 College Chemistry I Lab (2) MP

Spring Semester:
CHM 142M College Chemistry II for Majors (3) MP
CHM 145 College Chemistry II Lab (2) MP
BIO 116 Biological Concepts: Structure, Function, Cellular, and Molecular Biology (4) MP
MPF IIB Humanities (3)
MPF IIC Social Science (3)
APPLIED SOCIAL RESEARCH: BACHELOR OF ARTS IN APPLIED SOCIAL SCIENCE

Potential Career Paths: researchers and data analysts in business, marketing, and finance; education, healthcare, local and state government, program evaluation and consulting and social services. Market researcher, research data analyst, data scientist, social science research analyst, and human services analyst.

Fall Semester:
- ENG 111 Composition and Rhetoric (3) MP
- MPF IIA Creative Arts (3)
- MPF IIB Humanities (3)
- Elective (3)
- Elective (3)

Spring Semester:
- STA 261 Statistics (4) MP
- CRE 151 (4) or ATH 175 or ATH 185 (3) or GEO 101 (3) or CMR 105 (3) or POL 241 (3) or SOC 153 (3) or PSY 111 & 112 (4) MP
- Elective (3)
- Elective (3)
- MPF IV Natural Science (3)

COMMUNICATION STUDIES: BACHELOR OF ARTS IN APPLIED COMMUNICATION

Potential Career Paths: training and development manager, meeting and event planning, advertising and promotion manager, sales manager.

Fall Semester:
- ENG 111 Composition and Rhetoric (3) MP
- MPF IIA Creative Arts (3)
- STC 135 Principles Public Speaking (3)
- MPF III Global Perspective (3)
- Elective (3)

Spring Semester:
- STA 261 Statistics (4) MP
- MAC 143 Introduction to Media (3) MP
- STC 136 Introduction to Interpersonal Communication (3) MP
- Elective (3)
- MPF IV Natural Science (3-4)

COMMUNITY ARTS: BACHELOR OF ARTS*

Potential Career Paths: directors, coordinators, outreach specialists, designers, fundraisers, and art educators within community arts organizations.

Fall Semester:
- ENG 111 Composition and Rhetoric (3) MP
- MPF IIC Social Science (3)
- MPF III Global Perspectives (3)
- CMA 101 Introduction to Community Arts (1)
- Community Arts Foundation – ART 187, 188, MUS 135, 185, 189, or THE 191 (3) MP
- Community Arts Foundation—ART 102, 103, 104, 105, 106, 111, 121, ENG 226, THE 101 or THE 123 (3)

Spring Semester:
- Community Arts Foundation—ART 102, 103, 104, 105, 106, 111, 121, ENG 226, THE 101, or THE 123 (3)
- MPF IIB Humanities (3)
CRIMINAL JUSTICE: BACHELOR OF SCIENCE IN CRIMINAL JUSTICE

Potential Career Paths: police officer, corrections officer, probation and parole officer, and court administrator. Graduate study in criminal justice, criminology, sociology, political science and law school are also possible.

Fall Semester:
- ENG 111 Composition and Rhetoric (3) MP
- CJS 101 Introduction to Criminal Justice Studies (3) MP
- Elective (3)
- MPF IV Natural Science (4)
- MPF IIA Creative Arts (3)

Spring Semester:
- CJS 211 Law Enforcement (3)
- CJS 281 Corrections (3)
- STA 261 Statistics (4) MP
- CJSI25/225 Law & the Courts (3)
- Elective (3)

ENGINEERING TECHNOLOGY: BACHELOR OF SCIENCE IN APPLIED SCIENCE

The Department of Engineering Technology offers Bachelor’s Completion Degrees in three different concentrations, Electro-Mechanical, Electrical and Computer, and Mechanical. First year students who want to pursue a bachelor’s degree in Engineering Technology must first earn an associate degree in Engineering Technology. Students should begin with the suggested Associate of Applied Science coursework in either Electrical and Computer Engineering Technology or Mechanical Engineering Technology. Transfer students with an earned associate degree in Engineering Technology will begin with third year course recommendations.

Electro-Mechanical Concentration

The Electro-Mechanical Engineering Technology bachelor’s completion degree program is accredited by the Engineering Technology Accreditation Commission of ABET. http://www.abet.org.

Potential Career Paths: process control, electronic instrumentation, testing, manufacturing, sales, and service. analysis and design of process control equipment, laboratory testing services, product sales and service, applications engineering, and the development of systems that require a hardware/software interface.

Fall Semester:
- CHM 141, 144 College Chemistry and Laboratory (3, 2) MP
- EGS 215 or 313 Workplace Writing (3) GMP
- ENT 271 Mechanics I: Statics (3) or ENT 196 Electronics (3)
- ENT 311 Process Control and Interface Design (3)
- MTH 251 Calculus II (4)

Spring semester:
- ENT 272 Mechanics II: Strength of Materials (3)
- ENT 316 Project Management (3)
- ENT 401 Computerized Instrumentation and Feedback Control (3)
- STA 301 Applied Statistics (3)
- ENT 301 Dynamics (3)
- Global Miami Plan course – as needed (3)
Electrical and Computer Concentration

Potential Career Paths: automated manufacturing, instrumentation and control, medical systems, energy and environmental systems, wireless communication and digital signal processing.

Fall Semester:
- MTH 251 Calculus II (4)
- CHM 141, 144 College Chemistry/College Chemistry Lab (3, 2) MP
- ENT 311 Process Control Interface Design (3)
- STA 301 Applied Statistics (3)
- MPF IIA Creative Arts or other Global Miami Plan course as needed (3)

Spring Semester:
- ENT 387 Embedded Systems Tech. (3)
- ENT 271 Mechanics I: Statics (3)
- ENT 298 Data Communications (3)
- ENT 316 Project Management (3)
- ENT 401 Computerized Instrumentation (3)
- MTH 231 Elements of Discrete Mathematics (3) or MTH 222 Intro to Linear Algebra (3)

Mechanical Concentration

The Mechanical Engineering Technology bachelor's completion degree program is accredited by the Engineering Technology Accreditation Commission of ABET. http://www.abet.org.

Potential Career Paths: computer aided design, computer aided analysis, and computer aided manufacturing, testing, analysis, design, and development of industrial and consumer products.

Fall Semester:
- ENT 301 Dynamics (3)
- ENT 310 Fluid Mechanics (3)
- ENT 333 Computational Methods for Engineering Technology (4)
- MTH 251 Calculus II (4)
- Global Miami Plan course as needed (3)

Spring Semester:
- EGS 215 Workplace Writing or ENG 313 Technical Writing (3)
- ENT 334 Mechanisms for Mechanical Design (3)
- ENT 355 Finite Element Analysis (3)
- ENT 316 Project Management (3)
- ENT 404 Experimentation Techniques (3)
- STA 301 Applied Statistics (3)

ENGLISH STUDIES: BACHELOR OF ARTS

Potential Career Paths: writing and editing, publishing, media, market research, advertising, libraries, non-profit organizations, public service, government, business, law

Fall Semester:
- ENG I11 Composition and Rhetoric (3) MP
- Major Course: Survey or Genre (3) Discuss options with English Studies advisor
- MPF IIC Social Science (3)
MPF III Global Perspectives (3)
Elective (3)

Spring Semester:

INTEGRATIVE STUDIES: BACHELOR OF INTEGRATIVE STUDIES
This major is an individualized program. The sequencing of requirements may vary. Please contact the Department of Interdisciplinary and Communication Studies.

Potential Career Paths: Students in Integrative Studies build a Bachelor's degree that works best for them, by making connections among fields of study that fit their educational, career, and personal goals.

Fall Semester:
ENG 111 Composition and Rhetoric (3) MP
MPF IIB Humanities (3)
MPF IIC Social Science (3)
BIS - 21st Century literacy
Elective (3)

Spring Semester:
MPF IIA Creative Arts (3)
MPF III Global Perspective (3)
MPF IV Natural Science (3-4)
GMP Advanced Writing (3)
BIS 201 - Introduction to Integrative Studies

LIBERAL STUDIES: BACHELOR OF ARTS OR SCIENCE
This major is designed as a bachelor completion program for students with a varied skill set and a substantial number of credits. Please contact the Department of Interdisciplinary and Communication Studies.

NONPROFIT AND COMMUNITY STUDIES: BACHELOR OF SCIENCE IN NONPROFIT AND COMMUNITY STUDIES
Potential Career Paths: nonprofit organizations, service agencies, philanthropic and development organizations and local government.

Fall Semester:
NCS 201 Theories of Civic Leadership and Democracy (3)
NCS 202 Introduction to Nonprofits and NGOs (3)
ENG 111 Composition and Rhetoric (3) MP
MPF IIC Social Science (3)
Elective (3)

Spring Semester:
MPF IIA Creative Arts
MPF IV Natural Science (3-4)
MPF V Math, Formal Reasoning, and Technology (3)
Organizational Leadership Distribution (3) -- discuss with major advisor
Elective (3)

BACHELOR OF SCIENCE IN NURSING
Potential Career Paths: BSN-prepared nurses are preferred by many hospitals and healthcare agencies. Graduates will have opportunities in acute care, community-based care, primary care, specialty care, and are prepared for the pursuit of graduate education.

Fall Semester
BIO 171 Human Anatomy and Physiology (4) MP
CHM 131 Chemistry of Life Processes (4) MP
ENG II Composition and Rhetoric (3) MP
MPF IIA Creative Arts (3)
MPF III Global Perspectives (3)

Spring Semester
BIO 172 Human Anatomy and Physiology (4)
MBI 161 Elementary Medical Microbiology (4) MP or MBI III Microorganisms and Human Disease (3) and MBI I23 Experimenting with Microbes (I) MP
MPF III Global Perspectives (3)
MPF IIB Humanities course (3)
Intercultural Perspectives (3) MP

PSYCHOLOGICAL SCIENCE: BACHELOR OF ARTS

Potential Career Paths: child development specialist, child life specialist, psychiatric technician, mental health technician, substance abuse technician, department manager, human resources adviser, market research analyst, medical and health services manager, social and community service manager, project evaluator, as well as pursuit of graduate school in psychology and related fields.

Fall Semester:
PSY III Introduction to Psychology or PSY 200-level* (if AP or transfer credit for PSY III) (3) MP
PSY II Foundational Experiences in Psychology* (I) GMP – Experiential Learning
ENG III Composition and Rhetoric (3) MP
Foreign Language 101* (4) (based on placement)
Elective (3)

Spring Semester:
PSY 210 Psych Across Cultures* (3) Or PSY 221 Social Psychology* (3)
Foreign Language 102* (4) (based on placement)
STA 261 Statistics* (4) MP
MPF IIB Humanities (3)
Elective (3)

*Course can be applied to the Psychological Science or the Psychology degree requirements.

Curriculum changes in process at time of publication. Check with advisor for approved curriculum.

SMALL BUSINESS MANAGEMENT: BACHELOR OF SCIENCE IN COMMERCE

Potential Career Paths: Work in small businesses and other organizations in managerial and staff capacities.

Fall Semester:
ENG III College Composition (3) MP
CMR III Introduction to Management (3)
MPF IIA Creative Arts (3)
MPF IV Natural Science (4)
Elective (3)

TIPS FOR SPECIAL POPULATIONS OF STUDENTS

University Honors Program & University Academic Scholars Program Students

UNIVERSITY HONORS PROGRAM REQUIREMENTS
Welcome to the University Honors Program! We are here to enhance Miami University’s commitment to undergraduate student success by creating the conditions for meaningful, reflective learning which will prepare you as a leader who will excel in your field, confident in exercising critical and independent thought, with a proactive sense of responsibility to our global world.

The University Honors Program requires students to complete eight (8) Honors Experiences over the course of their undergraduate studies. This averages out to one (1) experience per semester. The intended path is:

- Two (2) First-Year Honors courses
- Two (2) additional academic Honors Experiences: Honors courses; Honors course extensions of regularly offered Miami courses; or undergraduate research, mentored by faculty
- Four (4) additional Honors Experiences in any combination of the following:
  - Honors courses or course extensions
  - Independent research, mentored by faculty
  - Internships, student-teaching, co-ops, or other pre-professional opportunities
  - Study abroad
  - Significant philanthropic, service-oriented, creative, or leadership projects

Your Honors advisor will work with you to plan your individualized Honors path.
HONORS COURSE REGISTRATION

Honors Advisors will be available to answer questions about Honors course registration for Fall Semester at Registration on Day 2 of orientation. You will learn more about scheduling Honors courses for Spring Semester during your Group Advising session with your Honors advisor in the Fall. Please note that your divisional advisor is your primary resource for non-honors advising related questions.

GETTING INVOLVED IN THE HONORS COMMUNITY

There are several ways you can become an involved member of the Honors Community, starting with Honors Convocation, which will occur during Welcome Week. At Honors Convocation, you will meet Honors Staff and current students, learn more about your Honors requirements, and become acquainted with the benefits of being an Honors student. More information regarding this event will be emailed to you after orientation. The Honors Student Advisory Board (HSAB) is the student organization that plans events such as the Fall Kickoff, the Honors Formal, and Honors Hangouts for Honors Students. Attending their events is a great way to meet other students in the Honors Program.

For more information, please visit www.miamioh.edu/honors or call 513-529-3399.

UNIVERSITY ACADEMIC SCHOLARS PROGRAM

Oxford campus students who have been accepted in the University Academic Scholars Program are offered the unique experience to engage more deeply in their specific fields of interest by receiving unparalleled access to Miami’s most renowned academic programs, distinguished faculty mentors, cutting-edge research and internship experiences, and personal connection with key university officials and guests. Students in the University Academic Scholars Program also have unique access to honors courses and are encouraged to enhance their fall semester with these courses when feasible.

Students accepted into the UASP should make contact with their Faculty Advisor in their first semester. Students are strongly encouraged to attend events and become involved in their specific program. For more information about the University Academic Scholars Program, please visit: http://www.MiamiOH.edu/admission/uasp/.
International Students

Welcome to Miami University! We are proud to have you as part of our community. Here are some tips for you:

- You will be registered for a course focused on your educational transition to Miami University (UNV 101 I Am Miami or CAS 116 American Academic Culture & Communication).
- Become familiar with the International Student & Scholar Services (ISSS) which is located in MacMillan Hall, room 214.
- International students who are in F-1 or J-1 status should follow these rules to ensure maintenance of legal status. Please note these regulations are subject to change. More information can be found on the ISSS website at www.MiamiOH.edu/international.

  » Maintain full-time enrollment (12 credits) each Fall and Spring semester.
  » Do not enroll in more than one online course per semester.
  » Make sure your I-20 or DS-2019 is valid, accurate, and issued by Miami University – notify ISSS of any changes in your major, degree level, or source of funding.
  » Make sure you have a valid travel signature from ISSS on your I-20 or DS-2019 before traveling outside the US.
  » F-1 students are authorized to work on campus up to 20 hours per week during the school year. J-1 students must obtain authorization from ISSS for on-campus employment. Do NOT seek or accept off-campus employment prior to discussing it with ISSS.
  » Update your local address through BannerWeb within 10 days of moving each time you move.
  » Do not stay in the United States beyond the grace period associated with your visa status – 60 days beyond degree completion for F-1 students, 30 days beyond program completion for J-1 students.
  » Make sure your passport remains valid – you can renew your passport through your country’s embassy in the US.

INTERNATIONAL STUDENT AND SCHOLAR SERVICES

International Student and Scholar Services (ISSS), located in MacMillan Hall, room 214, has staff members ready to help students with the following:

- Visa regulations and procedures for maintaining legal status
- General advising and referrals to other campus offices
- Acculturation to campus and the local area
- Excursions and field trips to off campus locations

Many requests (for example: travel signatures) can be made online through InterLink at https://ioffice.MiamiOH.edu.

ISSS sends announcements to all enrolled international students via your Miami email account announcing relevant programs and excursions as well as visa-related reminders. Information is also posted online at www.MiamiOH.edu/international. You can find ISSS on Facebook under “Miami University International Students and Scholars” (facebook.com/MiamiOhISSS) and WeChat at MiamiOhISSS.

For questions or to schedule an appointment with an international student advisor, email international@MiamiOH.edu, call 513-529-8600, or visit ISSS in MacMillan 214.
ENGLISH PLACEMENT

At Miami University, all students, including international students, must satisfy the first-year English requirement. Students will be placed in the appropriate English courses based on test scores or other proof of English proficiency received at the time of admission, as well as electronically and locally administered placement tests in writing and speaking.

- CAS 116 is a transition course designed to support academic English speaking and listening skills
- ENG 107 is designed to provide foundational skills for international students in written English
- ENG 108 is a course designed to provide international students with competence in written academic English and a basic understanding of American cultures
- ENG 109 is similar to ENG 111 except ENG 109 concentrates on special needs of non-native speakers.

The University expects students to take English courses until the first-year requirement is completed (ENG 109 or ENG 111), which will take one to three semesters, depending on where students are placed in their first semester.

AMERICAN CULTURE AND ENGLISH (ACE) PROGRAM

International students who receive Conditional Admission to Miami will be enrolled in Miami’s American Culture and English (ACE) Program during their first term. For a student’s status to be changed from conditional admission to regular enrollment, the student must successfully complete and fulfill all criteria established by the program. Students must complete ACE within two semesters in order to matriculate to Miami University. Please note that additional course fees may apply for ACE courses.

ENGLISH LANGUAGE CENTER (ELC)

The Miami University Regionals ELC is a 5-Level intensive English program (IEP) designed to provide participants access to the highest quality academic English language education in a safe and optimal learning environment. Participants who successfully complete the ELC program will leave with the necessary language, college, social, cultural, soft, and life skill sets to be successful in Miami University’s higher-education system and become valuable contributing members in the University, local, and global communities and workforces.
Regional Campuses

Welcome to Miami University! We are proud to have you as part of our community. Regional students are a varied and diverse group. Some students are attending our campuses directly after high school, while others have taken a few years off or are adult learners. Some are student parents, the first in their families to attend college, or veterans. Others may be working just a little or full-time. Regardless of which of these categories describes you, know that we are committed to your learning and success. Here are some tips for you:

- Step outside of your comfort zone. Meet new people, take new classes, and take your pick among the many programs, organizations, and events the campuses have to offer.

- Enroll in UNV 101, “I am Miami,” or a recommended major based freshman seminar in your first semester at Miami University. This class establishes a solid foundation for college and career success as it introduces you to the skills and resources you’ll want to use to make the most of your time at Miami.

- Consider getting involved on campus. The Regional Campuses offer many ways for students to get involved in the campus community. The Regional Campuses offer over 40 student organizations, opportunities for community engagement, athletics, and many social and academic events. Getting involved with campus can help you feel more comfortable with college life and will help you build relationships at Miami.

- Avoid the mistakes many college students make:

  1. Be prepared to study. If your study skills aren’t as solid as you’d like, no problem. Enroll in EDT 110R or connect with a Teaching and Learning Center coach.

  2. Be realistic when considering how your class AND study schedule will fit with your work and home/life schedules. Doing well in college requires doing schoolwork outside of class. See below for recommendations on how to balance college and work.

  3. Seek help early if you feel stressed or overly anxious. Utilize all the resources the campuses offer including counseling services, tutoring, and academic advising.

OXFORD PATHWAY PROGRAM

The Pathways Program is a short-term, intensive learning program for students who have been selected to begin their studies on a regional campus. During the fall term these students enroll in classes at a regional campus (including some courses taken together as a cohort) and live in a special Pathways living-learning community on the Oxford campus. Pathway students have a dedicated advisor who will assist them in planning for college success and with selecting courses that work toward their individual academic goals. Upon successful completion of the fall semester program requirements, students will relocate to the Oxford campus (see entry below on relocation) and enroll in Oxford courses for the spring semester.
RELOCATION
Students seeking a bachelor’s degree offered on the Oxford campus may apply to relocate with at least a 2.00 cumulative GPA, an acceptable conduct record, and after earning 16 hours of graded Miami college courses (not including credit/no credit, CLEP, AP, transfer, military, developmental 00 classes, and College Credit Plus credit). At least one fall or spring semester must be completed on a regional campus.

CONSIDERING AN ON-CAMPUS JOB
You can fill some of the gaps in your daily schedule -- and your wallet -- by working on-campus. Positions are available in the library, gymnasium, onsite childcare centers, physical facilities (buildings and grounds), and various administrative and departmental offices. For more information, including available jobs and how to apply, search for “Student Employment” on the Miami University website.

CAMPUS KIDS/MUM TOTS
Our on-site childcare centers are fully accredited and provide safe and nurturing environments for children of Miami regional campus students. Many regional students are also eligible to receive additional financial assistance through the State of Ohio or the U.S. Department of Education to help cover the cost of childcare at our centers. For more information, contact the childcare center on the campus you plan on attending. Space is limited and early registration is recommended.

Transfer Students
While you are not new to college, you are new to Miami and will need to learn how this university differs from your previous institution. Academic advisors are here to assist you with this transition.

ORIENTATION & ADVISING
For the Oxford campus, students have two options when it comes to attending an orientation session. There are small, one-day, transfer-specific orientation programs in May - August (for those entering in fall semester) and in December and January (for those entering in spring semester). Alternatively, new transfers can attend a one-and-a-half day orientation right before the start of each semester that includes both first-year and transfer students. These orientation sessions are coordinated by the Office of Orientation and Transition Programs and include participation from the various academic divisions.

For the regional campuses, students will complete an online orientation, and then are advised through the advising office on their campus. For more information, contact the appropriate office:

- Hamilton Campus, 2nd floor, Rentschler Hall, 513-785-3129
- Middletown Campus, 1 Johnston Hall, 513-727-3440

TRANSFERRING COURSES TO MIAMI
One of the most important tasks you need to complete is to determine which courses or credits from your previous institution have been transferred to Miami. See the section “Transferring College Courses to Miami” earlier in this guidebook for more information.
OTHER TYPES OF CREDIT

Miami will accept up to 32 hours of nontraditional credit, such as credit by examination and armed forces credit.

- Armed Forces Credit: Credit for courses taken at U.S. military services schools will be given on the basis of the Military Transfer Assurance Guides (MTAG) and the American Council on Education publication, Guide to the Evaluation of Educational Experience in the Armed Services. To receive transfer credit, you must submit a Joint Services transcript. Students entering the university fall 2012 or after will also be awarded for military training and experience.

- Credit by Examination: Credit earned by taking CLEP tests, Advanced Placement tests, International Baccalaureate (IB), or proficiency examinations administered by one of Miami’s academic departments is traditional credit and does not count in the 32 semester-hour limit. Credit earned through proficiency exams at other institutions must be validated or accepted by the appropriate department at Miami. Note: Advanced placement credit does not transfer from one institution to another. Each time you transfer, your test scores must be sent from the College Board. To have your credit transferred to Miami, see www.apcentral.collegeboard.com. Request to have your test scores sent to Miami University (Ohio) - Code #1463.

- Nursing Credit: Graduates of diploma and non-NLNAC accredited associate’s degree programs are required to complete 32 Miami hours and pass NSG 301, 311, and 313 before their 28 hours of transfer credit will be validated. Graduates of accredited associate’s degree programs can transfer 28 semester hours of nursing from a regionally accredited two year college. Additional transfer hours may be used as elective credit. If you are a registered nurse with credits from a college nursing program, your credits are evaluated on the same basis as other transfer students' credits, described earlier. See the sample schedules in the section on College of Professional Studies & Applied Sciences for more information about degrees in nursing.

KEY TERMS YOU SHOULD KNOW

Course Equivalent: The courses that you transferred to Miami that have been determined to be the equivalent of an existing Miami course; these courses appear on your transcript with a Miami course number. If you have earned only Advanced Placement credit or college credit while attending high school or during the summer after your admission to Miami has been processed, you are not considered a transfer student.

“T” number courses: Courses evaluated by Miami University that do not have a Miami equivalent* are assigned a “T” number. The “T” denotes transfer (e.g., ENG T01). These courses can be re-evaluated by the appropriate academic department by following these steps:

- Have course syllabus or textbook available
- Make an appointment with a divisional advisor for the proper referral
- Make an appointment to see the appropriate Chief Departmental Advisor.

*Just because courses are assigned T numbers does not mean that they cannot be applied to requirement categories.

Quarter-Semester Conversion: A quarter hour is two-thirds (0.6667) of a semester hour. To figure semester hours, multiply the quarter hours by 0.6667.
Special Notes for Each Division

COLLEGE OF ARTS AND SCIENCE

After you have been notified of your acceptance to Miami by the Office of Admission, you will receive a letter from the College of Arts and Science informing you of the transfer orientation one-day sessions and how to register for one. The academic advising portion is designed to introduce you to the requirements of the university and of the College of Arts and Science. During these sessions you will work with an academic advisor before registering your courses.

Working with a College of Arts and Science advisor during your transitional semester will be key to your academic success as you may have elementary or introductory course work taken at your former institution that does not automatically apply to the Miami Plan or the CAS requirements. A College of Arts and Science advisor can help you identify if it is possible to substitute such course work that has no Miami equivalent and walk you through the process on how to get that done. You will also be assigned a faculty advisor in the department of your major, which will be displayed on your student tab in the myMiami web porta.

If you are transferring into the speech pathology and audiology program, you must have earned a 3.00 cumulative GPA and a 3.00 GPA in courses required for the major before you will be admitted into SPA 300- and 400-level courses.

Some majors within the College of Arts and Science mandate having a second major (or co-major) as part of their degree.

COLLEGE OF CREATIVE ARTS

Most CCA programs begin in the fall semester. All majors except art and architecture history and emerging technology in business and design require a portfolio review or audition/interview at the time of application. Admission is on a space-available basis.

To transfer into architecture or interior design, you should have a 3.00 grade point average and a competitive portfolio. Offers of admission are based on scholastic achievement, creative potential, and space availability. Contact the department in the fall for complete information. Portfolios are due to the Department of Architecture + Interior Design by February 1. These programs can only be started in the fall semester.

To transfer into art or art education, you must have successfully completed a minimum of six credit hours of art studio courses and be enrolled in at least six additional hours of art studio when you submit a portfolio for review. For art education, you must also have completed ART 195 Introduction to Art Education and be enrolled in ART 295 Early Childhood Art Education or ART 296 Middle to Adult Art Education. Admission portfolio reviews for art and art education are conducted both fall and spring semesters.

To transfer into communication design, you must have completed (or be enrolled in) ART 102, ART 105, ART 111, ART121, and ART 151. A portfolio review by the department admissions committee is conducted each spring. Offers of admission are based on scholastic achievement, creative potential, and space availability.

To transfer into emerging technology in business and design or games + simulation, you must have a grade point average of at least 3.00 and complete an online application. For ET, students must create a website; for games, students must submit a game concept. Please visit www.MiamiOH.edu/etbd/admission for information about the application process and requirements.

To transfer into music composition, music education, music performance, or the Bachelor of Arts in music, you must pass an audition for a department admission committee. Offers of admission are based on scholastic achievement, performance achievement, and space availability.
To transfer into theatre, you must meet with the chief departmental advisor or department chair and successfully complete an audition/interview. Offers of admission are based on scholastic achievement, creative ability, and space availability.

Transfer credits in all creative arts disciplines must be reviewed by a departmental advisor to determine how they will fit into the Miami program. Transfer admission into any CCA major often means additional semesters in an undergraduate degree program. Most studio classes are sequential and cannot be taken in the same semester.

COLLEGE OF EDUCATION, HEALTH AND SOCIETY
Transfer students are expected to meet all admission requirements for the chosen major.

All early childhood and middle childhood students may declare themselves as pre-majors and then apply to the program for consideration as full majors. Please contact the Department of Teacher Education, 401 McGuffey Hall, for more information.

Inclusive special education students may declare themselves as pre-majors and then apply to the program for consideration as full majors. Please contact the Department of Educational Psychology, 201 McGuffey Hall, for more information.

For all other programs, consult the department in which your desired major is located.

COLLEGE OF ENGINEERING AND COMPUTING
If you are transferring from an accredited program at a two- or four-year college, most general education courses (college level chemistry, physics, calculus) will be transferable as Miami credit. Engineering and computing courses must be evaluated by each department to determine applicability to a specific bachelor’s degree major. Please consult the department in which your desired major is located for more information.

COLLEGE OF LIBERAL ARTS AND APPLIED SCIENCE
If you are transferring from an accredited program at a two- or four-year college, most general education courses will be transferable as Miami credit. Admission to the Miami University Nursing program is selective and competitive and requires an additional program application. Please consult the department in which your desired major is located for more information.

FARMER SCHOOL OF BUSINESS
To be admitted to the Farmer School of Business as a transfer student from another university, a student must have earned 30 graded hours. Students must also have an overall GPA of 3.50 or higher in graded credit hours earned, which must include MTH 151 and ECO 201 equivalents. Questions can be directed to the FSB Student Services Office at (513) 529-1712.
Undecided (University Studies) Students

If you enter the university either not having selected a major or not been admitted to a major (e.g. business, nursing, etc.), you will be a part of the University Studies program in the College of Arts and Science. The aim of this program is to introduce you to the broadest range of academic areas available at the university. It will help you determine what path is right for you and, ultimately, facilitate your declaration of a major. The program includes one-on-one advising meetings and special programs that will help you develop a strong academic plan as you explore majors and potential careers.

THINGS TO KEEP IN MIND

Keep these things in mind when you choose a major:

• Consult an academic advisor each semester; begin visiting the Center for Career Exploration and Success early in your academic career; talk to individuals in your fields of interest.

• Don’t force the decision; if you are not sure, speak with an academic advisor about your options and how to gauge your strengths and interests.

• You can, of course, choose a major based on your career goals; remember, many fields welcome broadly educated people.

• Be open to changing your mind; keep your options open early in your college career so you can choose as freely as possible.

• It’s okay to be unsure of your major; however, we encourage you to take an early and active role in the academic exploration process.
FAQS

How do I know what classes I need to register for?
You should speak with your academic advisor to identify classes that are appropriate for your interests and academic program. You can also find out the specific requirements of your major by logging into BannerWeb and viewing your Degree Audit. Your Degree Audit will list all possible courses that are required of your declared major.

Where do I find out what courses are offered?
The most up-to-date course information is online at www.mymiami.MiamiOH.edu. You can find the course list in two locations: it can be found as a link on the main myMiami page or under the Student Services tab in the registration system. You can search for courses by any of the following parameters: campus, subject, course number, title, attribute, part of term (full semester or sprint course), start time, end time, day, and/or instructor. A course list is also available at: MiamiOH.edu/courselist.

How many hours should I take?
To be considered a full-time student, you must register for at least 12 hours. The maximum load without special permission is 20 hours. You are limited to 17 credits initially (18 if majoring in the College of Engineering and Computing), but you may add more credits (up to 20) before the semester begins. You may register for more than 17 credit hours during your initial registration if adding a music ensemble with permission from the department or division. Most students take between 15 and 18 hours each semester.

How much time should I expect to spend studying?
One of the biggest transitions to college-level work is the increased amount of study time needed to be successful. Too often, students underestimate this. Although it varies for each student, generally you will want to set aside two to three hours of study time for each hour of class time.

How do I sign up (register) for courses?
Advisors will lead you through the process of registering for courses through BannerWeb. This will occur prior to the start of your first semester and will be done in conjunction with academic advising. In later semesters, you should meet with your academic advisor prior to registration opening so you can review your requirements and discuss potential course options in advance of signing up for classes.

When do I register for classes?
After orientation, students register for classes according to their “time ticket.” To find your time ticket, log into BannerWeb and this will be found in the Student Services tab. This tab will also provide any information if you have a "hold" on your student account that might impede your ability to register for classes. Please visit the One Stop for more information.

Can I be scheduled for two classes at the same time?
The computer system does not permit time conflicts during the online registration process.
What should I do if a course that I want to take is already full?
You can do one of three things: 1. Check the online open course list on BannerWeb to see if there is another available open section, or if the course has opened and, if it has, try to add it; 2. Try to force-add into a course that is closed. A force-add requires the approval of the instructor and department chair or his or her designee. Some divisions have specific force-add procedures, and some departments/courses utilize either Banner waitlisting or the Registration Override Request system. Contact the department to determine the process used. 3. Plan to take the course another semester and choose a different course for the current term.

How do I get my high school “AP” credits to count at Miami?
Students must have their official test scores, from College Board, sent to Miami University. A notification will be sent to your Miami email account with instructions on how to check what credit has been awarded. Please compare your course schedule and the AP course credit you have been awarded. If you have scheduled a course in the fall for which you have received AP credit, you may need to adjust your schedule.

What is a pre-major?
Some programs have special admission requirements such as a minimum grade point average or completion of prerequisite courses. In these areas you begin as a pre-major; when you meet those requirements, you become a full major.

How many hours of physical activity courses can I take?
Miami has no physical education requirement. No more than 10 credit hours of Physical Activity Life Skills (PALS) courses (those numbered KNH 110-170) can be counted toward graduation.

How can I sign up for any music ensemble or choir?
All choral and instrumental groups are open to all students by audition. You register for these groups when you register for classes, then complete an audition in the fall. Sign-up information will be provided during Welcome Week. You may register for more than 17 credit hours during your initial registration if adding a music ensemble. To join the marching band, you must attend band camp, held the week before school begins in August.

Can I use one course to satisfy more than one requirement (such as MP Foundation and CAS)?
Yes. Requirements of the Global Miami Plan, your division, and your major often overlap. One course may fulfill several requirements. While one course cannot fulfill two Global Miami Plan requirements, one course can fulfill a Miami Plan requirement and a requirement for your major.

Do all classes offered during the semester last the full 14 weeks?
Most courses are full 14-week courses with an additional week for final examinations. There are sprint or accelerated courses that meet for less than the full 14-week semester.

What is a sprint course, and how do I find them?
Any course that does not meet the entire semester is called a "sprint course." You can search for sprint courses through BannerWeb by part of term.
What is Miami's grading system?

Miami University utilizes the following grading system on a 4.00 scale:

<table>
<thead>

How is my grade point average calculated?

Add the hours you have attempted for a grade in the semester. Then figure the point value of your grades by multiplying the point value of the grade by the number of hours in the course. Divide the number of points by the number of hours; this is your GPA.

51.2 DIVIDED BY 17 = 3.01 GPA (Miami University policy is to truncate all GPA's)

To figure your cumulative GPA, divide total points for all terms by the total number of credit hours you attempted for a grade. Grade point averages are truncated to the second decimal place.
Are there other types of grades I might receive?
Yes, there are other letters you could receive, such as: IU or IUY for Incomplete, L for courses audited, P for passing, W for withdrawal. The grades of “ADF” and “ADY” denote a sanction of failure or no credit for the course due to a finding of Academic Dishonesty. See the Bulletin for more information.

How can I receive tutoring or study skills information?
The Rinella Learning Center in 306 Shriver Center provides a variety of courses, workshops, and services, from tutoring and coaching to academic counseling. Students can request a tutor by registering online at: MiamiOH.edu/student-life/rinella-learning-center/ or by calling 513.529.8741. Writing assistance is available at the Howe Writing Center in King Library.

The Regional Campus students may contact the Tutoring and Learning Center in Middletown, 2 Johnston Hall, or Hamilton, 102 Rentschler Hall, for free individual and/or small group tutoring.

Are instructors available outside the classroom?
Faculty are available and want to talk with you about your academic goals, concerns, and ideas. Scheduled office hours are posted outside faculty office doors; if those times are not convenient, you can make an appointment.

What if I have to miss a class?
You are responsible for any course material or work missed due to the absence; you should contact your instructor as soon as possible before the absence. Rather than expecting the faculty member to go over the missed class, you should confer with a student in the class or consult the Canvas course site. If your absence is due to a death in your immediate family or hospitalization, notify the Dean of Students at 513-529-1877.

Where can I go for assistance if I have a learning or other type of disability?
Miami makes accommodations for students who have a substantial limitation of one or more major life activities including, but not limited to, walking, talking, hearing, seeing, learning, working, caring for oneself, and interacting with others. Disabilities also include medical issues that involve immune, cardiac, and overall body functioning. To receive accommodations for LD or ADD, you must self-identify to the Miller Center for Student Disability Services, 304 Shriver Center, 513-529-1541, or Disability Services at the Regional Locations. 120 Rentschler Hall (H), 513-785-3211, 14 Johnston Hall (M), 513-727-3431.

How do I declare or change my major?
Visit the department/degree program you want to enter. The departmental or divisional offices have the ability to change majors. Generally, major changes in the College of Creative Arts require more than a departmental approval.

If I enroll at the Oxford campus, can I take a course on one of the regional campuses?
Yes. Open courses offered on all campuses are available online through BannerWeb. Some campus restrictions apply. Be sure to choose the correct campus when you add a course.

Can I get a teaching license without getting an education degree?
No. You must complete a licensure degree program and you must be admitted to a B.S. in Education degree program. However, this may be one of two or more majors you complete simultaneously; e.g., B.S. in Education in mathematics and a B.S. or A.B. in mathematics. The licensure degree programs in art and music are in those departments in the College of Creative Arts.

Academic Action: Academic actions are defined as academic warning, removal of academic warning, academic probation, removal of academic probation, academic suspension, and academic dismissal. Academic actions are taken at the end of each fall and spring semester and at the end of the summer and winter term. Any student with a cumulative GPA of less than 2.00 is subject to academic action, regardless of the number of hours taken in any semester or summer term.

Admission Prerequisite: Deficiency in high school unit(s) that did not deny you admission but requires you to complete additional courses after you enroll. These courses will count toward graduation, and many of them can fulfill other requirements. They are regular college courses, not remedial courses. You are expected to complete this work within your first 64 semester hours at Miami.

Associate's Degree: A two-year degree, generally offered only on the regional campuses.

Audit: When you audit a course, you attend the classes but do not receive credit or a grade. The instructor may require you to take the exams and participate in class discussion. Not all courses can be audited; you need the instructor's written permission. Consult the academic calendar for specific dates and times.

August orientation: If you are a domestic student and you are not able to attend summer orientation in June, you can sign up for classes during August orientation, held a few days before the new term begins. International students attend orientation in August.

Bachelor's Degree: A four-year degree. The basic requirements include: (1) at least 124 semester hours, at least 32 of which must be from Miami; (2) at least a 2.00 cumulative grade point average; (3) fulfillment of the Global Miami Plan; (4) fulfillment of divisional and major requirements.

BannerWeb: Your online source for course registration, Change of Schedule, financial aid information, account status, grades, and Degree Audit Reports (DAR). Accessible at www.mymiami.MiamiOH.edu, your Internet portal.

Cancellation: Your course registration may be cancelled if you do not pay all your fees by the due date. You will need to clear all fees, including late fees, then re-register for classes.

Canvas: An online collaborative learning environment that is utilized by instructors to deliver course content (syllabi, documents, video clips, audio, images, etc.) to students, post grades, hold online discussions, give quizzes, conduct surveys, post announcements, create student group areas, and more. The web portal can be accessed via myMiami.

CAS-A, B, C, etc.: These abbreviations, used in course descriptions, indicate that a course fulfills part of the College of Arts and Science divisional requirement (CAS).

Change of Schedule (or Drop/Add): Dates and times when you can make changes in your term courses. Consult the academic calendar for specific dates and times.

Class Standing: Freshmen have earned 0-29 semester hours; sophomores have earned 30-63 semester hours; juniors have earned 64-95 semester hours; seniors have earned 96 or more semester hours.

Co-major: Designed to provide a complementary perspective to a student's primary major.

Concentration: Set of course requirements within select majors which provide in-depth knowledge in a particular area of the major and is recognized on the student's transcript.

Co-requisite: A course that must be taken at the same time as another course because of linked content.

Course Level: (See also Course Number) 100-level courses are generally introductory; 200-level more advanced; 300- and 400-levels for juniors and seniors; 500 and above for graduate students.

Course List: An online listing of the classes offered each semester. It contains the lists of courses as well as sections, times, instructors, and course codes. Up-to-date course information regarding registration topics is available through myMiami at www.mymiami.MiamiOH.edu or on the One Stop website.
Course Number: The department abbreviation (three letters) and three-digit number used to identify a course; e.g., ENG 111.

Credit Hour: See Semester Hour.

Credit/No-Credit: Credit/no-credit courses are not calculated in your GPA. No grades are received for these courses. You will get credit for a D- or better. You can only take ten percent of your course work on credit/no-credit basis. Usually you cannot take courses in your major or minor this way. Freshmen may register for courses on a credit/no credit basis, provided they are concurrently enrolled for at least 12 hours for a grade. After 20 percent of the class meetings, you cannot change from credit/no-credit to a letter grade or from a letter grade to credit/no-credit. The idea behind the credit/no-credit grading system is that students should be able to sample courses in many areas of study with relative freedom, without worrying too much about their grades. If you are planning to go to graduate or professional school, you should consider carefully, with your advisor, the courses you take credit/no-credit.

CRN: Course Reference Number. A five-digit number in the left-hand column just before the course number. Each section of a course has its own unique CRN.

Degree Audit: A report of your completed course work and current registration matched with the degree requirements of your declared major. It also identifies deficiencies and lists courses that will satisfy specific requirements. Degree audits are available online through BannerWeb. You should print a copy to review with your academic advisor prior to registering for the next semester.

Division: An academic unit of the university with its own requirements. Miami has seven divisions: the College of Arts and Science, the College of Creative Arts, the College of Education, Health and Society, the College of Engineering and Computing, the College of Liberal Arts & Applied Science, the Farmer School of Business, and the Graduate School.

Global Miami Plan: Miami’s liberal education requirement for all undergraduate students.

Incomplete: Unfinished course work indicated by a grade of IU, IG, IUY, or IGY. Incomplete grades convert to failing grades after a designated time period (see Student Handbook).

LAB: Course fulfills laboratory requirement for Global Miami Plan.

Late Start Classes: Like sprint or accelerated courses, late start classes meet for less than the full 14-week term.

Lec. Lab: Lecture and laboratory abbreviations used in course descriptions to indicate how many credit hours are earned in each (for example, 3 Lec. 1 Lab).

Major: Curriculum component that enables students to make an in-depth inquiry into a discipline or a professional field of study. A major must comprise a minimum of 30 semester hours in a particular discipline.

Minor: A designated sequence of courses in a discipline or area of undergraduate study. Like the major, it is expected to have coherence and increasing sophistication. A minor is typically 18 (minimum) to 24 credit hours, or approximately half of the major. The minor is independent of the student’s major and students may not declare a major and a minor in the same discipline. Completion of the minor satisfies the Global Miami Plan thematic sequence requirement as long as nine hours of the minor are outside the department of the student’s major and six of those nine hours are at the 200 level or higher. Students must formally declare a minor, similar to the process by which they declare the major. Minors are designated on University transcripts.

MPC: Abbreviation used in course descriptions to indicate the course fulfills the Global Miami Plan Senior Capstone requirement.

MPF: Abbreviation used in course descriptions to indicate the course fulfills a part of the Global Miami Plan Foundation requirement. Additional abbreviations to MPF (e.g., MPF IIA, IIB) indicate which foundation area(s) it fulfills.

MPT: Abbreviation used in course descriptions to indicate the course fulfills a part of the Global Miami Plan Thematic Sequence requirement.

MUNet Password: Required in conjunction with MUNet Unique ID to log onto many university online services. Your default password is the month and day of your birth and the last four digits of your Social Security number, in the format MMDDNNNN. Example: a birth date of March 4 with a Social Security number of 123456789 would result in a password of 03046789. The first time you log on, you will be required to change your password.
MUNet UniqueID: The unique identifier that has been assigned to you, consisting of part of your last name and first initial, and occasionally a number. This identifier is used to sign onto most university technology services.

myMiami: Miami’s internal portal to the Internet. Log onto this site at www.mymiami.MiamiOH.edu and find direct links to Miami resources.

Nontraditional Credit: College credit given for a non-academic learning experience, such as knowledge acquired from a job or independent study. For information, contact the University Registrar’s Office.

One Stop: Virtual and in-person service center (100 CAB) that assists in the areas of registration, enrollment, financial aid, student records, billing, and payment.

Open Course: One that can accommodate more students. The class schedule on BannerWeb displays current enrollment information and open courses.

Placement Exams: Offered in foreign languages and mathematics to help you enroll in an appropriate course for your skill level. The math exams are strongly recommended; the foreign language test is required if you have studied a language in high school and intend to continue in that language at Miami. No credit is awarded for these exams.

Prerequisite: A course that must be completed before enrolling in a more advanced course. This is indicated in a course description in the Courses of Instruction section of the General Bulletin.

Proficiency Exams: Tests used to obtain credit in subjects for which you have adequate preparation. Each department administers its own test, and the credit earned can apply toward graduation. You must pass the test with a C or better to earn credit. You are charged for the tests according to credit hours earned.

Section: One class of a course. Courses with large enrollments are divided into sections, which are identified by letters (for example, ART 171 A, ART 171 B).

Semester Hour (or Credit Hour): Unit used to measure course work. The number of semester hours is usually based on the number of hours per week the class meets; for example, a three-hour course typically meets three times a week for 55 minutes each time or two times a week for 80 minutes each time. One credit hour is usually assigned for every two or three hours in lab and studio courses.

Sprint Course (or Accelerated Course): A course that meets for less than the full 14-week term. You can take more than one sprint course each semester, but you must sign up for them. You can search for open sprint courses through BannerWeb by part of term.

Thematic Sequence: A series of related courses that move in depth systematically and focus on a theme or subject. As part of the Miami Plan, all students must complete at least one Thematic Sequence outside the department of major.

Time Conflicts: Registration/Change of schedule checks for time conflicts and will not permit you to add courses that meet at overlapping times.

Transferology: The nation-wide network at transferology.com gives students quick answers on how their college credits and other learning experiences (e.g., coursework, exams, and/or military learning experiences) transfer to higher education institutions within the network.

Transcript: An official copy of your academic record.

Unique ID: Every student, faculty, and staff member has been issued a Unique ID to identify them in the processing of university information. It consists of the first six letters of the last name, followed by the first letter and middle initial. Some Unique IDs end in a number rather than a middle initial because common last names and initials mean that a particular Unique ID is already in use. The Unique ID is not case sensitive. Both your Unique ID and MUNet password are required to login to Miami’s web portal, myMiami.

Withdrawal: Students wishing to drop all of their courses can do so during Registration/Change of Schedule through BannerWeb. After classes begin, students must withdraw officially from the university. You must file with the Student Success Center a withdrawal form, available on the One Stop website; for regional location students, the form is available at the Advising Office. The date you officially withdraw determines your refund. Failure to officially withdraw can result in the assignment of a grade of F and full assessment of tuition and fees. To re-enroll at Miami, you must apply (www.MiamiOH.edu/reenroll) at least 30 days before the beginning of the term in which you wish to return.
